Scott Fletcher
Head Coach

This will be Scott Fletcher's fourth season at the helm of the Seminole golf team.

The veteran club pro took over the Tribe reins in 1970 and put the Seminoles through their first "all tournament" schedule. Since that time the Tribe golfers have played nothing but the finest collegiate tournaments in the South and have a record any coach would be proud of.

In his first season, Fletcher directed the Seminoles to five wins in seven tournaments. The same winning attitude has prevailed.

Before coming to Florida State Fletcher was the club pro at Capital City Country Club for five years and spent one year managing the Florida State course. This background gave him extensive contact with young golfers and provided him a solid base for college coaching.

"I have always enjoyed working with young golfers because of their enthusiastic approach to the game," said Fletcher.

The Seminoles' home matches are played on the University's 6,900 yard 18 hole championship course. One of the finest university owned layouts, the challenging course has long fairways, well-trapped greens and a modern club house.

The University maintenance and grounds department keep the course in peak condition for year round play.

Assisting Fletcher this year is a former Seminole golfer, Mark Gutenberg.

OUTLOOK

In 1972 Coach Scott Fletcher led a relatively young Seminole squad and all things considered the Tribe fared very well.

This year Fletcher looks for improvement as a veteran club returns almost intact.

There are five seniors of quality, a strong group of juniors and enough talented newcomers to keep the older players on their toes.

Playing an all-tournament schedule, the Seminoles do not compete as often as in previous seasons so intra-squad competition becomes all important in keeping a keen edge. Fletcher feels he has enough talent to keep everyone razor sharp.

"No one better become too complacent," says the veteran mentor in his fourth season as Florida State's Golf Coach. "If they do there is bound to be someone else to take over for them."

The seniors Fletcher looks to are squad captain John Ruby, co-captain Jim Ihnot, Ray Thompson and twins Ben and Bill Voyles. All are veterans who should be ready for the best seasons.

Among the juniors Doug Fischesser, Steve Mullen and Ron Rusk are prominent.

The newcomers to keep an eye on are JC transfers Robert Impaglia and Tom Keedy and freshmen Chris Campbell, Paul Rankin, Eben Dennis and Dennis Allen.

The schedule which began in September, takes the Seminoles to New Orleans, La.; Houston, Tex. and Calloway Gardens, Ga.
