THE ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

Florida State University doesn't have an athletic director but uses instead an Athletic Committee composed of members of the faculty and student body.

The Athletic Committee has a standing membership of nine faculty members and two students. Student members are appointed each year.

Present members are:

Student members are Arnold Greenfield and Polly Atwater.

THE ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Florida State University's athletic program wraps up its eleventh year this spring, and the schedules and expected measures of success continue to indicate great strides are being made.

It's an unwritten rule of sorts at FSU that every effort be made in every sport to compete against the best the nation has to offer. This is illustrated in that the Seminole footballers hosted Auburn, the nation's no. 1 team, last fall. The basketball squad tangled with West Virginia when the Mountaineers were ranked as the nation's top team.

Few would question the prowess of FSU's gymnastics, golf, swimming and baseball teams. A look at the record shows five national championships for the gymnasts since 1951.

The golfers have won the Florida Intercollegiate title the past two years and finished fifth in national competition in 1956 and fourth in 1957—a mere four strokes behind the champion.

The FSU baseball team has all but dominated play throughout the southeast the past two years and last year won the District III NCAA title and represented this area in the College World Series.

Since 1950, the FSU swimmers have lost a total of only eight dual meets while winning 52. At one point, they carried a winning streak that numbered 25.

This brochure will deal primarily with baseball, golf, tennis and track. Other sports in the eight-sport program are football, basketball, gymnastics and swimming.

DANNY LITWHILER, Coach
RONALD MELTON, BOB WYNN, Assistants

B A S E B A L L

The Collegiate Baseball Digest recently described Florida State's Danny Litwhiler as one of "the most imaginative and dynamic" coaches in the business.

Litwhiler's record bears the statement out.

When he came to Florida State University four years ago it was his expressed desire to put the Seminoles on top of the collegiate baseball heap.

Last season, his Seminoles won 22 of 31 games, captured the NCAA District III championship, and represented this area in the Collegiate World Series at Omaha, Nebr.

There was an extra measure of success during the 1957 season in that one of Litwhiler's prodigies, 147-pound shortstop Dick Howser, was named to the NCAA's first-team All-America squad.

Litwhiler predicts even greater things during the coming season. Until very recently, he had planned to go with a modified two-team system in which one would be comprised almost entirely of righthanded hitters and the other of lefthanded hitters.

But the Los Angeles Dodgers snapped up senior third baseman Pfil Hunt for something in excess of $15,000 and another outstanding player, Neil Martin, suffered a broken ankle.

Even with these breaks, FSU should have as much depth as any team in the country.

Litwhiler has the perfect background to be a good baseball coach. He built up a vast storehouse of ideas during his major league playing days with the St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds, and the old Boston Braves.

He went down in the books for several outstanding performances before retiring as an active player in 1950. He batted safely in 21 straight games in his first major league season. He belted a home run in every National League park in 1941.

And in 1942 he became the first major leaguer to play a complete errorless season. He accepted 317 chances in 151 games that year and over a period of two years set a record of playing 187 consecutive games without a miscue.

The glove Litwhiler used in that string was retired in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

In 1942 and 1943, he tied a National League record for the most years—two—leading in fielding percentage by an outfielder appearing in 100 or more games.

After retiring as an active player, Danny coached Cincinnati in 1951 and has managed minor league clubs at Fargo, N.D., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jamestown, N.Y., and Duluth, Minn.

Tennis Coach Keith Pitchford has been waiting for a long time for the year he could approach a schedule with an honest feeling his team would fare extremely well.

This is that season.

The Seminoles will play a schedule stepped up in degree of toughness, but Pitchford feels they have been stepped up in degree of ability. The team probably will have four juniors and two sophomores in its regular line up.

Lex Hester is one of the biggest reasons for his optimism. Hester has developed rapidly in his past seasons with FSU and ranks No. 1 going into this season.

Always having a strong defensive game, Hester has developed his serve to a point of near perfection and the difference is expected to boost him as one of the south's ranking players.

Another boost to FSU hopes is the return from the service of Jim Berry, a ranking player a couple of years back.

Pitchford's forces won five of 16 matches last year. This season they duel such teams as Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida, Mississippi State and Michigan State.

Pitchford earned his BSE at Arkansas State Teachers College. He came to Florida State in 1950 and obtained his Masters.

His early coaching experience included seven years of working basketball and track in Arkansas. He was an assistant football, baseball and basketball coach at Leesburg, Fla., before coming to Florida State.

TRACK

Despite the loss of 10 lettermen from the 1957 team which won four of five dual meets, Florida State Track Coach Mike Long expects to have a "sound" team this spring.

Though Long admits a "definite weakness" in the shot put and discus events, he says "our running strength could possibly be enough to even things out."

Here's a brief rundown of FSU running potential:

Jack Terwilliger, a bantam speedster from Dade City, has been clocked in the 100-yard dash at 9.7 seconds.

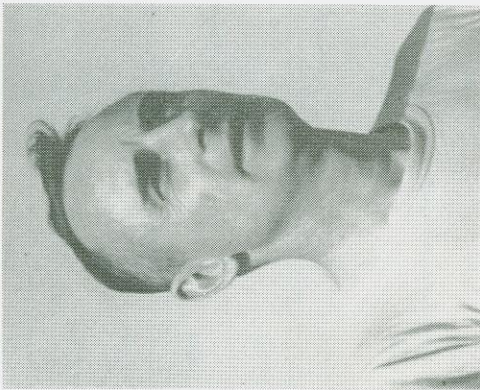

Jim Casteel, of St. Petersburg is the defending Florida AAU champion in the 440-yard dash; Mike Conley of Orlando is the Florida AAU champion in the mile run, and Doyle Ruff of Orlando is the Florida AAU champion in the 880-yard dash.

The FSU track schedule this spring is the most impressive it's ever been with five dual meets and competition in some of the nation's more outstanding meets.

Long came to Florida State in 1953 as an assistant coach in football, basketball and track. Since taking over as head track coach, he limits his abilities to assisting with the basketball team and running the show on the cinders.

Before graduating from Minnesota in 1937, he established himself as an outstanding performer by winning the regional Olympic pole vault title in 1936.

He came to Florida State from Fort Myers where he was head basketball coach and an assistant football coach. Previously he had coached high school sports in Sarasota.
