Outlook 2002-2003

Lise Gregory enters her seventh season as head coach of the Lady Seminole tennis program. During her six year tenure at Florida State, Gregory has led her team to six straight NCAA tournament appearances as well as its sixth straight Golden Torch Award, an honor which is given to the team with the highest grade point average among FSU's athletic teams.

The Lady Seminoles return one senior, two juniors, three sophomores and have five newcomers joining this year's team. With six returning players and the strongest group of recruits in recent history, the 2002-2003 season looks to be Gregory's best yet.

"We're going to be a pretty young team," said Gregory. "I think we have a couple of juniors and five new girls on the team, so we are going to be very young. We have a lot of talent and a lot of players returning who have talent and potential. The girls have been out everyday hitting, so it's nice to know that there is such enthusiasm going into the season. Even though we are young, because we do have the kind of talent I am seeing, I think it's going to be a pretty exciting season. I think opponents are going to be surprised when they play us because of the talent we have on this team."

There are not too many weaknesses going into this season for the Lady Seminoles. If you had to pick one thing for concern it would have to be the doubles play.

"We are going to have to do a lot of work on doubles," said Gregory. "We have got people who are capable of being very good doubles players, but we are going to have to spend a lot of time working on them. There are going to be completely new doubles teams this year. It's basically going to be whoever wants to play doubles the most and is willing to learn that is going to be in the lineup. You can be a not so good singles player, but be a great doubles player or vice versa. It's just the people who are willing to understand the game and learn the game of doubles who are going to be out there for us."

On the other side, one of the strengths of this year's team is the return of Anca Dumitrescu. She is the number one position," said Gregory. "Anca played the one position for us last year and had Alida Gallovits been healthy, I think they would have switched off at the one and two positions. Anca played the one for us the whole season. She's a very good player, so I think she will more than likely stay in that role and continue to be our number one singles player."

Along with Dumitrescu, Florida State returns Christina Denny who finished 2001-2002 with an overall record of 20-10. Denny provides the excitement and great ability that will be a big key at the top of FSU's lineup.

"Christina had a really good year for us last year," said Gregory. "She stayed healthy except for a nagging injury that affected her for a few matches. She had a really good season and has been working in the weight room and we changed a couple of things in her game while she was here for summer school. She's really excited about the season which is neat. I told her how good I think she can be as she continues to develop and I think that's got her motivated to do well in the fall and obviously in the spring. She's a very good number two and she could even play some at the one position. She just has to get a little stronger."

returns to play the number one position for the Lady Seminoles this season and is definitely worthy of her position. Coming off a 22-12 sophomore campaign, Dumitrescu will be a great leader for this year's team.

"She's a solid number one and it is very important to know that we have someone up there that is capable of winning consistently at

Beth Lawrence returns as the only senior on this year's team. Lawrence will be an added asset, both on and off the court as her playing ability and leadership skills will play a key in the success of the Lady Seminoles.

"Beth is one of those people who is a really great leader," said Gregory. "Not so much verbal, but just by example and how she knows exactly where we are coming from as coaches. She knows that it is really important to have those kinds of people on the team, especially when you have a young team like us. I think when you do have a young team, there are going to be some misunderstandings and when you have a player like Beth, it helps a lot for the new kids to know where we are coming from."

The biggest change compared to last year is the talent level. With five newcomers including Mihaela Moldovan and Alina Mihailescu from Romania, FSU is ready to step up to the next level.

"I think we are going to have a good team," said Gregory. "Mihaela will really help us out this year and will make a huge difference in this team. We have the potential to be a top 20 team with her in the lineup."

The Lady Seminoles are bringing in five new additions to the program this year, three transfers and two players from Romania. Brooke Cordell is transferring in from the University of Tennessee, Natalie Tirapelli from the University of Connecticut and Daniela Gheorghe from Fresno State University.

"They were either too far from home like Natalie and Daniela or they were home sick and wanted to get closer to home," said Gregory. "Brooke just wasn't getting much playing time at Tennessee. We are very happy to have each and every one of them. Brooke played for UT and her freshman year she hardly lost. For some reason last year she wasn't in the lineup. We've had players like Brooke on the team before. For example, Ali Weber who holds the record for most wins at FSU, so I love that she is on our side now."

Once again, Florida State is facing a tough schedule in 2002-2003. With matches against Florida and the ACC competition, this season is sure to bring excitement to the Scott Speicher Tennis Center.

"We always have a tough schedule," said Gregory. "Last year's schedule was probably the toughest we have ever had. I think we had four top five opponents on our schedule. If you look at our record, we had a losing record, but look at who they were against. We were rewarded at the end of the season (NCAA Tournament) because of our tough schedule and not necessarily because of our record. You get better and learn by playing a tough schedule. The ACC in tennis is like the ACC in basketball; it's extremely strong."

After suffering through nagging injuries last season, staying healthy is one of the top goals heading into this season. If the team can remain healthy throughout the season, it could be a successful one for the Lady Seminoles.

"The last two years the injuries have been ridiculous, so our number one goal is to stay healthy," said Gregory. "We've had really good teams, but we haven't been able to get what we want result-wise because of the injuries. We want to keep everyone on the court."

Head Coach Lise Gregory has made tremendous strides in her first six years at the helm of the Florida State women's tennis program. While striving to reach new heights, Gregory has instilled a spirit of consistency and class both on the court and in the classroom.

In each of her first six years at FSU, the Lady Seminoles have made trips to the NCAA Tournament and have earned the Golden Torch Award, which is given to the FSU team with the highest GPA. Gregory's success has not gone unnoticed as she was honored as the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coach of the Year in 1999.

When Gregory took over the program, she insisted that Florida State would become one of the best programs in the nation. Her seventh squad appears ready to build on the success of those before it and has the potential to become one of the nation's top 10 teams.

Gregory's 2001-02 team finished with a 12-15 record and with probably the program's toughest schedule ever, was rewarded with its seventh consecutive berth into the NCAA Regionals. The Lady Seminoles spent most of the season ranked in the Top 50 and finished the year 49th. Coach Gregory has the second highest winning percentage in FSU women's tennis coaching history, with a career record of 88-65 for a .575 winning percentage. Gregory is now the all-time winningest coach at FSU, passing Anee Rizza during 2002. Looking at the 2002-2003 schedule, it looks as though Coach Gregory has provided her team with a chance to gain even more experience against top-notch programs as the schedule consists of several of the nation's top tennis programs.

While the program's emergence on the court is apparent, its commitment and performance in the classroom is equally impressive. In achieving such high academic standards, the 2002 women's tennis team had seven members on the Dean's List and nine members had a GPA of 3.0 or higher. Eight team members were also honored on the All-ACC Academic Honor Roll. In addition to the on-court and classroom guidance Gregory has brought to the program, she has also created the "Golden Spear Club". The Golden Spears are a group of Tallahassee community members who provide support to the FSU tennis program.

Gregory, a former seven-time All-American and NCAA champion at the University of Miami, served as the assistant women's tennis coach at Vanderbilt University from 1995-1996 before arriving at FSU. At Vanderbilt, she assisted Commodore Head Coach Geoff MacDonald in guiding the program to its second consecutive NCAA Championship appearance and a Top 10 ranking. She also has additional coaching experience on the private level, as a USTA Area Training Center coach and as a USTA inter-sectional and Zonal coach.

As a player for the Hurricanes, Gregory earned an amazing seven NCAA All-America honors for her singles and doubles play as well as NCAA doubles championship in 1986 with teammate Ronni Reis. Together, the duo compiled an impressive 84-10 record over four years, while Miami was consistently ranked among the nation's Top Five. Gregory was named to Tennis Magazine's All-Star team in both 1986 and 1987.

As a professional, Gregory won nine tournament titles in 16 finals appearances, including seven Virginia Slims doubles championships on the way to a career-high No. 18 world doubles ranking in 1990. She also won the singles at the $25,000 Challenger in Philadelphia in 1987. Perhaps the highlight of her professional career was when Gregory and partner Gretchen Magers were the fourth-ranked team in the world. In 1991, Gregory was a doubles quarterfinalist at the Australian Open, a Grand Slam event, as well as one of the top eight teams in the world that participated in the year-ending Virginia Slims Championship.

Assistant Coach

Assistant women's tennis coach Brian Burdette is entering his third season at Florida State and has already made a mark with the women's tennis program. He has brought with him dedication and a long list of accomplishments to the Lady Seminoles. Burdette's diverse tennis background has provided a new dimension to an already successful women's program.

Before joining the Florida State staff, Burdette was head coach at Central Alabama Community College for three years. In each year of Burdette's tenure at Central Alabama Community College, he produced a top 25 finish for both the men's and women's teams, with rankings as high as third and sixth, respectively. During the 1998 season, All-American Thato Kgosimore and Rian Greaves won the ITA Rolex Southeastern Regional Championships and Central Alabama Community College earned a fourth overall doubles finish at the National Small College Championships.

The 1999 season delivered another ITA Rolex Southeastern Regional Double Championship from Amanda Umphrey and Shannon Johnson and an eighth overall finish at the National Small College Championships. In addition, Burdette's coaching produced four players ranked in the Top 25 nationally.

"Brian loves the sport and he loves to teach," raved head coach Lise Gregory. "His enthusiasm is contagious and the team responds to him in a very positive way. I look forward to working with him for a long time, and to making this one of the premier programs in the country."

Burdette also spent time as an assistant coach for an Auburn University women's team that posted back-to-back top 25 finishes. The 1995-96 season produced an NCAA National Championship appearance. Burdette has also been an instructor for several years at the Florida Gator, Clemson Tiger, and Auburn Tiger Tennis Camps.

Burdette also served as Auburn's Strength and Conditioning Coach for Olympic Sports and Tennis Director of PARD for the Anniston Parks and Recreation Department. During his tenure at CACC, Burdette was a member of the NJCCA Southeast Regional Ranking Committee.

Burdette received his Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics and History from Auburn University in 1995, graduating magna cum laude. He continued his education at Auburn and received his Master's Degree in 1998 in Mathematics Education. Burdette and wife Kelli have a son, Austin, who will be two in December.

Burdette on the 'Noles

"We have a bunch of tough kids who are fighters. They understand how to win matches. They have that added dimension that separates them from other players who are just good ball strikers. They work extremely hard and our fall practices have been some of the most intense that I have ever been a part of. If our players can continue to have those kinds of practices, we are going to be a tough team to beat once we get into our spring dual match season."

Scott Speicher Tennis Center

With the first stage of construction completed in the summer of 1993, the Scott Speicher Tennis Center at the Donald Loucks Courts opened its gates to the public for the first time at a Children's Miracle Network charity tournament. Since then, many successful Tournaments including the 1996 NCAA Women's Championships, have graced the courts at one of Florida State University's premier athletic facilities.

Costing $1.2 million to build and then another $800,000 for recent additions, Florida State's Speicher Tennis Center has become an example of the increasing dedication and commitment the University has to all of its 17 varsity athletic programs.

The Speicher Tennis Center houses 12 lighted hard courts, over 1,000 court level seats, coaching offices, men's and women's locker rooms, equipment and storage rooms, a team lounge and a public address system. The growing pride Florida State has for its tennis program and its premier tennis center was honored just after its opening in 1994, when the United States Tennis Association (USTA) awarded the structure with its "Top Notch" facility award.

The Speicher Tennis Center was named in honor of Lieutenant Commander Michael Scott Speicher, a graduate of Florida State University and the first American casualty during Operation Desert Storm. By Presidential directive, the facility bears the name the "Scott Speicher Tennis Center."

H. Donald Loucks was the program's first tennis coach and is aptly known as the pioneer of Florida State tennis. He began his coaching career in 1936 at the Florida State College for Women where he coached all sports. This Education. In 1942, while serving as an officer in the Army, Loucks was stationed at West Point where he coached plebe basketball and tennis teams.

In 1947, Loucks became Florida State's first basketball coach and a year later was named the school's first tennis coach. His tennis team was the first athletic team to have a winning season. The varsity tennis courts were named for Loucks in 1981. He served as Dean of Men from 1957 - 1967 and was known as a servant of leadership, service and devotion to many worthy causes.

The Speicher Tennis Center was designed by EMO/Architects, Inc., a Tallahassee-based architectural firm, in collaboration with Global Consult Group, Inc., an internationally recognized Tennis Facility Design Consultant. The complex was funded by private sources and supervised through the state university system of Florida.

Through its nine year existence, the Scott Speicher Tennis Center at the Donald Loucks Courts has served as the home courts for all Florida State men's and women's home dual matches, the annual Seminole Fall Classics, City of Tallahassee tennis championships, various USTA regional and zonal tournaments, the 1994 and 1995

Men's Intercollegiate tournament and the annual Children's Miracle Network Charity Invitational benefiting Shands Hospital in Gainesville.

"The Ball is in Our Court..."

The Florida State women's tennis team has seen great success in the friendly confines of the Scott Speicher Tennis center. The Lady Seminoles have had the most success against Georgia Southern, tallying a 7-0 record against the Lady Eagles. Florida State is 48-23 at Speicher with Lise Gregory at the head of the program.

2001-2002 Season in Review

Faced With Adversity

By Anca Dumitrescu

If there was one quality that the Lady Seminoles proved throughout the 2001-2002 season, it was their will power and ability to fight until the very end.

The beginning of the fall season brought five new players into the Lady Seminole lineup. It was a new, young team with a lot of potential and the expectations were high, but once again, injuries hindered the team from achieving its goals in terms of their results and ranking.

The Lady Seminoles began their season with confidence and commitment. They started off winning five out of the first six matches including a victory over LSU, a team that had defeated FSU the previous season. The future seemed bright for the team, but over the following weeks an unexpected turn of the events would take place. Due to injuries and being unable to use some of their key players, Florida State took a surprising defeat to the Auburn Tigers.

The lack of fortune continued as the Lady Seminoles traveled to Alabama for matches against two key opponents: University of South Alabama and the University of Alabama. Once again, injuries prevented FSU from competing with a complete lineup and again proved to be of vital to their importance for the result of the meetings. The outcome wasn't what the team expected as FSU lost to both of the rival teams in two very tight matches.

Despite the disappointment of the first road trip, Florida State continued to fight and work hard every single day. Perseverance is the key to success and the players were fully aware of what they needed to do as a team. In the end, success did not cease to come. It was a sunny Sunday morning as the Seminoles stepped on to the courts to face Harvard University, ranked 42nd in the country. FSU had just suffered a heartbreaking defeat against the University of Miami, its biggest rival, and the morale of the team was not very positive. The team managed to keep its focus and play hard on every single point. In the end, success finally came through. After a tough road, the Lady Seminoles finally pulled out a 5-2 victory over Harvard to add a much needed win on the season.

However, as the season continued, so did the series of injuries that occurred and became the team's worst nightmare. As a result, Florida State lost to FIU to move their record to 9-8 as they left on their second road trip. Bad weather conditions forced matches with Maryland and Virginia indoors. FSU fell 4-3 in back-to-back matches to Maryland and Virginia. The Lady Seminoles started strong against Virginia by winning the doubles point, but despite a hot start, the team did not fair well in the singles matches, and lost in a 4-3 thriller.

FSU moved its ACC record to 2-1 against NC State with a 5-2 victory, but suffered three straight losses to North Carolina, Duke and Wake Forest, all top 10 teams.

This series of defeats questioned the qualification of the team for the NCAA tournament. An important victory was needed to push for a bid for the tournament and that victory came in a 6-1 domination of No. 17 Georgia Tech. Not only did this success put the team back in the race for the NCAA Championships, but it was proof of the potential of the Lady Seminole tennis team. Despite the injuries and lack of fortune Florida State had faced this season, the Lady Seminoles were still a very strong team.

The ACC tournament was the next step for the Lady Seminoles as they would travel to North Carolina for the second time to play Maryland in the first round. Florida State had lost to Maryland a month before and the Terrapins clearly had the psychological advantage before the beginning of the match. However, this meeting proved to be totally different from the previous meeting. Not only was it part of the ACC Tournament, but the result of the match would decide which team would eventually qualify for the NCAA Tournament.

Both teams began the match very tight and it was Maryland that would end up winning the doubles point. "Fight for every single point, but don't forget to enjoy it," was the advice that Coach Lise Gregory gave the Lady Seminoles before the beginning of the singles matches. For the next three hours, Florida State seemed to be an inspired team as the Lady Seminoles ran down even the most impossible balls. In the midst of this outstanding effort, this team didn't forget to have fun and the energy spread throughout the team. The Lady Seminoles went on to win by a final score of 4-3. It seemed as if all of the struggles had paid off and this victory turned out to be the most memorable experience of the whole season. FSU was off to the NCAA Tournament.

After being rewarded a bid to the NCAA Tournament, the first round would prove to be no easy task as Florida State was set to face Virginia Commonwealth, ranked 24th in the country. This trip to the tournament just wasn't meant to be for FSU as VCU was just too strong downing the Lady Seminoles 4-0.

There is no doubt that the 2001-2002 season was a very harsh season for the Lady Seminoles, but there is more to tennis than just victories. A team's success is based on more than just numbers. FSU might not have had the most successful season in terms of wins and losses, but the dedication, passion and commitment the players showed each time they stepped on the court was rewarding. No matter the circumstances the Lady Seminoles can be proud of the achievements and steps they made as a team and a program during the 2001-02 season.

Florida State University, a graduate research institution, stands among the nation's elite in both academics and athletics.

Located on the oldest continuous site of higher education in Florida, the university is situated in the heart of the state's capital city. The university's main campus blends Jacobean Revival and modern styles of architecture with the oaks, pines, dogwoods and azaleas of North Florida.

As the university has progressed and grown - from its pre-Civil War beginnings as the Seminary West of the Suwannee, to the Florida State College for Women and, finally, returning to coeducational status as a university in 1947 - it has developed into an acclaimed research institution, a top-ranked competitor in intercollegiate athletics and a standard-setter in the basic sciences and the performing arts.

The university has entered the 21st century with excellence in all areas of its mission - teaching, research and public service, including many noteworthy milestones.

- In April 2002, the National Weather Service opened its 121st Weather Forecast Office in a four-story addition to the James J. Love Building, home of the FSU department of meteorology. It is the 14th WFO to be collocated on a university campus and will give FSU meteorology students first-hand experience observing and working with professional meteorologists.
- In April 2002, WFSU-TV was among nine public television stations praised for their involvement with the PBS Ready To Learn service and early childhood literacy by President George W. Bush and First Lady Laura Bush during a White House ceremony.
- In February 2002, Florida Gov. Jeb Bush announced the creation of a $2.5 million FSU center that will develop the best methods to teach reading, to be headed by Joseph K. Torgesen, the FSU Robert M. Gagne Professor of Psychology and Education who is the nation's leading expert on how children learn to read. The center, which will collaborate with the University of Central Florida, will train teachers in what works.

- In October 2001, FSU began its second capital campaign for private funds. The $600 million FSU Connect campaign surpassed the halfway mark with $306 million in May 2002. The university's first capital campaign, An Investment in Learning, closed in January 1998 with $301 million, surpassing its original $200 million goal.
- From October to November 2001, Pulitzer Prize-winning author Robert Olen Butler, an FSU Francis Eppes Professor who holds the Michael Shaara Chair in Creative Writing, was the first author ever to write a short story live on the Internet. Butler allowed the world to watch him write an original short story, keystroke for keystroke, two hours a day for 19 days.
- During the fall of 2001, FSU had 257 National Merit Scholars, 88 National Achievement Scholars and 232 Hispanic Scholars enrolled.

- In June 2001, NBC Nightly News anchor Tom Brokaw donated more than 5,000 collections of World War II memorabilia that had been sent to him as the result of his three-book series on "The Greatest Generation" to the FSU Institute on World War II and the Human Experience. FSU created the institute in 1998 to "save the memories of those who saved the world" by collecting letters, diaries, memoirs and photos from participants in the war effort, in order to preserve the materials for classroom teaching, scholarly research and public viewing.
- In the blackenterprise.com 2001 "Top Fifty Colleges for African Americans" rankings, FSU was rated 23rd in the nation, up from 26th in 1999.
- In the March-April 2001 issue of National Jurist that rated the nation's "most wired" law schools, the FSU College of Law was ranked 13th.
- At more than $343.7 million, FSU's endowment has been ranked 127th in the nation by the National Association of College and University Business Officers, the benchmark of higher education fundraising success, in 2001.
- In 2000, FSU bought the most powerful university-owned supercomputer in the world.

The IBM RS/6000 Supercomputer can perform 2.5 trillion calculations per second. Located in the School of Computational Science and Information Technology, the supercomputer will be used by FSU researchers to predict hurricanes and compare DNA sequences as complex as those of the human genome.

- The Challenger Learning Center of Tallahassee, a project of the FAMU-FSU College of Engineering, is scheduled to open in March 2003. The center, to be built on Kleman Plaza in downtown Tallahassee, will feature a space mission simulator common to all of the centers, plus a 300-seat IMAX theater and a domed planetarium laser theater. It will serve middle schools in a 66-county area of North Florida, Southeast Alabama and South Georgia.

- In 2000, the doctoral program in the College of Business had the highest minority enrollment of any Ph.D. business program in the United States. In recent years, it has graduated more minority doctoral students than any other Ph.D. granting institution.
- In 1999, FSU created the Center for Advanced Power Systems (CAPS) after recognizing the impact of power electronics, the potential impact of superconductivity and the rapidly changing business environment for power systems. CAPS is part of an Office of Naval Research-funded effort to design the U.S. Navy's next generation, all-electric fleet.
- In December 1999, researchers at the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory used a hybrid magnet to conduct the lab's first research in continuous magnetic fields of 45 tesla, or one million times Earth's magnetic field. The magnet lab - the only one of its kind in the Western Hemisphere - was established in 1990 by the National Science Foundation and is run by FSU in partnership with the University of Florida and the Los Alamos National Laboratory.

- In 1994, the Carnegie Foundation classified FSU as a "Research University I," placing it among the nation's top research universities. In 2000, the distinction was renamed "Doctoral/ Research University-Extensive."
- Under the leadership of FSU's 12th president, Talbot "Sandy" D'Alemberte, who took office in January 1994, and its 13-member Board of Trustees, the university continues to build on the foundation of its history of excellence in scholarship, research and service. The trustees are: Sandy D'Alemberte, Lee Hinkle, Harold Knowles, J. Stanley Marshall and Steven J. Uhlfelder, all of Tallahassee; Erich Bloch of Washington, D.C.; Emily "June" Duda of Oveido; David Ford of Rosemont, Pa.; Dr. Jessie Furlow of Quincy; Manuel "Manny" Garcia III of Winter Springs; William "Andy" Haggard of Coral Gables; E. Ann McGee of Winter Springs; John Thrasher of Orange Park, and Student Government Association President Michelle Pletch of Aurora, Ill.

- A senior member of the State University System, FSU was founded as an institution of higher learning in 1851 by legislative act. It began in Tallahassee with its first class of male students in 1857 and added women in 1858.
- FSU's operating budget is $716 million. Faculty and administrators generate more than $130 million annually in external funding to supplement state-sponsored research.
- Three direct-support organizations serve to bolster the university: the Seminole Boosters, the FSU Alumni Association and the FSU Foundation.
- The main campus is spread over 463.4 acres in Tallahassee; FSU, which has one of the smallest campuses in the SUS, has been actively acquiring land in the 1990s. FSU encompasses 1,423.2 acres in Leon, Bay, Franklin, Gadsden and Sarasota counties.
- Within the state, the university maintains facilities at its 25-acre campus in Panama City, its Marine Laboratory at Turkey Point on the Gulf of Mexico, the Appleton Museum in Ocala and the Asolo Performing Arts Center in Sarasota. The Center for Professional Development and Public Service, housed in the Augustus B. Mission Statement Florida State Athletics Department

The Mission of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at The Florida State University shall be to produce National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I programs for men and women that are characterized by excellence. In addition, the Department strives to be recognized as a campus leader in terms of its ethics, non-discrimination, and unquestioned fiscal integrity.

Excellence in intercollegiate athletics programs is determined by academic achievement and the development of character, maturity and a sense of fair play in athletic competition. It, moreover, engenders support for the University among its constituent groups including students, faculty, alumni, and friends at the local, state and national levels. In striving to become a leader among our peers, The Department subscribes fully to the philosophy and regulations set forth by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and operates within the fiscal regulations and non-discriminatory procedures established by the Florida State University Board of regents and the Florida Legislature.

It is the explicit philosophy of the Department that our student-athletes will be strongly encouraged and supported in their endeavors to progress toward a degree while simultaneously participating in an intercollegiate athletic program whose environment is consistent with the highest standards of academic scholarship, sportsmanship, ethics, and institutional loyalty.

Finally, the decisions and priorities of the Department should always focus on our student-athletes first, as individuals; second, as students; and third, as athletes.

Strength & Conditioning

Strength/Conditioning

Michael Bradley is in his first season as an assistant director of strength and conditioning at Florida State University. Bradley brings a wealth of experience to the Seminoles' strength and conditioning program. He will coordinate the training efforts for the Seminoles' women's tennis and men's basketball teams.

Bradley was most recently at Stanford University where he worked directly with the men's basketball, men's swimming and field hockey teams. In addition, he assisted with the strength and conditioning efforts for the nationally ranked football, women's basketball, women's swimming and softball teams. During his four-year tenure at Stanford, the Cardinal won the Sears Directors' Cup as the nation's top overall program in Division I athletics four times.

The men's basketball team at Stanford played in the NCAA Tournament four times during his tenure. In 2002, the Cardinal was 31-3 and led the nation in victories. The Cardinal earned the No. 1 seed in the West Regional in 2001, the No. 1 seed in the South in 2000 and the No. 2 seed in the West in 1999.

In addition, the Cardinal men's swimming team earned three second place NCAA championship finishes and the field hockey team played in the NCAA Tournament in 2000. In addition, Stanford's softball team advanced to the 2001 Women's College World Series and played in the NCAA regionals in 2002.

Bradley also worked at the University of Miami from 1995-98 where he worked with eight teams, which included one NCAA tournament, and one NIT men's basketball team coached by Leonard Hamilton.

Bradley has also worked at the U.S. Military Academy (1994-95), South Carolina (1993-94), Southern Methodist (1990-93) and was an assistant football coach at UC Santa Barbara (1989-90).

Bradley earned a B.S. in chemistry from San Diego State in 1989 and a M.A. in chemistry from UC Santa Barbara in 1990.

Weight Room

The Tully Gymnasium weight room took on a whole new look following a complete renovation in 1996 and additional improvements have been made to the facility every year since. The weight room went from 1,500 square feet to 3,500 square feet in size in 1996, fresh with a new stereo system, drop ceiling, lighting and mondo rubber flooring. Over $140,000 worth of new exercise equipment was added to the Lady Seminole weight room, including 16 cardiovascular pieces such as Life Fitness, Stairmaster and Tatrix. The facility was expanded to 4,500 square feet recently with a new squat rack and platform.

Medical Care and Treatment

An athlete can expect to receive the best care and treatment possible from the athletic training staff at Florida State University. Prior to competition, all FSU student-athletes undergo screening in order to detect any potential injuries. If a problem is detected, the athlete may be placed on a prevention care system which may include any kind of treatment from icing to exercising.

Diana Caruso joined the Florida State Athletic Training staff in July of 2002 and is in her first season of handling the athletic training duties for the men's and women's tennis teams.

Caruso is a 2002 graduate of West Virginia University where she received a Bachelor of Science degree in athletic training. While at West Virginia, Caruso served as a student athletic trainer for three years while working with women's basketball, track, soccer and tennis teams.

Upon graduation, Caruso is continuing her education at Florida State serving as a Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainer while earning her master's degree in Sport Administration. Some of Caruso's responsibilities include designing, implementing and supervising the rehabilitation programs for the men's and women's tennis teams and assisting with other sports where needed.

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., Caruso is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and is also Red Cross CPR and First Aid certified.

Though the prevention of injuries is the main objective, some injuries are unavoidable. Rehabilitation is another component of the Florida State training room. The FSU athletic training staff will work with the athlete and provide an intense rehabilitation schedule that will allow the athlete to successfully rehabilitate after an injury. Some injuries and illnesses may be referred to the Seminole team physicians at the Tallahassee Orthopedic Center, who, for many years, have worked in conjunction with the FSU athletic training staff in successfully rehabilitating athletes after an injury.

NCAA Compliance

The following information is provided by the Florida State Office of Compliance for prospective student athletes. It is intended as a guideline to introduce some of the rules governing NCAA athletic involvement.

Who is permitted to recruit for FSU?

Only Florida State University coaches who have successfully completed the NCAA Recruiting Rules Examination on an annual basis may be involved in the recruitment process. Representatives of our athletics interests may not make any recruiting contacts. This includes letters, telephone calls or face-to-face contact on or off campus with a prospect or the prospect's parents.

Key Terms You Should Know

You become a prospective student-athlete if you have started classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if the college provides you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to prospective students generally.

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect or the prospect's legal guardian and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange of greeting. NOTE: At the Division I level, athletic representatives (boosters) may not contact you for the purpose of recruiting. A college coach may contact you in person off the college campus beginning July 1 after completion of your junior year in high school.

An evaluation is any off-campus activity designed to assess your academic qualifications or athletic ability, including any visit to your high school (during which no contact occurs) or the observation of any practice or competition in which you participate.

During your senior year, you can have one expense-paid official visit to a particular campus. You may receive no more than five visits. During your official visit, which may not exceed 48 hours, you may receive round-trip transportation between your home and the campus, and you (and your parents) may receive meals, lodging and complimentary admission to campus athletics events.

Phone Calls & Letters

Phone calls from faculty members and coaches (but not boosters) are permitted beginning July 1 after completion of your junior year. A college coach or faculty member is limited to one telephone call per week except when it is:

- During the five days immediately before your official visit to the university.
- On the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you.
- During the time beginning with the initial National Letter of Intent signing date in your sport through the two days after signing date.

Letters from coaches and faculty members (but not boosters) are not permitted until September 1 at the beginning of your junior year in high school. A Division I university may provide you with the following printed materials:

- General correspondence, including letters, U.S. Postal Service postcards and institutional note cards.
- Game programs which may not include posters and one Student Athlete Handbook can be provided only during official or unofficial visits to the university's campus.
- NCAA educational information.
- Pre-enrollment information subsequent to signing a National Letter of Intent with the university.
- One athletic publication which may include only one color of printing inside the covers.
- Official academic, admissions and student services publications published or videotapes produced by the institution and available to all students.
- Schedule cards.
- Questionnaires which may be provided prior to your junior year.
- Summer camp brochures which may be provided prior to your junior year.

Alumni & Boosters Do's & Don'ts

You may forward information about prospective student-athletes to the appropriate coaches.

You may have contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has already signed a National Letter of Intent and the Compliance Office is aware that you are making these contacts in regard to employment.

You may have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member and you are not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility. You must refer any questions about our athletics programs to an athletics department staff member/coach.

You may view a prospect's contest at your own initiative provided you do not contact the prospect or his/her parents. In addition, you may not contact a prospect's coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.

You may continue established family relationships with friends and neighbors. Contacts with sons and daughters of these families are permitted as long as they are not made for recruiting purposes or encouraged by Florida State University coaches.

You may not become involved in making arrangements to receive money or financial aid of any kind for a prospect or the prospect's family and friends.

You may not make contact with a prospective student-athlete and his/her parents when the prospect is on campus for an official or unofficial recruiting visit.

You may not transport, pay or arrange for payment of transportation costs for a prospect, and his/her relatives or friends to visit campus (or elsewhere).

You may not pay or arrange for payment of summer camp registration fees for a prospect.

You may not provide anything to a prospect, the prospect's family or friends without prior approval from the athletics' Compliance Office.

Support Services

Academic, personal and professional support are essential to college success. At the Florida State University, we have developed an outstanding support program which enables student-athletes to reach their full potential. Our philosophy is "to offer an academic support program integrated with the total university that will assist all student-athletes with the transition into college and provide continued support in all phases of academic and professional development culminating with graduation, job placement or graduate school."

To accomplish this goal we have developed an academic environment which facilitates the academic success of student-athletes. Student success is encouraged through competent academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement and academic assistance through tutorial programs.

Our program operates on a "proactive" rather than "reactive" approach. At Florida State, our academic staff does not wait for academic crises to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on all student-athletes to assess their needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

The academic support services are located in the state-of-the-art University Center and are on the sixth floor of the $126 million facility. It includes private study desks, a tutorial study area and a computer lab outfitted with 20 IBM computers and laser printers. In addition, athletic sky boxes are utilized for group and individual tutorial instruction.

FSU offers 17 Schools and Colleges with 300 undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Kevin White is in his fifth year as a member of Florida State's academic support staff and serves as the tennis program's academic counselor. White is responsible for coordinating and monitoring completion of degree requirements as well as overseeing study hall and tutorial services while watching over academic progress of the Seminole student-athletes. In addition, he assists the department in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes when they come to campus.

A native of Seat Pleasant, Md., White attended James Madison University on a football scholarship. He was a three-year letterwinner for the Dukes and received his bachelor's degree in sociology in communication in May of 1991.

White on the Lady Seminoles...

"A professional is someone who can do his best when he doesn't feel like it." (Cooke) I feel this quote epitomizes the performance of our recent women's tennis teams. They are a very hard working group of young ladies who do well academically and at times have a tendency to over achieve.

The N.O.L.E.S. Program

New Opportunities for Leadership, Education and Service

Developed by the Florida State University Department of Athletics, the NOLES program represents a commitment to the total growth and development of the student-athlete. This program establishes an administrative commitment to academic and athletic excellence. Those efforts will be supported with programs and services in personal development, career development and community service.

Personal Development

Fostering the development of personal growth is a fundamental component of the NOLES program. These support programs ensure that the student-athlete will be provided opportunities to focus on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal planning, decision making and personal responsibility. Programming focuses on helping student-athletes develop a healthy lifestyle while they are at Florida State and habits that will benefit them for life.

Career Development

Preparing for life after college sports is a major focus of the NOLES Career Development program. The program is designed to work cooperatively with the University's Career Services to acquaint students with the job search process, provide networking opportunities and ultimately assist with job placement. This program places a priority on the development of the total person, with the goal of developing individuals who will have rewarding careers and productive lifestyles after they leave Florida State.

Community Service

Serving the community is the focus of our Seminole Spirit program. Student-athletes are challenged to give service to our community and individuals who are in need. With a clearly defined program of service, student-athletes are given the opportunity to develop the foundation for a lifelong commitment to volunteerism. The Seminole Spirit Student-Athlete Speakers' Bureau enables student-athletes to improve their speaking skills, develop effective communication and impact the lives of others through their service as role models in our community.

Leadership Development

The Florida State University Department of Athletics is committed to developing programs of excellence that foster leadership development. The foundation of the leadership development program are the Seminole Leadership Institutes that are held four times a year. These Institutes offer student-athletes the opportunity to learn skills that will benefit them as students, as athletes, and as they pursue their goals after leaving Florida State. The Institutes are based on building communication skills. Students have the opportunity to use the values and work ethic taught by athletic participation as the framework for their leadership development. The Institutes attract outstanding guest speakers who challenge Seminole student-athletes to achieve their greatest potential and use their leadership skills to positively influence others.

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) serves as the advisory board to the NOLES program and the athletics administration.

The prestigious board, comprised of two representatives of each athletic team at FSU, also recommends programming and serves as a liaison between student-athletes and the athletics administration. The Advisory Council plans and implements various events for student-athletes and serves as the department's most visible ambassadors. The SAAC hosts the annual Golden Nole banquet and plans such events as orientation for incoming student-athletes and the back-to-school picnic.

Associate Athletics Director For Student Services Pam Overton was presented with the first annual Dr. Gene Hooks Award for the outstanding CHAMPS program coordinator as chosen by the Division I-A Athletics Directors.

Off the Court and in the Classroom

Head Coach Lise Gregory came to Florida State with a vision of making the Lady Seminole program one of the best in the nation. After six years and seven straight trips to the NCAA Tournament, the Lady Seminoles are poised to solidify their 49th ranking when the dual match season gets underway in January. However, quite possibly an impressive component of the Lady Seminole women's tennis program is not just what they do on the court, but in the classroom.

In the fall, as the team trains and participates in tournaments, the focus is on getting a good start on the academic year. In each of Gregory's first six years at FSU, the women's team has won the Golden Torch Award, an award given to the team with the highest GPA among FSU's athletic teams. The commitment to academic excellence has been a goal of Gregory's since she was an All-American at the University of Miami.

Gregory's goal of providing her players with a well-balanced experience as an FSU student-athlete seems to be coming to fruition as she enters her seventh season. Under Gregory's leadership, FSU has claimed spots on the ACC Academic Honor Roll, including five members of the 2001-02 squad. With six members returning to the team and with an incredible pool of talent coming in with the five newcomers, the sky's the limit for the Lady Seminoles, both on and off the court.

Tennis Endowed Scholarships

From Miami to Minneapolis, and from Warsaw to Walla Walla, young men and women come to Florida State University to embrace educational excellence, and to compete as a Seminole. Many would not have the opportunity to receive that college education without their athletic scholarship. These young people work hard, and proudly represent Florida State as a winner on the national stage, attracting the attention to our University that winners bring.

Florida State Athletics provides each of our men's and women's teams with the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA. In addition to the student-athlete competitors, scholarships are also provided to student trainers, managers and graduate assistants who are vital to the athletic program.

The last 15 years have seen a three-fold rise in the cost of athletic scholarships at Florida State. Today, more than $300,000 is needed to permanently endow a Florida State athletic scholarship. Most of the top public universities with whom Florida State competes and to whom we are compared, have endowed all of their athletic scholarships.

Established in 1986 under the direction of William M. Parker of Clearwater, the Seminole Boosters Endowed Scholarship Program is the final step toward perpetual funding of all scholarships for student-athletes at Florida State.

Those individuals who contribute to the endowment fund for athletic scholarships at Florida State University gain membership in the Seminole Heritage Foundation.

Thanks to the efforts of Ginny Futch, Bette Sprague and James Howarth the endowment of the Florida State tennis programs are well on their way.

This is the ACC

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 50th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 85 national championships, including 43 in women's competition and 42 in men's. In addition, 120 men and 31 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981, while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999.

The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 379 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 57 first-team academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,503 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 112 first round selections. A year ago, the nine ACC member institutions had 197 former players on NFL rosters during the regular season or playoffs.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 88-79-5 (.526) in post-season play.

A year ago the ACC posted a 4-2 mark in bowl games as an all-time high seven ACC teams finished the regular season with winning records.

Two ACC teams - Georgia Tech and Florida State - rank among the nation's winningest bowl teams. Among teams with 20-or-more bowl appearances, the Yellow Jackets are tied with Penn State as the nation's winningest all-time bowl team with a 20-10 (.667) post-season mark while the Seminoles are third at 18-10-2 (.633).

This past season, the ACC had two consensus All-Americans and over the past five years has produced 24 consensus All-Americans. Since 1997, the ACC has had more first round draft picks (30) in the annual NFL draft than any other conference except the 12-team Southeastern Conference.

For the second-straight year, the ACC set a new attendance mark in football. Over 56 home games, ACC teams drew 2,776,816 fans, breaking the existing record of 2,653,816 set during the 2000 season.

2001-02 in Review

The 2001-02 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and six individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 42 national team titles over the last 12 years.

The ACC's 2001-02 national champions were North Carolina in men's soccer, Maryland in men's basketball and Duke in women's golf. Overall, 93 ACC teams took part in post-season play compiling a 94-56 (.626) record.

The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 13 of the 25 sports sponsored by the league. In all, 33 ACC teams finished their season with a top 10 ranking.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2002-2003 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

Alfred B. Maclay State Gardens; Bradley's Country Store; FAMU Black Archives; and the Tallahassee Antique Car Museum. Nearby small towns offer fascinating excursions to places such as Pebble Hill Plantation, Florida Caverns State Park, Monticello Opera House and St. George Island.

Tallahassee is almost as rich in cultural treasures as it is in history. A widely-acclaimed collection of art, science and history museums and galleries, year-round festivals and non-stop entertainment at the 14,000-seat Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center, feed a variety of cultural appetites.

Visitors with a hunger for the great outdoors will find Tallahassee ideal for all types of outdoor recreation—from canoeing down dark, cypress-lined rivers and biking up steep slopes to exploring back country wildernesses and hunting for bobwhite quail. Area lakes, rivers, ponds and the Gulf — just 30 minutes away — offer a paradise for boating and fishing. Lakes Jackson and Talquin are renowned in the bass fishing world for yielding the “big ones.” Local wildlife areas, such as the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge and Apalachicola National Forest, are perfect spots for camping, picnicking, swimming, biking and exploring.

And while Tallahassee also features eight golf courses and plenty of places to raise a racquet, it's a wild array of spectator sports that leave the crowds screaming for more. The Florida State Seminoles and Florida A&M Rattlers provide collegiate action while the Tallahassee Thunder is the city's featured arena football team. Tallahassee also boasts 15 beautiful campsites. Continuous air service, Amtrak and four major highways make it easy for visitors to get to Tallahassee. But no matter how you arrive, the history and hospitality of Tallahassee make it difficult to ever leave for long.

Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center

It is easy to understand why over one million people a year flock to the Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center, what with the varied array of attractions it offers. Consider: a $33.8 million versatile, contemporary complex with excellent facilities and a cooperative and efficient staff that knows its business. The Civic Center hosts a wide variety of concerts, family shows, Broadway shows, ice shows and sporting events. Some people come to the Civic Center to enjoy the sounds of rock, country, pop and urban concerts. Some come for the thrills of basketball, rodeos, and three-ring spectaculars.

Climate

Tallahassee has the mild, moist climate characteristics of the Gulf States and experiences a subtropical summer similar to the rest of Florida. In contrast to the Florida peninsula, however, the panhandle, of which Tallahassee is a part, experiences four seasons.

PHYSIOGRAPHY

Tallahassee's rolling landscape, typical of regions further north, is unique among the major cities of Florida. Some areas of the county, including the downtown ridge encompassing the Capitol complex, City Hall and the County Courthouse, exceed elevations of 200 feet. The highest elevation in Leon County is 288 feet, found in the northern part of the county. To the south of the city, the hills yield to the flat terrain that is typical throughout the peninsula of Florida.

beach, clear water, featuring swimming, shelling, boating, and fishing, 80 miles southwest of Tallahassee

Shell Point

Lovely, small peninsula surrounded by St. Marks Wildlife refuge. Secluded beach and clear water that is popular for sailing and windsurfing, 25 miles south of Tallahassee

Canopy Roads

The abundance of trees and timber is a resource uncommon to many other areas of the state. The beauty of the local trees is exemplified in Maclay Gardens State Park, which is the site of several of Florida's champion trees including the flowering Dogwood, the Hawthorn tree, the Horsesugar tree, the Sweetbay Magnolia and the Silverbell tree. These trees and others often extend their branches over the roadway to create a canopied effect, a feature that is held in high esteem by local residents and visitors.
