FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

"A University, like its athletic teams, must call its signals on the basis of teamwork and tested strategies, and yet be unafraid to try a new approach when — or even before — an old one fails," says Florida State's President Stanley Marshall.

Thus, Florida State is an ever-changing institution — proud of its past, influential in its present form, confident in its future — and, above all, actively concerned about each of the more than 20,000 students it is serving in 1975.

As one of nine institutions in the State University System, and the second oldest, Florida State's traditions date back to its founding in 1857, as the Seminary West of the Suwannee. Yet its vision encompasses the needs of mankind in the 21st Century. The University's faculty and administrators are alert to both the immediate and long-range problems of society which require solution and educational assistance.

Academically and athletically, Florida State continues to be a contender for top ranking among the nation's leading universities.

Although Seminole athletics can be traced back to the first decade of the 20th Century, the University's history includes a number of years when it was known as the Florida State College for Women (1905-47). The dynamic growth of intercollegiate athletics, since co-education and university status came to the campus in 1947, has paralleled the phenomenal physical and enrollment growth of the institution in the last two and one-half decades.

Supported by major grants from the National Science Foundation, the University has attained national prominence in physics, statistics, chemistry, and psychobiology. In athletics, the last decade has seen Seminole teams earn major bowl and tournament appearances and several bona fide All-America titles. In academics, the same period of time has seen two Nobel Laureates added to the faculty — one on a full time, the other on an annual winter quarter basis.

A pioneer in the field of oceanography for many years, Florida State is making marine studies (including the U.S. Sea Grant Program) one of its strong points of emphasis in the decade ahead. Facilities for oceanographic research are located both on the campus and in the Ed Ball Marine Laboratories on the Gulf of Mexico, south of Tallahassee.

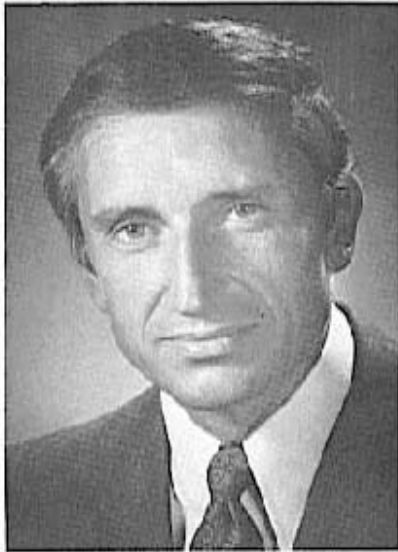

Balancing its prestige in the sciences with academic achievements in the arts and humanities as well, Florida State is the home base for the State Theater, State Opera and State Symphony of Florida. Its role as an artistic and cultural pacesetter is long-standing and international in scope in art, music and theater.

Artists-in-residence this year will include two internationally known composers, Australian Malcolm Williamson and the Polish composer Krzysztof Penderecki. In recent years students have had an opportunity to study under such talents as composer Carlos Menotti and writer-in-residence, Dr. E.R. Braichwaite, author of the best selling, "To Sir, With Love."

The John MacArthur Center for American Theatre, a $19.4 million project, announced last year, is envisioned as a home for American theatre, a focal point for the development of the art at both the educational and professional levels. Though still in the planning stages, the Center has already attracted major donations and promises to establish Florida State's preeminence in collegiate theatre.

At the undergraduate level, Florida State students have a choice of more than 87 different baccalaureate fields of study; and at the graduate level, a choice of more than 85 master's degree areas and 58 doctoral programs.

Rounding out the University's research resources are two nuclear accelerators, a million-book library and special research facilities in geophysical fluid dynamics, educational research and technology, molecular biophysics social research, political research, psychobiology and psychology.

DR. STANLEY MARSHALL
President, Florida State University

An active sportsman himself, Florida State's President Stanley Marshall is the University's most energetic and enthusiastic Seminole fan. He frequently plays as hard as he works, and that's saying something for a president whose daily agenda is often one that runs from 7 a.m. to midnight.

Nevertheless, according to his lovely wife Shirley, he still finds time to swim, to play tennis and touch football with friends, and ride horses on their farm in Quincy, their nearby retreat from the formal presidential home on West Tennessee Street. Dr. Marshall's family shares his interest in frequent athletic activities — Sue Ellen, 21; David, 25; John, 12; Kimberly Ann, 6; and Drew, who was 5 in July.

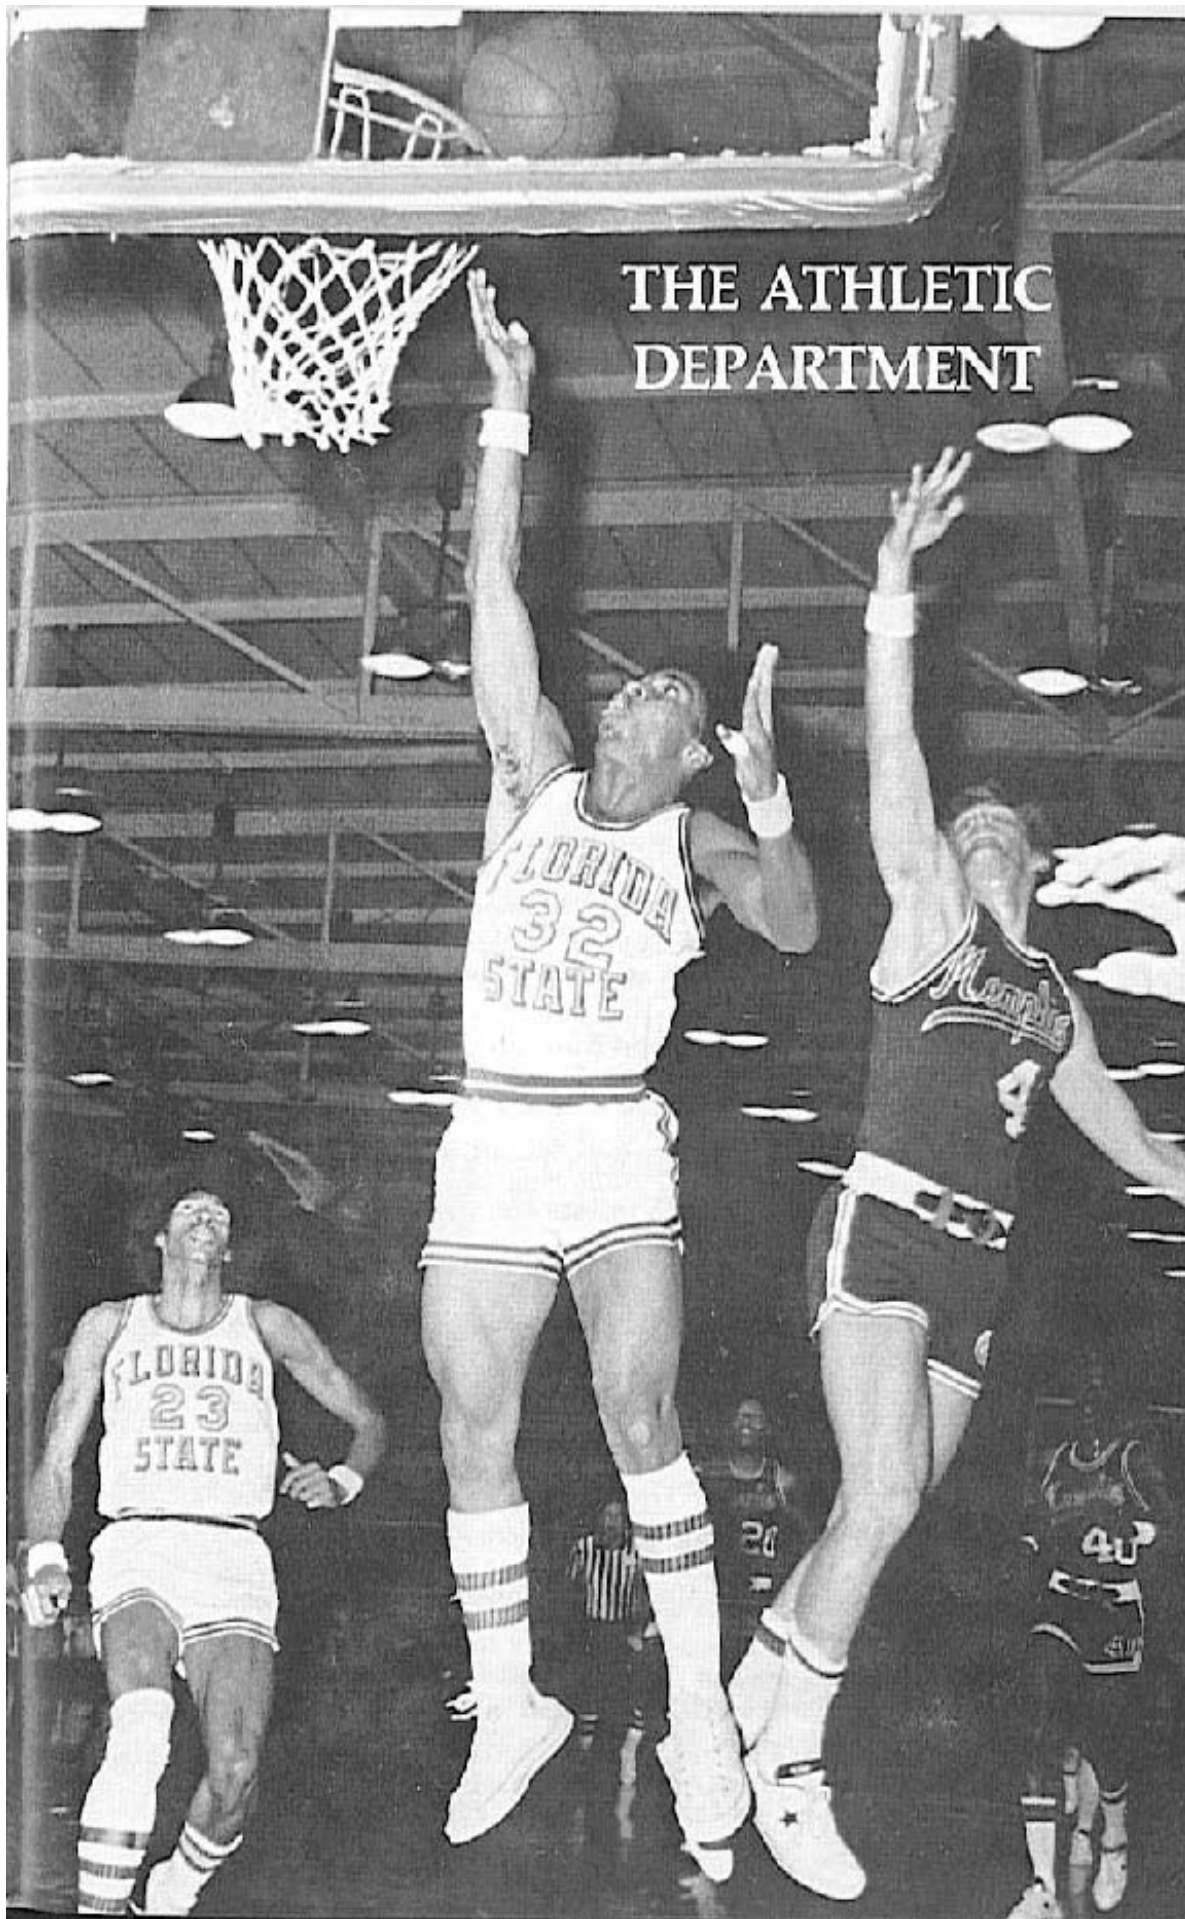

Dr. Marshall attended Pennsylvania State Teachers College at Slippery Rock until the middle of his junior year in February, 1943, whereupon he entered the U.S. Army. During his military duty he was a member of the Army Specialized Training Program. He then served in the European Theatre of World War II until his discharge in 1946. He received the master's and doctor's degree from Syracuse University in 1950 and 1956, respectively, both in the area of science education.

In 1963, Dr. Marshall was invited by the Ford Foundation and the Turkish Government to direct the National Science Project of Turkey in which he and other American educators undertook the establishment of a national science high school for gifted students in Ankara.

Dr. Marshall is the co-author of three professional books and a widely used series of elementary science textbooks. He served as editor of the JOURNAL OF RESEARCH IN SCIENCE TEACHING from 1962-66 and as a member of the editorial board of Science World from 1962-65.

He is a member of 13 national or state professional organizations and has been recognized by inclusion in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA and AMERICAN MEN OF SCIENCE. He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the Board of Regents of the National Library of Medicine, and president of the Southern Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

JOHN BRIDGERS

Athletic Director

John Bridgers brought many years of administrative and coaching experience with him when he assumed Florida State's Athletic Directorship in the spring of 1973.

A veteran coach in both collegiate and pro ranks, Bridgers came to the Seminoles from South Carolina where he served as an associate to Head Coach and Athletic Director Paul Dietzel.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Bridgers feels a large part of his responsibility is to establish and maintain strong bonds with university faculty, staff, alumni and students as well as the other friends of the athletic program.

"Florida State has one of the nation's finest all-around athletic programs," said Bridgers. "It is our aim to see that it maintains its outstanding reputation and continues to move up among the country's top teams in all sports.

"To accomplish this will take the hard work, effort and dedication of all those associated with the university."

Prior to his association at South Carolina, Bridgers was head coach and athletic director at Baylor and an assistant coach at both Baltimore and Pittsburgh in the NFL.

A veteran of World War II and Korea, Bridgers received his Bachelor of Science degree from Auburn University in 1947. Following his graduation, he continued at Auburn as an instructor of economics.

He was accepted to the Yale Law School, but a service commitment forced him to turn it down. Following his two-year Army tour in Korea, in which he enrolled as a private and was discharged as a captain, he began his coaching career.

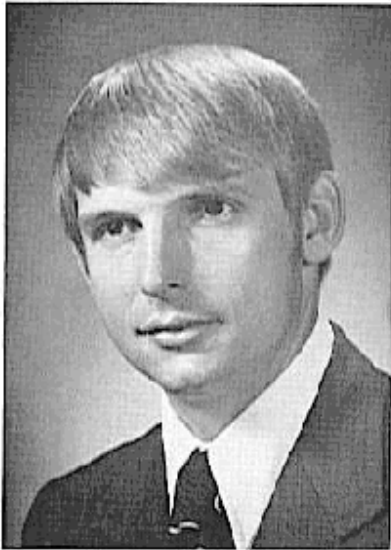

Bridgers' early coaching experience included tenures at the University of the South Sewanee, Tenn., and at Johns Hopkins, where he coached both football and track.

In 1957, he joined the staff of the Baltimore Colts and was a coach on the 1958 club which defeated the New York Giants, 23-17, in the now famous "sudden death" game.

He moved to Baylor in 1959 and for 10 years held the Athletic Director and Head Football Coach positions with the Bears. During this time he led the Bears to three bowl games and the third best won-loss record in the Southwest Conference behind Texas and Arkansas.

Following the 1968 season Bridgers left Baylor and was named offensive backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He joined Dietzel's staff at South Carolina in 1970.

Bridgers is married to the former Frances Young of Florence, Ala. They have two sons, John Dixon and Donald Hamilton.

BILL ROWE
Assistant Athletic Director

Bill Rowe joined his former coaching associate John Bridgers on the Seminole administrative staff last spring, after a long and successful stint as an assistant under Paul Dietzel.

His duties with the Seminoles include the overseeing of Florida State's physical facilities and their operations.

A native of Pennsylvania, he received an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., where he lettered three seasons as a center and linebacker. He received honorable mention All-America recognition and was voted Army's outstanding lineman his senior season. He played for the North in the North-South game in December 1958, and graduated in the spring of 1959, with a BS degree in Engineering.

In 1964, Rowe returned to West Point as an assistant coach. In 1966 he moved to South Carolina and from 1970-72, served as defensive coordinator.

A member of the Fellowship for Christian Athletes, Bill is married to the former Mary Lou Beittel of Carlisle, Pa. They have four children.

CLAUDE THIGPEN
Athletic Business Manager

Claude assumed his new position in the spring of 1974, after nearly two decades of working with the Athletic Department as accountant and ticket manager.

The Greenville, Fla., native continues to head the Seminoles' complex ticket operations as he has for more than 12 years, but has added new responsibility for budget and fiscal control.

The veteran member of the athletic department has organized the ticket operation into a smooth functioning unit and is constantly on the alert for new ideas for more expedient operation of the department's overall business dealings.

Claude and his wife, the former Carleen Lindley, have two children.

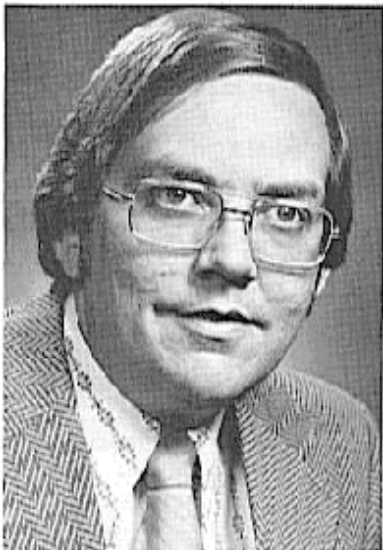

LONNIE BURT
Sports Information Director

Coordinating press and public relations and promoting Florida State's Athletic Program in general fall under Lonnie's far-ranging duties.

A member of the first group of men to enroll at Florida State following its conversion from a College for Women, Lonnie brought a 16-year background of sports writing with him when he returned to his alma mater in 1966.

A native of Evergreen, Ala., Lonnie has directed publicity for the Seminoles throughout one of their finest eras — one which has included four bowl games and a number of post season invitations for the remainder of the Seminole sports.

Lonnie and his wife, the former Sally McLaughlin of Statesville, N.C., have two children.

HANK SCHOMBER
Assistant
Sports Information Director

A full time member of the Athletic staff since his graduation from Florida State in 1967, Hank is charged with much of the publication and statistical work for all Seminole sports.

A native of Westchester County, N.Y., and former resident of Pompano Beach, he serves as editor for the athletic brochures, handbooks and programs. He is also in charge of overseeing the operations of the press boxes for football, basketball and baseball.

A member of the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, he was recently elected Third Vice President after serving a year as District Director in the Southeast.

Hank and his wife Judy, who should receive her Ph.D. degree from Florida State this year, have a daughter, Tam.

CHARLIE DURBIN
Cinematographer

The proverbial "Jack of all trades" at the Athletic Department only this 26-year veteran has a unique twist as he is also "master of most."

In addition to his photographic duties, which include turning out coaches' films, TV highlight films and daily practice films for football and basketball, this Havana, Fla., native fills a valuable role as Seminole bus driver. There are few Seminole athletes who have not "ridden behind Charlie" some time in their career.

Charlie and his wife, the former Leo Poppell of Havana, have five children.

WOODY SAUCIER
Equipment Manager

Woody has the complex job of handling and sorting the equipment for all the Seminole sports except football.

A native of Monroe, La., he has completely reorganized the operation including a redesigned equipment room, resulting in a better controlled, more streamlined handling.

Now in his sixth year at Florida State, he had previously served for 12 years as a Federal Security Officer at the Charleston, S.C. Naval Yard.

He and his wife Glennis have one son, Rodney.

HUGH DURHAM

Head Basketball Coach

In just eight years, Florida State Basketball Coach Hugh Durham has established a record that is the envy of all but a few coaches. Since 1966, Durham has compiled a 151-65 record giving him the nation's 10th best winning percentage (.699) over that period.

When Durham took the reins of the Seminole program, following the death of Bud Kennedy in 1966, he set three goals: to be consistently ranked among the nation's top clubs, to play in the NCAA Tournament and to win the National Championship.

It did not take the Florida State graduate and 1,000-point club member long to prove he meant what he said. After an injury-riddled first year in which the Tribe went 11-15, the Seminoles have reeled off records of 19-8, 18-8, 23-3, 17-9, 27-6, 18-8 and 18-8.

The 1967-68 squad gained a NCAA tournament bid and since then the Seminoles regularly have ranked among the top 25 clubs. The 1971-72 season was Durham's most successful since the Seminoles went to the NCAA finals. The Tribe battled past Kentucky, Minnesota and North Carolina before dropping a five-point decision to UCLA in the championship game.

Durham has been associated with the Florida State program for 18 years as a player and coach. He is a native of Louisville, Ky., where he lettered a total of 14 times in four sports.

He is considered one of the finest guards in Seminole history, scoring 1,381 points in three varsity seasons. Durham had two 500-plus seasons and received All-America mention. His 1,381 points placed him fifth on the Seminoles' all time scoring list.

Also while at Florida State, he was a member of the Gold Key Honorary Fraternity and was named Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities.

Following graduation he became freshman coach and posted a 9-1 record that still stands as Florida State's top one-year frosh mark. In 1961 he was named Kennedy's full time assistant.

During those four years as assistant, Durham doubled as Florida State golf coach and his teams were no less successful, winning 48 of 54 matches. Hubert Green, recruited by Durham, was voted rookie of the year in 1971 by the Pro Golfers Association.

A winner off the court as well as on, Durham is an avid racketball player and captured both the state singles and doubles championships in 1973.

Durham has sent several players into pro basketball, the most notable being 6-9 Dave Cowens, the NBA's Most Valuable Player in 1972-73. Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn called Cowens "the best prepared rookie that I have ever seen." Cowens and teammate Willie Williams led the Seminoles to a 23-3 record in the 1969-70 season.

Durham graduated from Florida State with a Bachelor of Science and Master's degree in Business. He and his wife Melinda have three children, David 14, Doug 9 and Jim 6.

MORRIS McHONE

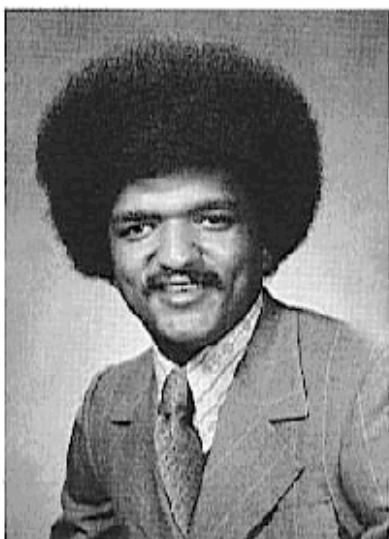

Assistant Basketball Coach

Morris McHone is beginning his sixth year as a Seminole aid including a season as graduate assistant.

A native of Marion, N.C., McHone attended Wingate JC and Florida State. He had two years coaching experience at Zephyrhills H.S. before moving to Ft. Lauderdale Nova where he was named Broward County "Coach of the Year."

Knowledgeable and especially good at working on fundamentals with the younger players, McHone is a valuable addition on the varsity staff. He also has scouting and recruiting responsibilities.

He and his wife Sharon have one son.

LARRY GAY

Assistant Basketball Coach

Although this will be Larry's first year as an assistant coach, he certainly is no stranger to Hugh Durham's basketball program.

The Winchester, KY native played three years for Durham, including the 1971-72 season when the Seminoles finished second in the NCAA Championships. He graduated from Florida State in 1973, with a degree in social work.

A versatile player during his varsity career, he played an important role as a reserve at both the wing and post spots. His experience there will enable him to work well with the players at those spots now.

BILL BAGGETT
Head Trainer

Bill comes back to Florida State as head trainer following a one-year stint as assistant at Northern Arizona.

Before going to Arizona, the 24-year-old native of Panama City put in one year as a graduate assistant trainer at Florida State.

Bill spent most of his young life in Ozark, Ala., although he graduated from Miami Palmetto High School. He then attended Indiana State University, gaining his B.S. in 1972. He lettered as a baseball catcher while in college.

He is married to the former Marilyn Gann of Miami.

1974-1975
THE SEMINOLES

1974-75 OUTLOOK

Florida State's Hugh Durham, who has the nation's 10th best coaching percentage record over the past eight seasons with a 151-65 mark, views the 1974-75 basketball campaign with guarded optimism.

With seven of 11 lettermen returning following the Seminoles' second straight 18-8 record and 17 home games as plusses, Durham sees the lack of two experienced big men as a drawback.

"We have Greg Grady (6-9) back and he had a good year last season for a sophomore," said Durham. "Greg averaged 10.5 points and 9.8 rebounds and to me that's a good season for a sophomore.

"Our other big man is John Harrison (6-10), a transfer from Houston. He really hasn't been given the opportunity to play a lot so his contribution next season is one of uncertainty. However, he has the quickness, speed and jumping ability and that always helps.

"I have a lot of confidence in Zack Perkins (6-7). He fulfilled all expectations last season as a sophomore and he should have another outstanding year. Bob Chassee (6-5) also made a contribution in 1973-74 and he will improve.

"Actually, the pressure will be on Harrison, Chassee plus an incoming freshman, Harry Davis (6-7, 220 pounds) to give us depth at the post position."

On the wings, Durham is pleased. Returning are junior Larry Warren (6-4) who led the Seminoles in scoring last season with a 16.9 average and sophomore Wayne Smalls (6-2), who as a frosh logged 508 minutes of playing time. "We have some experience here and both are fine shooters," said Durham.

The same can be said of two returning point guards — sophomores Eugene Harris and Carlton Byrd. As Freshmen, these two talented pointmen divided the time directing the attack.

"Once again we'll rely on pressure defense, an area we emphasize," said Durham. We have the quickness to play pressure defense. It takes as much teamwork to play defense as it does offense and with our speed our defense should help our offense. We spend 1 hour and 45 minutes of our 2½-hour practice session on defense so you can see that we think this is important."

Other than Davis, the Seminoles have signed three other players this year. They are all wingmen and include 6-4 Bruce Boyd from Fresno JC in Fresno, Calif.; 6-6 Mark Brodie, Bishop Riley High School in New York City; and 6-5 Hank Mann, Chester, Pa., HS. Davis is from Cathedral Latin HS in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mann has the most impressive credentials, averaging 25.7 points in his senior season while his club recorded 23 victories and 4 defeats.

"What it all boils down to is that our inside game must develop and we have to get some depth out of our newcomers for us to have a great year," said Durham.

... may be the difference in the Seminoles being a good team and a strong team ... key will be if he realizes where his contribution to team lies ... at 6-10 could provide the inside depth the Seminoles will need ... has jumping ability and quickness, but not a lot of bulk ... his major contribution should be rebounding and defense, and will not be counted on for points from the outside ... is working to improve low post moves inside ... has to learn to play defense with feet as well as with hands ... may be the most inexperienced five year man in country with only 15 minutes playing time, however he will get opportunity to play early ... transferred to Florida State from Houston following his sophomore year, although he played prep ball in Florida.

... cut from same mold as former Seminole Rowland Garrett who is now with the NBA Chicago Bulls ... had a very fine year last season when he lived up to all expectations and then some ... will move up from non-starting to starting role this year and a lot of the Seminoles' success will be dependent on kind of year he has ... he should respond to this kind of pressure, however, since last year coaches said team's success would depend on Zach's development and he came through as third man inside and had some outstanding games ... comes into this season at 6-7 an inch taller than last year ... has exceptional quickness for man his size and is the fastest man on the club ... won 90% of the distance races during preseason program displaying stamina as well as speed ... fine defensive player with good jumping ability ... averaged 8.0 rebounds per game last year in reserve role, if he maintains his 48% shooting percentage will be an offensive plus ... competitive player, plays full 40-minute type of game, giving full effort all the time he is on the floor ... his shot selection can stand improvement and needs to eliminate unnecessary, over aggressive fouls, if he does he will have an outstanding year ... all state high school performer, scored 1,500 points and gathered in 1,200 rebounds in his prep career.

... came to Florida State and did what many people were skeptical a "little man" could do — step in and beat out a returning player and run the point for a major school ... a very coachable player, small in stature, but big in performance ... intelligent player and a good student, a Seminole Scholar Athlete ... does what is asked of him and then some ... always working in practice to improve, has good attitude toward game ... made fine adjustment a year ago from high school zone to Seminole man-on-man defense ... was able to improve defensive play to the point where he could overcome his size handicap and provide constant pressure on ball handler ... a mature player he ran offense with exceptional poise and as year went on got better ... expect to see continued improvement in this area ... extremely disciplined player, committed only 35 fouls in 26 games last season ... plays hard and gives full effort on the floor at all times, a good leader and gets along well with players — all intangibles that make him that much more effective as a player ... has good quickness and speed and is an adequate shooter ... Prep Player of the Year in Broward County his senior year when he earned all-state and honorable mention All-America honors ... his father, Chester Byrd, a former football and basketball player at Bethune Cookman College, is assistant principal at Hallandale, where former Seminole Greg Samuel is basketball coach.

... was most pleasant surprise of last season although he saw limited action ... showed enough that coaches are confident he will make strong contribution this year ... along with Greg Grady, he ranks as hardest working player on team ... has worked hard on his outside shot during the off season and this may give him opportunity to play wing as well as inside ... main strength is his desire to play team basketball, if player is open he will get him the ball ... made a number of good feeds last year ... has good speed and strength ... "heady player" who is mentally "in the game" at all times ... his alertness helps him overcome some of his physical shortcomings, especially defensively ... has good jumping ability, but big question is does he have size to go to the boards ... will play more this season and is counted on to provide depth inside.

... without question was the best freshman defensive player in Florida State history a year ago ... has the ability to dominate the ball handler and that's a must in the Seminole defensive scheme ... wants to be a good defensive player, has confidence in his ability, yet never quits working to get better ... plays with as much heart as any player on the squad ... physically strong and very aggressive ... offensively he is a good shooter, hit 50.8% from field and 81.4% from line last season ... coaches have enough confidence in his offensive ability that new moves for the pointman have been added to the Seminole attack ... mature player, who gives you everything when he is on the floor ... got reputation as "man who made things happen" when he stepped on the floor a year ago ... "can't say enough about him," say Seminole coaches ... splitting time with Carlton Byrd last year, they were instrumental in the Seminoles 90-71 upset win over New Mexico ... was all-state and all-southern pick in high school.

... strong physical guard with excellent quickness ... an exceptional outside shooter although he got off to a slow start with a 43% average as a freshman ... a hard worker who wants to reach the limits of his potential and is constantly looking for ways to improve ... averaged 9.0 points per game last year in non-starting role, as a starter this season is expected to be one of team's scoring leaders ... worked hard defensively last year, improving with each game ... by mid season was an exceptional defensive guard and along with Eugene Harris and Carlton Byrd Seminole coaches felt they had top three freshman guards in the country, defensively ... when teamed with Harris this winter they will be two of the strongest and best defensive guards on the court at one time in FSU history ... is working to improve his passing, and as he learns when to get rid of the ball a little better, he will be one of the best all-around guards to play for Seminoles ... fine all-around athlete, was all-state and All-America in basketball and all-city in baseball in high school.

SEMINOLES IN THE PROS

Florida State's basketball program, under the direction of Head Coach Hugh Durham, has become a favorite of the pros. The reason is Coach Durham's philosophy which closely follows pro thinking. Following Dave Cowens' great senior season with the Seminoles, Boston Coach, Tom Heinsohn, watched him play in a Celtics rookie session and said, "Cowens is the best prepared rookie that I have seen — he's a pro now!" Cowens proved Heinsohn right as he went out and earned NBA Rookie of the Year honors in 1971.

THE DEFENDERS

A major factor of the Florida State basketball philosophy concerns defense and the Seminoles under Hugh Durham have had many fine defensive performers whose contributions are not as easily measured, but certainly are as important as the "pointmakers." The ten individuals listed here are Coach Durham's choices as the top defensive players during his tenure as Head Coach.

Center:	Dave Cowens	Willie Williams
Forward:	Ron Harris	Reggie Royals
Forward:	Rowland Garrett	John Burt

MEMO TO THE MEDIA

This handbook was prepared to assist you during the 1974-75 basketball season at Florida State University. For additional information, service or press space requests, please contact:

LONNIE BURT

Director of Sports Information

HANK SCHOMBER

Assistant SID

Room 200, Tully Gymnasium
Florida State University
Tallahassee, Florida 32306
Area Code 904
Phone: 644-2790

Home Phone: 385-4480

Home Phone: 576-8922

FACILITIES: Press and Broadcast facilities are located on the South side of Tully Gym. Floor level space is provided for working press with above-the-floor press box space available for radio and television broadcasters. Credentials for all working press and photographers are handled on an individual game basis. Requests should be made in time for mailing of all credentials as there is no "WILL CALL" window at the gym. Arrangements for telephone and broadcast hookups should be made directly to Central Telephone Company. Western Union does not transmit from Tully Gym. The Sports Information Department will have one Telecopier available at the gym.

SERVICE: Half-time and complete final box score statistics are provided.

ON THE COVERS: Some of Florida State's Rich Basketball Heritage is captured by Jim Grosvenor of University Information Services. The players are former Seminoles Dave Cowens (left) and Rowland Garrett now in the NBA. Head Coach Hugh Durham, the man who for the last eight years has built the 10th best winning record in the country, is seen leading the charge. Success in basketball is only part of the story at FSU, however, as many Seminole graduates, like Ron Harris and John Burt, who have graduated gone on to earn graduate degrees or become coaches on their own. Back cover photo of the 1974-75 Seminole squad was taken by Gil Lawhon of the FSU Photo Lab.

This public document was promulgated at an annual cost of $2,586.36, or $1.62 per copy to serve as a handbook for basketball to acquaint the media and the fans with the 1974-75 FSU Basketball program.
