1981 AIAW NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

With two players finishing in the top 15 of the individual standings, the 1981 Florida State Women's golf team won the AIAW National Championship. The Seminoles, led by coach Verlyn Giles, finished in the top four of all ten regular season tournaments in which they participated. The team won the Lady Gator Invitational, the Lady Paladin Invitational, the Dick McGuire Invitational and the South Florida Invitational in Tampa, Fla. They also finished with one second place finish, four third place finishes, and one fourth place finish.

After the first two rounds of the four-day tournament Florida State found itself down by eight strokes – behind the host school, Georgia, and defending national champion Tulsa. The Seminoles shot a tournament-best 298 in the third round and took over the lead from Georgia. The Seminoles finished strong in the fourth and final round outlasting Georgia on the last hole to win the tournament by three strokes.

Seminole junior Lisa Young, who won three LPGA events later in her career, finished in third place in the individual standings – only one shot behind the champions. Florida State's Barb Bunkowsky finished in a tie for 14th. Jane Geddes, the 1986 U.S. Women's Open and 1987 LPGA Championship winner, finished tied for 31st. Michele Guibault finished 57th and Marla Anderson finished in a tie for 73rd.

Young and Guibault earned All-America First Team honors while Bunkowsky were honored with All-American Second Team honors. Four of the six members of the Florida State Athletics Hall of Fame were on the Seminoles' National Championship team including Young, Bunkowsky, Guibault and Geddes.

COMMUNITY SERVICE/TOBY KEITH

When Tricia Covell, the wife of country music mega-star Toby Keith, came up with the idea of starting a golf tournament to raise funds for the OK Kids Korral for pediatric cancer patients, they brought 12 invitations to the Women's Golf Coaches Association's Annual Conference in 2012. When one of those 12 invitations was presented to Seminole head coach Amy Bond, she knew she had hit the jackpot.

"I was so excited for our program to have been chosen as one of the schools to play in the inaugural Schooner Fall Classic in 2013," said Bond. "It is truly an honor to play in this event; one that I and the members of my team look forward to each season. The tournament has developed into one of the top events in women's college golf but, truthfully, it's about so much more than three great days on the golf course."

The Toby Keith Foundation was started in 2006 and supports the OK Kids Korral—a 25,000 square foot facility in Oklahoma City. The Korral is dedicated exclusively to serving the needs of pediatric cancer patients. This cost-free home away from home facility has 16 guest suites, a gourmet kitchen, playground and an indoor theatre.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Florida State University women's golf team has won the prestigious Athletic Director's Cup for Community Service in 13 of the last 1 years. The award is presented each year at the Golden 'Nole Banquet – one of the most important banquets of the year for all of Florida State's student athletes.

The Athletic Director's Cup for Service began during the 1996-1997 academic year in order to promote community service participation among all teams. The annual award recognizes the thousands of hours of community service Florida State student-athletes donate each year. Seminole student-athletes logged more than 6,100 community service hours in 2016 - an increase of 500 hours from last year.

“Community service is very important to my teammates and me,” said senior Sherrell Buckley. “We make it a point to give back to the community ay time we have the chance. We are so very fortunate to be able to be student-athletes at Florida State and play the sport we love as Seminoles. With this privilege comes the responsibility to help others. We have the chance to help influence young lives in our community and we like to take advantage of every opportunity we have to help other.”

During the 2015-16 school year, the women's golf team combined for 287 total hours of community service for an average of over 26.0 hours per team member.

“Giving back to the community of one of the most rewarding things we do as a team,” said head coach Amy Bond. “We are very blessed to be members of the Florida State community and everyone is very supportive of us. It's nice to have the opportunity to spend time with others and raise funds for special causes. The best thing about serving our community is being in the community and encouraging togetherness. We enjoy that aspect of being members of the FSU family and make giving our time to others a regular part of our schedule.”

The women's golf team annually participates in the Tee Off for Tots Tournament presented by the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital Healthcare Foundation. The Seminoles help raise charitable gifts and sponsorships that positively influence the medical outcomes of thousands of thousands of infants, children and their families. The annual event is held at Golden Eagle Country Club in Tallahassee and is in its 23rd year of raising money for those families in need of support for young children.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 65th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 150 national championships, including 75 in men's competition and 74 in women's and one in men's and women's fencing. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 169 times in men's competition and 134 times in women's action.

In the sport of women's golf, Duke is second in all-time NCAA championships with its six titles (1999, 2002, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2014), only trailing Arizona State's eight. Miami claimed one NCAA national title in 1984, before joining the ACC. Duke is third in NCAA individual championships, claiming four national medalists - Candy Hannemann (2001), Virada Nirapathpongporn (2002), Anna Grzebien (2005) and Virginia Elena Carta (2016).

The conference recognized women's golf as a conference sport in 1984-1986 when a minimum of four teams (Duke, North Carolina, NC State and Wake Forest) competed. After a five-year hiatus, women's golf became a sponsored sport once again in 1992 with Duke, Florida State, North Carolina and Wake Forest competing. NC State joined in 2001.

Duke has won 20 ACC championships, followed by Wake Forest (five), Virginia (two) and North Carolina (two). Duke leads the schools in ACC individual championships with 17, followed by Wake Forest (seven), Virginia (two) and North Carolina (two). Duke held off Florida State to win the 2017 ACC team championship while Leona Maguire of Duke won the individual title.

Florida State finished in a program record tying second place in 2017 - the fourth time in school history the Seminoles had finished in second place in the ACC Championships. The second place finish marked the best finish under seventh-year head coach Amy Bond. Florida State has now finished in the top-five of the ACC Championships five times in seven years under Bond including three fourth place finishes in 2012, 2013 and 2015

An ACC-record 10 women's golf teams (Clemson, Duke, Florida State, Louisville, Miami, Notre Dame, North Carolina, NC State, Virginia and Wake Forest) were represented at the NCAA Regionals in 2016. The ACC sent eight teams to the NCAA Division I Championship in 2017.

The 12 schools that will carry the ACC banner this season have produced 81 first or second team All-Americans, six National Player of the Years, five WGCA Division I Players of the Year, four national Freshmen of the Year and six National Coaches of the Year.
