This is Tallahassee

Near, but far from the glaring strips of neon amusement, and the castles and crowds of Disney, lies another magical place in the Sunshine State — one of pow-wows, plantations, politics and great pride. Often described as “The Other Florida” with its deep-rooted history, rolling hills, canopy roads of moss-draped oaks, cool climate and Southern-style hospitality; it is a Florida few have seen. It is Tallahassee — Florida with a Southern accent.

Best known as Florida’s capital, Tallahassee is an intimate neo-metropolitan city where the power of state government, the academic and the artistic are complemented by subtle, old-fashioned charm. It is the perfect two- or three-day diversion for the more than 41 million annual visitors to Florida and 13 million residents.

Tallahassee touts a menagerie of sights including one of the world’s deepest freshwater springs, site of America’s first Christmas, a wildlife habitat, Capitol buildings, fascinating museums of history, sprawling plantations, highly acclaimed fishing and hunting adventures and nearby beaches. Spirited area festivals range from celebrations of Tallahassee’s spectacular spring and swamp stomps to genuine rattlesnake roundups and seafood festivals.

With the Gulf of Mexico just 20 miles south and the Georgia border only 14 miles north, Tallahassee rests between the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains and the juncture of Florida’s panhandle and peninsula. Nearer in miles to Atlanta than to Miami, Tallahassee more closely resembles its Southern neighbors than Florida in topography, climate and lifestyle.

Accentuating Tallahassee’s Southern persona are lush rolling hills, likened to the seven hills of Rome, and five “official” canopy roads of patriarch oaks. The fertile, rich soil and four distinct, yet pleasant, seasons breed floral brilliance and natural vitality year-round.

Like the city itself, the story of how Tallahassee was chosen as the state capital is rich in history. In 1823, two explorers set out — one on horseback from St. Augustine and the other by boat from Pensacola — to find a permanent, central location for the Legislature to convene. The two met at a beautiful site that the Creek and Seminole Indians called “tallahassee” — derived from the words “talwa” meaning town and “ahasee” meaning old. The rendezvous point remains Florida’s capital.

The “old town” has undergone many changes, but one thing remains the same — it is still a government town fiercely proud and dedicated to preserving its heritage. The Capitol buildings, both old and new, epitomize Tallahassee’s perseverance.

The 22nd floor of the New Capitol provides a panoramic scope of a sophisticated Southern city awash in a sea of flowering azaleas, snowy dogwoods, towering pines, fragrant magnolias, and hundreds of shimmering lakes, springs, swamps, rivers and sink holes. Special legislative viewing galleries are open during the legislative session.

Below, in the shade of giant live oaks, proudly stands the Old Capitol, originally constructed in 1845 and restored to its 1902 splendor complete with red-and-white candy-striped awnings, a dome adorned with stained glass, antique furnishings and political memorabilia.

Across from the Old Capitol are the 40-foot twin granite towers of the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial, and the blue stone Union Bank, Florida's oldest surviving financial institution. The nostalgic Old Town Trolley, a replica turn-of-the-century street car, carries passengers through restored Adams Street Commons to numerous other historical downtown shops for free — unheard of even 100 years ago.

Minutes from downtown lies the Governor's Mansion, which resembles the home of Florida's military hero Andrew Jackson; and the 52-acre natural animal habitat and 1880s farm of the Tallahassee Museum of History and Natural Science, which provide the rare chance to walk and talk with native Florida animals.

Tallahassee remains firmly linked with the past as evidenced by the unearthed 1539 winter encampment of Spanish Hernando de Soto, the site of the first Christmas celebration in America. Visitors travel back through time as they stand in the shadow of a giant 12,000-year-old American Mastodon at the Museum of Florida History or explore other historical spots including The Knott House that Rhymes, The Columns, San Luis Mission, Lake Jackson State Archaeological Site, Natural Bridge Battlefield, First Presbyterian Church, Brokaw-McDougall House, Goodwood Plantation and Adams Street Commons.

Nearby, alligators lazing in the sunshine and anhinga "snake birds" perched on twisted cypress branches are seen at Wakulla Springs, one of the world's deepest freshwater springs and site of many underwater scenes in the "Tarzan" movies with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan. Safaris aboard glass-bottomed and jungle cruise boats whisk visitors within arm's length of "The Other Florida."

Outdoor enthusiasts enjoy adventures including boating and fishing on area lakes, rivers, ponds and the Gulf — just 30 minutes away. Lakes Seminole, Jackson and Talquin are renowned in the bass fishing world for yielding the "big ones," and dense forests offer an abundance of prize-winning game. Local wildlife areas such as the Florida National Scenic Trail, St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge and Apalachicola National Forest are among many spots for camping, picnicking, swimming, biking and exploring.

Appealing to the strokes of different folks, Tallahassee also features 99 holes of golf on six courses and a proliferation of tennis centers. Sideline athletes cheer the nationally-ranked Florida State Seminoles, Florida A&M Rattlers and the Tallahassee Tiger Sharks, of the East Coast Hockey League. And always a sure bet are the nearby greyhound races.

A sport of sorts, shopping at two regional malls and many specialty centers offer many "playing options" — from popular chains to curiosity and antique shops.

Cultural interests are sparked by widely-acclaimed museums and galleries and elaborate entertainment at the 14,000-seat Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center.

Tallahassee is a collaboration of power-play politics and classical character splashed with a twist of Southern beauty and charm. Tallahassee is Florida with a Southern accent.

Florida State University, celebrating its golden anniversary as a coeducational graduate research institution in 1997, has joined the nation's elite in both academics and athletics.

Located on the oldest continuous site of higher education in Florida and building rapidly on the framework of a highly regarded liberal arts college for women, the University has emerged over the past 50 years as an institution of national and international esteem. Its stature is evidenced by a number of additions to its record of excellence in the 1990s:

- In 1994, Florida State was classified a "Research University I" by the Carnegie Foundation, placing it among the nation's top research universities.

- In 1994, the college referral service, "Who's Who Among American High School Students," placed FSU among its top 10 — with such universities as Harvard, Duke, Stanford, North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Michigan-Ann Arbor and Yale — of most frequent choices of more than 100,000 of the nation's best and brightest high school students who asked that a specific college be notified of their recognition in "Who's Who."

- Vice President of the United States Al Gore spoke at the dedication of the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory at Florida State in 1994. The National Science Foundation established the $100 million magnet lab in 1990 at FSU, which is partnered in research with the Los Alamos National Laboratory and the University of Florida. A Nobel laureate in physics and a top Russian physicist were among the first scholars drawn to the faculty. The world's largest magnet — two stories high and capable of generating 45 tesla or 1 million times the Earth's magnetic field — was installed in 1995 at the NHMFL, located in the off-campus research complex, Innovation Park. In 1996, the NSF renewed and increased by 50 percent the NHMFL's funding for another five years.

- FSU created the first multipurpose student identification/banking card. The Card Application Technology Center is a national leader in "smart card" systems.

- At the forefront of supercomputing since obtaining its first high-speed computer in 1985, FSU took yet another step in ultrafast and parallel computing in 1990 when it acquired two supercomputers, the Thinking Machine Corp. Connection Machine and the Cray Y-MP.

- In fall 1994, the first tenants moved into the east side of the $100 million University Center, a classroom-and-office facility at Doak Campbell Stadium; the stadium's south end zone also was enclosed and the adjacent Moore Athletic Center expanded. With the completion of the west side in 1996, University Center now provides 550,000 square feet of much needed academic space and a centralized location for student services.

- In 1990, Florida State ranked second in popularity nationwide among high school seniors, based on the number of students who request that their Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores be sent to an institution. FSU was the only institution listed among the top 10 choices of both black and white college-bound students.

- FSU's high-tech program in structural biology in 1991 received the University's largest single foundation grant, $4 million.

- Capping more than a decade of national prominence in intercollegiate athletics, Florida State's athletic teams, nicknamed "Seminoles," joined the Atlantic Coast Conference as its ninth member in 1990. The FSU football team won the 1993 National Championship and its quarterback, Charlie Ward, won the University's first Heisman Trophy.

- The Dr. Bobby E. Leach Center, a state-of-the-art student recreation facility, with a pool, saunas, basketball and racquet-sport courts, was completed in 1991.

- FSU ranked 20th in the nation for 1990-91 in the number of black Ph.D. students it graduates. Over the five years, 1986 to 1990, FSU ranked eighth nationally by granting doctorates to 70 African-Americans.

As this list of highlights attests, Florida State is excelling in the 1990s with exceptional strength, energy and vision for the future.

Under the leadership of the University's 12th president, Talbot "Sandy" D'Alemberte, who took office in January 1994, FSU will continue to build on the foundation of its history of excellence in scholarship, research and service.

A senior member of the 10-member State University System, FSU was founded as an institution of higher learning in 1851 by legislative act and began in Tallahassee with its first students in 1857.

Today, FSU's operating budget is $474.3 million. Faculty and administrators generate more than $102 million annually in external funding to supplement state-sponsored research. Three direct-support organizations serve to bolster the University: FSU Foundation, which raises millions in private gifts to support academics, Seminole Boosters and FSU Alumni Association.

The main campus is spread over 451.6 acres in Tallahassee; FSU, which has one of the smallest campuses in the SUS, has been actively acquiring land in the 1990s after years of being landlocked at 347 acres. FSU owns 1,281 acres in Leon, Bay, Franklin and Sarasota counties.

Within the state, the University maintains facilities at its 25-acre campus in Panama City, its Marine Laboratory on the Gulf of Mexico, the Appleton Museum in Ocala and the Asolo Performing Arts Center in Sarasota. The Center for Professional Development and Public Service, housed in the Augustus B. Turnbull III Florida State Conference Center on the edge of the campus, provides extensive credit and non-credit continuing education programs statewide.

Florida State offers 286 graduate and undergraduate degree programs through its eight colleges — Arts and Sciences; Business; Communication; Education; Engineering (operated jointly with Florida A&M University, a historically black institution); Human Sciences; Law; and Social Sciences (which also incorporates the Reubin Askew School of Public Administration and Policy) — and eight schools — Criminology and Criminal Justice; Information Studies; Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts; Music; Nursing; Social Work; Theatre; and Visual Arts and Dance.

With 1,655 members, the FSU faculty has included nine National Academy of Sciences elected members, nine American Academy of Arts and Sciences fellows and five Nobel laureates. It is backed by 2,887 administrative/professional and support staff.

Library holdings at Florida State include 2.1 million book titles, 16,384 serials and 4.5 million microforms. The main library facility, the Robert M. Strozier Library, is linked by computer to other state university and national research libraries. The Paul A.M. Dirac Science Center Library is located at the heart of the University's science research complex. FSU also maintains extensive music, library science and law libraries.

Graduate students, who number more than 5,929, pursue advanced degrees in fields as diverse as business administration and theoretical particle physics. A majority of research done at FSU is the direct result of student effort, culminating in numerous books, monographs and journal articles relating to the whole spectrum of intellectual interests and the practical needs of society.

FSU, a residential campus, places a high priority on its 30,264 students and their needs and interests (of the student population: 45 percent are male; 55 percent are female; 20.1 percent are minorities; and 2.5 percent are foreign students). The University Honors Program, Disabled Student Services, International Student Center, Student Government, Flying High Circus and intramural sports are among more than 200 organizations and activities in which students may participate.

In all areas of its mission — excellence in teaching, research and public service — Florida State University is advancing boldly toward the 21st century.

1998 Preview

Florida State men's tennis enters a somewhat new era in 1998, as the program celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1997. Not only is it the 51st season of men's tennis at Florida State University, 1998 is also head coach David Barron's eighth season at the helm of the program.

In both instances, the turn of the golden anniversary for Seminole men's tennis and Barron's eighth season at FSU, new beginnings occur. He brings to the 1998 season a renewed sense of direction, philosophy and attitude. The primary goal remains the same, to advance to the NCAA final site at the end of the season, but the approach taken will have a different look.

Barron has always emphasized that success off the court will dictate how you achieve your goals on the court. A well-rounded player can and should excel in all phases of college life which includes academics, life skills, training, conditioning and the element of winning.

"Although the men's program has been successful the past five or six years with some great wins along the way, we really have only reached a certain plateau," commented Barron. "Now I want to go to the next level. So we are asking our coaches, players and staff to re-evaluate their goals and missions, to identify our strengths and weaknesses. Then we can put them together for an even stronger team. Dedication and commitment are an essential element for any athletic program and it is a major necessity to win on the court."

Barron's eighth season at FSU is the longest duration by a single coach in the history of the program. With a 19-win season, Barron will become the all-time winningest coach. He already surpassed 100 wins last season, a feat only two other coaches in the program's 50 years have reached.

Returning to the Seminole line up in '98 are six players all with extensive dual match experience, a transfer from Auburn University and two freshmen with high potential.

Leading the Tribe in '98 will be junior Ty Braswell, a native of Umatilla. Braswell broke out in 1997, while playing at the 2 singles position and at No. 1 for an injured Antonio Prieto. At the No. 2 spot, Braswell proved to Coach Barron that he will be a force to reckon with for the upcoming season. Braswell earned 19 overall wins last year with a clean sweep of competition at the ACC Championships, including ACC Tournament MVP, Clemson's Bruce Li. He also earned the ACC flight championship at No. 2 doubles with Yvo Niks.

Niks, a native of Holland, came on strong last season and will look to do the same in '98. He placed second on the team with 21 overall singles wins, the second straight season he had 20 or more singles victories. The junior also stepped up his play in '97 while jumping from No. 5 and 6 singles to the No. 3 and 4 competition last year. He had the second longest win streak of the season with a 10-match span in February and March.

Just one senior remains on the FSU roster, as Miami-native Alex Golub enters his fourth year of competition as a Seminole. Golub, a former ACC flight singles champion, is a veteran of dual match competition with nearly 40 career singles victories while playing from No. 2 through 6 singles. He is also one of the 'Noles more accomplished doubles players with experience at the No. 1 doubles position since his freshman season.

Sophomore Michael Ingham was perhaps the most pleasant surprise of 1997. His resume as he entered his freshman season showed that he was able to accomplish at high levels, but his transition to the college and dual match format went very smoothly. The Rochdale, England native led the team with an impressive 26-7 overall singles record and an

Ty Braswell

Nils

18-4 dual match standing at No.3 through 6 singles. His 6-1 ACC singles record would have merited a possible championship or all-conference honor, but it was spread over four separate flights.

Transfer Davidson Kozlowski, a junior from Sarasota, comes to FSU with two years of playing experience with the Auburn Tigers where he played at the No.5 singles and No.1 doubles position. He had a 19-5 overall record at No.5 singles as a freshman while assisting the Tigers to a No.18 national ranking.

Junior Steve Weinstein of North Miami Beach jumped into extensive competition last season, earning time at No.5 and 6 singles, primarily. He won all of his fall matches and claimed his flight's championship at the Seminole Fall Classic. Although he earned just nine overall singles wins last season, he has spent the entire off season preparing for the upcoming year.

Sophomore Jay Travis also showed upside potential in 1997, as did Weinstein. Travis, a resident of Palmetto, went undefeated in singles competition last year with a 9-0 overall record. In that, he claimed a championship at the Clemson Fall Classic while posting five wins at No.6 singles, two within ACC competition.

Both incoming freshmen, Gerald Casas and Chad Mooney, have a great amount experience playing in national junior tournaments. Casas, a native of Henderson, Nevada, won the backdraw at the Easter Bowl tournament and was regarded as a top ten nationally player in boys 16 bracket. The St. Albans, West Virginia, resident Mooney competed in the National 16's Indoor championships and was a backdraw semifinalist for the National 18's Indoor championships. He also advanced to the round of 16 at the National Hardcourts doubles championships.

Usually beginning most dual matches in February, the Seminoles have three within the month of January. Aside from in-state teams, Stetson and Jacksonville, FSU will meet up once again with Old Dominion. The Tribe defeated ODU last season 5-2.

February brings six opponents, four which we will be played at the Speicher Center. The month is highlighted with contests at South Alabama, an annual top 20 opponent, and at South Florida, who defeated FSU 4-3 in Tallahassee in '97.

During the month of March, aside from beginning the ACC portion of the schedule, the Tribe meet up with Florida in Tallahassee. FSU upset the favored-Gators 4-3 in Gainesville last season. The ACC schedule includes matches with rivals North Carolina and nationally strong Clemson, plus top 10 Duke and NC State and Wake Forest.

In completing the dual match season in April, the Seminoles will have to be ready to make the stretch for the NCAA's, because the opponents don't get any easier. The first two matches in Tallahassee will be crucial for the run, with nationally ranked Florida International and Miami coming to town. The 'Noles then leave for Charlottesville, Va., where they'll meet up with ACC host Virginia, Maryland and top 20 challenge Virginia Commonwealth. Prior to the conference tournament, FSU will have an ACC tune up with Georgia Tech. FSU rallied to defeat Tech 4-3 last season in Tallahassee.

A challenging schedule coupled with experienced veteran players, the Seminoles will look to finish among the top programs in the ACC once again. The Tribe will also look to extend their four-year streak of NCAA regional appearances, May 15-17, and better it by advancing to the final site in Athens, Ga., May 20-24.

DAVID BARRON

Head Coach
University of Evansville

As David Barron enters his eighth season as head coach of the Seminole men's tennis program, he brings a renewed sense of direction, philosophy and attitude to the 1997-98 season. The primary goal remains the same, to advance to the NCAA final site at the end of the season, but the approach taken will have a different look.

Barron has always emphasized that success off the court will dictate how you achieve your goals on the court. A well-rounded player can and should excel in all phases of college life which includes academics, life skills, training, conditioning and the element of winning.

"Although the men's program has been successful the past five or six years with some great wins along the way, we really have only reached a certain plateau," commented Barron. "Now I want to go to the next level. So we are asking our coaches, players and staff to re-evaluate their goals and missions, to identify our strengths and weaknesses. Then we can put them together for an even stronger team. Dedication and commitment are an essential element for any athletic program and it is a major necessity to win on the court."

The 1998 dual match season will mark Barron's eighth at the helm of the Florida State men's tennis program, the longest duration by a single coach in the history of the program. With a 19-win season, Barron will become the all-time winningest coach. He already surpassed 100 wins last season, a feat only two other coaches in the program's 50 years have reached.

Barron's continuing commitment to elevate the program to higher levels of competition, achievement and success is still very intact going into 1998.

Whether in coaching, recruiting, or involved in charitable activities, Barron has brought the FSU program national acclaim.

1998 will be no different as Barron will be busy guiding the Seminoles into one of the nation's toughest schedules. Despite the difficult schedule, the Seminoles are expected to contend once again for the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

The FSU men's tennis team has steadily improved with the addition of top players to the program, and much of the team's success can be attributed to the recruiting and coaching abilities of Barron.

Florida State will begin its fifth campaign in the Scott Speicher Tennis Center at the Donald Loucks Courts, the nationally renowned tennis facility. Barron was one of the central figures behind its construction. Through his vision and lobbying, Barron did much of the leg work to make the center a reality on the Florida State University campus.

A native of Evansville, Indiana, Barron played on a junior college national championship team at Central Florida Community College in Ocala, before graduating in 1981 with his Associates degree. He then moved on to the University of Evansville where he was the team MVP in 1983, while earning his Bachelor's degree later that same year. Barron then traveled to Nova University where he earned a Master's degree in 1985 for Business Administration.

After Nova, Barron worked at Nick Bollettieri's prestigious Tennis Academy. While at the Academy, Barron met Andy Brandi, who went on to become the head coach for the University of Florida women's tennis team. Brandi brought Barron to Gainesville in 1985 where they proceeded to lead the Lady Gators into one of the top programs in the country. Although entering just his eighth year as head coach at FSU, Barron is already proving he can produce the same results for the Seminoles.

Recently, other organizations have benefitted from Barron's involvement. He has been heavily involved in a campaign to raise money for the Children's Miracle Network. Through his organizing of a tennis pro-am tournament this fall at the Scott Speicher Tennis Center, money will be raised for the pediatric programs at Shands Hospital at the University of Florida. To date he has raised in excess of $40,000 for the charity.

Barron is married to the former Michelle Sharp. The two are the proud parents of a son John David. He is currently working on his Doctorate in Athletic Administration here at Florida State and he is USPTA (United States Professional Tennis Association) certified.

John Vinson Assistant Coach Florida State University

John Vinson, who returns for his sixth year as assistant coach of the Seminoles, will once again hold several on and off court responsibilities for Barron and Florida State. Among Vinson's tasks is to assist in practices, individual player workouts and academic progress. His role is especially crucial in the fall, as he organizes the annual Seminole Fall Classic, which has become one of the most successful tournaments in the nation.

Besides his valuable assistance to Coach Barron, Vinson is no stranger to Seminole tennis. He was an assistant coach at FSU under Richard McKee from 1986 to 1988. During that period he worked with current ATP No. 1 doubles player Paul Haarhuis.

In addition to Florida State, Vinson has held two other head coaching positions. He was at Louisiana Tech from 1988 to 1990 coaching the Lady Bulldogs while earning his Master's degree in general counseling. For the second semester of the 1990 season Vinson became the head coach for the entire Utah State Utes tennis program until the end of the 1991 season.

Upon returning to Florida in 1991, Vinson was named the Florida Section Director of Player Development for the USTA from 1991 to 1993. His duties for the USTA included coaching the top Florida zonal teams, organizing tournaments for Florida USTA players and coaching at many different training sites around the state. His impact for the USTA helped FSU in this year's recruiting class, as Juniors Ty Braswell and Steve Weinstein both met Vinson during his stay with the amateur association.

Vinson lettered four years in tennis at Wake Forest

University and held the number one singles position during his senior season under the legendary Demon Deacon tennis coach Jim Leighton and then Ian Crookenden. He was named the teams MVP his junior year after finishing second at the ACC tournament at No. 3 singles.

He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology from FSU and received his Master's degree in general counseling from Louisiana Tech University. Vinson is married to the former Kim Schwenbeck and have a newborn son, John Allen. Vinson, who is USPTA certified, serves as a tennis pro at various Tallahassee area tennis clubs.

1997 Review

The 1997 Florida State men's tennis team completed its regular season by qualifying for NCAA regional tournament play at the campus of Georgia Tech in the Region II Tournament. It's the fourth straight season that the men's team have advanced to post-season play.

Ty Braswell & Tyo Niks

The men's team (16-12), led by senior Antonio Prieto and sophomore Ty Braswell, were seeded seventh and to face the No. 2 seed and 16th-ranked Virginia Commonwealth in the first round of the Region II Championships. Although the men dropped the match, 4-1, to the Rams to complete the season, their 16 victories surpassed the 1996 win total of 15 wins.

The season was also highlighted by seventh-year head coach Dave Barron who achieved his 100th career victory earlier in the season against Jacksonville.

Prieto returned to the Seminole line up in '97, after spending the '96 season in his home country of Brazil. He returned to his form of old, earning a national ranking each of the ITA/Rolex posting dates.

Braswell was a key factor all season long playing at the No. 2 singles position. His clutch play led him to a 2-0 record in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, including the match-clinching win against North Carolina's Rob Tedesco in the quarterfinal round and over eventual tournament MVP Bruce Li of Clemson in FSU's ACC tournament ending loss. The Seminoles, seeded sixth at the ACC tournament, upset third-seeded UNC 4-2. It was just the second time since joining the ACC in 1992 that FSU defeated the Tar Heels.

With a difficult 1997 dual match schedule that began at No. 3 ranked Mississippi State, FSU had some quality wins. Of that '97 schedule, 19 out of 28 matches were against nationally-ranked opponents by season's end and wins occurred versus nationally ranked squads such as Florida, North Carolina and Georgia Tech. It was those victories that kept the Seminoles among the region's finest.

The ACC had nearly every one of its teams nationally ranked during the 1996 season and seven teams, including the Seminoles, nationally ranked by season's end.

In a dual match doubleheader on February 22nd, Barron achieved what only two other former FSU head coaches had attained in the programs 50-year history. Against Jacksonville in the morning match the Seminoles won 5-0, giving Barron his 100th career victory. The 'Noles also picked up the afternoon match against Central Florida

5-1. Barron stood at 111-66 by season's end.

After defeating Top-10 Duke in 1996, FSU repeated on major upsets with a 4-3 come-from-behind win over the Florida Gators in front of numerous raucous fans down in Gainesville. The win was part of FSU's nine match win streak earlier in the season, one of the longest under Coach Barron's tenure.

Speicher Tennis Center

With the first stage of construction completed in the Summer of 1993, the Scott Speicher Tennis Center at the Donald Loucks Courts opened its gates to the public for the first time at a Children's Miracle Network charity tournament. Since then, many successful and admirable tournaments have graced the courts at one of Florida State University's premier athletic facilities.

Costing $1.2 million to build and then another $800,000 for recent additions, Florida State's Speicher Tennis Center has become an example of the increasing dedication and commitment the University has to all of its 17 varsity athletic programs.

The Speicher Tennis Center houses 12 lighted hard courts, over 1,000 court level seats, coaching offices, men's and women's lockerrooms, a equipment and storage rooms and an public address system. The growing pride Florida State has for its tennis program and its premier tennis center was honored just after its opening in 1994, when the United States Tennis Association (USTA) awarded the structure with its "Top Notch" facility award.

The Speicher Tennis Center was named in honor of Lieutenant Commander Michael Scott Speicher, a graduate of Florida State University and the first American casualty during Operation Desert Storm. By Presidential directive, the facility bears the name the "Scott Speicher Tennis Center."

H. Donald Loucks was the program's first tennis coach and is aptly known as the pioneer of Florida State tennis. He began his coaching career in 1936 at the University School of Florida State College for Women where he coached all sports. This was the beginning of an association with Florida State which crossed six deacades, 1936 - 1980, ending in his retirement as Professor Emeritus of Physical Education. In 1942, while serving as an officer in the Army, Loucks was stationed at West Point where he coached plebe basketball and tennis teams.

In 1947, Loucks became Florida State's first basketball coach and a year later was named the schools' first tennis coach. His tennis team was the first athletic team to have a winning season. The varsity tennis courts were named for him in 1981. He served as Dean of Men from 1957 - 1967 and was known as a servant of leadership, service and devotion to many worthy causes.

The Speicher Tennis Center was designed by EMO/Architects, Inc., a Tallahassee-based architectural firm, in collaboration with Global Consult Group, Inc., an internationally recognized Tennis Facility Design Consultant.

The complex was funded by private sources and supervised through the state university system of Florida.

Through its short three year existence, the Scott Speicher Tennis Center at the Donald Loucks Courts has served as the home courts for all Florida State men's and women's home dual matches, the annual Seminole Fall Classics, City of Tallahassee tennis championships, various USTA regional and zonal tournaments, the 1994 and 1995 Men's intercollegiate men's tournament and the annual Children's Miracle Network Charity Inviational benefitting Shands Hospital in Gainesville.

Top Noles

In 1982, Lex Wood became the first player from the Florida State tennis program to be inducted into the FSU Athletics Hall of Fame. He was first a player for the Seminoles from 1961 through the 1963 season, then the program's head coach from the 1965 through 1969.

When Wood arrived from his native South Africa in 1962, head coach Eddie Cubbon knew he had a leader amongst his new crop of tennis players. For the following three seasons he would become a mainstay among the nation's top twenty players, playing at No. 1 singles and doubles.

In 1964, his singles match record was 22-1 and his career mark was 51 victories in 54 singles matches. In the course of his Florida State career, Wood defeated many great collegiate players including a former U.S. Davis Cup player, Marty Riessen. As the head coach, his Seminoles went an impressive 89-33 during his tenure. His last two teams in 1968 and 1969 went 19-3 and 23-5 in dual match play, respectively.

A fine student, Wood received his masters and doctoral degrees from FSU in Education. Following his near-decade with FSU, Wood traveled south to the University of Central Florida, where he served as an educator and coach for many more years to follow.

Over six decades of service to Florida State athletics, Don Loucks was inducted to the Florida State Athletic Hall of Fame in 1985. In 1936, Loucks started off his relationship with FSU as the coach of all sports for the University School of Florida State College for Women. He was the "pioneer" of many of the successful athletic programs that currently thrive.

In 1947, he was the first basketball coach for the men's basketball team and a year later was named the first tennis coach. His hoops team scored the first victory for the newly-formed athletic program. His tennis team was the first to have a winning season, going 9-4.

He served as Dean of Men from 1957 through 1967 and during this time he served as a lead figure in the Seminole athletic program, as well as in the department of education. He retired from the Athletic Department in 1980 as Professor Emeritus of Physical Education. His dedication did not go unnoticed as the Varsity Tennis Courts were renamed in his honor. The Scott Speicher Tennis Center was built around his courts.

His accolades go far beyond the tennis courts, yet Dr. Ray Bellamy's triumphs at the net still stand out as one of the best as he was inducted into the Florida State Athletic Hall of Fame in 1992. He served as his team's captain in 1960 and 1961, and during those two years he only lost a total of three matches.

As a model student and athlete during his undergraduate years, 1957 through 1961, Bellamy was involved in many facets of the University that continue to show the benefits of his early presence. He was vice-president of his senior class, a member of the Gold Key honorary society and Omicron Delta Kappa honorary fraternity. In addition, Bellamy was president of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. He then went on to earn a doctorate in medical studies.

After leaving FSU and joining the United States Navy, Bellamy went on to become the All-Navy doubles champion and played on the All-Navy team in 1967 and 1968 while serving as flight surgeon.

After returning to the state of Florida to begin his practice, Bellamy became the state's 35-and-over singles and doubles champion during the 1970's.

Paul Haarhuis, the "Dutchman" from Eindhoven, The Netherlands, came to Florida State in 1986 after transferring from Armstrong State College in Savannah, Georgia. He went on to become the best tennis player ever to come out of FSU. His induction into the Florida State Athletic Hall of Fame in 1993 is a symbol of the university's appreciation for the positive presence he added to the program during his undergraduate years, 1986 through 1988.

His first two seasons prior to joining the Seminoles went quickly as he garnered a 64-2 overall record, including a 35-0 sophomore season. With the Seminoles, his first season was a true success as he went 35-5 in singles competition and 25-5 in doubles. His biggest feat was claiming the first-ever Men's Intercollegiate Invitational Tennis Championships held in Panama City.

At one point, he had 24 consecutive wins, including his reign as the Metro Conference Most Valuable Player. He was given this honor by way of winning the number one singles and doubles crowns, including an invitation to the NCAA Championships for doubles.

Once his collegiate career was finished he had a 72-9 overall singles record for his two years and consecutive Metro Conference MVP awards. In the pro's he still thrives. His list of victories over top-opponents includes John McEnroe and Boris Becker.

Marco Abilhoa, the native of Brazil was one of the great Florida State Seminole tennis players make an impact on the collegiate scene. Prior to enrolling, he was ranked No. 3 in the Brazilian Juniors, when former FSU head coach Randy Jobson discovered him.

A five-year member of the Seminole tennis program from 1980 through 1984, Abilhoa was at the tops of the Metro Conference. He was the No. 1 singles and doubles champion in 1981 and 1982. After dominating for his first two seasons he was then sidelined and redshirted for the 1983 season. Upon his return in 1984, he went straight back to the place where he left off, at the top of the Metro Conference. His dominating presence earned him a record three Metro MVP awards in 1981, 1982, and 1984.

"If Marco can get himself so that he's pumped and psyched to play, and can keep his mind clear of distractions, there isn't anyone in the country that he can't beat," added Jobson.

Joey Rive, a West Palm Beach native, played for the Seminoles from 1981 through 1985. He was one of the top players ever to compete at Florida State, Rive led the team in wins in 1983, 1984 and 1985. During his period at number one singles, he was nationally ranked among the Top 25 in the nation.

His stellar performance for the Tribe resulted in three Metro doubles. That same year he earned an invitation to the 1991 N C A A Championships for singles. A feat that has been duplicated by very few Seminoles Notebloom went onto the professional level following graduation.

Brian Stanton of Coral Springs and Ken McKenzie of Tallahassee finished up their playing careers with the Tribe in 1995. As a doubles team the duo ended their final campaign earning collegiate tennis' top honor, ITA All-America.

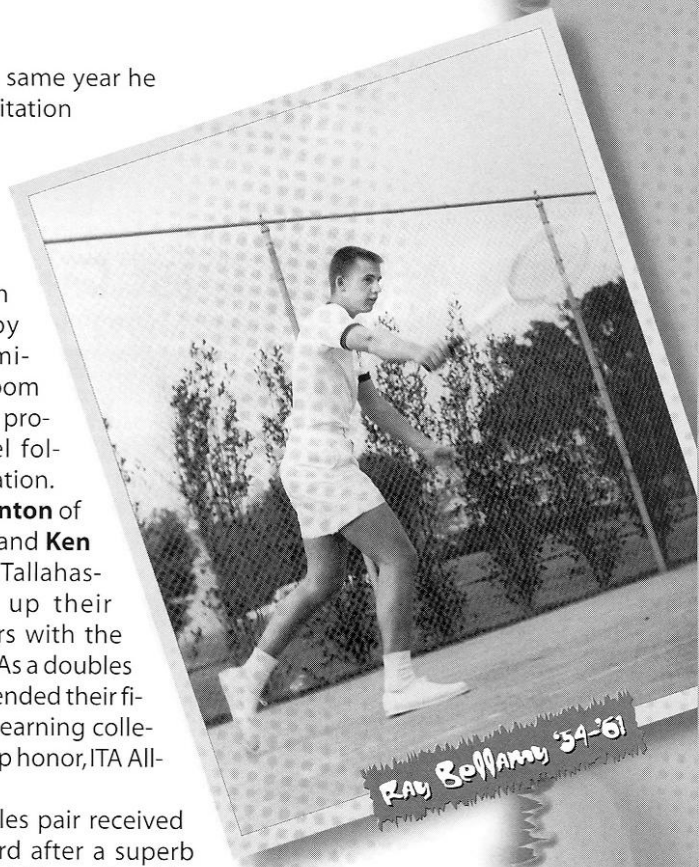

The doubles pair received the 1995 award after a superb run in the NCAA Championships. What may be the most impressive feat for them was being ranked among the nation's top 10 doubles tandems throughout the season.

During his stay at FSU, Stanton won back to back Junior Davis Cup singles titles in 1993 and 1994, won the 1993 Junior Davis Cup in doubles and was named to the All-ACC team his sophomore and junior seasons. He then served as graduate assistant coach in 1996.

McKenzie leaves behind a void in doubles that will be a great challenge to fill. He and Stanton guided No. 1 doubles to an impressive No. 3 national ranking, the highest ranking the program has ever received. He also was also impressive on the singles side earning ACC Flight Championships at No. 2 singles in 1994 and No. 3 singles in 1995.

Jason White recently finished up his four-year run with the Seminoles in 1995, his best season as a player by far. As the top singles and doubles player, White was charged with a lot of responsibility as the team's captain.

Eventhough he won the ACC Championship at No. 4 singles in 1994 and a pair of championships at No. 2 doubles in 1994 and 1995, White was still on top of ACC tennis 1996. The senior from Longwood, who was nationally ranked in singles and doubles for nearly the entire season, went down to the wire and was edged out of the championship at No. 1 singles by just one loss. Not to go unnoticed he received an invitation to the 1996 NCAA Championships in singles for his conference efforts.

zine Sportsman of the Year award.

Following his FSU career, Rive played the ATP tour where he reached as high as No. 57 in the world in 1988. He returned back to Tallahassee, where he served as an assistant coach from 1993 to 1994. He is currently the head coach at the University of Alabama.

After earning All-American honors at NAIA Huntington College in Montgomery, Ala., Stephen Notebloom, the second "Dutchman" to thrive at Florida State joined the Seminoles for the 1990 through 1992 seasons.

Almost immediately making his presence known, Notebloom grabbed the Metro Conference's coveted MVP award for winning the title at No. 1 singles and

Atlantic Coast Conference

Instilling a standard of excellence in its athletes, the Atlantic Coast Conference, now in its 45th year of collegiate competition, has long been a leader in athletics and academics. Spanning through the past five decades, the ACC has placed its schools on the forefront of athletic advancement with its state-of-the-art athletic facilities and numerous progressive academic support systems.

Men's tennis began in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1954. From 1954 to 1978, North Carolina dominated the conference championships. During that time, there were only three years that the Tar Heels were absent from the team championships. In the 1980's, it was Clemson that mounted a streak, winning the crown nine times in 10 years. North Carolina and Duke have split the dominance in the early 1990's, but Florida State is set in their ways to make a strong run for the title in '98.

The tradition of ACC men's tennis is historically strong and 1997 took no exception to that fact. The ACC had at one time or another eight schools ranked in the Rolex/ITA national Top 50, with Duke University a mainstay in the Top 10. Duke, Clemson, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Wake Forest, Virginia, Georgia Tech, and Florida State all positioned themselves among the elite Top 50 at least one week during the course of the past season.

Although the Blue Devils were the lone team representative at the 1997 NCAA Division I Men's Tennis Championships in Los Angeles, California, five other ACC schools took place in the earlier rounds of the NCAA regional competition. The conference also did well in the singles and doubles portion of the nine-day Championships earning five singles and two doubles invitations.

After starting the ACC portion of the 1997 schedule with a close loss to Virginia 4-3 at home, the injury-plagued Seminoles were about to enter what turned out to be a season-long seven-match losing streak that included losses to conference foes North Carolina and Duke. After breaking the slump to non-conference opponent New Mexico, FSU lost a hard-fought effort to Clemson 4-3 at the Speicher Center. With a conference record of 0-4, the Seminoles knew they must re-group and enter the second portion of ACC competition with a new outlook. After dropping that close match to the Tigers on April 5th, FSU turned around and defeated the up and coming Georgia Tech squad 4-3 the very next day. Following that match with the Yellow Jackets, FSU ran off a string of three more victories to even up their conference record to 4-4.

Entering the Conference tournament FSU was seeded sixth and to face third-seeded North Carolina. FSU had lost to the Tar Heels twice in the regular season, one by head-tohead defeat in Chapel Hill and one by forfeit at the Blue-Gray national tournament. In the highly-anticipated rematch with UNC, the Seminoles jumped out first clinching the doubles point 2-1. FSU proceeded in upsetting the favored Tar Heels 4-2 as Ty Braswell clinched the match with a straight set win over Rob Tedesco at No. 2 singles. Trying to get the same results in the semifinals against No. 2 seed Clemson, the Seminoles fell short falling 4-2 with a three-set clinching decision at No. 3 singles. The opening win against UNC marked just the second time in ACC competition, regular or post season, that FSU has defeated the Tar Heels since the 1991-92 season. The win also gave FSU its third straight trip into the semifinals.

Support Services

AN OVERVIEW OF AN ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM ON THE RISE

Academic, personal and professional support are essential to college success. At the Florida State University, we have developed an outstanding support program which enables student-athletes to reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is "to offer an academic support program integrated with the total university that will assist all student-athletes with the transition into college and provide continued support in all phases of academic and professional development culminating with graduation, job placement or graduate school."

To accomplish this goal we have developed an academic environment which facilitates the academic success of student-athletes. Student success is encouraged through competent academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement and academic assistance through tutorial programs.

Our program operates on a "proactive" rather than "reactive" approach. At Florida State, our academic staff does not wait for academic crises to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on all student-athletes to assess their needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

Our academic support staff includes a director, five counselors, and three graduate interns forming a group of professionals serving the needs of all our student-athletes. Mark Meloney is entering his second year as the director of the Athletics Academics Support after serving as one of the program's academic counselors for eight years prior. Academic Counselor Kevin White will handle the men's tennis program duties in 1997.

In 1994, the academic programs moved to the state-of-the-art University Center and are located on the 6th floor of the $126,000,000 facility. It includes private study carrels, a tutorial study area and a computer lab outfitted with 16 state-of-the-art IBM computers and laser printers. In addition, athletic sky boxes are utilized for group and individualized tutorial instruction sessions.

Strength & Conditioning

STRENGTH, CONDITIONING, MEDICAL CARE AND TREATMENT

Strength training, conditioning, medical care and treatment are a vital aspect of an athlete's performance on the court. At Florida State, a specially designed program is developed for men's tennis team, emphasizing the objectives of strengthening and conditioning the athletes along with the proper medical attention and injury prevention.

Strength and Conditioning Coach Russ Barbarino individually customize programs for each of the athletes, beginning with pre-conditioning, before the season even gets underway. Student Athletic Trainer Chris Summers, will handle the athletic training duties for the men's tennis team.

Barbarino, who earned his Bachelor's degree in Physical Education from Kean College of New Jersey, received first-hand experience as the school's football strength and conditioning coach. He then went on to world, national and state record holder in several powerlifting events.

This season, Barbarino, a certified National Strength and Conditioning Association member, is customizing a sound and comprehensive workout for the men's tennis team. The workout is instrumental in improving muscular endurance, strength, power, speed and cardiovascular conditioning on the court. FSU takes pride in customizing the programs to help student athletes reach their maximum potential.

Athletes at Florida State University receive the best care and treatment possible. All of the student athletes undergo a preseason examination in order to prevent and detect any potential injuries that an athlete may incur. If a problem is detected, the athlete is placed on a prevention care program which may include any kind of treatment from icing to exercising.

Though preventing injuries is the main objective, they are sometimes a part of participating in athletics. Rehabilitation is another important component of the Seminole training room. Summers and the rest of the FSU training staff will work with the athlete and provide an intense rehabilitation schedule that will allow the athlete to successfully rehabilitate after an injury. More serious injuries and illnesses are referred to the Seminole team physicians at the Tallahassee Orthopedic Center, who for many years have worked in conjunction with the FSU training room in successfully rehabilitating numerous athletes after an injury.

Summers, a Port St. Joe native, is in the process of earning a degree in Health Education at Florida State. He served as the Tallahassee Community College baseball trainer the past three years.

Nutrition counseling and drug testing are also responsibilities of the athletic training team which is dedicated to providing the best care possible for all FSU student-athletes.

earn his Master's degree in Sports Administration from Florida State, where he is currently pursuing a post-graduate degree in the same field.

An active member of the World Natural Powerlifting Federation and the American Drug-Free Powerlifting Association, Barbarino has become a two-time world, three-time national and seven-time state powerlifting champion. He has also established himself as a repeat

THE N.O.L.E.S. PROGRAM

NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR LEADERSHIP, EDUCATION AND SERVICE

Developed by the Florida State University Department of Athletics, the NOLES program represents a commitment to the total growth and development of the student-athlete. This program establishes an administrative commitment to academic and athletic excellence. Those efforts will be supported with programs and services in personal development, career development and community service.

Personal Development

Fostering the development of personal growth is a fundamental component of the NOLES program. These support programs ensure that the student-athlete will be provided opportunities to focus on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal planning, decision making and personal responsibility. Programming focuses on helping student-athletes develop a healthy lifestyle while they are at Florida State and habits that will benefit them for life.

Career Development

Preparing for life after college sports is a major focus of the NOLES Career Development program. The program is designed to work cooperatively with the University's Career Services to acquaint students with the job search process, provide networking opportunities and ultimately assist with job placement. This program places a priority on the development of the total person, with the goal of developing individuals who will have rewarding careers and productive lifestyles after they leave Florida State.

Community Service

Serving the community is the focus of our Seminole Spirit program. Student-athletes are challenged to give service to our community and individuals who are in need. With a clearly defined program of service, student-athletes are given the opportunity to develop the foundation for a lifelong commitment to volunteerism. The Seminole Spirit Student-Athlete Speakers' Bureau enables student-athletes to improve their speaking skills, develop effective communication and impact the lives of others through their service as role models in our community.

Leadership Development

The Florida State University Department of Athletics is committed to developing programs of excellence that foster leadership development. The foundation of the leadership development program will be the two councils that represent the student-athletes at the University.

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) serves as the advisory board to the NOLES program and the athletics administration.

The prestigious board, comprised of two representatives of each athletic team at FSU, also recommends programming and serves as a liaison between student-athletes and the athletics administration. The Advisory Council plans and implements various events for student-athletes and serves as the department's most visible ambassadors. The SAAC planned and hosted the annual Golden Nole banquet for the first time last year and have recently planned such events as orientation for incoming student-athletes and the back-to-school picnic.

NCAA Information

The following information is provided by the Florida State Office of Compliance for prospective student athletes. It is intended as a guideline to introduce some of the rules governing NCAA athletic involvement.

Who is permitted to recruit for FSU?

Only Florida State University coaches who have successfully completed the NCAA Recruiting Rules Examination on an annual basis may be involved in the recruitment process. Representatives of our athletics interests may not make any recruiting contacts. This includes letters, telephone calls or face-to-face contact on or off campus with a prospect or the prospect's parents.

Key terms you should know

You become a prospective student-athlete if you have started classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if the college provides you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to prospective students generally.

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect or the prospect's legal guardian and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange of greeting. NOTE: At the Division I level, athletic representatives (boosters) may not contact you for the purpose of recruiting. A college coach may contact you in person off the college campus beginning July 1 after completion of your junior year in high school.

An evaluation is any off-campus activity designed to assess your academic qualifications or athletic ability, including any visit to your high school (during which no contact occurs) or the observation of any practice or competition in which you participate.

During your senior year, you can have one expense-paid official visit to a particular campus. You may receive no more than five visits. During your official visit, which may not exceed 48 hours, you may receive round-trip transportation between your home and the campus, and you (and your parents) may receive meals, lodging and complimentary admission to campus athletics events.

Phone calls and letters

Phone calls from faculty members and coaches (but not boosters) are permitted beginning July 1 (August 15 for football) after completion of your junior year. A college coach or faculty member is limited to one telephone call per week except when it is:

- During the five days immediately before your official visit to the university
- On the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you
- During the time beginning with the initial National Letter of Intent signing date in your sport through the two days after signing date
- In the sport of football only, during the permissible off-campus contact periods and during the 48 hours prior to and 48 hours after 8:00 a.m. on the initial signing date for the National Letter of Intent.

Letters from coaches and faculty members (but not boosters) are not permitted until September 1 at the beginning of your junior year in high school. A Division I university may provide you with the following printed materials:

- General correspondence, including letters, U.S. Postal Service postcards and institutional note cards
- Game programs which may not include posters and one Student Athlete Handbook can be provided only during official or unofficial visits to the university's campus
- NCAA educational information
- Pre-enrollment information subsequent to signing a National Letter of Intent with the university
- One athletic publication which may include only one color of printing inside the covers
- Official academic, admissions and student services publications published or videotapes produced by the institution and available to all students

- Schedule cards
- Questionnaires which may be provided prior to your junior year
- Summer camp brochures which may be provided prior to your junior year.

Alumni and Boosters Do's and Don'ts

You may forward information about prospective student-athletes to the appropriate coaches.

You may have contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has already signed a National Letter of Intent and the Compliance Office is aware that you are making these contacts in regard to employment.

You may have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member and you are not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility. You must refer any questions about our athletics programs to an athletics department staff member/coach.

You may view a prospect's contest at your own initiative provided you do not contact the prospect or his/her parents. In addition, you may not contact a prospect's coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.

You may continue established family relationships with friends and neighbors. Contacts with sons and daughters of these families are permitted as long as they are not made for recruiting purposes or encouraged by Florida State University coaches.

You may not become involved in making arrangements to receive money or financial aid of any kind for a prospect or the prospect's family and friends.

You may not make contact with a prospective student-athlete and his/her parents when the prospect is on campus for an official or unofficial recruiting visit.

You may not transport, pay or arrange for payment of transportation costs for a prospect, and his/her relatives or friends to visit campus (or elsewhere).

You may not pay or arrange for payment of summer camp registration fees for a prospect.

You may not provide anything to a prospect, the prospect's family or friends without prior approval from the athletics' Compliance Office.

Note: Up until 1977, the NCAA champion was decided by the total of the individual scoring of all players on each team. One point was awarded for each match won, including singles and doubles. A single-elimination tournament featuring 16 teams began in 1977 and has since expanded to 32.

Conference Info

Dixie Conference Affiliation (1949-51)

The 1949, 1950 and 1951 teams, coached by Florida State tennis pioneer, H. Don Loucks (1949-50) and Ralph Matherly (1951), won the Dixie Conference team championship for three consecutive years. The Dixie Conference was made up of seven small schools within the Southeast, including Florida State, Stetson, Millsaps, Mercer, Howard, Lambuth and Ogelthorpe.

Metro Conference Championship History (1976-91)

The Metro Conference, originally tabbed the Metro Six, was formed on June 13, 1975. Its charter members included the Cincinnati, Georgia Tech, Louisville, Memphis State, St. Louis and Tulane.

Expansion was soon on the horizon, as the league membership increased to its size to seven schools when the Florida State University was admitted on July 28, 1976.

After Georgia Tech left the conference following the 1978 season, Virginia Tech quickly filled the void. Then St. Louis left the Metro. But waiting in the wings was the University of South Carolina who joined in 1983 to increase the membership to eight schools. However, Tulane forfeited its membership when its basketball program was discontinued following the 1984-85 season.
