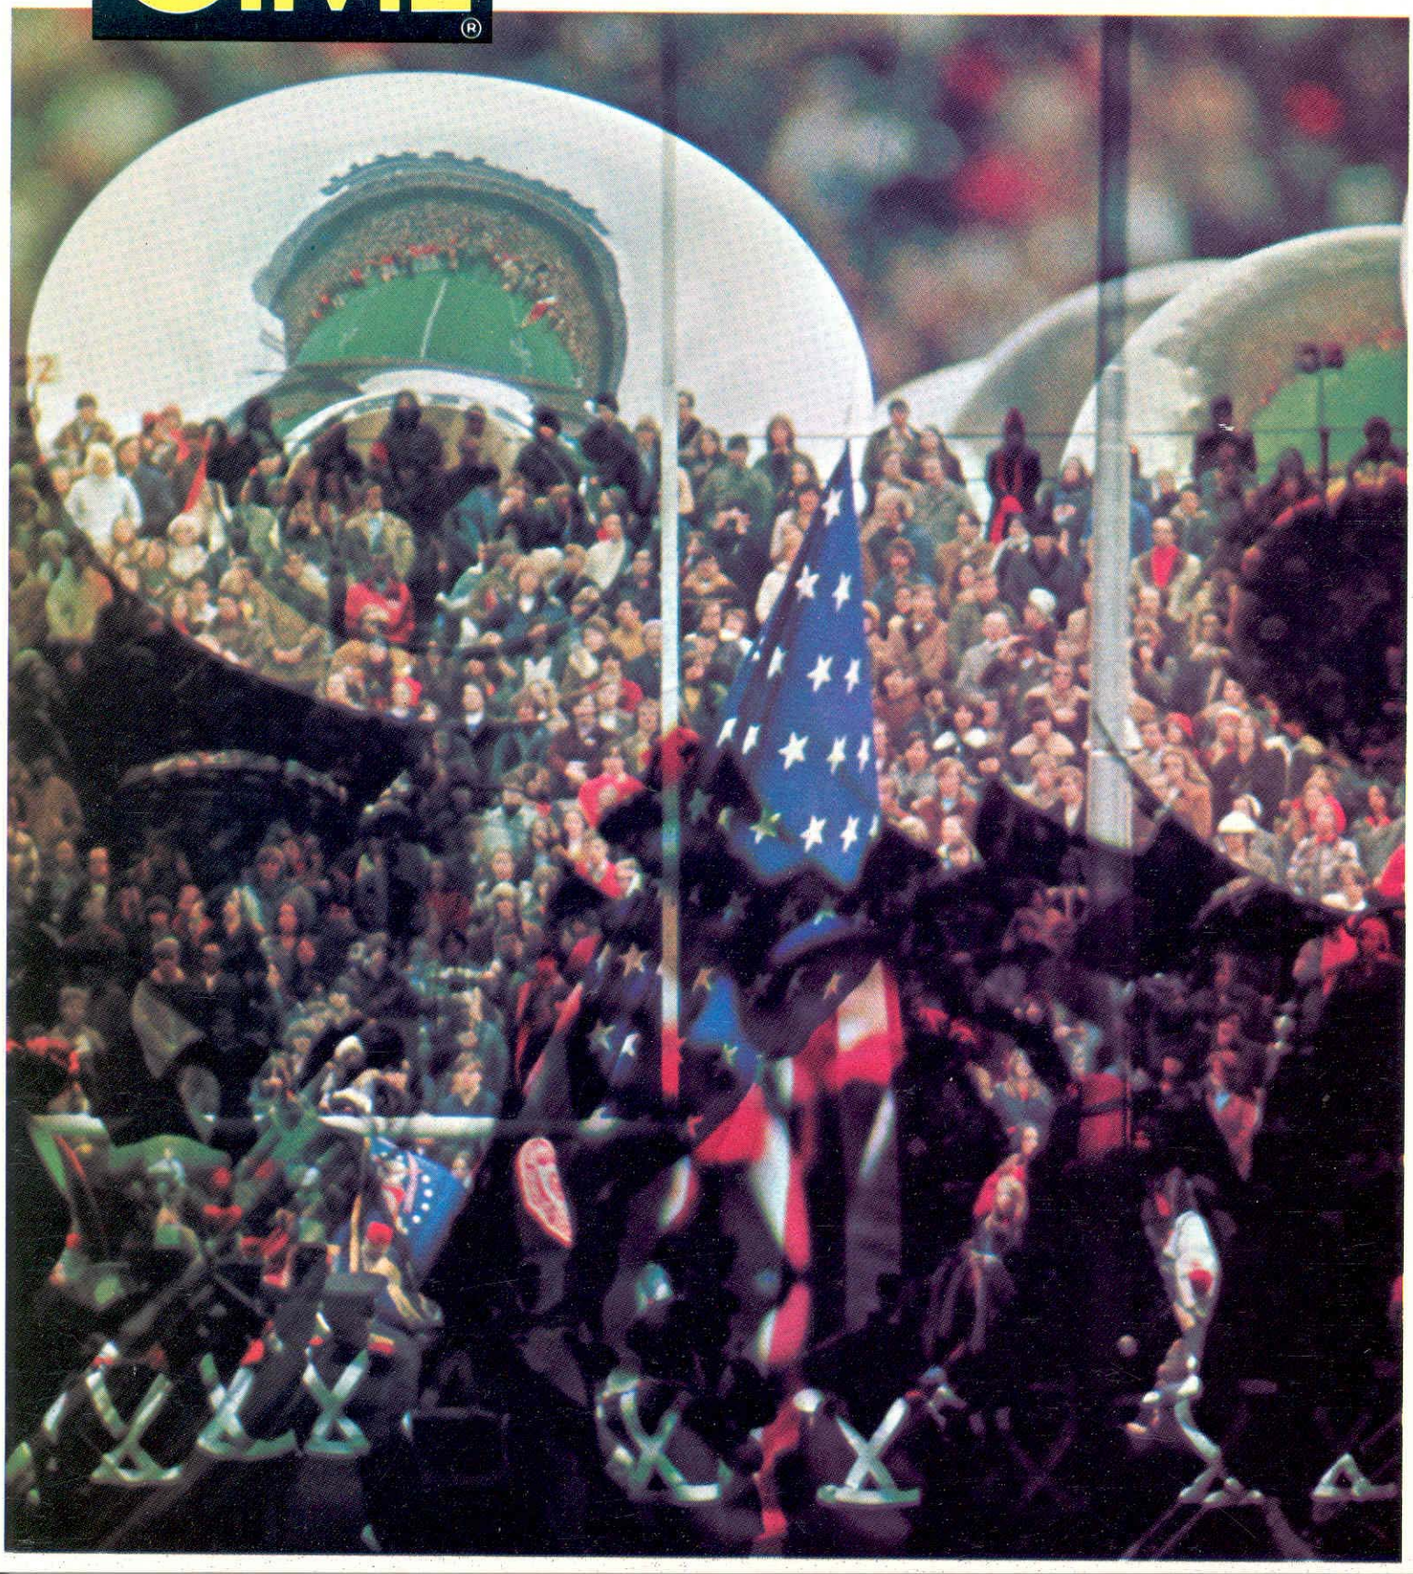
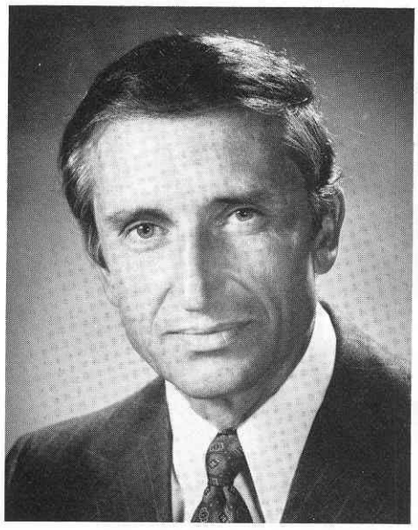
FLORIDA STATE
COLORADO ST.





Dr. Marshall

If ever there is an element of the unknown in collegiate football, it is present when a new coach sends a young team on to the field. When Darrell Mudra came to Florida State as Head Coach last winter, it was not to inherit a veteran team with a winning record. It was to restore and rebuild—to recover the winning tradition to which those of us at Florida State have become accustomed.

From all reports Coach Mudra is just what we needed, and from my personal observations of the man and his management of the team, I am convinced that the reports were well founded.

The 1974 Seminoles want to win. They have worked hard to master new strategies of play introduced by Coach Mudra and his able young coaching staff. Many of the players you will see in action this year are new—some are freshmen. They will be full of surprises. But the returning players will surprise you too. They have added the sharp edge of superior training and conditioning to their ability and previous experience.

The challenge of '74 is evident in the roster of teams the Seminoles will play this season. We welcome that challenge and look forward to renewing the fun and excitement of football in each new contest. Regardless of the final outcome of the games, I know that the Seminoles will give their best efforts, and with that committment we are ready for 1974.

Those of us in the stands—alumni, students, faculty, staff, friends, and Seminole Boosters have an important role to play. The energy emanating from a full stadium of loyal, appreciative fans cannot be overestimated as a factor in the morale of a team and its willingness to push for the extra yard, the all-but-impossible play, and the winning margin. In short, the fans have a share in the success of every team. We look forward to making that difference at every home contest.

Let's show our young Seminoles and their coaches that they have our full confidence and our full support.

Sincerely,

Stanley Marshall
President

. . . Welcome To The South's Friendliest Campus

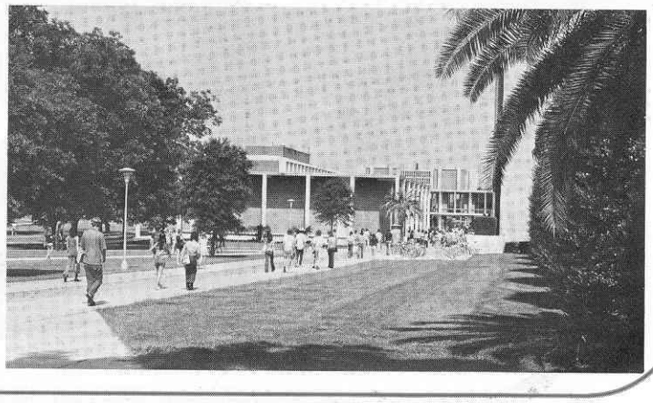
When the Seminary of the Suqannee was founded in 1857, no one guessed that it would eventually become a large state university with a student enrollment of over 20,000.

But from that small school for men, Florida State University evolved as one of the largest state institutions of higher learning in Florida and from its Gothic entranceway, has grown westward, sprinkling its skyline with modern, highrise architecture.

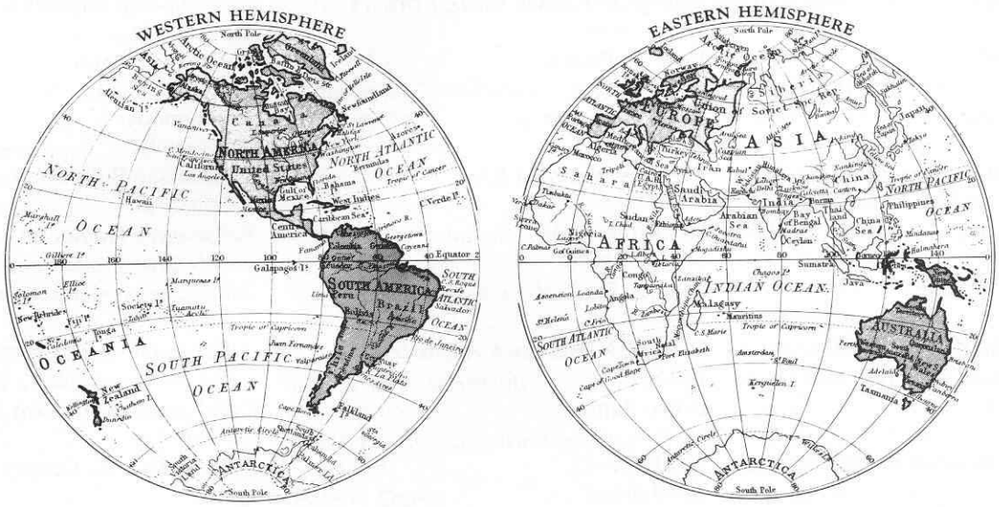
The University's 14 schools and colleges include Arts and Sciences, Business, Social Sciences, Criminology, Communication, Nursing, Social Work, Library Science, Home Economics, Education, Theatre, Law, Music and Visual Arts. Within these fields there are 52 doctoral programs and more than 80 bachelor's and master's degree programs. Funds for University research totaled some $13 million in 1973-74, resulting in many projects having practical applications for Florida's industries, environment and social welfare.

With a staff of over 7,000 employees, including more than 1,300 faculty members, the University has an operating budget of $77 million, which includes funds from state, federal and private sources.

Florida State was one of the first universities in the nation to have its affirmative action plan approved by the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The University actively strives to build a community in which opportunity is equalized and uses its facilities and human resources to develop the skills and opportunities of the members of all groups so they may play responsible and productive roles in society.



Florida State Around the World



At the Canal Zone Branch in Panama, students can earn degrees in seven majors. Classes attract a number of military personnel.

Law classes from Oxford dons. Art classes at the feet of Michelangelo's David. Tropical biology in the jungles of Panama.

By studying abroad in one of six overseas programs offered by Florida State University, students in the State University System can have the kinds of experiences most students only read about.

Programs are offered in England, Italy, Yugoslavia, Switzerland and Panama.

The purpose?

"Each one has a different purpose," said Dr. Robert Coyne, Director of International Programs.

"The programs in Florence and London are geared more to liberal studies. Any student with at least a 2.0 grade point average and who has attained sophomore status is eligible to enroll.

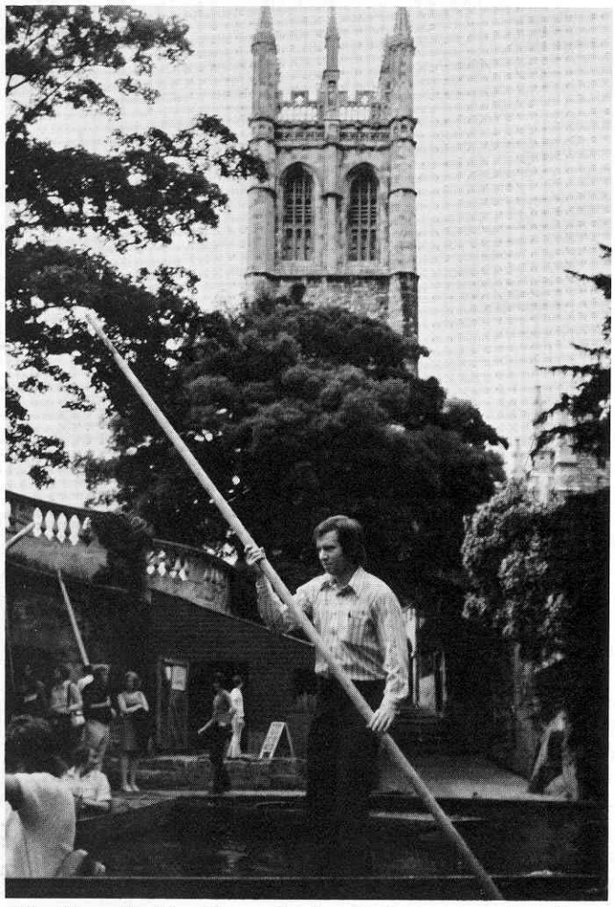
"In Panama, most of the students are military personnel —although the program attracts a number of FSU students interested in such things as Spanish or tropical biology."

The programs in Oxford, Belgrade, and Leysin, Coyne said, are geared to students in specific fields, namely, law; comparative studies in business, economics or government; and hotel and restaurant administration, respectively.

What each of the programs have in common is what some call the "laboratory" approach to learning.

Lectures and reading assignments are supplemented with field trips to libraries, museums, historic sites, and whenever possible, guest speakers from the host country.

"In a different culture," Coyne said, "everyday events become learning experiences. Students and faculty not only gain depth and perspective in their studies, they also learn from first hand observation of the economic, political and social changes taking place outside the United States."



Punting down the River Cam, a London Study Center student takes in flavor of Cambridge.

Law students studying in Oxford have an opportunity to observe the British judicial system and study under Oxford dons.

THE CANAL ZONE PROGRAM, established in 1957, is the longest running of the six international programs.

Originally started through a contract with the Army, the Center became a degree-granting branch of the University in 1967, and now offers majors in economics, English, Inter-American Studies, International Affairs, Social Science and Spanish. Twenty percent of the students are Panamanian civilians; the rest are military personnel and students from the main campus.

In 1966, in its first year of operation, students in the FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY CENTER IN FLORENCE volunteered many hours in helping to salvage priceless art collections which had been damaged by flooding. In gratitude, the Italian government presented them with a plaque.

Since then, students enrolled in the six month program have gained admission to collections and archeological digs often off-limits to tourists.

The center director is Dr. Fred Licht, an art scholar who was instrumental in the restoration of Florentine art after the flood and who is active in the Florence community. Classes are taught by faculty members from the State University System who serve on a rotating basis, usually for one term (six months). Academic emphasis of the center is on humanities.

A program based on the same six-month, open enrollment concept was opened in London in 1971. Though emphasizing the social sciences, THE LONDON PROGRAM offers courses in education, business, and theater.

Student complaints that they "weren't meeting enough British people" led to the formation of a Council of Advisors in 1973. This all-British council uses its influence to bring FSU students into closer contact with the British culture.

The center is housed in the Monarch hotel, on Cromwell road, just minutes from central London. During each quarter, students take center-sponsored trips to historical sites in Great Britain, including Greenwich, Hampton Court, Stratford-on-Avon and Stonehenge.

The remaining study abroad programs are held only in the summer and enrollment is limited to students with particular interests and qualifications.

Students attending the Summer Quarter in Law at Oxford have an opportunity to study international law, comparative law, and the history and development of English Common Law and common law institutions. Classes are taught by Oxford dons and FSU faculty members. Only law students are eligible to attend.

The hotel and restaurant administration program in Leysin, Switzerland provides a first-hand study of the operations and administrative policies of several European hotels. The course is taught through formal seminars and on-site visits and lasts five weeks.

The Summer Program in Yugoslavia, open to a limited number of qualified students, is an integral part of FSU's Center for Slavic and East European Studies. Conducted as a seminar, the program allows for comparative study in business, economics or government. Students live and study together with Yugoslav students in a cooperative program between FSU and the University of Belgrade.

Further information about study abroad programs is available in the International Programs Office, 210A Williams, Florida State University.

The Florence Program

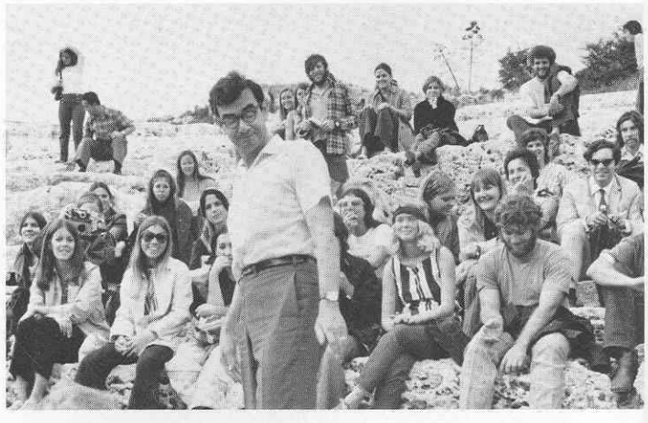
Dr. John Reich discusses Greek vase at the museum at Agrigento, Sicily.



Dr. Fred Licht, director of the Florence program, leads discussion on the site of sixth century Greek temples at Agrigento, Sicily.

Students in the Panama program discover a rich cultural heritage.

Students from the London Study Center examine the mysteries of the prehistoric Stonehenge on group field trip in England.

Head Coach Darrell Mudra

Darrell Mudra is a winner!

He is the man Florida State University has picked to lead the Seminoles out of the wilderness of defeat.

One of Coach Mudra's strongest selling points was the fact that he has turned football programs around with almost instant success, something Florida State desperately needs.

The 44-year-old Omaha, Neb., native came to Florida State from Western Illinois with extremely high recommendations. "Darrell Mudra is one of the outstnading football coaches in the country," says former Nebraska Head Coach Bob Devaney, now that school's athletic director. "He has been able to win wherever he has gone and in many cases despite great obstacles."

Tommy Prothro, ex-college coaching standout, now boss of the San Diego Chargers, is another who thinks Mudra was the man for the Florida State job. "I believe Darrell Mudra is a very, very superior coach. I would have been surprised if any candidate for the Florida State job was the caliber of Darrell Mudra."

Coach Mudra's record speaks for itself. He has turned five losers into big winners.In 15 years of college coaching, the soft-spoken educator has recorded 106 victories against only 32 loses and two ties.

Mudra attended Peru State College in Nebraska where he was an all-conference halfback. He received a masters degree from Omaha University and his doctorate from Colorado State. He served in the Air Force during 1950 and '51.

He was an assistant coach at Hurron (S.D.) and Colorado State before becoming head coach at Adams State, Alamosa, Colo., in 1959. The previous season Adams State had gone 1-9 but in Mudra's first year the Colorado school gained eight victories against one loss. In four seasons there, Mudra-coached teams never lost more than two games in a single year and he lead the Indians to a bowl game.

In 1963, he moved to North Dakota State, a team which had been 0-10 the previous year. In three seasons his records were 3-5, 10-1, and 11-0, including two bowl games.

The next challenge was the Montreal club of the Canadian professional league. In 1965 the Alouettes were 3-11 but under Mudra in '66 they went 7-7 and made the playoffs.

The University of Arizona was the next program Mudra turned around. It took him two seasons to do this, but in the second year he directed the Wildcats to an 8-3 record and a spot in the Sun Bowl.

Western Illinois gained his services in 1969 and in five years at the McComb institution Mudra's clubs went 39-13.

Coach Mudra is married to the former Jean Marie King of Omaha, Neb. They are the parents of four children, Darrell Jr., 20; Stephen, 19; Sherry, 18; and Michele, 14.

Spotlight On . . .

Golf

Each week this space will feature one of Florida State's eight intercollegiate sports. This week the spotlight falls on Coach Don Veller's golf team.

Outstanding weather and a superb facility are two of the prime factors that help make Florida State's golf program one of the better ones in the country.

The Seminoles, who this year will be under the guidance of Dr. Don Veller, annually play one of the toughest tournament schedules in the country and usually cap the season with an entry in NCAA National Championships.

The golf season is fast becoming a year round proposition. The Seminoles will be playing several fall tournaments, including the All-Dixie at Callaway Gardens, Ga. and the Florida Intercollegiate at Port Malibar.

With the emphasis on tournaments now, the collegiate golfers usually do not compete as often and intra-squad competition becomes an important factor in keeping a keen edge. This is where the Seminoles, with a highly competitive squad and an excellent "home course" have been able to build their strength.

Seminole Golf Course, located just off Lake Bradford Road, about three miles from the heart of the campus, is a challenging 6,900 yard, 18 hole layout. Many of the visiting teams, after playing the course have labeled it "one of the finest university-owned courses in the nation."

The scenic layout includes fairways that are long and challenging, the greens are well trapped making for careful approach shots. A modern club house and snack bar are conveniently located and ample paved parking is available.

Veller returns for his third term as Florida State's Golf Coach. He first took the golfers' reins in 1953 and served in that capacity through '57. His second tenure was for two seasons in 1968-69.

Dual matches were still the norm for collegiate golfers during that period, and Veller built an enviable record with his teams going undefeated in 1956 and losing just one match in the 1955, '57 and '69 seasons. His overall record for seven years is 52-12 in dual matches.

Of course Veller is also well remembered at Florida State as the man who laid the ground work for the Seminoles' football program, serving as head coach from 1948-52. His five year record in football was 30-12 and included the Seminoles' only undefeated season (8-0 in 1950) and their first bowl game (Cigar Bowl in Tampa in 1949).

In addition to his duties as golf coach, Veller serves the University as a full professor in Physical Education, where he developed Florida State's Coaching Minor program. He also serves as Executive Director of the Southern Scholarship Research Foundation which provides housing in 14 separate scholarship houses within the Florida State community.

Marching Chiefs

Themes "Off the Record"

Opening

Music, color, and motion, highlight half-time this season with the Marching Chiefs. Tonight the Chiefs incorporate all three around the theme "Off the Record". Hits from the record industry suddenly come alive in a way only the Chiefs know how to present.

Half time "Off the Record"

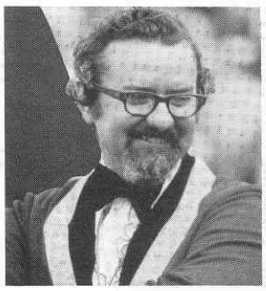
Tonight the Chiefs take a spin with the best from the record industry. The show begins with a special Charles Carter fanfare "Court of the Crimson King". During the course of the show the Chiefs turn their attention to a medley of songs from the popular recording group The Doobie Brothers, headlined by "Long Train Running" and "Listen to the Music". Continuing "Off the Record", the Chiefs present their own version of the theme from the Academy Award winning motion picture "The Sting". Another popular motion picture furnishes our next selection of the evening "The Way We Were". "Off the Record" next features the popular pop hit of this year "Eres Tue", and concludes with the ever popular "Gypsy Rose".

Special Feature
The Florida State University Majorette Corp

The majorette corp of the Florida State Marching Chiefs is well known for its unique military style. Throughout the years, its members have developed and carried on a tradition of combining twirling and dance movements with precision and accuracy. The members of the corp are selected each spring, with judgement based upon appearance, twirling ability, and adaptability to the style.

The head majorette for the 1974 season is Nancy Hoffman, a Junior from Ormond Beach, Florida. The co-head majorettes for this year are Marilyn Miller, a Sophomore from North Miami, Florida, and Roanna Combs, a Sophomore from Lakeland, Florida. These three girls are responsible for coordinating and directing the marching routines of the other 15 girls in the corp.

This year's feature twirler is Cheryl Ann Nelson, a Junior from Ormond Beach, Florida. Recently crowned as Majorette Queen of America for 1975, Cheryl is also three time National Twirling Champion. With a collection of over 800 trophies, some of her many titles include five consecutive years as Florida State Champion in one baton, two baton, and strutting, as well as third runner-up World Champion in the same three categories.



MAYO

Coordinator of Bands

Richard D. Mayo, Assistant Professor of Music is beginning his fourth year as Coordinator of University Bands and director of the Marching Chiefs. Mr. Mayo received his B.M.E. from Florida State in 1955 and his M.A. Degree from Columbia University. For 14 years he was band director in high schools in Florida and New York. Most recently he was District Coordinator of Bands at Plainedge Schools on Long Island. Besides his interest in the Marching and Symphonic Bands, Mr. Mayo has been highly active in the jazz field, coordinating and directing the Jazz Lab Bands. The growth of jazz has been accentuated by performances with Count Basie, Buddy Rich, Stan Kenton, and Don Ellis.

Assistant Director and Arranger

Charles Carter received his Bachelor of Music from Ohio State University in 1950, majoring in theory and composition. The Oklahoma native furthered his education at Eastman School of Music where in 1951 he received his Master of Music, followed by Doctoral work here at Florida State University from 1953 until 1956.

Before becoming staff arranger at Florida State University in 1953, Mr. Carter arranged for the Ohio State University Band and also taught lower brass. Presently here at Florida State, Mr. Carter teaches theory, composition, and arranging, plus his arranging for the University Bands. Mr. Carter now has over twenty original compositions on the market in all fields of music.

FSU FOOTBALL FLASHBACK

A Look at Florida State Games, 5, 10, and 25 Years Ago This Week

The Seminoles like most teams around the country did not begin their seasons this early in the year until just a few seasons ago. However, openers are openers. So this week we take a look at the first games of 1969, 1964 and 1949. In future weeks we will be looking at other Florida State games from these seasons.

1969

Florida State 16
Miami 14

MIAMI (Sept. 26, 1969)—The Seminoles got "their foot in the door" in this one and that was all they needed to subdue Miami's Hurricanes 16-14 in a see-saw contest.

The foot belonged to Grant Guthrie, who accounted for 10 of the Tribe's points with three field goals and one PAT.

Miami opened the scoring with a one-yard touchdown plunge by Tom Sullivan, capping an 84-yard drive.

Early in the second stanza, Miami threatened to stretch its lead as Jim Huff lined up for a 33-yard field goal try. But Ron Lowe broke in and blocked it. Phil Abraira picked it up and with the help of a 15-yard penalty the Seminoles were in possession at the Miami 40.

Three plays netted just four yards and the Seminoles set up for a field goal. Guthrie booted the ball and it sailed through the uprights 53 yards away.

Sullivan fumbled on the first play after the kickoff and the Seminoles took over on the Hurricane 16. Four plays later Guthrie was again called on, this time for a 27-yard field goal to cut Miami's lead to one, 7-6.

Almost like an instant replay the Hurricanes' Vince Olpalsky made a first play fumble at the Hurricane 13. Three plays later Bill Cappleman hit Kent Gaydos with an "alley-oop" pass and the Seminoles led 13-7 as the half ended.

A scoreless third quarter set up a tension packed finale. David Teal passed to Lew Strawbridge for a Miami TD and Huff's PAT put the 'Canes back on top 14-13.

With less than nine minutes remaining the Seminoles started driving from their own 10. Seventeen plays later they had a fourth and 12 at Miami's 17. Guthrie came on and with 1:55 left in the game, kicked a 31-yard field goal to win it.

Tom Bailey again led the Seminole rushers with 44 yards in nine carries. Cappleman completed 24 of 38 passes for 209 yards. Rhett Dawson caught six of them for 63 yards and Gaydos had five receptions for 51 yards.

1964

Florida State 10
TCU 0

FORT WORTH (Sept. 26, 1964)—Bill McDowell crashed through to block a fourth quarter field goal attempt as Florida State showed its defensive muscle in a second straight shutout and the school's first victory over a major Texas team.

Leading with the "Seven Magnificents" all the way, the Seminoles negotiated a slippery field for a first quarter field goal and a fourth quarter touchdown. The TD drive started from the FSU 37 following McDowell's blocked kick.

Florida State's offense had yet to become a lethal scoring weapon and a containing TCU defense kept the Tensi-Biletnikoff combo under wraps for most of the game.

However, with his favorite target double and triple covered throughout most of the game, Tensi scattered ten completions to seven different receivers and accounted for 49 of the 63 yard touchdown drive.

Les Murdock kicked his first field goal of the year, a 33-yard effort with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter.

TCU's Jim Fauver's 93 yards on 19 carries earned him the individual rushing crown against the Seminoles last year. No other back and few teams were able to equal his yardage during the remainder of the season.

Linebacker Dick Hermann was the "Savage" and tight end Bill Dawson won "Tomahawk" laurels. Middle guard Jack Shinholser showed early form with his play against Ken Henson, the Frogs' 260 pound center.

Lee Narramore again led the Seminoles on the ground with 47 yards in 15 attempts.

1949

Florida State 33
Mississippi College 12

(From Tallahassee Democrat Reports)

Clinton, Miss. (Oct. 8, 1949)—The Florida State University Seminoles opened defense of their Dixie Conference championship in impressive fashion here tonight, rumbling over Mississippi College's Choctaws 33-12 with a power-packed running attack headed by fullback Buddy Strauss.

The big Indians from Tallahassee ripped and tore through the Choc forward wall for 375 yards as they stomped up and down the field scoring in every quarter.

Strauss, a driving, punishing plunger, continually blasted his way through the Mississippians every time it appeared that the Seminoles were beginning to lag. The hard running fullback scored only once, but he played a key role in setting up all the other four touchdowns.

Ken MacLean scored the Seminoles first touchdown, following an interception in the first period, then Strauss picked up his TD early in the second quarter.

The Chocs rebounded strong, scoring two quick touchdowns, cutting the lead to 14-12. However the Seminoles marched 75-yards with the kickoff following the second score and Red Parrish capped the drive to make the halftime scoreboard read 21-12.

The lone third period touchdown came on a Strauss to Ted Hewitt jump pass. The Indians final score came in the fourth quarter when Dick Peterson burst over tackle at his own 37, cut back nicely and raced 63 yards to score.

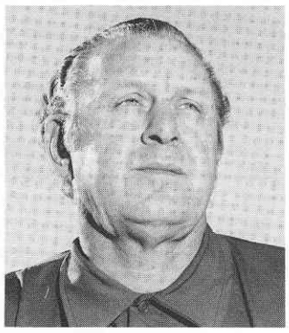
Offensive Line



Harbison

"Mr. Seminole" is back and the Indians couldn't be happier.

Bob Harbison, associated with Florida State football for 25 of its 27 seasons, returns to the only football job he has ever known after leaving following the 1972 campaign to enter private business.

During Harbie's 25 seasons with the Seminoles he coached both offense and defense. He directed the offensive line during the 1972 campaign and Head Coach Darrell Mudra has turned that assignment back over to him.

During Harbison's 25-year career at Florida State, the Seminoles were in eight bowl games. Mudra becomes the sixth Florida State head coach Harbie has served under. The one time University of Indiana guard came to the Seminoles in 1947 under Don Veller. He later worked with Tom Nugent, Perry Moss, Bill Peterson and Larry Jones.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Harbie was the defensive line coach in 1964 when his "Magnificent Seven" was considered by many to be Florida State's finest defensive outfit.

Bob and his wife, the former Jane McEntee of Washington, D.C., have four children.

CAL JONES
Linebackers

Jones

After serving as Coach Mudra's assistant at Western Illinois for three seasons, Cal accompanied his boss to Florida State.

In his first two years at Western, Cal coached one All-American, two All-State college selections and a most valuable player.

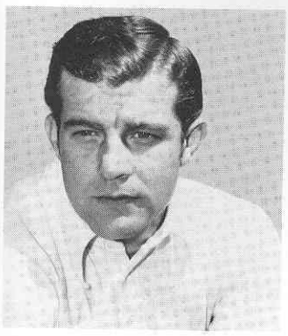
Before going into college coaching, he was an extremely successful prep coach in California. At Central Union HS in El Centro, Calif., Cal's teams compiled a record of 43 victories against 13 defeats from 1966-70. His squads won conference championships in each of those seasons and he was named Imperial Valley Coach of the Year in 1968.

Cal, a Pittsburgh, Pa., native is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic's Hall of Fame and was named first team NAIA All-America as a guard at Adams State in 1964.

He was captain of the Adams State clubs in both 1963 and '64. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from his alma mater and has done advance work at Northern Colorado.

He and his wife Elaine have two children.

CLOSE-UPS



Pollard

DONALD (DEEK) POLLARD
Defensive Backs

This newest member of Mudra's staff also served under the Seminole head coach at Western Illinois.

A former Illinois high school coaching standout, Deek is that state's winningest prep mentor. Before joining the Western staff in 1971, Pollard recorded a 55-4-3 record at Pittsfield (Ill.) High School after being named head coach in 1965.

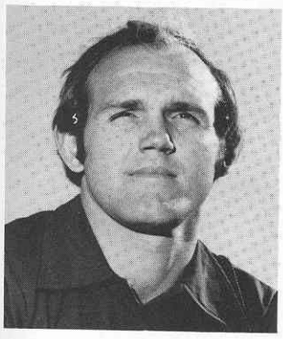
Pollard's Saukees were undefeated in their last 54 games, a winning streak which represented the longest string in state history until the team stretched the record to 64 in 1972.

He was named Illinois' prep coach of the year in 1970.

While coaching the Western defensive backs in 1972, opponents averaged only 97 yards per game via the passing game and his defensive secondary registered 17 interceptions.

Deek received his B.S. degree from Western in 1961 and then gained a M.A. from Northeast Missouri State in 1968.

A Southern Illinois native, he and his wife Brenda have two children.



Pendleton

LARRY PENDLETON
Offensive Line, Academics

Larry is the newest varsity assistant, joining the staff fulltime in June.

He will assist with the offensive line and also handle any of the gridders' academic problems.

Larry returned to his alma mater in 1973 as a graduate assistant and last season tutored the junior varsity offensive line.

The Winter Garden native attended Lakeview High School in that city where he gained 10 letters before coming to Florida State from 1964-68. He was a three-year starter for the Seminoles, two on offense and one on defense.

During his three-year varsity career the Seminoles were in three bowl games — the Sun, Gator and Peach.

After graduation, he was an assistant coach at Colonial High School in Orlando from 1969-72.

He is married to the former Carolyn Chalk of Fort Walton Beach.

SEMINOLE RADIO NETWORK

Shackleton

Owens

Florida State's football games will be heard throughout most of the Southeast again this fall over the SEMINOLE RADIO NETWORK.

With WTNT in Tallahassee serving as the originating station, Florida State games are carried on network stations in Florida. In addition, many of the Seminole games are broadcasted regularly over the wide-ranging Pick-Of-Dixie network.

Bob Shackleton, Florida State's director of Alumni Affairs, is the new "Voice of the Seminoles." Before coming to Florida State, Shackleton served for 19 years as the play-by-play announcer for Michigan State football.

Returning to do the "color", is Bill Owens, a veteran of Florida State announcing which includes football, basketball and baseball.

IMPORTANT: Most player categories are ranked on per-game average. Thus, it's vital that you consider every player (on both teams) with any statistics in any game this season (get season player statistics from both SIDs). Then list below the code number and last name of players who have season figures but did NOT play in this game. A game played is one play—whether or not the player touches the ball. All players will be charged with a game unless you tell NCSS otherwise. If a player with first-time statistics has missed games, fill in below—after getting from his SID how many games missed.

SCORING SUMMARY

List all scoring plays in sequence. "Time left" means time remaining in the quarter. Under "play," to save you time, please use only: Rush, Pass, INT, PR, KOR, FUM, FG or SAF (instead of writing out interception, punt, kickoff and fumble returns, field goal or safety).

On pass play, list passer first, then receiver and combined yardage of pass and run. All plays are measured from the line of scrimmage except field-goal attempts--from the point of kick to the goal posts (goal line plus 10 yards).

After each touchdown, please continue on the same line and under "FOR EXTRA POINTS ONLY" check (✓) type of PAT (kick, pass or run) and whether good (G) or no good (NG).

IMPORTANT: Most player categories are ranked on per-game average. Thus, it's vital that you consider every player (on both teams) with any statistics in any game this season (get season player statistics from both SIDs). Then list below the code number and last name of players who have season figures but did NOT play in this game. A game played is one play—whether or not the player touches the ball. All players will be charged with a game unless you tell NCSS otherwise. If a player with first-time statistics has missed games, fill in below—after getting from his SID how many games missed.
