FLORIDA STATE

Florida State University's basketball team is but one of many University functions which has achieved national acclaim in recent years.

Florida State does not measure its true value in headlines or prize winners, but it considers among its greatest assets the equally talented and unsung athletes, professors and students. It is to this goal that Florida State is firmly committed—the best possible education for each and every one of its students.

It is this dedication which has transformed the institution in just a few years from a strong liberal arts college for women (until 1947) to a University of demonstrated national stature.

Florida State was founded in 1857 and while it is proud of its rich heritage and traditions, the emphasis today is on the future and role it must play in preparing students who will be state and national leaders of tomorrow.

The current fall enrollment stands at more than 16,500 students, and by 1975, the expected enrollment is 28,000. This will include an estimated 7,500 graduate students, emphasizing the University's designated role of leadership as a senior university in Florida's system of public high education.

UNIVERSITY

Florida State today is one of only two dozen institutions granting more than 100 doctoral degrees each year. It was just 15 years ago that the first doctorate was given and in 1967 the 1,000th Ph.D. was awarded.

Currently under construction on the northwest corner of the campus is a rapidly expanding network of modern facilities for space-age research known as the University's Science Center. It will have connected buildings for the various sciences with the famed Institute of Molecular Biophysics (which attracted a Nobel Prize Winner) at the center.

Ten colleges and schools compromise the academic organization with each offering courses leading to the baccalaureate degree and nine offering programs leading to the master's and/or doctoral degrees in more than 40 fields of study.

These units are the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Education, School of Home Economics, School of Music, Library School, School of Social Welfare, School of Business, School of Nursing, School of Engineering Science and the College of Law.

DR. JOHN E. CHAMPION President, Florida State University

One of the growing number of young university presidents in America, Dr. John E. Champion, at 46, is the youngest of 10 chief executives in the University's 111-year history and the fourth distinguished educator to serve as full-time president of the institution since it achieved university status in 1947.

Appointed to the presidency on June 22, 1965, Dr. Champion has been associated with Florida State since 1956—serving first as a professor of accounting and assistant dean of the School of Business, and prior to the presidency, as the University's first vice president for administration.

The president's academic background includes bachelor's (1942) and master's (1949) degrees in business administration from the University of Georgia, which honored him in 1966 with a Distinguished Alumnus Award from its Graduate School of Business Administration. He also holds the Ph.D. degree in business administration from the University of Michigan (1960), and professional memberships in the American Accounting Association and the American Institute of Accounting Association and the American Institute of Accountants. He has been a Certified Public Accountant since 1952. He is co-author of a principal textbook, Accounting in Business Decisions, with Dr. Homer A. Black, a fellow Florida State professor.

Among the expanding list of honors accorded to Dr. Champion in his teaching and administrative careers at the University of Georgia (1948 to 1956) and at Florida State are memberships in Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Beta Gamma Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, Gold Key, Alpha Phi Omega, Beta Alpha Psi, Delta Sigma Pi and Kappa Delta Pi. Active in numerous campus organizations at Florida State, he served as president of the Alpha of Florida Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa in 1961-62.

Dr. Champion was born in Chipley (now called Pine Mountain), Ga., on May 11, 1922, and was valedictorian of the 1939 graduating class of Chipley High School. Following graduation from the University of Georgia, he served in the U.S. Army infantry and as a quartermaster officer, receiving a special commendation for outstanding service performed with the South Pacific Base Command.

Married on June 4, 1955, Dr. and Mrs. Champion (the former Mary Lanier of West Point, Ga.) have two children—Sally Lanier, 12, and John E. Jr., 10.

Active in civic organizations, President Champion is a deacon in the Faith Presbyterian Church in Tallahassee and a member of the Tallahassee Rotary Club, Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce and the Tallahassee chapter of the Torch Club—an international society devoted to interchange of opinion and understanding among men of different professional groups. He has been an active officer in several United Fund campaigns in Leon County and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Tallahassee Bank and Trust Co.

Director of Athletics VAUGHN MANCHA

Since Vaughn Mancha returned to Florida State University as Athletic Director, he has been the guiding hand in building a balanced, nationally-prominent athletic program.

Under Mancha, Florida State athletics reached a pinnacle in 1967-68 when four Seminole teams were invited to NCAA post season events.

Last season, Florida State's football team played in the Gator Bowl, its basketball team received an NCAA Mid-East Tournament bid, its baseball team went to the NCAA District III tourney for the 11th time in 13 years and Seminole golfers competed in the NCAA Nationals.

During his time at Florida State the scholarship program, the sports schedule and playing facilities have been greatly improved.

When Mancha returned to Florida State in 1959, he was primarily concerned with improvement of staff, program and facilities. In his tenure, Doak S. Campbell Stadium has grown from 15,000 to 40,500 seating capacity with a modern press box. Hopefully, the Stadium can be increased to 50,000 in the near future.

Under Mancha, a football field house was constructed and his latest project was the installation of lights for the baseball diamond. Florida State is one of the few universities in the country which has a lighted baseball field.

Future planning has the construction of a large coliseum for basketball.

Mancha's ultimate goal is to provide Florida State students, alumni and supporters with the strongest over-all athletic program in the nation.

The Sugar Valley, Ga., native graduated from the University of Alabama in 1948 where he was a football All-America center and played on three Crimson Tide bowl teams.

He came to Florida State in 1952 as an assistant football coach under Tom Nugent. After five years, he went to Columbia as an assistant while working on his doctorate. Following two seasons at the New York institution, Mancha returned to Florida State as Athletic Director.

Married to the former Sybil Little of Birmingham, Ala., Mancha and his wife have two daughters, Clare and Nan, and a son, Dit.

Head Basketball Coach HUGH DURHAM

If Hugh Durham was still a college athlete, coaches would tag him "a winner." Instead, he's Florida State University's third head basketball coach and this bundle of energy finds losing a ball game his greatest challenge.

The Louisville, Ky., native succeeded the late Bud Kennedy as the Seminole cage boss and immediately set three goals for Florida State. Durham said he would consider his job well done only when the Tribe consistently gained a top 10 ranking, went to a national tournament and finally won the national championship.

Last season, Durham hit on one of these goals when Florida State gained a berth in the Mid-East NCAA Regionals—the first such bid for the Seminoles and only the second to be offered a Sunshine State club.

This is the Seminoles' 22nd basketball season and Durham has been associated with Florida State for more than half that time—either as a player or coach.

The Seminoles inaugurated the sport in 1947 under Don Loucks. In 1948 Kennedy became the head coach and guided Florida State through the obstacles of its basketball youth to a position of respect before his death in 1966.

During much of this time Durham was the man Coach Kennedy relied upon most. He became freshman coach at the start of the 1960 season, posting a 9-1 record that still stands as Florida State's top, one-year frosh mark. In 1961 he was named Kennedy's full-time assistant and continued in that post until he became head coach.

Considered the finest guard in Seminole history, Durham came to the school as a freshman out of Louisville's Eastern High in 1955. During three varsity seasons he scored 1,381 points, with two 500-plus seasons when he received All-America mention.

Though basketball is his game—one that he has discussed many times with the country's top coaches—Durham has an active interest in many sports and many things.

He earned 14 letters in high school, four each in basketball and baseball and three each in football and track. An outstanding prep halfback, he turned down college scholarship offers from several schools to accept Kennedy's offer to play basketball at Florida State.

While an assistant coach in basketball, Durham doubled for four years as head Seminole golf coach with his teams recording a 48-6 record.

He found time to become Tallahassee badminton champion and now shoots golf in the 70s.

Durham is married to the former Malinda Dixon of Jacksonville and they have three sons.

An outstanding recruiter, Durham won't be satisfied until Florida State is a national power—something that may not be too far away.

Assistant Basketball Coach BILL CLENDINEN

Bill Clendinen became Florida State's Assistant Basketball Coach when Hugh Durham moved up to the Head Coaching position in the summer of 1966.

The former Seminole returned to his almamater after earning outstanding records in the high school and junior college basketball circles in Florida.

After receiving his BS degree in 1959 and his MA in 1961, Clendinen took his first coaching job at Clewiston High School. In his only season there he was named Suncoast Conference "Coach of the Year."

The following season Clendinen moved to Pensacola Junior College, where he produced four winning teams, including one State Championship club. In 1963 he was named Florida's Junior College Coach of the Year.

Before coming to Florida State he served as assistant basketball coach at Jacksonville University for a year.

"Florida State has always had a great basketball potential, and I have always anticipated the time when I could help build a dynamic basketball program here," said Clendinen.

Head Coach Durham has high praise for his assistant. "Bill is one of the hardest working and most thoroughly organized young coaches in the field. His knowledge of the game, and ability to recruit are an invaluable asset to our total program."

While a student at Florida State, Clendinen was president of his freshman and sophomore classes, and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, Gold Key and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Clendinen is married to the former Carlyn Donath, a former Seminole cheerleader. They have two children.

Freshman Coach

CLEVE BRANSCUM

This will be Cleve's second year as coach of the Seminole frosh following four years as head coach at Little Rock (Arkansas) University. Last season he directed the Baby Seminoles to a 9-9 record while developing such outstanding yearlings as Skip Young, John Burt and Denny Parker.

A 1961 graduate at Little Rock, he guided their freshman teams to 17-2 and 18-1 seasons before being elevated to the varsity spot. In his first season at the varsity helm, his club gained 15 victories—a high for the University.

Cleve is working on his doctorate in physical education.

KEN MACLEAN

Assistant to the Athletic Director

This is Ken's second year in the administrative end of Florida State athletics. Prior to moving into administration, he was head football recruiter for three seasons.

Following graduation, he was a successful state high school football coach. Florida High in Tallahassee had a 61-17-4 record under MacLean's direction. His 1961 Demons were undefeated and unscored on in 10 games.

He and wife Bess have four children.

LONNIE BURT

Sports Information Director

This is Lonnie's third year at his alma mater after 16 years as a sports writer for the St. Petersburg Times.

He joined The Times in 1950 where he wrote major league baseball and college sports (Florida State) primarily.

He was among the first group of men to enroll at Florida State.

He and wife Sally have two children.

HANK SCHOMBER

Assistant Sports Information Director

Hank is the first full-time assistant in the Sports Information Department. He assumed his duties following graduation in 1967.

He served as a correspondent for several of the state's newspapers and was sports editor of The Flambeau while in college.

He and wife Judy have a daughter, Tam.

DON FAULS

Head Trainer

Don is serving his 13th year as head trainer at Florida State. A native of Ithaca, N.Y., Don was formerly a trainer in the St. Louis Cardinal baseball organization before coming to Tallahassee.

He graduated from Ithaca College with a degree in physiotherapy. Don also did hospital and clinic work before coming to Florida State.

He and wife Marg have three children.

BILL ZEIGLER

Assistant Trainer

Bill moved in as Don Fauls' assistant following his graduation in August 1968.

A native of Greencastle, Pa., he attended Manatee Junior College in Bradenton on a basketball and baseball scholarship before coming to Florida State to play baseball.

His background as a trainer includes a year as a student trainer and a summer's work in the Gulf Coast Rookie Baseball League.

He and wife Pat have one son, Ted Williams Zeigler, named for the former Boston star.

1968-69 BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

The talent is deeper but the schedule is tougher.

This about sums up the 1968-69 prospects for the Florida State University Seminoles.

Hugh Durham, starting his third season as Seminole head basketball coach, is quick to admit that his club has more talent than any other Florida State team he's been around—either as a player or coach.

However, he's just as quick to counter with the fact this is the toughest schedule a Seminole five has been asked to go against.

"When you play people like Virginia Tech, Louisville, Southern California, Ohio State, Miami, South Carolina, North Carolina and Dayton, you had better have some talent," said the ex-Seminole star.

To continue the point, he explained that three Florida State foes-North Carolina, Dayton and Ohio State-have been in the NCAA Eastern finals during the past two years.

Last season, North Carolina was runnerup to champion UCLA in the NCAA finals, Dayton won the NIT while Ohio State copped the Big 10 and Louisville claimed the Missouri Valley Conference.

On the plus side, this year's Florida State club will have good overall team speed and depth. On the other side of the ledger, Durham is counting heavily on a pair of performers who have never played a varsity contest for Florida State—Junior college transfer Willie Williams and sophomore Skip Young.

"Our inexperienced players must come through early for us to have a good year," said Durham. "I don't mean in January, I mean in December."

Headlining the Seminole cage corps this season is All-America center candidate Dave Cowens, the 6-9 red-head from Newport, Ky. As a sophomore last season, Cowens averaged 22.5 points per contest and his 16.9 rebounds made him eighth in the country. There is no doubt in either opponents' or teammates' minds, Cowens is a super performer.

Cowens will spark a Seminole attack which once again will be of the run and shoot variety. This was in evidence last season when Florida State's 90.3 average made the Seminole fifth in the nation among scoring teams.

Backing up Cowens will be Dave Macomber, a 6-9 red shirt sophomore and 6-6 Lance Kimrey, off the freshman team. Macomber has some raw talent and shoots well from the outside for a big man.

The forward spots will have good depth although there is not great size among the five top candidates. Returning starter Jan Gies (6-6) was the club's third leading scorer last season with a 12.7 average. Williams, who red shirted last year after transferring from North Miami-Dade JC, is 6-7 and should complement Cowens in the rebounding department. He averaged 23.6 points and 19 rebounds in his final year of JC competition.

Although only 6-2, Dale Klay was the Seminoles' sixth man last season, averaging 8.2 points while John Burt (6-3) was the frosh's leading scorer (22.5) and rebounder (18.6), Ken Bush (6-4½) is another JC transfer—Chipola—where he averaged 22 points and nine rebounds.

Senior Jeff Hogan tops the guard contingent. The Akron, Ohio, shooter averaged 15.8 during 1967-68 and needs only 201 to join the Seminole 1,000-point club. Skip Young has the potential to be one of the country's best sophomores. The Columbus, Ohio, native has great speed and averaged 18.7 points as a freshman.

Lettermen Randy Cable, an excellent shooter, and Carl Reynolds add more depth. Junior college transfer Ken Macklin (Morristown, Tenn., JC) averaged 29.4 last season and Denny Parker is an interesting prospect off the freshman squad.

PHILOSOPHY OF FSU BASKETBALL PROGRAM by Hugh Durham, Head Basketball Coach

"In all areas of endeavor, strive to reach the ultimate of your abilities." This, in essence, is the philosophy of the basketball program at Florida State University.

Although our players are individuals and each has his own interests and goals, there are four areas, academic, athletic, social and moral, in which all our young men should strive for excellence. And, not only are we interested in outstanding individual achievement, but we are dedicated to excellence in our total basketball program.

What contribution will our basketball program have made to each player upon his graduation? At Florida State, we feel athletic letters and school records are not enough. Pride, self-discipline, perseverance, and loyalty are not letters to be forgotten or records to be broken. We feel it is important that our young men develop these qualities, and using them as a foundation, they will be prepared to strive successfully for excellence in their chosen fields. This carry-over value is an integral part of our basketball program at Florida State University.

As interested as we are in the individual, we are dedicated to the development of a winning basketball team. Winning is important—our society dictates this. As coach, I have established three goals for our basketball team. They are for Florida State to be represented in one of the national tournaments, for Florida State to be listed consistently in the top ten, and for Florida State to win the National Championship.

Florida State University is recognized nationally for excellence in the fields of accounting, chemistry, marine biology, mathematics, music and physics. In recent months, new academic programs at Florida State have been acclaimed in national magazines and Dr. Mulliken, of our Chemistry and Physics Department, was awarded the Nobel Prize.

Academically, Florida State has earned national prominence, and at our university, academics come first. Now it is time for our basketball program to obtain the same prominence. To do this, our men must learn to compete, meet the challenge, and pay the price to be a winner. I believe it can be done.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Wetherell

Florida State University is exceptionally proud of the academic success of the members of the basketball team. The team's overall grade point average is 2.3 which is equivalent to the overall men's average at Florida State. At the beginning of the 1968-69 school year Willie Williams had the highest grade point average of anyone on the basketball team.

The academic program for athletes at Florida State University is somewhat unique because it has a full-time academic counselor, Mr. T. K. Wetherell. His main responsibility is to see that the athletes are making adequate progress toward their degree. He also helps in planning their majors as well as in the selection of courses.

The Athletic Department requires that all full scholarship athletes spend at least five nights a week studying during their freshman year. All necessary study aids are provided and tutors are available when needed. Textbooks are furnished at all times, and many students check them out over the summer holidays as well.

1,000 POINT

JIMMY OLER (1952-56)

A guard during the Seminoles' final years as a small college team, Jimmy Oler amassed 1,820 points in four varsity seasons. His 762 free throws still stand as a career record. The 743 points he scored in his senior year is also the pacesetter in that category.

Years	FG	FT	Pts.	Games	Aver.
4 (1952-56)	529	762	1820	91	20.0

DAVE FEDOR (1959-62)

Dave Fedor was one of the finest field shooters ever to wear the Garnet and Gold, and his record 20.2 lifetime score average and 72 game-string of double figure games attest to that. A forward from 1959-62, Fedor started every game the Seminoles played during his eligibility. The 16 field goals he made against Miami in 1959 still stand as a Seminole record.

Years	FG	FT	Pts.	Games	Aver.
3 (1959-62)	585	283	1453	72	20.2

HAM WERNKE (1951-55)

Another four-year varsity veteran, Ham Wernke, totaled 508 field goals and 393 free throws during his career. He and Jimmy Oler shared the honor of becoming the Seminoles' first 1,000 Point Clubbers in 1955.

4 (1951-55)	508	393	1409	73	19.3

CLUB

HUGH DURHAM (1956-59)

Hugh Durham's 1,381 points rank him fourth among the Seminoles' all-time scorers. A guard from 1956-59. Durham averaged nearly 19 points a game for Florida State. During his sophomore season, Durham hit a record high of 43 points in a single game, a mark he holds jointly with Dave Fedor who equaled that output three years later.

Years	FG	\mathbf{FT}	Pts.	Games	Aver.
3 (1956-59)	470	441	1381	73	18.9

GARY SCHULL (1963-66)

One of the finest big men ever to play for Florida State, Gary Schull became the latest member of the 1,000 Point Club with a 1,090 point total in 76 games from 1963-66.

Years	FG	FT	Pts.	Games	Aver.
3 (1963-66)	393	304	1090	76	14.3

RAY SWAIN (1959-62)

Ray Swain almost did not make the 1,000 Point Club. Near the end of his last varsity game, Coach Bud Kennedy took the three-year Seminole center-forward out of the game for a well-earned rest. With a little over a minute to play, Kennedy was informed that Swain lacked only a single field goal of joining the golden circle of Seminole scorers. Kennedy immediately returned Swain to the floor, and as the final seconds of his Florida State career ticked away, Swain made the all-important shot.

Years	FG	FT	Pts.	Games	Aver.
3 (1959-62)	403	194	1000	73	13.8

Tipoff Club President James E. Joanos (I) and Head Coach Hugh Durham (r) are ready for the season opening tipoff. Honorary member, Florida Governor, Claude R. Kirk Jr., tosses up the first ball.

SEMINOLE TIPOFF CLUB

The Seminole Tipoff Club is an organization dedicated to providing funds for basketball recruiting. There are about 300 members. Membership is open to all alumni and friends of the University. A minimum contribution of $15 is required in order to extend the contributor full membership privileges, which include priority on ticket purchases and reserved parking at home games.

All contributions are handled in accordance with NCAA regulations. The head basketball coach is responsible for use of the funds, which are administered through the University.

In addition to its regular solicitation program, the Tipoff Club has sponsored several special projects for fund-raising purposes, including the Harlem Globe-trotters' appearances the last two years.

The president of the club is Tallahassee attorney, James E. Joanos. Florida State's Director of Alumni Affairs, Tom Waits, serves as Executive Secretary. The Tipoff Club office is located at 114 Longmire Alumni Building, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
