ONE WAY

UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

Located in Tallahassee, Florida State University is one of the fastest growing universities in the country. Already it is literally bursting at its seams with an estimated 10,000 students expected by 1960.

The campus consists of 297 acres, the older part of which overlooks the capital city.

The new portion of the campus follows a 50-year master plan developed by well-known architects. It stretches westward along Highway 90.

Growing by leaps and bounds, the campus has an 11-floor dormitory with three more just like it expected in the near future. A million dollar physical education plant is a year-and-a-half old as is the multi-million dollar library building.

New buildings completed this year are the School of Business and the School of Education, and a Geology addition.

A recent act of the Legislature granted the University $2,300,000 for developing basic nuclear studies which will put Florida State to the fore in the nuclear field.

Authorized by the 1851 Legislature, the institution was first established as the "Seminary West of the Suwannee," and was opened on a portion of its present campus. The name was changed to "Florida State College" in 1901 and the school remained coeducational until 1905. Then it became the "Florida Female College" and was renamed in 1909, "The Florida State College for Women."

By act of the 1947 Legislature, the institution again became coeducational as The Florida State University.

The President

DR. ROBERT M. STROZIER

Florida State University's President, Dr. Robert M. Strozier, is a football enthusiast who will be "playing" his second year for the Seminoles.

When Dr. Strozier came to Florida State in September, 1957, it was homecoming for the popular new president. Born in McRae, Ga., he was reared in Moultrie, Ga., and was graduated from Emory University. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago.

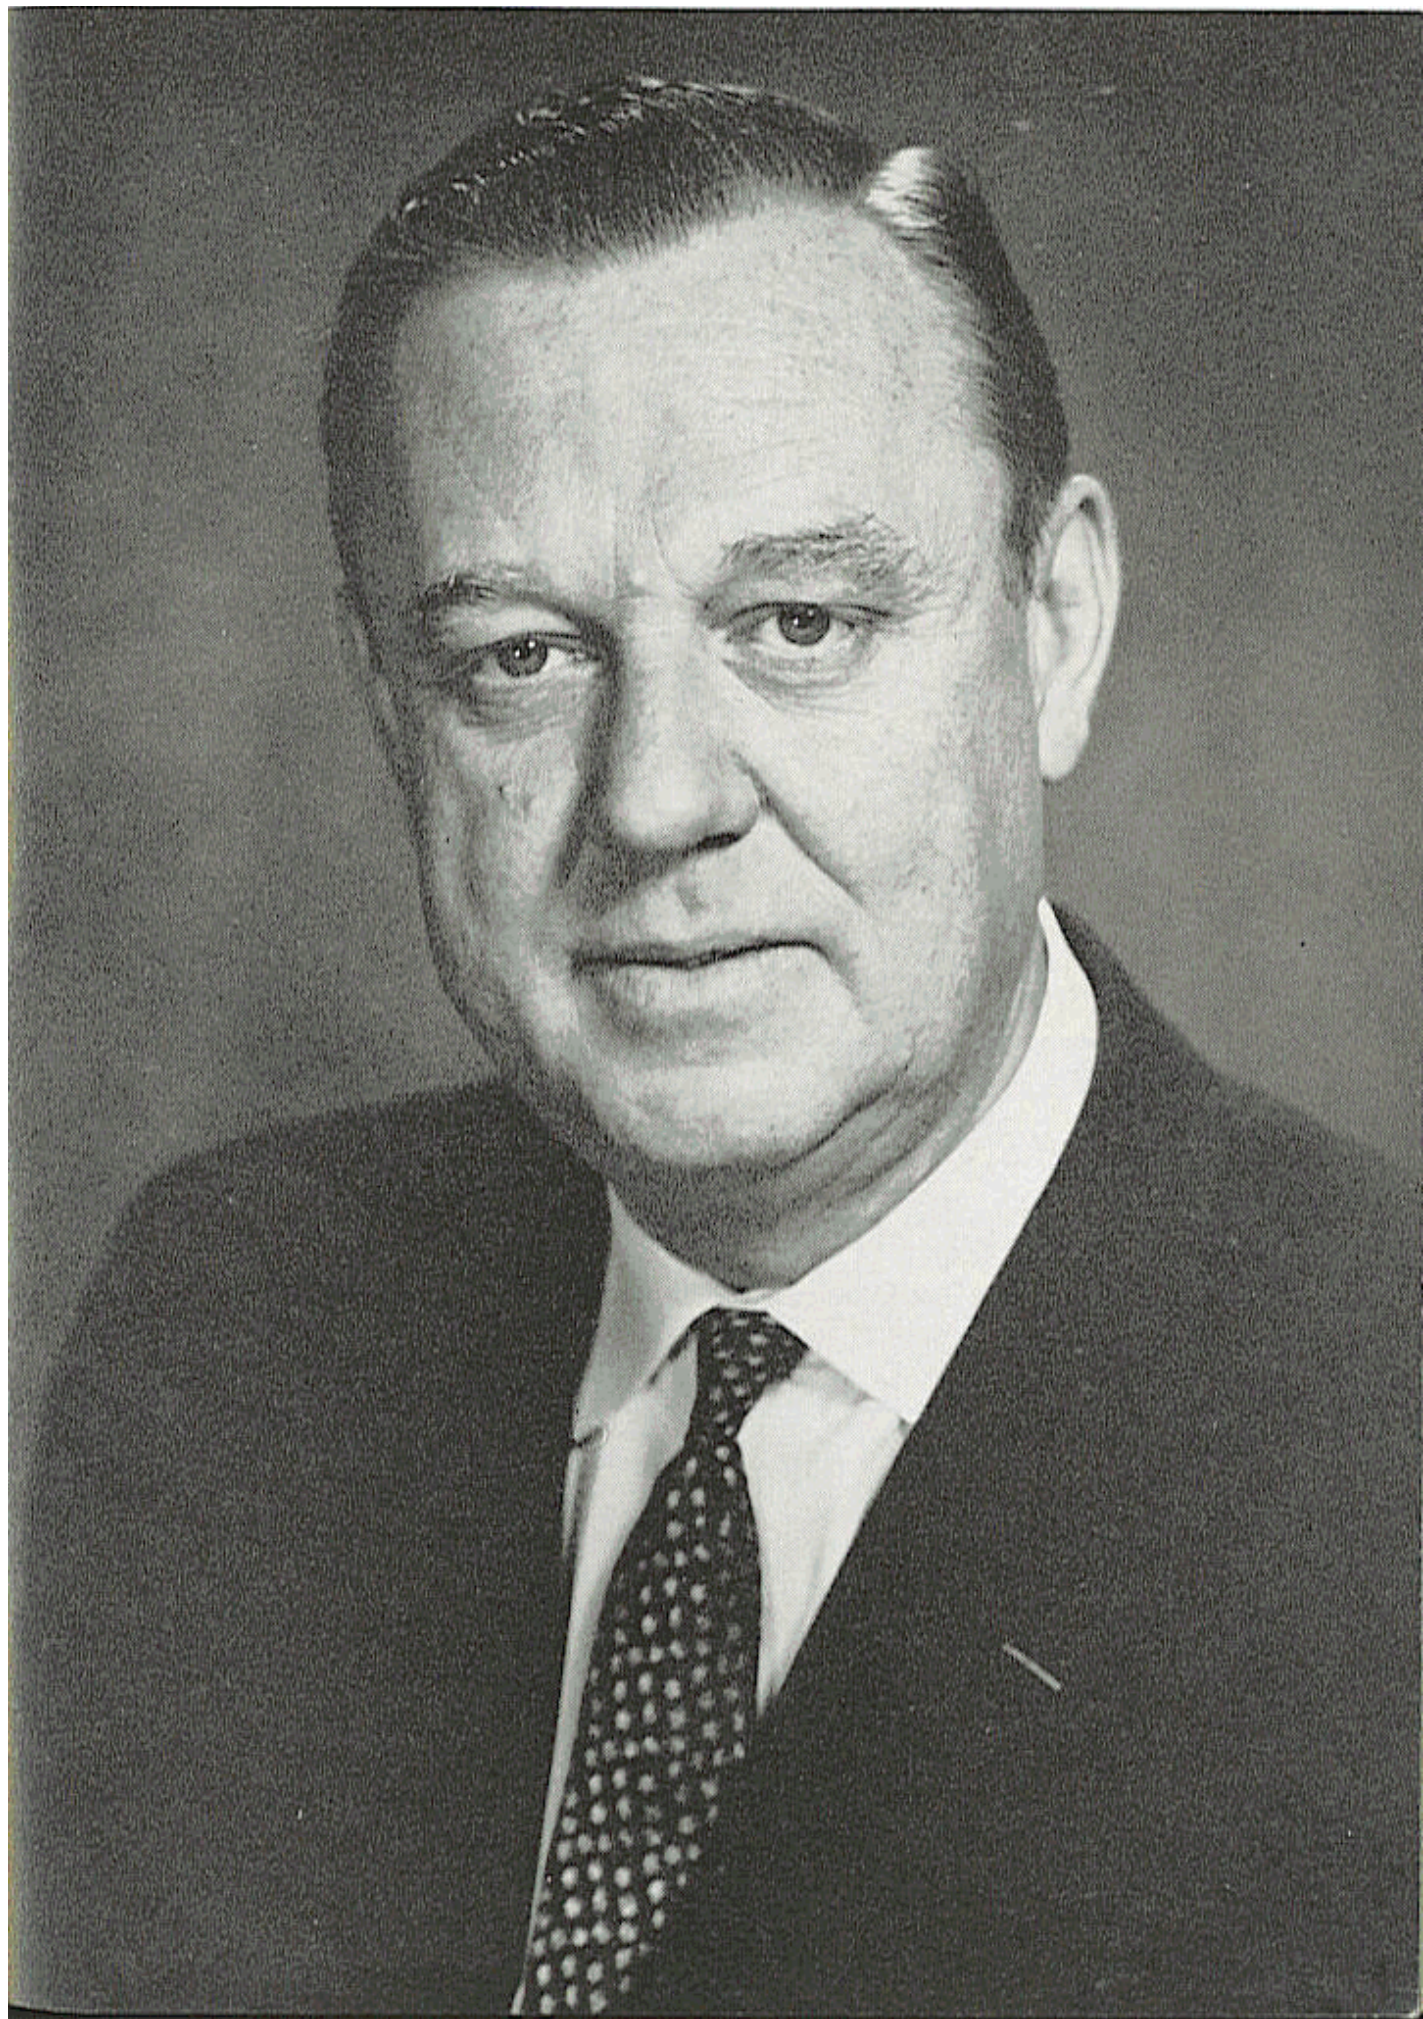

President Strozier began his professional career as professor of romance languages at Georgia State College for Men at Tifton. From 1933-1940 he served as professor of French and dean of men at West Georgia College.

In 1940 he went to the University of Georgia as associate dean of students and associate professor of romance languages. Later he served as director of the Army Special Training Program unit there.

In May, 1945, he joined the University of Chicago faculty as associate director of International House and in 1946 he became dean of students.

President Strozier's first year at Florida State has been one of accomplishment from the start. Faculty and staff morale has mounted with his enthusiasm. Alumni have rallied to the support of Florida State in increasing numbers and alumni giving is on the increase.

At Commencement last May he reported an accumulative total of research grants and contract funds of $1,225,000, greater by $487,000 than in any previous year. Among these contracts is one with the United States Air Force amounting to $217,260 for nuclear research, the largest single contract ever negotiated in support of research at Florida State.

The Vice President . . .

DR. ALBERT B. MARTIN

One of the Seminoles' strongest boosters is Dr. A. B. Martin, Florida State's Vice President, who served as President from July 1 until September, 1957, when President Strozier arrived.

Born in Africa of American parents serving as Methodist missionaries, Vice President Martin spent the greater part of his life in Texas, where he was identified with educational and civic affairs.

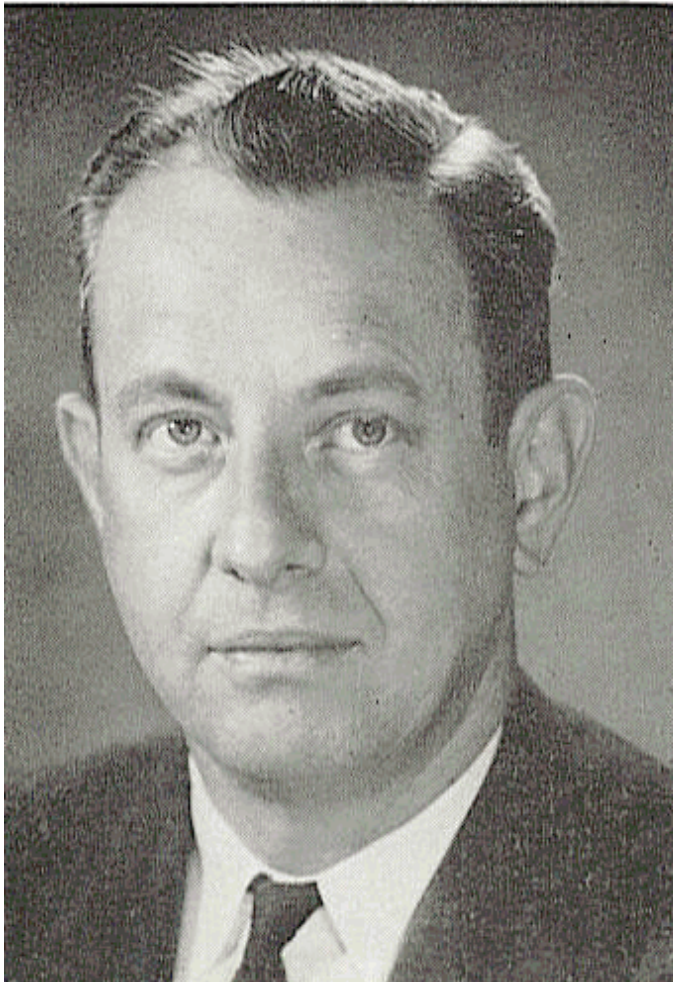

Among his previous assignments, Dr. Martin served as teacher and coach at Santa Rosa, Tex., High School; principal and later superintendent of Tabasco schools, La Joya, Tex.; deputy state superintendent; state director of Equalization, and state director of Curriculum at the State Department of Education in the Lone Star State.

Dr. Martin moved to the University of Mississippi as director of extension before coming to Florida State in 1951. With the growth of Florida State University multiplying the duties of administration to the point where it was necessary to create the post of university vice president, Dr. Martin's specialized training and experience made him well qualified as the first person to be given this assignment at Florida State.

He is a graduate of Southwestern University and Southwestern Texas State College, receiving both his master of education and doctor of education degrees from the University of Texas at Austin.

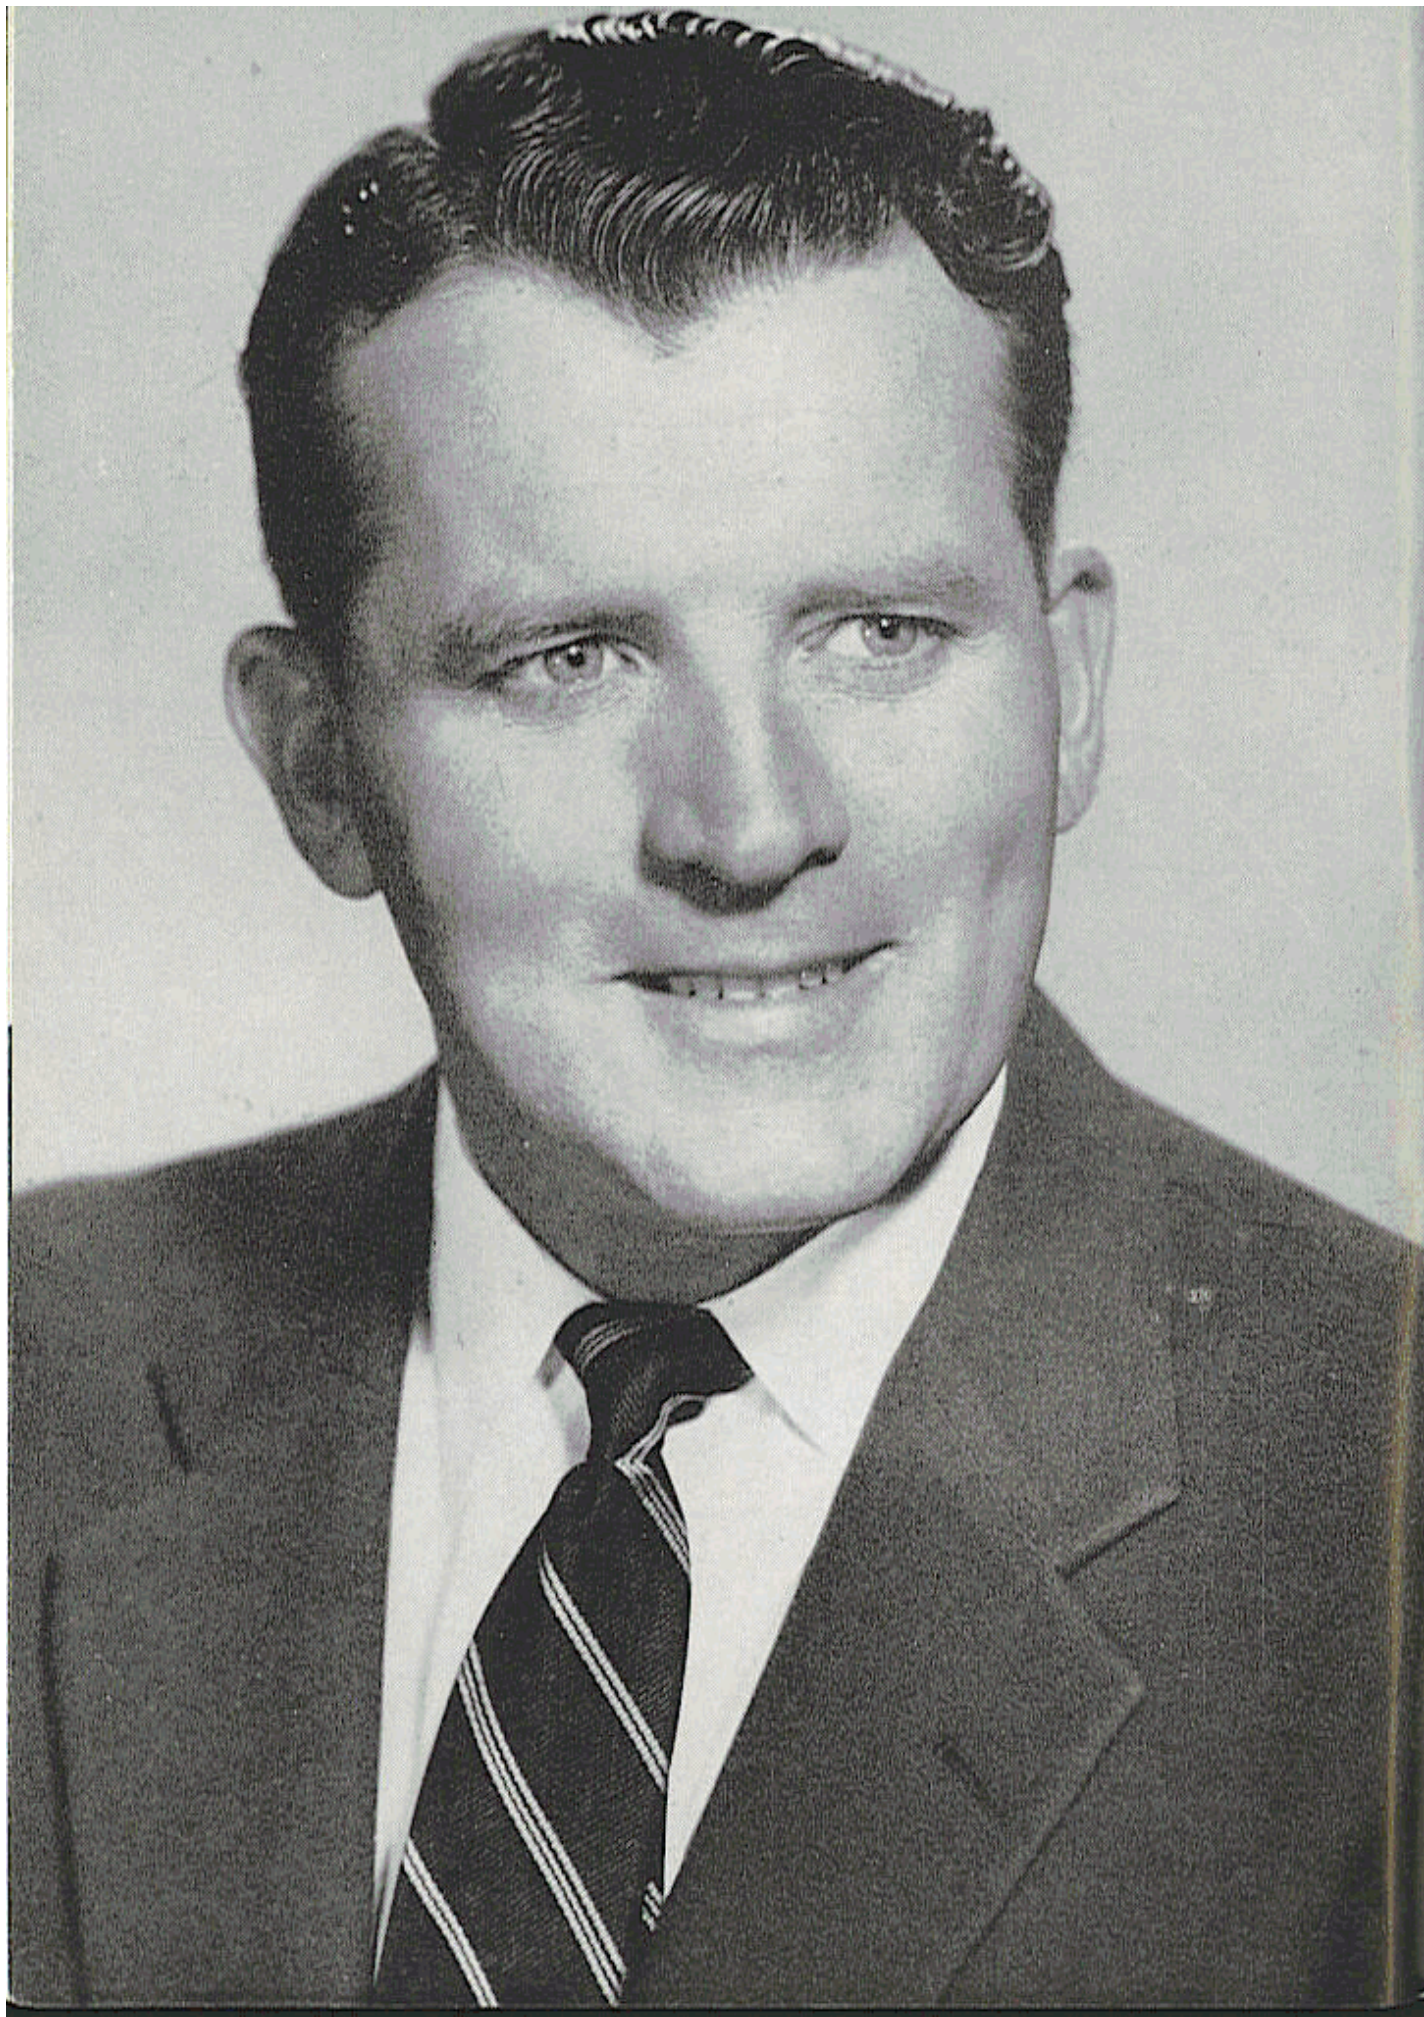

Vice President Martin served as a Lt. Comdr. in the United States Navy, is a Kiwanian and a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Delta Theta.

An aerial, black and white photograph of a large athletic complex. The top portion of the image shows a large stadium with a curved seating bowl and a field. Below the stadium are several large, rectangular athletic fields, some of which appear to be soccer or football fields. There are several trees scattered throughout the grounds. In the bottom left corner, there is a smaller baseball field with a distinct diamond. The overall scene is a wide, open area dedicated to sports.

Athletic Director and Head Coach

TOM NUGENT

"Sometimes, when you talk to Tom Nugent," wrote the Atlanta Journal's Jim Minter recently, "you'll feel as though Mike Todd is still with us." Minter's point was simple. Florida State's energetic Athletic Director and Head Football Coach, in the colossal style of the late Mike Todd, does things first class.

It's been that way with Thomas Norman Nugent since, at age 15, he wrote he would be a head college football coach some day. That day arrived when he assumed command of VMI's football fortunes. It was in 1949, and within three years after Nugent joined the obscure VMI Keydets, he had won a Southern Conference championship and pulled an upset over mighty Georgia Tech.

Searching for THE personality to put the Seminoles on the football map, Florida State officials in 1953 looked no farther than Tom Nugent. In two years, the Seminoles for the first time attained "major college" status.

Thanks to Nugent's magnetic touch, football at Florida State has grown from a pickup sport in 1947 to a 1958 position that finds the Seminoles playing such tradition-steeped opponents as Georgia Tech, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, and Miami (Fla.).

Nugent is a tireless worker whose enthusiastic interest in the entire program of intercollegiate athletics at Florida State resulted in his appointment as Director of Athletics last May. Nugent has made great strides with Florida State football. In his sixth year as the propelling force behind the Seminoles, Nugent has attained a record of 27 victories against 24 losses and 1 tie while playing increasingly tougher schedules.

He's also become nationally known for his bright innovations. It was Nugent who presented to football the typewriter huddle, the double quarterback and the "I" formation used so effectively by his own Seminoles. Florida State's annual June coaching clinic, which he fathered five years ago, is probably football's finest.

A native of Lawrence, Mass., the 45-year-old coach was graduated from Ithaca College in 1936. One of football's most colorful coaches, Tom is a member of the Public Relations and Press Committee and Film Selections Committee of the American Football Coaches Association.

Nugent and his lovely wife (nee Peg Foley) have five boys—Tommy, 15; T. D., 10; Timmy, 4; Jerry, 2, and John Michael, 3 months—and four girls—Kerry, 14; Peggy, 12; Patty, 8; and Mary Ann, 3.

The Assistant Athletic Director . . .

DR. DON VELLER

Complementing Athletic Director Tom Nugent in the administration of Florida State's eight-sport intercollegiate athletic program is Assistant Athletic Director Don Veller.

A former Seminole football (1948-52) and golf (1953-57) coach who also serves as a professor of physical education, Veller was appointed to his present position last May. He came to Florida State as head football coach in 1948, just as the University was beginning a football program as a coeducational institution.

In five seasons, Veller's Seminole football teams compiled a 31-12-1 record before he resigned to devote more time to teaching. He coached Florida State golf teams to a 43-8-0 dual record and two fourth-place NCAA finishes during five seasons.

Born at Bicknell, Ind., where he was one of the town's all-time great high school athletes, Veller was an outstanding football player at Indiana from 1932-34. Playing his final game for the Hoosiers in 1934, Veller climaxed his three-year career by defeating arch-rival Purdue with an 82-yard touchdown run.

He was awarded the Big Ten Scholarship Medal after that season and was honored as Indiana's top athlete when he received the Balfour Award and the Chicago Tribune Award. Veller played for the East in the annual East-West Shrine game at San Francisco after the 1934 season.

Veller holds four academic degrees, including a doctorate from Indiana University. He served in the Air Force from 1942-46 and is now a Lt. Col. in the Air Force Reserve.

THE FOOTBALL STAFF

BOB HARBISON

Assistant Coach

In terms of longevity, Bob Harbison, 31, is the real veteran of the Seminole coaching staff. Harbison begins his 11th full season with Florida State this fall.

Back in his playing days, Bob was an outstanding guard for the late Bo McMillin at Indiana University from 1945-47. He was chosen to play with the North squad in the annual Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., in 1947.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Harbison came to Florida State in 1948. He is credited with developing Little All-America guard Bill Dawkins in 1951 and fellow coach Hugh Adams, a Little All-America tackle, in 1949.

Coach and Mrs. Harbison (Jayne) have three daughters: Paula, 7; Susy, 5, and Mary, 2.

FRANK TOOMEY

Assistant Coach

Personable Frank Toomey, 35, a native of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is in his fifth season as one of Coach Tom Nugent's right-hand men.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Toomey has a lot to do with making the Seminole backfield go. He also is regarded as one of the best defensive coaches around.

After serving four years with the Marine Corps, where he won a Purple Heart and a Presidential Citation, Toomey returned to Ithaca and earned his masters degree in 1947. A member of "Who's Who in American Colleges," Frank coached Ithaca's varsity backfield and freshman basketball and varsity baseball teams while working toward his degree.

He came to Florida State in 1954 after coaching football and baseball at Waverly, N. Y., High School from 1948. Toomey's teams at Waverly compiled a record of 39 victories against only eight defeats.

Coach and Mrs. Toomey (Rita) have a son, Michael, 6.

HUGH ADAMS

Assistant Coach

As a Little All-America tackle on Florida State's 1949 team, it's fitting that 30-year-old Hugh Adams became a coach with the Seminoles.

A graduate assistant coach in 1955, Hugh was the first Florida State graduate to hold an assistant coaching position with the Seminoles. He is in his third year as a full assistant.

The Punta Gorda native was an assistant coach and mathematics instructor at Tallahassee's Leon High School in 1950-51. He served in the Navy before returning to Florida State in 1955 to earn his masters degree. Adams loves working with young people and devotes considerable time to youth Church work.

Coach and Mrs. Adams (Joyce) have a daughter, Joy, 3, and a son, Hugh, Jr., 3 months.

CHARLIE LaPRADD

Assistant Coach

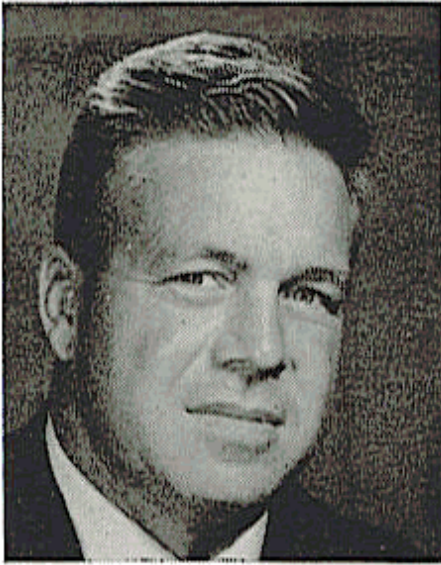

The second newest full member of Florida State's coaching staff is Charlie LaPradd, All-America tackle at the University of Florida in 1952.

A tall, impressive person, LaPradd is expected to develop into an excellent football coach, primarily because of the way the young Seminoles respect him.

A native of St. Augustine, Charlie, 30, was graduated from the University of Florida in 1953 before serving in the Air Force. He was a graduate assistant at Florida State while working toward his masters degree in 1956. He became a full member of the staff last season.

Coach and Mrs. LaPradd (Nita) have two children: Charles Thomas, 6, and Lauren Lee, 5.

PAUL ODOM

Assistant Coach

Paul Odom, 31, coached Florida State's high-powered freshman teams during the past three years.

A graduate assistant in 1955, Odom was elevated from freshman coach to the varsity coaching staff last June. He is in his third year as a full assistant.

A native of Mount Dora, Odom played tackle for Rollins College in 1947-48. After Rollins dropped football, Paul switched to Stetson and captained the Hatters during the 1950 season. Upon graduation from Stetson in 1951, Odom served two years as head football coach at Mount Dora High School. He went into private business for a year before coming to Florida State.

Coach and Mrs. Odom (Suzanne) have four children: Linda, 9; Wynn, 7; Crissie, 5, and Steve, 3.

LEE CORSO

Assistant Coach

The newest full-time member of the Seminole coaching staff—appointed last June—is Lee Corso, one of the brighter names in Florida State's brief football history.

Corso's heels had barely cooled from the 1956 season when he scampered to honorable mention All-America laurels as a Seminole quarterback. He was named national "Back of the Week" by International News Service after leading Florida State to a 14-0 triumph over North Carolina State that season.

A native of Miami, where he was a three-sport All-Stater at Miami Jackson, 22-year-old Corso has always expressed a desire to coach. "Lee has that rare ability of being able to impart the knowledge he has," Coach Tom Nugent says. "He's a fine teacher and I think he has a big future in coaching."

Corso was graduated from Florida State in 1956 and served as freshman backfield coach while working toward his masters degree last season. Coach and Mrs. Corso (Betsy) expect their first child in August.

HERB HUGHES

Graduate Assistant

Herb Hughes, 27, former University of New Mexico quarterback, takes over the reigns of Florida State's freshman football squad this season.

Hughes assisted with the Seminole freshmen in 1956 and worked with the varsity last season. He showed an early inclination to become a football coach while playing at New Mexico, where he was graduated in 1956.

Playing under Coach Dudley DeGroot at New Mexico, Herb shined on his offensive ability. His shrewd knowledge of football is helping greatly in his coaching efforts.

During four years in the Air Force, Hughes managed to coach two years. He came to Florida State in 1956. Coach Hughes, a native of Roy, N. M., is married to the former Nancy Wagner.

TILLMAN DIXON

Equipment Manager

Florida State's "Mr. Dix" is Tillman Dixon, the 54-year-old equipment manager who has become so popular with Seminole athletes.

Beginning his sixth year in the position, Dixon is charged with the huge responsibility of keeping track of well over 5,000 pieces of football gear.

"Mr. Dix" was formerly on the staff of the Florida Industrial School for Boys. He is a native of Esto and earned letters in football, basketball, and track at Madison, Fla., High School.

Florida State's equipment and lockerroom setup, one of the most complete in the South, is all the design of Tillman. Seminole football players have access to 167 screened lockers, all of which he designed. Dixon's wife's name is Johnnie.

DON FAULS

Trainer

A native of Ithaca, N. Y., Don Fauls, 37, came onto the Florida State scene in 1954. He has done an outstanding job easing Seminole aches and pains.

Starting his fifth year at Florida State, Fauls was graduated from Ithaca College in 1948 with a degree in physio-therapy and began his professional work with a hospital in Bath, N. Y. After serving at Bath for two years, Don went to Greensboro, N. C., as trainer for the Greensboro Patriots of the Carolina Baseball League.

He worked during the off-season at the Gilmore Clinic in Greensboro and, after two years, joined the St. Louis Cardinal chain as a trainer at Omaha, Neb.

Don and Mrs. Fauls (Marquerite) have three children: Donna, 7, and twins Danny and Jackie, 5.

FRED HOOVER

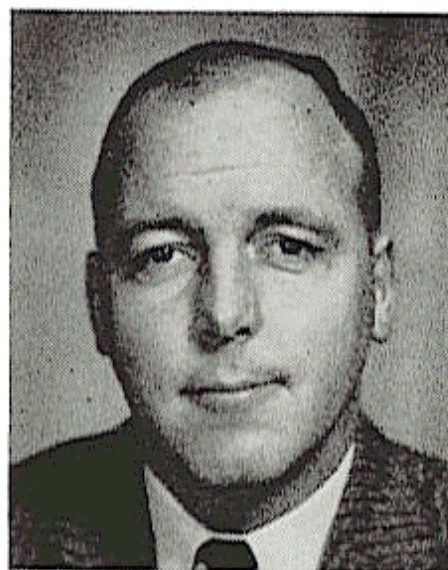

Trainer

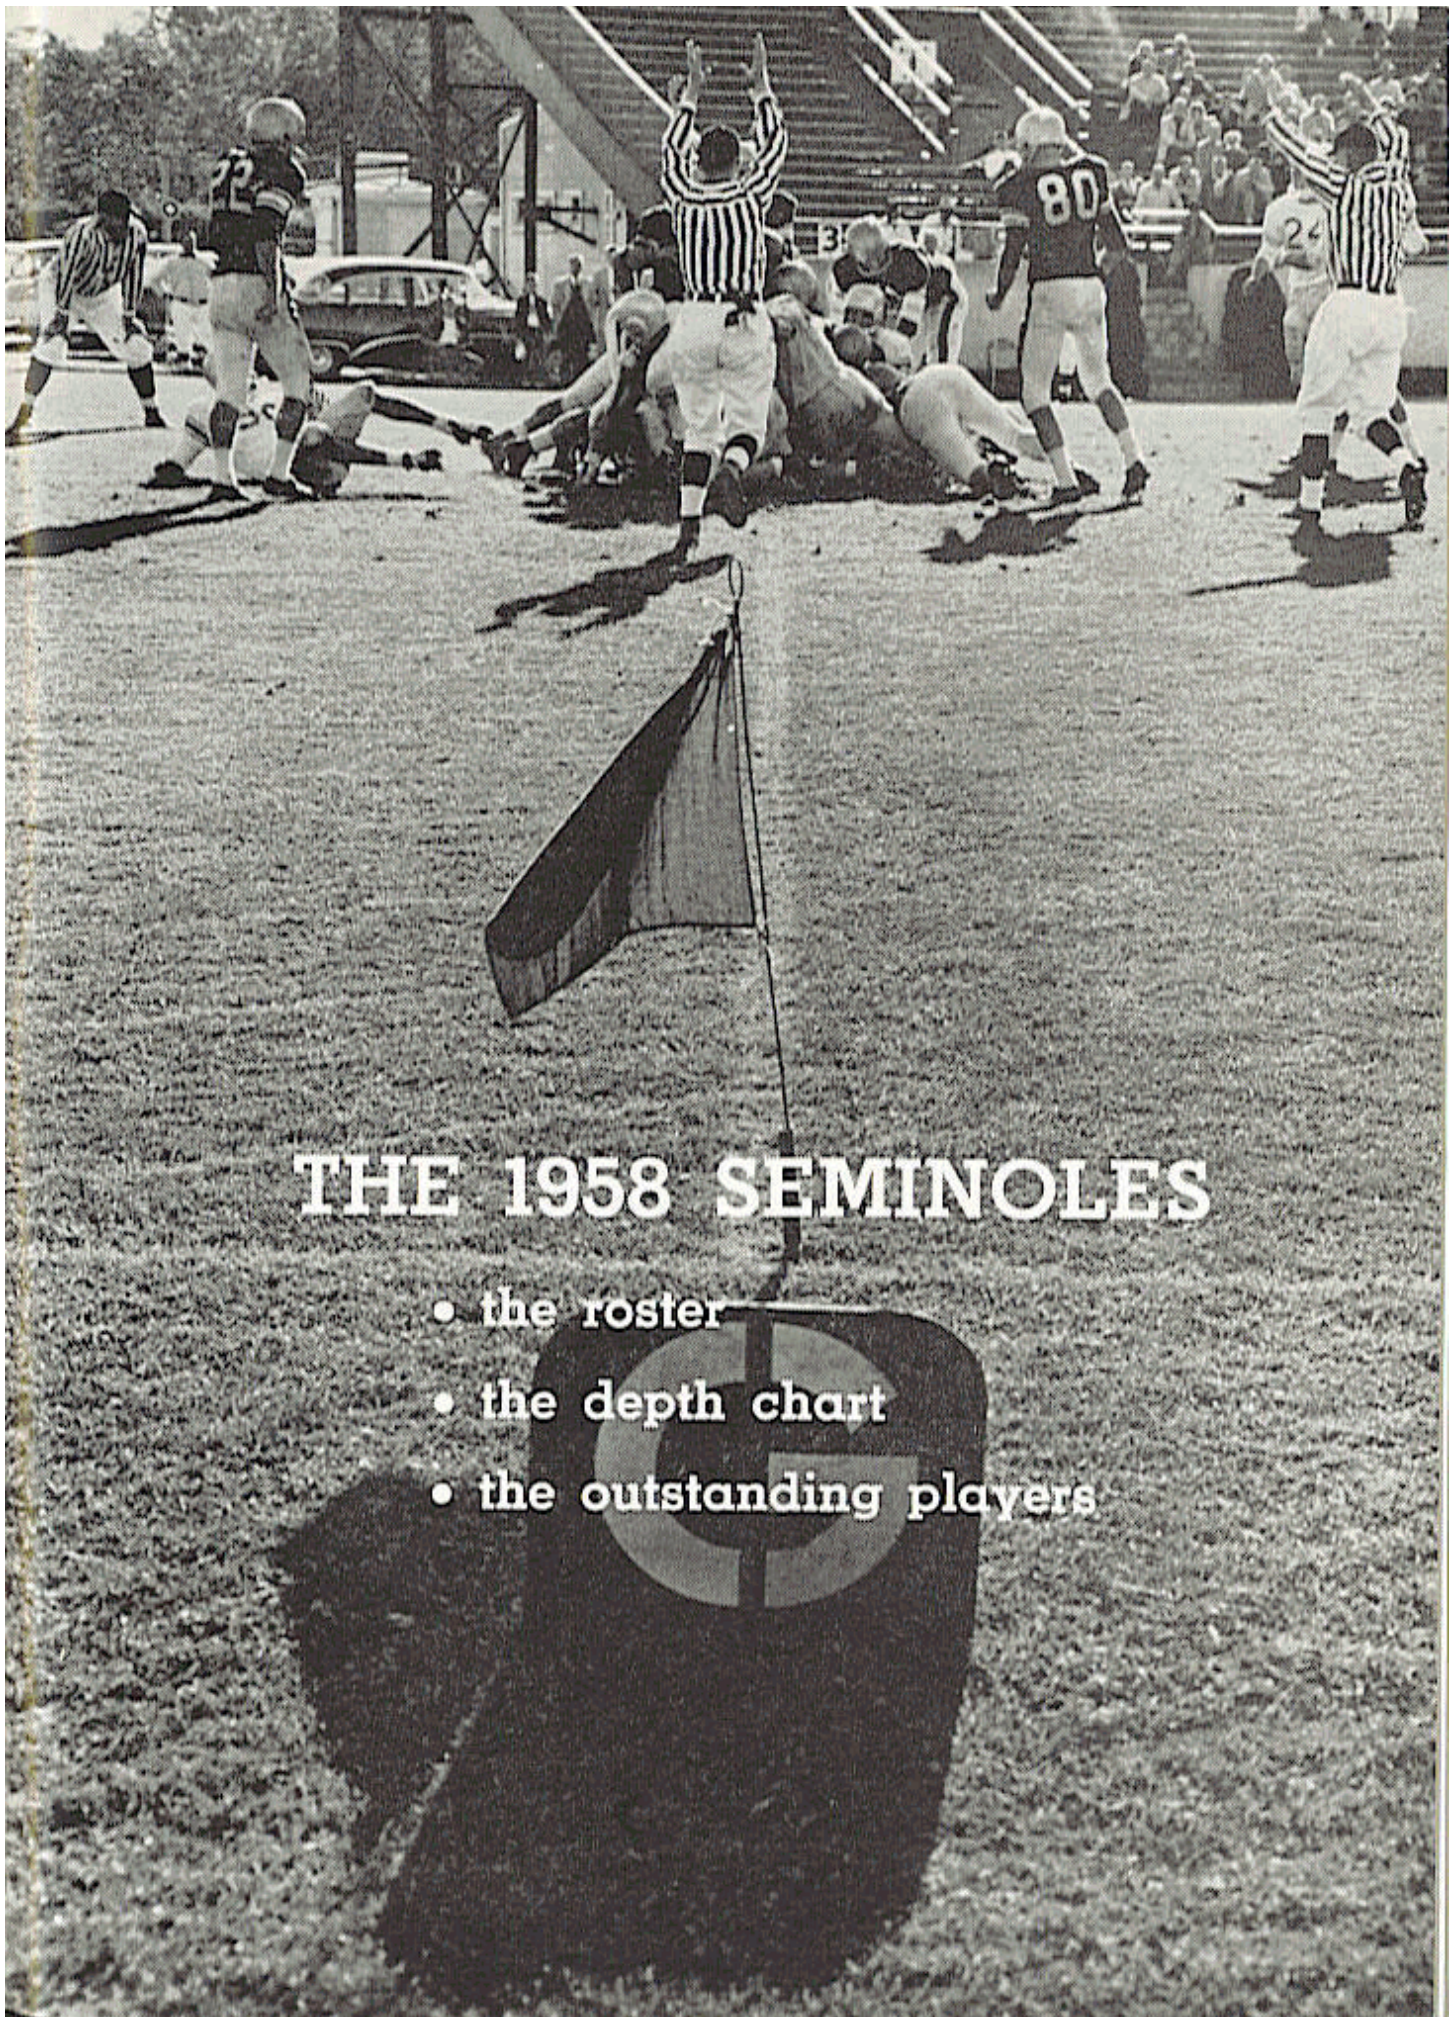

Complementing one of the finest collegiate training staffs in the nation is Fred Hoover, 27, who has been at his trade since he came to Florida State as a student in 1949.

A native of Jacksonville, Hoover served as a student trainer while working for his degree in Physical Education at Florida State in 1953. He was Seminole trainer for a year before entering the Air Force in 1954.

Fred returned to Florida State last fall in time to join Don Fauls in caring for Seminole athletes during the 1957-58 school year. Hoover currently is working toward a masters degree.

Fred and Mrs. Hoover (Elva) have a daughter, Catherine Ann, 6 months.

SEMINOLE PROFILES

LEFT END

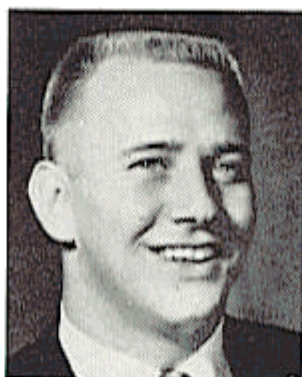

83 BOB FOUNTAIN. Senior, 21, 6-0, 191, Crestview. Sidelined by injury and illness much of last season, this hard-luck athlete should be back stronger than ever after a second knee operation idled him in spring. A versatile pre-med student who can perform capably at guard, Bob could have a banner year if knee holds up.

89 PETE FLEMING. Junior, 21, 6-0, 175. Pensacola. A junior college All-American, this Geology major potentially is as good as Florida State's best. Possessor of good speed and an excellent pair of hands, Pete missed most of spring drills, impressed defensively in spring game with six jarring tackles. Outstanding performer in Junior Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif., in 1956.

LEFT TACKLE

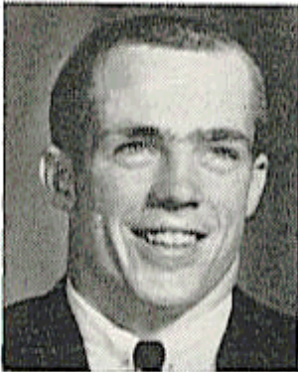

79 JERRY GRAHAM. Senior, 20, 6-0, 205, Chicago, Ill. A four-sport letterman in his Chicago high school, Jerry made transition from guard to tackle last year, led Seminoles with five fumble recoveries from alert defensive play. Missed spring practice because of leg operation. A Florida "Lineman of the Week" last season, the Public Relations student, with concentration, could have brilliant final year.

75 DAN STRICKLAND. Sophomore, 23, 6-1, 219, Sopchoppy. Out last year because of pre-season rib injury, "Big Dan" is Seminole's heaviest lineman, could develop into top-flight one. The Physical Education major impressed coaches with savage defensive play in spring. A Little All-State tackle at Sopchoppy, he needs experience and hard work to get back in pre-Navy condition.

LEFT GUARD

62 AL ULMER. Junior, 19, 5-10, 173, Clearwater. This amazing "watch-charm" guard—perhaps the best little lineman in America—befuddled opposition with 71 tackles and 24 assists as "untested" sophomore last season. Courage and sound defensive work earned him state "Lineman of the Week" accolades and first-team All-Florida honors in 1957. Despite small stature, tireless effort and desire to make the ex-Clearwater All-Stater a bright prospect for All-Sectional and All-America honors.

65 BOB SWOSZOWSKI. Sophomore, 18, 6-3, 190, Orlando. Still growing, this rangy prospect was outstanding tackle on 1957 freshman team. Showed promise in spring game. May be shifted to tackle or center to help personnel shortage at those positions. Height makes Bob strong candidate at any of interior line spots.

CENTER

50 KEN KESTNER. Sophomore, 20, 5-9, 196, Cleveland, O. On basis of spring practice, Ken heads wide-open scrap for starting center berth. Lacks height, but is solidly constructed for his position. A hustler who likes it rugged, he was one of leading tacklers in spring game. Needs experience, could develop into top prospect.

53 RAMON ROGERS. Junior, 20, 5-11, 191, Pensacola. A guard at Pensacola High School, determination keeps him in front-line center contention. Had his best spring practice culminated by outstanding defensive showing for winning team in spring game. Diligent worker with fair speed and size.

RIGHT GUARD

60 LEO BAGGETT. Senior, 22, 5-10, 198, Panama City. Back for final season, Leo is regarded as an excellent blocker and sharp tackler. Blessed with good speed and sturdy frame, he could give Seminoles prized guard combination. The Panama City All-Stater captained the North squad in the 1954 Florida High School all-star game.

63 TERRY MORAN. Sophomore, 18, 5-9, 180, New Orleans, La. Challenging veteran Leo Baggett for the No. 1 right guard spot, Terry was outstanding lineman of 1957 freshman team. Missed spring game with injury. Lacks experience, but finesse and dogged spirit offensively and defensively make him excellent prospect, despite small stature.

RIGHT TACKLE

76 JOHN SPIVEY. Junior, 20, 6-2, 202, Panama City. An all-star end at Panama City's Bay High, John has made successful transition to tackle. Injuries sidelined him in spring after better-than-average sophomore year in which he was often a starter. Good size and mobility make him fine prospect.

74 CLARE BAGNALL. Junior, 25, 6-1, 202, Battle Creek, Mich. Another promising converted end who had some bright moments as a sophomore in '57. Switched from flank last spring and responded with solid performance at tackle in spring windup. A wrestling champ and all-city quarterback at Central High in Battle Creek, Clare could be a real surprise at his new position.

RIGHT END

80 TONY ROMEO. Sophomore, 20, 6-0, 199, Tampa. Offensive and defensive standout of the spring game—he scored two touchdowns for the victors—Tony could be best sophomore in Seminole history. A gifted pass receiver who likes defense even better, he has potential to be one of best ends in America. Needs experience, but no question about ability.

81 BOB KAVANAUGH. Sophomore, 18, 6-0, 195, Miami. Leading freshman pass receiver last season (11 for 172 yards), Bob still is growing at 18. Made difficult catches for one touchdown and two points after it in fine spring-game showing. Good speed and size. Needs work defensively.

QUARTERBACK

10 VIC PRINZI. Senior, 22, 6-0, 170, Waverly, N. Y. Back for final fling, Vic was forced to sit out last season while recovering from spleen operation. A fine passer who doesn't dodge rugged defensive situations, he made national headlines in 1954 when he passed for three TD's against VMI while a fifth-string freshman signal-caller. Has the experience AND the goods.

13 JOE MAJORS. Junior, 20, 6-0, 176, Huntland, Tenn. A talented passer, Joe earned applause with scintillating performance (completed 12 of 22 attempts) against national champion Auburn late last season. Needs more experience, but could develop into finest all-around quarterback Seminoles ever had. His speed will fool you. Eager to learn and easy to coach, he missed spring game with dislocated elbow, now mended.

LEFT HALFBACK

20 BOBBY RENN. Senior, 24, 5-11, 175, Henderson, N. C. A two-time All-Florida choice, Bobby is one of the best all-around backs in the South and maybe in the nation. A brilliant punter, he's averaged 40 yards on 57 punts over two seasons, ranked among nation's top kickers both years. He is a draft choice of Cleveland Browns. In two seasons, he's averaged 5.1 yards, rolling up 1,013 yards rushing on 199 carries. Expects to make final campaign his best.

25 CARL MEYER. Sophomore, 20, 5-11, 175, Melbourne. Perhaps team's most promising sophomore back, Carl started as freshman quarterback, performed brilliantly before breaking a finger. Moved to halfback in spring, he drew praise for exceptional defensive knack. Good speed, sound ball-carrier and growing.

RIGHT HALFBACK

27 JACK ESPENSHIP. Sophomore, 19, 6-2, 185, Lake City. After so-so freshman season, Espenship developed so rapidly in spring coaches figure he could become starter. Paced his squad in spring game with eight tackles, displayed sparkling pass-catching ability by grabbing five. One of team's bigger backs, could be pleasant surprise with more experience.

26 BUD WHITEHEAD. Sophomore, 19, 5-10, 167, Marianna. Pitching in at fullback during spring, Bud will be leading right half candidate this fall. Despite weight, he's real power runner and more than capable on defense. Second leading ground-gainer (5.1 average) and scorer (5 TD's) for 1957 freshman. Attentive worker, has bright future.

FULLBACK

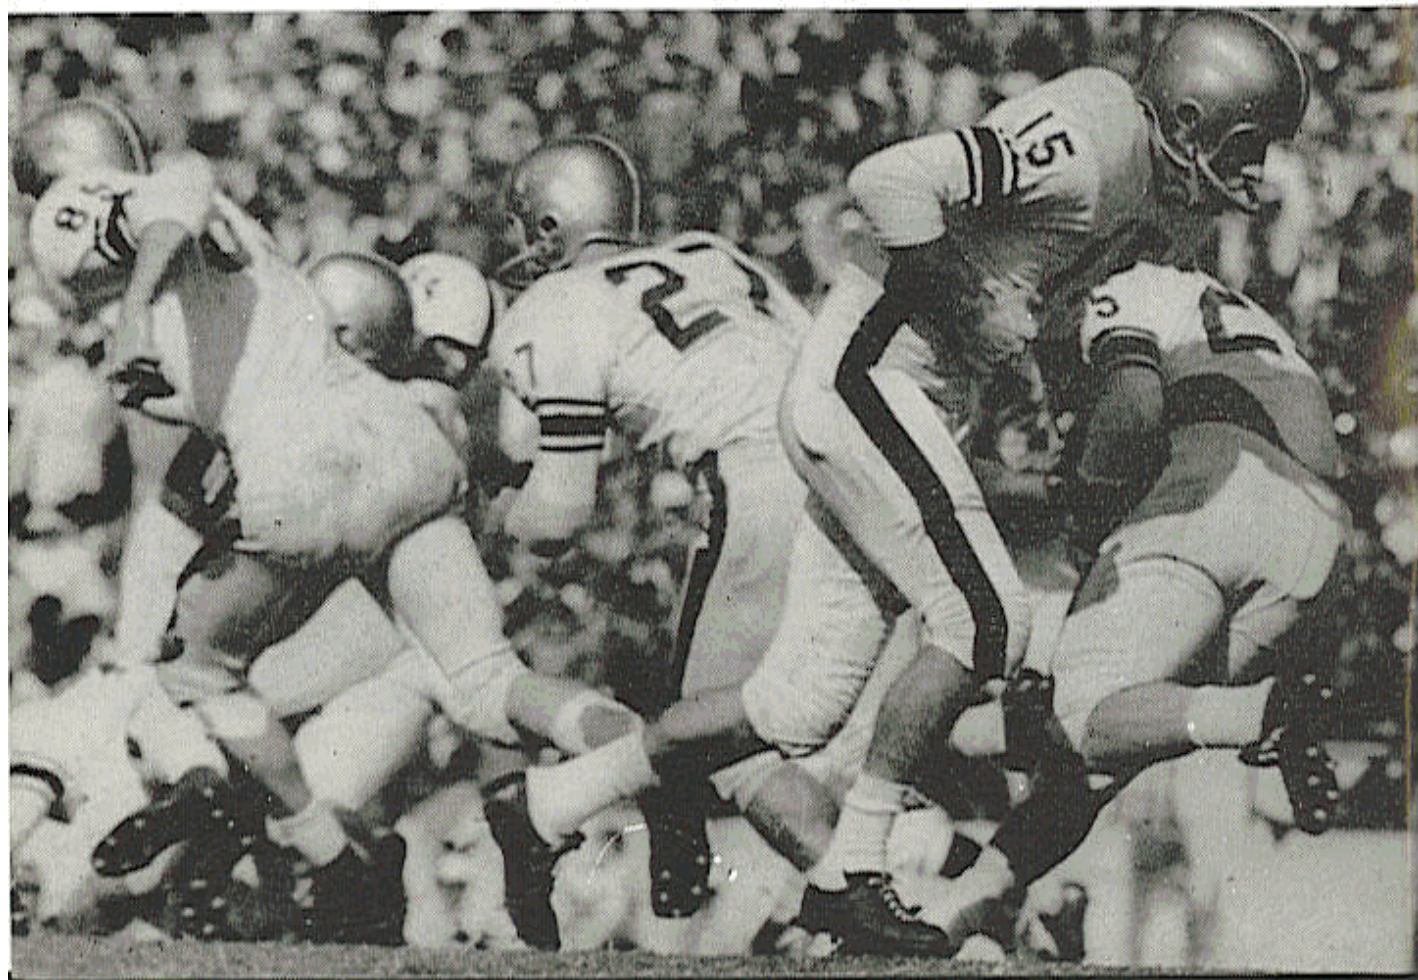

41 DINK LAWRENCE. Junior, 22, 6-0, 202, Saltville, Va. A bruising runner who may give Seminoles their heaviest backfield ever, Dink is heir-apparent to spot vacated by 1957 most valuable player Bob Nellums. Quick for his size, Dink ripped off 85 yards, not counting an 81-yard kickoff return for a touchdown, in spring game. Needs work defensively.

43 RON HINSON. Sophomore, 19, 6-0, 198, Waycross, Ga. A leading halfback candidate in spring until forced out with back injury, Ron will get a good shot at fullback. The versatile soph has good hands, also can play end, where he was freshman standout last fall. Size and ability make him candidate for almost any position.

Versatile Bobby Renn deals as Seminoles spring from explosive "I" formation.

THE 1958 OUTLOOK

By TOM NUGENT

We've been seeking a "big-time" schedule since football began at Florida State and certainly we have it now. Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Miami, Georgia, and Florida all are post-season bowl possibilities, with Georgia the real "sleeper."

What chance do our Seminoles have against these powerhouses? Who can guess what will happen with a group of young men who believe in themselves?

The remaining opponents—Wake Forest, Furman, Virginia Tech, Tennessee Tech and Tampa—are tough all the way through, but none should be rated any higher than our club. The experts give us the nod over Tennessee Tech, Tampa and Furman; an even break against Wake Forest and Virginia Tech, and little or no hope with the big five. "Outclassed" is the consensus.

We are strong at most backfield spots in comparison to past years. The reason for optimism—some depth for a change. Bobby Renn, Vic Prinzi, Joe Majors and Lenny Levy represent all of the experience, but it may be enough to balance the youth and enthusiasm of Sophomores Carl Meyer, Bud Whitehead, Jack Espenship, Ron Hinson and possibly Bob Conrad, who's having a bout with his grades. Conrad may not be eligible. Floyd Lawrence, talented fullback who sat out last season, will add maturity and size to a good group of backs.

Up front, it's not bright. Tony Romeo could be a great end, although he has never played in a varsity game. An excellent blocker, good receiver and top defensive player, Tony may be one of our all-time best. Converted guard Bob Fountain, Pete Fleming, and Bill Kimber will scrap three sophs for playing time at the terminals.

Tackle and center are the bad spots. No 1957 lettermen return at center, and only one at tackle. Jerry Graham has been on the disabled list following a series of operations. If he's ready, he should help tremendously at tackle. Most of his time has been spent at guard, however. John Spivey and Clare Bagnall played at end last year, but both were moved to tackle this spring. Dan Strickland, John Craig, and Lou Wallace are the "legitimate" tackles. This, indeed, is where help is needed.

Al Ulmer, Leo Baggett, and Joe McGee head the guard corps, and there is help coming from some of the sophomores. Terry Moran could be the best defensive lineman if he can overcome a spring injury to a knee.

The windup thought is this: Maybe the 1958 Seminoles ARE "overscheduled." They are in deep, but none are afraid.

There is one undeniable fact. We'll never beat the good ones unless we play them. Our staff and squad meet the challenge with the ever-present thought that the pressure is always on the big fellows. They have to whip us; there is no choice. We, on the other hand, are not supposed to win.

Stay loose. . . .

1958 OUTLOOK: With 18 lettermen returning and more depth at most positions, Tennessee Tech should be generally improved in 1958. Coach Wilburn Tucker, expecting early-game jitters, feels it may take a couple of games for the youthful Golden Eagles to get moving. "After that," says Tucker, "we believe our boys will settle down."

Tech's strong points will be the play at tackle, guard and halfback positions. Seven first-team men are gone, but the Eagles' entire 1957 tackle corps is back, along with a number of fine guards and halfbacks.

If service returnee Rudy Schmittou develops well at fullback, it will free veteran quarterback and fullback Al Cate for full-time work at the signal-calling post. Tech looks for its big worries at quarterback, fullback, and perhaps center, although there are capable center candidates with speed and size. Lack of experience presents the chief problem.

1958 OUTLOOK: Furman has no illusions of an overnight ascension into national prominence. But with new coach Bob King at the reigns, the Purple Hurricane is on the way up.

Furman has 22 of 28 lettermen returning from its 1957 team that won 3 of 10 games. Most significant of the losses were regular fullback Jim Grant, halfbacks Bill Weir and Jerry Penland, and end Dick Pfeifer.

Standout returnees include junior quarterback Bill Baker, who completed 88 of 150 passes last season, at one stage leading the nation in total completions and hitting a high of 27 completions in 40 attempts against The Citadel. The return of Baker and the top two pass receivers, ends Ray Siminski and Tom Avery, elevate Furman's passing potential above its ground promise.

The line which started the last of the season returns intact, as do two regular backs, Baker and halfback Hicky Horton.

1958 OUTLOOK: It's a rare season when a Georgia Tech team wins only four football games, and that's what happened in '57. But the Yellow Jackets, who could have won five more games with the aid of 22 points, don't figure to have two below-.500 years in succession.

A whopping total of 27 returning lettermen return to boost Georgia Tech stock for '58. Tech's starting ends, Jack Rudolph and Jerome Green, compare favorably with last year's fine flankmen, Jerry Nabors and Ted Smith.

Both starting tackles and all 1957 reserves at that position are back. Sophomore Billy Shaw had bright moments in the spring. At guard, starter Leon Askew and top reserve Dan Theodocion are gone, but returning reserves save any loss of strength. Maxie Baughan, a sophomore standout in 1957, looks like a sure starter to replace All-America center Don Stephenson. Tech looks for its backfield—with Stan Flowers the only graduated starter—to show considerable improvement.

1958 OUTLOOK: With 22 lettermen returning, including quarterback Charlie Carpenter, who had to sit out the entire 1957 campaign after undergoing surgery for a ruptured spinal disc, things look much brighter for the Demon Deacons this year.

Coach Paul Amen, starting his third season as Demon coach, expects substantial improvement, but has warned that "we must be careful that we don't become overenthusiastic over our possibilities."

In the words of Amen: "The amount of improvement will be relative, since we were so far behind last year that it's a question of whether we can move far enough to catch up. We will be inexperienced since about 15 boys, either sophomores or converts to new positions, figure prominently in our plans. We will have more depth and our interior line play should be rugged."

Ends Jimmy Vickers, Gordon Kelly and Aaron Box developed last as sophomores last year, will have ample help from Jack Shamblin and junior college transfer Bill Herron. Alternate captain Nat Dye is one of the Southeast's best tackles and Riley Gunnels, two-year letterman, can hold his own at left tackle.

Georgia stacks up stronger at guard and center than at any time in the past decade. There is experience and depth in the backfield. Junior quarterback Charlie Britt, senior fullback Theron Sapp, and junior left half George Guisler have great potential.

1958 OUTLOOK: Starting his eighth season at Tech, Frank Moseley faces the biggest rebuilding job in five years—but with probably the best material ever assembled at Tech.

The sophomore-dominated squad showed its inexperience in the annual spring game, which a strong alumni squad won, 25-16. In contrast to last year's frustrations, however, the varsity cashed in both its scoring opportunities and displayed plenty of enthusiasm.

How well and how fast the sophs develop probably will hinge on the leadership and performance of four men: Carrol Dale, left end; Jim Burks, captain and senior right tackle; Jay Whitesell, left halfback; and quarterback Billy Holesclaw.

A number of sophomores should begin to show well by mid-season, including Don Oakes, who saw some varsity action last year.

But heading into their traditionally tough schedule, the Vols are "a long way from being a championship team," according to Coach Bowden Wyatt. Tennessee's big concern is the replacement of vacated backfield spots. The Vol backfield in pre-season focus may be the weakest in the school's history. Nine of the 17 departed lettermen were backs.

Chief losses included All-America guard Bill Johnson, All-Southeastern tailback Bobby Gordon, fullback Tommy Bronson, blocking back Stockton Adkins, and wingback Bill Anderson.

Heading 14 returning lettermen is Carl Smith, the Vol's powerful, elusive fullback who is one of Tennessee's most explosive backs in years.

1958 OUTLOOK: The outlook in 1958 is a bright one for Coach Marcelino Huerta's University of Tampa Spartans. Despite the loss of 13 players from the first 22, Tampa figures to be big and fast, with 16 lettermen back in the fold.

Tampa's principal loss from a fine 1957 season (6-3) was Little All-America halfback Don Herndon, who graduated. But the 1958 Spartan backfield will have speed and power. Fred Cason, a 245-pound fullback, is back to employ his tremendous drive. Flanking him will be Paul Davis, a returnee from the 1956 Tampa eleven, and promising sophomore Buddy Williams from Wauchula.

Huerta is confronted with depth problems at some line positions, but not at tackle. Seven veteran tackles make for a bright picture there.

Other top prospects are Tom Scott, a lineman who transferred from Morehead College in Kentucky, and John Mitchell, another transfer who figures to lend depth to the backfield.

1958 OUTLOOK: Granting that experience is one of the major factors in moulding a successful football team, it must be conceded that the University of Miami is in position to move into the nation's spotlight this fall.

It's a team rich in experience, blooming from a sophomore-dominated 1957 eleven that had a 5-4-1 record and held opponents to under 100 yards a game on the ground to rank second only to national champion Auburn in ground defense.

Miami returns 17 lettermen, 9 of 11 starters, including fabulous Fran Curci, quarterback. From the 1957 alternate team only a few players are missing. And rugged sophomores have bobbed up from one of the better Miami freshman teams in recent years.

Besides Curci, other standout performers are tackle Gary Greaves, an All-America candidate, and captain-left halfback Joe Plevel, other half of Miami's Curci-to-Plevel lateral combination. With other veterans on hand, it boils down to this: Miami could be REAL potent, offensively and defensively.

1958 OUTLOOK: One of the leading teams in the Southeastern Conference last season (6-2-1), Florida's Gators must replace 17 lettermen, including such standouts as halfbacks Bernie Parrish and Jim Rountree, tackle Charlie Mitchell, and eight others off the first two teams.

The Gators have strength at guard, where 5 lettermen return; at quarterback, where 3 lettermen and a varsity reserve are back, and at center, where two experienced seniors take up the one-two role. Florida is lacking in experienced depth at tackle, halfback, and fullback.

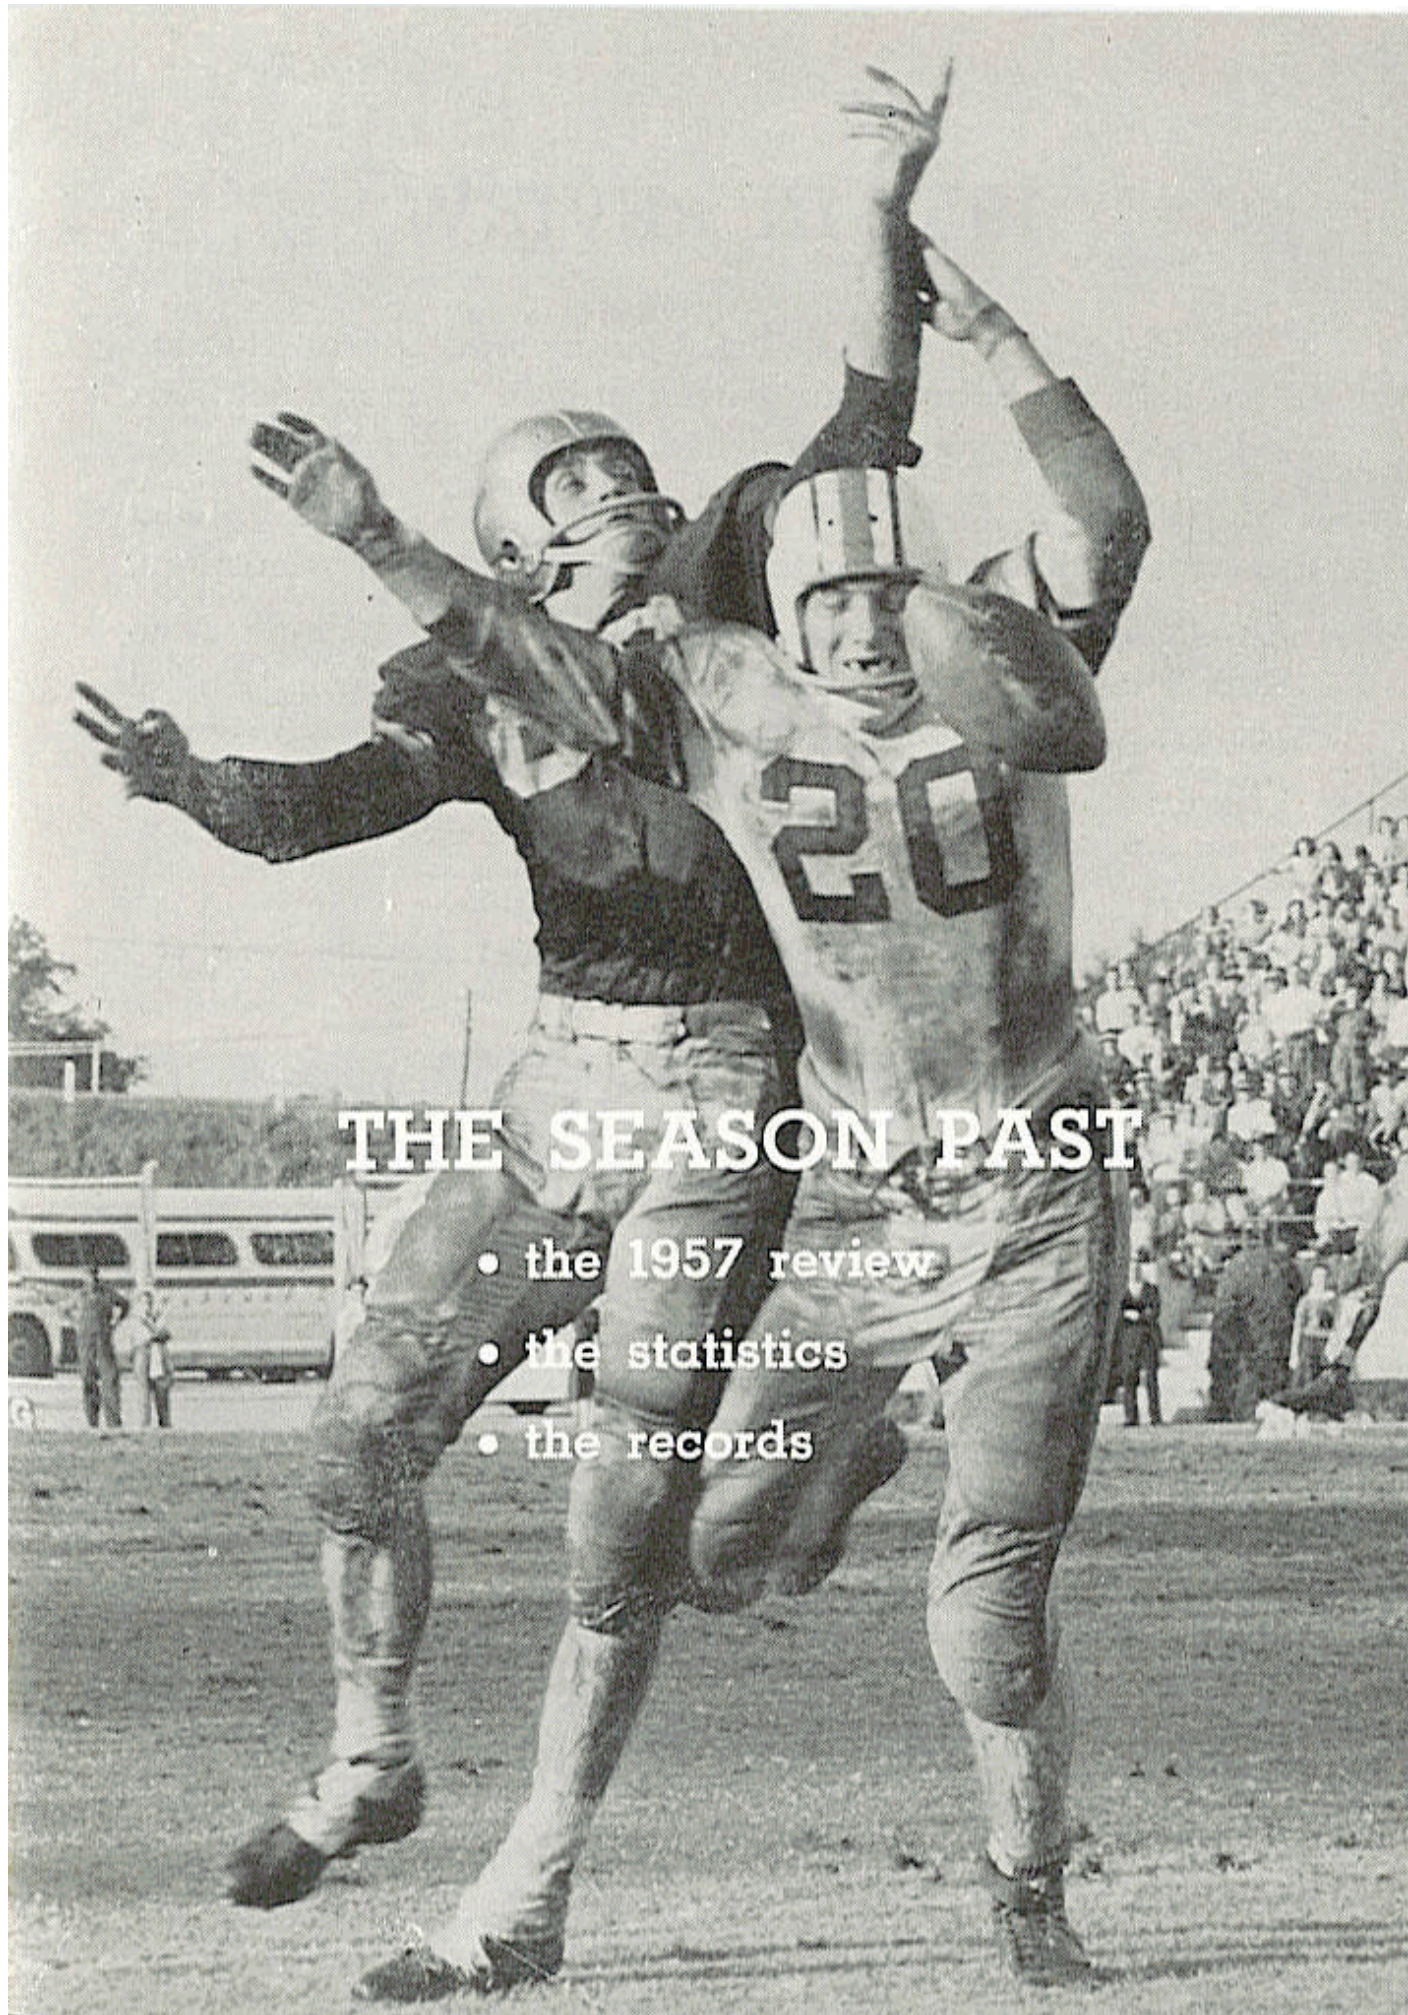

Standout returnees among 21 lettermen back are tackle Vel Heckman, ends Don Fleming and Dan Edgington, quarterbacks Jimmy Dunn, Mickey Ellenburg, and Wayne Williamson, centers Gene Graves and Joe Hergert, and a complete corps of experienced guards.

1957 IN REVIEW

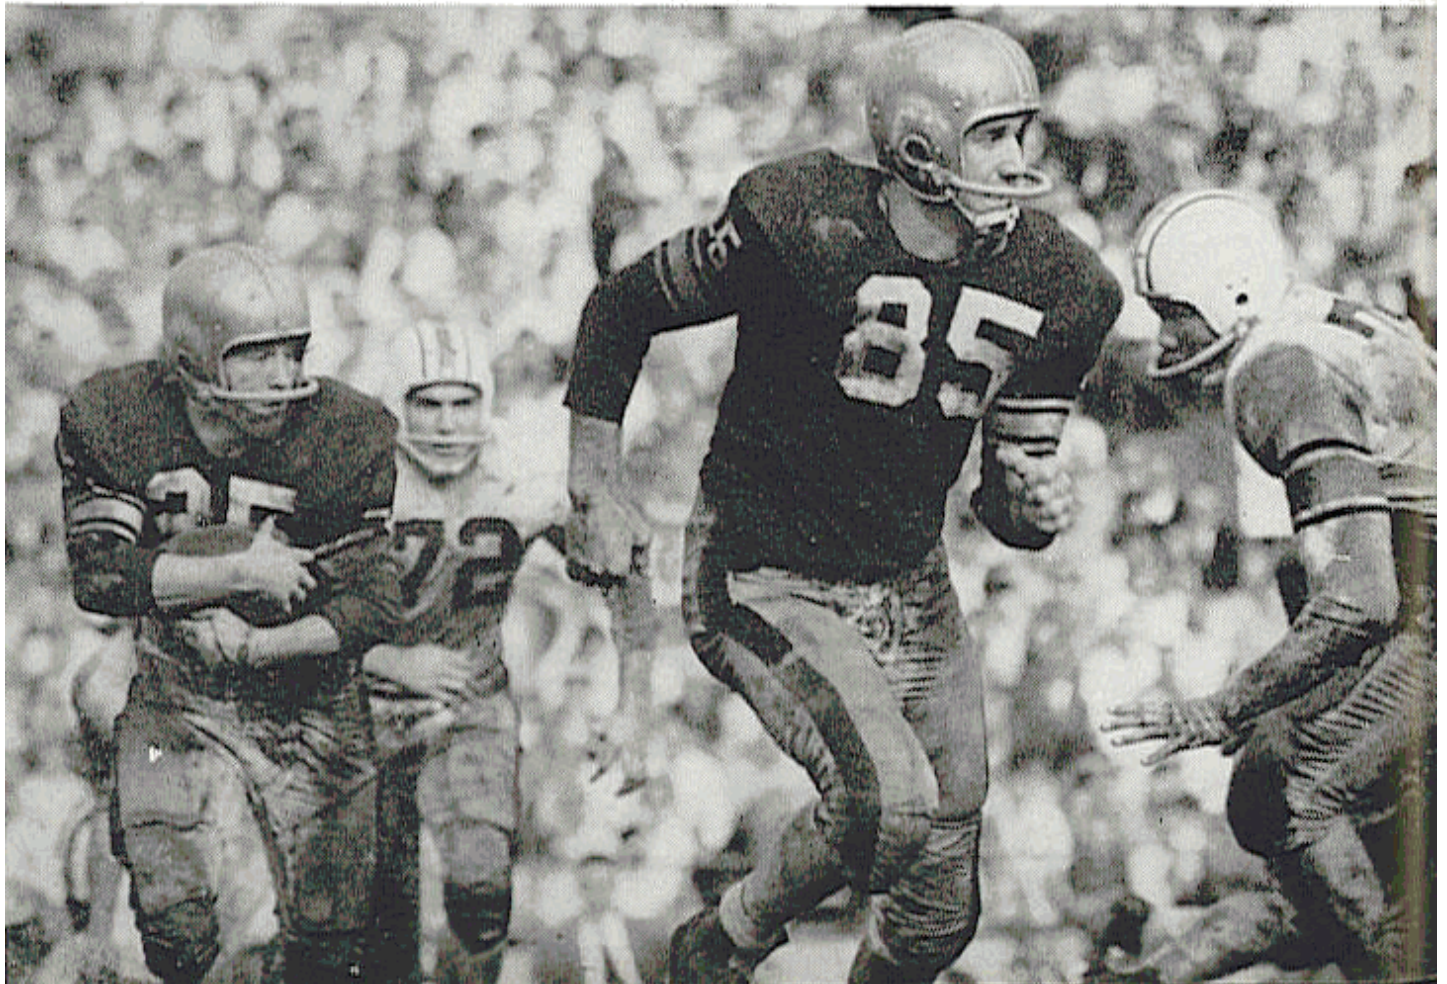

On the opening play of the 1957 football season, Florida State halfback Bobby Renn moved around Furman's left flank and scooted 34 yards, untouched, for a touchdown.

But back up field a red flag dropped and Renn's brilliant run was of little more value than an unnecessary windsprint.

It was heartbreaking, true, but it was a thing Florida State football followers were to see throughout the year. And it was the kind of chemistry that would add up to a 4-6 record.

Here's the way it happened:

Off and running is halfback Fred Pickard behind protective cover of most valuable player Bob Nellums.

FSU 27, FURMAN 7

Renn's first touchdown was nullified but the Seminoles bounced back shortly afterwards to shove in the first of four scores which counted that night.

Renn sliced into the Purple Hurricane end zone from a yard out for the first one. Later he found end Bob Nellums alone in the end zone and placed a soft two-yard aerial in the big senior's hands.

Nellums got State's third touchdown, too, when he smothered a Furman fumble behind the goal line. The fourth score came when Ted Rodrigue rifled a 33-yard pass to Clare Bagnall.

The score could have been much larger. The Seminoles rolled up a total of 459 yards offensively and ground out 19 first downs. Furman was held to 91 yards and only 4 first downs.

BOSTON 20, FSU 7

Florida State's football forces flew into Boston on a giant constellation that had the Seminoles thinking they'd seen the ultimate in aerial development.

Then they watched a Boston College quarterback with a gifted arm weave an air demonstration second to none. Don Allard completed 12 of 18 passes for 147 yards.

And he had something to do with every Boston score.

It wasn't just one of those games where a quarterback sits back and heaves the homerun ball. Allard often would have a third and nine situation and he'd get 10 yards with a flick of his arm.

While the Seminoles were reeling under his accurate tosses, they were unable to get an offensive thrust underway until well into the final period when Rodrigue unleashed a 33-yard scoring heave to Ron Schomburger.

VILLANOVA 21, FSU 7

Injuries or no, you'd get the impression Villanova did a heckuva job scouting the BC-State contest. The Mainliners used the same type strategy for a hungry Homecoming crowd and hobbled the Seminoles, 21-7.

This time, the talented arm that kept flicking those aggravating aeri-als belonged to Johnny Grazione. He completed four of eight for 90 yards—one for a 61-yard touch-down.

When he wasn't causing trouble with his passes, Grazione was making like a fullback and knocking off hunks on the ground.

Schomburger again scored the lone Seminole touchdown when he moved in front of a 14-yard pass from quarterback Jerry Henderson.

There was an unusual thing about all this passing. During the entire 1956 season, the Seminoles had given up only two touchdowns through the air. With three games gone this year, State had given up five.

N. C. STATE 7, FSU 0

There are more ways than one to win a football game. Sometimes when you lose by the score, you come away feeling you've won a moral victory.

Rationalization, certainly, but in Florida State's 7-0 loss to North Carolina State's rapid Wolfpack, it was pretty effective. And the Seminoles were only slightly disappointed when the game was over.

The Wolfpack came into the contest a 14-point favorite, mostly because of a prestige-packed pair, Dick Hunter and Dick Christy. Christy won it when he caught a pass and romped 47 yards.

But for a long time, some people will insist the touchdown was a tainted one and the game should have been a tie. Photographers on the sidelines said Christy went out of bounds before he caught the pass.

But the loss went into the books and N. C. State went home still ranked 13th in the nation. Florida State took a look at a surprising sophomore guard named Al Ulmer and prepared to meet unbeaten Abilene Christian.

FSU 34, ABILENE 7

The 173-pound Ulmer was named Florida's lineman of the week for his rugged play against the 'Pack, and he was a part of a revamped lineup that crushed the Texans the following week.

For one thing, 208-pound end Bob Nellums became a fullback and scored twice, once on a 45-yard pass play. And Bobby Renn worked at quarterback like a magician.

Florida State had never beaten Abilene Christian, but the Texans were routed in this one. Florida State rolled up 383 yards on the ground for an all-time school record.

Renn ran as well as he passed. He romped 52 yards for one touchdown. Pappy Rozman streaked in from five yards out for the final score.

Abilene scored its lone touchdown when Joe Harber sneaked across from the one.

Jerry Graham was the lineman honored by the state's sportswriters after this one. The 205-pound junior recovered two Abilene fumbles and was a tackling demon.

Which meant things were beginning to look good for the Seminoles and they were to carry a 2-3 record into their Homecoming clash with Virginia Tech.

FSU 20, VPI 7

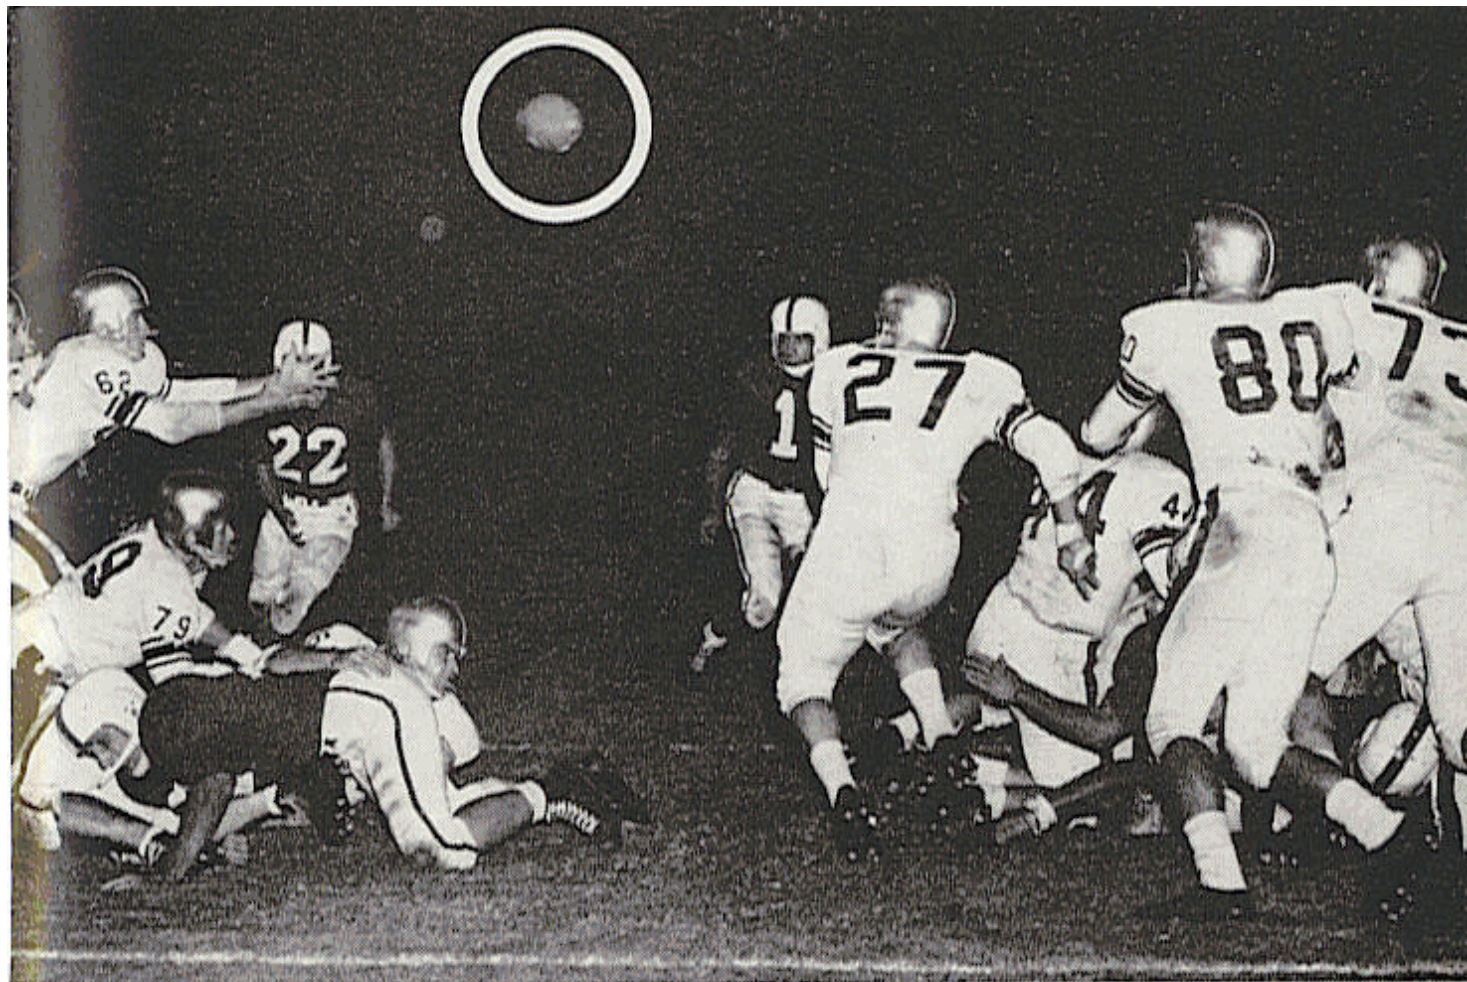

Tradition has it that you're supposed to win Homecoming games and Florida State has never lost one under Tom Nugent. The Virginia Tech game wasn't any different and State scored a 20-7 victory.

The Tribe struck three times before a capacity crowd on a beautiful sunny afternoon and each time there was a touch of drama to make the triumph even more pleasing.

The first touchdown came when Schomburger legged it behind the Tech safety man to pull down Renn's aerial and romp 51 yards without being touched.

A little later, senior tackle George Boyer scored the only touchdown of his college career when he broke through the line to pounce on a Tech fumble in the end zone.

And the most spectacular score came in the third period when little, 160-pound sophomore Fred Pickard slipped through tackle and galloped 80 yards—the longest run any State back has made from scrimmage.

Al Ulmer awaits loose ball against N. C. State.

The Virginians scored their lone touchdown in the second quarter when fullback Bobby Connor barreled into the Seminole end zone from a yard out.

The triumph gave the Seminoles a 3-3 season's record. They began preparing for the super-human effort they'd need to cope with a guy named Curci and the University of Miami.

MIAMI 40, FSU 13

Florida State mustered that super-human effort for half a football game. State moved to a 7-6 half-time lead, then faltered as Miami rolled up 34 points in the second half to win, 40-13.

A newspaper headline expressed it pretty good: "Seminoles Just Punched Out." And that came by the Tribe's own admittance.

Quarterback Bob Renn remarked, "we played 'em even without a first team the first half. But they had three first teams and they just kept throwing them at us. We punched out."

State scored the first time it got the ball when Bob Nellums leaped over a pile of Miami tacklers to fall into the end zone. Then Curci and crew came rambling back minutes later to make it a 7-6 game at halftime.

It was all Curci during the final half. Altogether, he completed 6 of Bill Kimber grabs Joe Majors' pass for TD against national champion Auburn.

12 passes for 83 yards and two touchdowns and gained another 65 yards on the ground.

Florida State's score in the final period came when Joe Majors lofted a 47-yard pass to his roommate, Bill Kimber.

MISS. SOUTHERN 20, FSU 0

It's been said that when you play the big ones, quite often you'll feel the effects for a long time to come.

And Mississippi Southern took advantage of the situation when the Seminoles went into Hattiesburg the week after the Miami battle. Southern ground out a 20-0 triumph.

The Tribe just couldn't get an offensive effort rolling that sweat-dripping November night as Southern struck for two second-quarter touchdowns in a matter of minutes.

It was Homecoming game for Southern and a final, 4-foot sneak by the Mississippi quarterback made the local fans a little happier. The year before, State had taken a 20-19 triumph.

All FSU had to do was pick up its ego and head back home to do battle with the biggest of them all—mighty Auburn, the team that was to finish as national champion.

AUBURN 29, FSU 7

Joe Majors, the sophomore brother of former Tennessee All-American Johnny Majors, was the gentleman who was to emerge from defeat a hero in this one.

Majors watched from the bench as State reeled under one Tiger thrust after another. Then Coach Tom Nugent sent him in and joined everyone else in pleasant surprise.

Majors completed 12 of 22 throws, tying the school's attempted pass record, for 104 yards and a 34-yard touchdown—one of four scored against mighty Auburn all season. Another of Major's passes carried for 47 yards to be caught on the Tiger three-yard line, but a penalty took care of that.

Still another carried 62 yards only to slip through the hands of the receiver in the Tiger end zone.

Auburn Coach Shug Jordan described Major's play "as one of the most surprising things I've seen all year."

And Nugent agreed.

Auburn vaulted atop the nation's Top 10 after this one and there was a quaint, satisfied feeling at Florida State that the game could have been closer—much closer.

Fullback Bob Nellums leaps over pile for early TD against Miami.

And the trip to Tampa for a final game was to seem anti-climatic.

FSU 21, TAMPA 7

As one writer put it, "There wasn't quite enough of 245-pound Fred Cason to spread over Phillips Field and Florida State ground out a 21-7 victory," over Tampa.

State had a lot of trouble coraling the bullish fullback, but when it was all over, there was little question as to the winner.

Renn, Nellums and Pickard each scored a touchdown when they could shake off the effects of a high wind adding to the discomfort of a 40-degree temperature.

A FITTING TOUCH

As a fitting touch to a rather fine season, Florida's sportswriters named Bob Renn and guard Al Ulmer to its first team All-Florida squad. For Renn, it was the second year in a row.

And for Ulmer—a shoestring, 173-pound sophomore guard—it was especially an honor. He was the first soph to make the team and State officials were fairly certain he'd made more tackles—71—than any other lineman in the state. Bob Nellums, who had performed with credit at both end and fullback, was named "Most Valuable Player" by his teammates.

THE MARCHING CHIEFS

The Florida State University's famous Marching Chiefs band, the ultimate in marching music and on-the-field precision, will appear in at least seven halftime shows during the 1958 season.

Hailed by Atlanta and other newspapers as the best in the South, The Chiefs will appear at four home games — Furman, Wake Forest, Virginia Tech and Tampa— plus games with Georgia Tech in Atlanta, Georgia in Jacksonville, and Florida in Gainesville.

Of the home games, the Wake Forest and Tampa games should provide the most band entertainment. The Wake Forest game on Oct. 4 is Florida State's annual Band Day, which will bring together at Doak S. Campbell Stadium many of the finest high school bands in Florida, Georgia, and Alabama. The Tampa game on Nov. 1 is Homecoming and The Chiefs always have something special for that occasion.

When The Chiefs journeyed to Philadelphia for Florida State's victory over Villanova two seasons ago, they were taken to the heart of the City of Brotherly Love. Then they proceeded to New York, where they appeared on several nationally-televised shows.

Director of this outstanding marching group is Manley Whitcomb, who is every bit as colorful as his bands. He came to Florida State after 17 years at Ohio State University, where he directed the Buckeye Band in its celebrated westward jaunt to the Rose Bowl in 1950.

Also a professor of music, Whitcomb has appeared as lecturer, guest conductor and adjudicator in a dozen states. Students literally clamor to get into his classes.

Whitcomb saw service as a combat infantryman in World War II and was twice awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat in France.

The Marching Chiefs have a marching membership of 112 musicians and 8 majorettes and carry 148 persons in their company. Their trips at Florida State have carried them as far west as Texas and Mexico and as far north as New York.

FLORIDA STATE'S FOOTBALL CLINIC

Five years ago Tom Nugent, Florida State's athletic director and head football coach, staged his first summertime coaching clinic with the idea of developing it into the best in the nation.

After five clinics, he knows the measure of success.

Each June, more than 500 coaches and players from all corners of the nation flock to Tallahassee to hear such football names as Sammy Baugh, Doak Walker, Otto Graham, Bud Wilkinson, Bobby Dodd, Bowden Wyatt, Terry Brennan, Paul (Bear) Bryant, Eddie Erdelatz, Duffy Daugherty, Murray Warmath and Sid Gillman relate their success secrets.

The latter five headed up Nugent's most recent clinic last June and all five spouted superlatives about it. Warmath was particularly enthusiastic: "It's easily the best clinic I've ever attended," the Wisconsin coach said. "I don't believe you will find a better one anywhere."

From an earlier clinic, Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson had this praise: "It's probably the best clinic of its sort I've ever attended. I'd like to be quoted on that. I've never seen anything run so smoothly and professionally."

In addition to having so many "name" coaches at Florida State clinics, sportswriters from all over Florida and Georgia attend. The Florida State Sportswriters Assn. holds its annual summer business meeting in conjunction with the clinic.

Nugent admits past clinics will be hard to beat in 1959. But he plans to do everything he can to go one better. Already he has set the wheels in motion for the '59 clinic, one which promises more pleasant surprises.

After the clinic just past, Nugent had his staff prepare a brochure which contains material on everything that took place—lectures and diagrams of various phases of football outlined by the all-star instructional staff. The brochure still is available to interested persons who will write for it.

There's no doubt about it. Florida State—and Tallahassee—has become the summertime football capital of the world.
