

Athletics Teach Valuable Lessons

The varsity athletic program at Florida State recognizes students who have outstanding talents in various sports. It gives them an opportunity to participate in competition with students from many other schools.

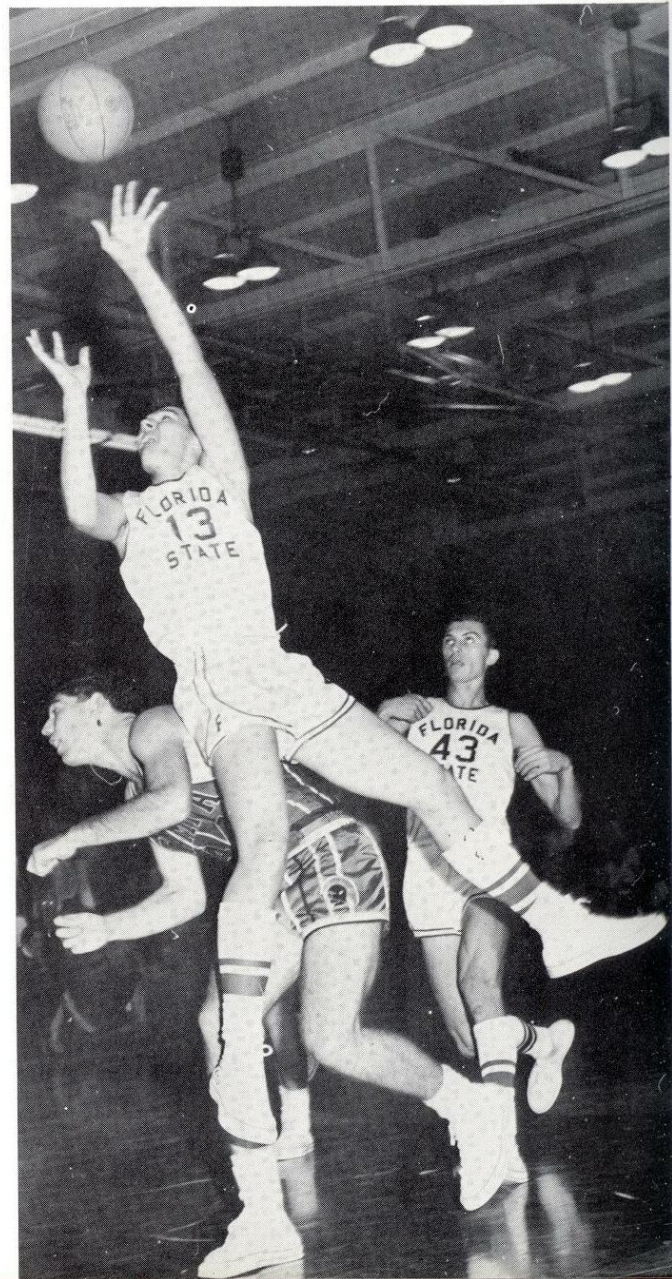

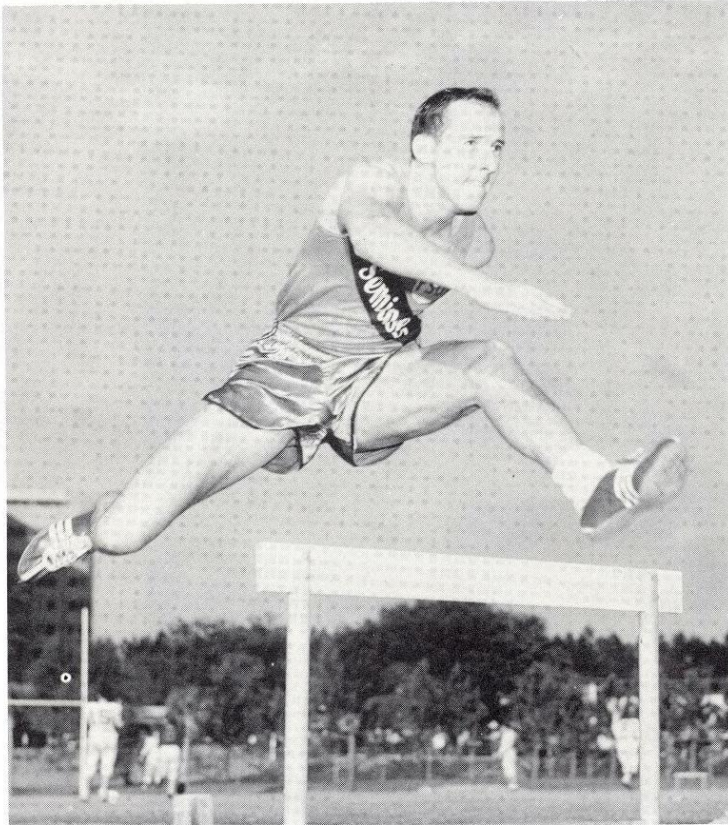

By working with a group of fellow students toward a common goal and playing the game to the best of his ability, the player learns many valuable lessons. There are also some sports which require individual participation, thereby training the student to give completely of his talents. The experience of participation in such a program and the satisfaction of a job well done is gained by the student who takes advantage of this opportunity.

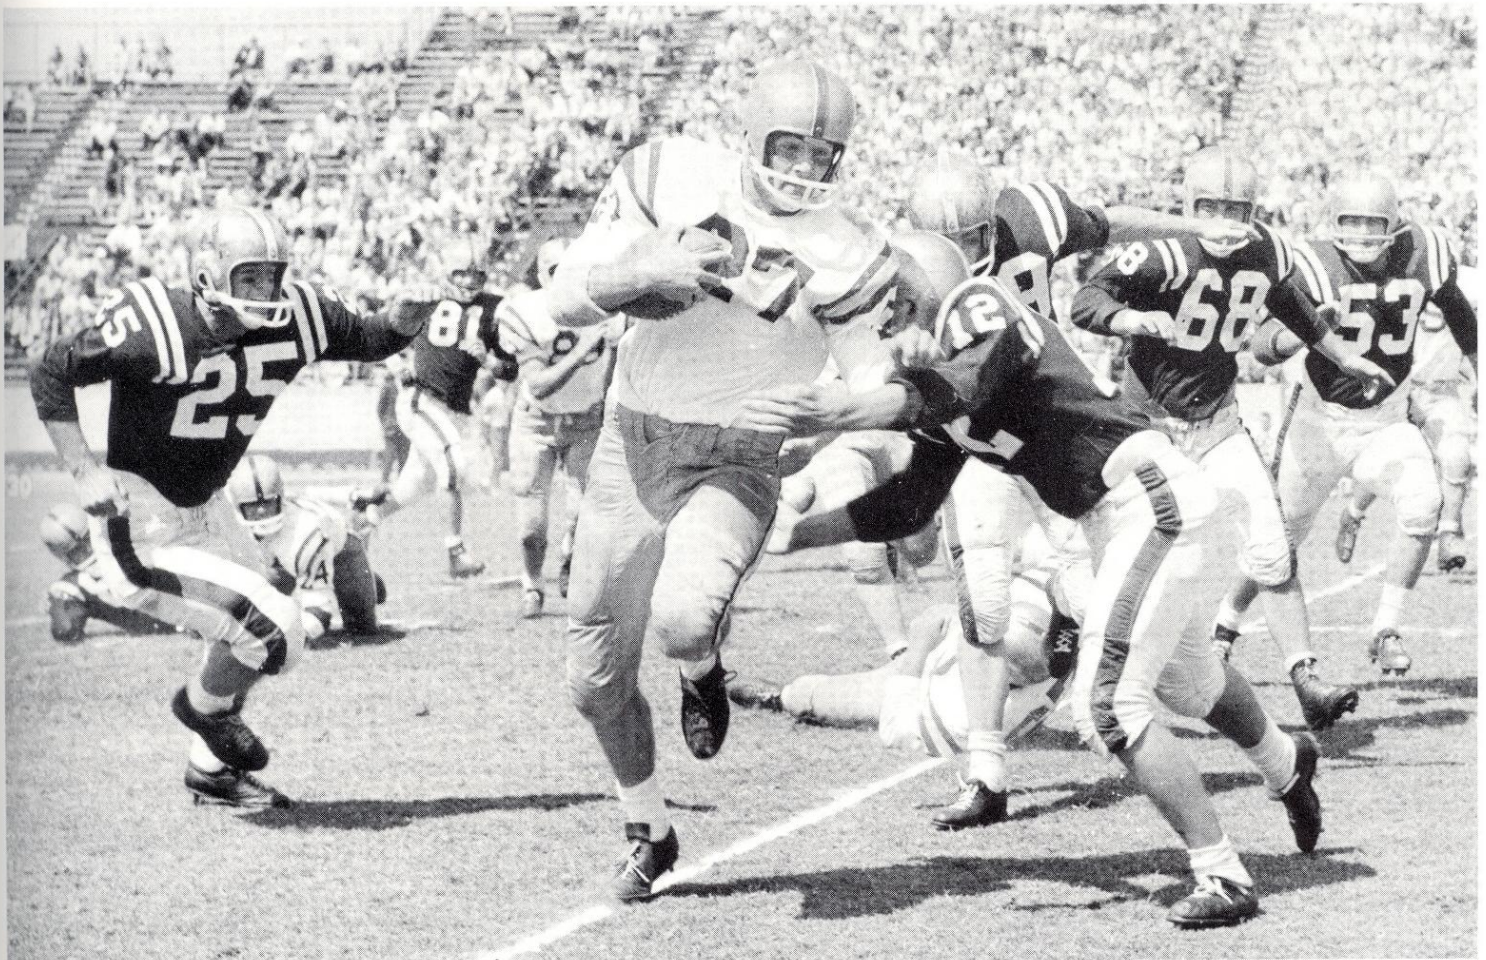

A DESIRE TO WIN and to play the best game possible is an asset in basketball, as well as any varsity sport.

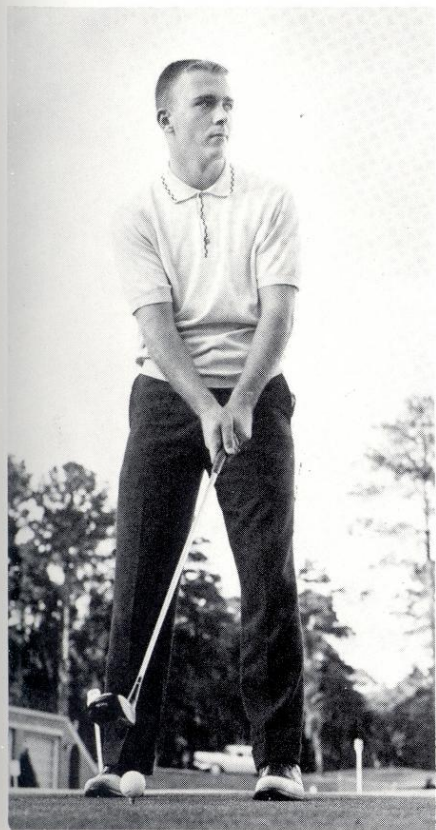

BEING AN OUTSTANDING varsity swimmer is the result of endless hours of practice spent perfecting difficult strokes.

THE PARTICIPATION IN TRACK EVENTS requires the use of the very basic athletic skills and the learning of new ones.

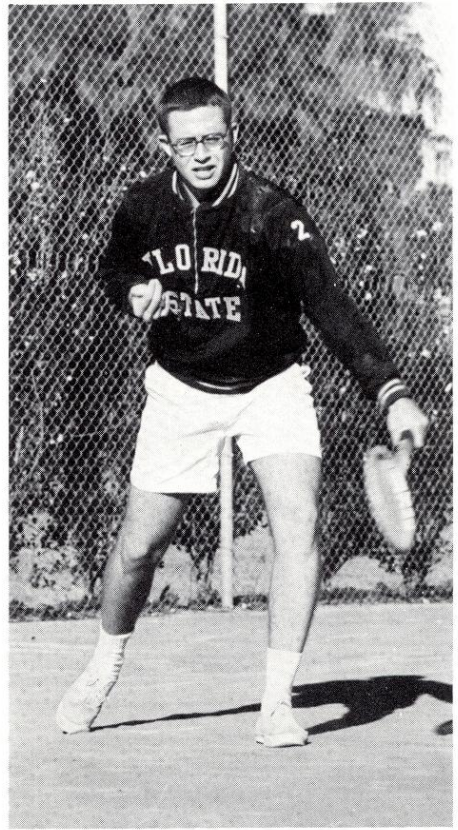

THE FOOTBALL PLAYER LEARNS THE LESSONS OF TEAMWORK BY SERVING AS A TEAM MEMBER AND NOT AS AN INDIVIDUAL.

STEADY HANDS and sharp eyes are needed to play a good game of golf.

A HIGH DEGREE of coordination is a requisite in varsity baseball.

A TENNIS PLAYER must be agile and fast to play a successful game.

Highlighting Record Staged By Seminoles

Capably led by Head Coach Bill Peterson and his staff, the Florida State University football team chalked up its best record since 1958.

The Seminole squad ended its 1961 season with a mark of four wins, five losses, and one tie.

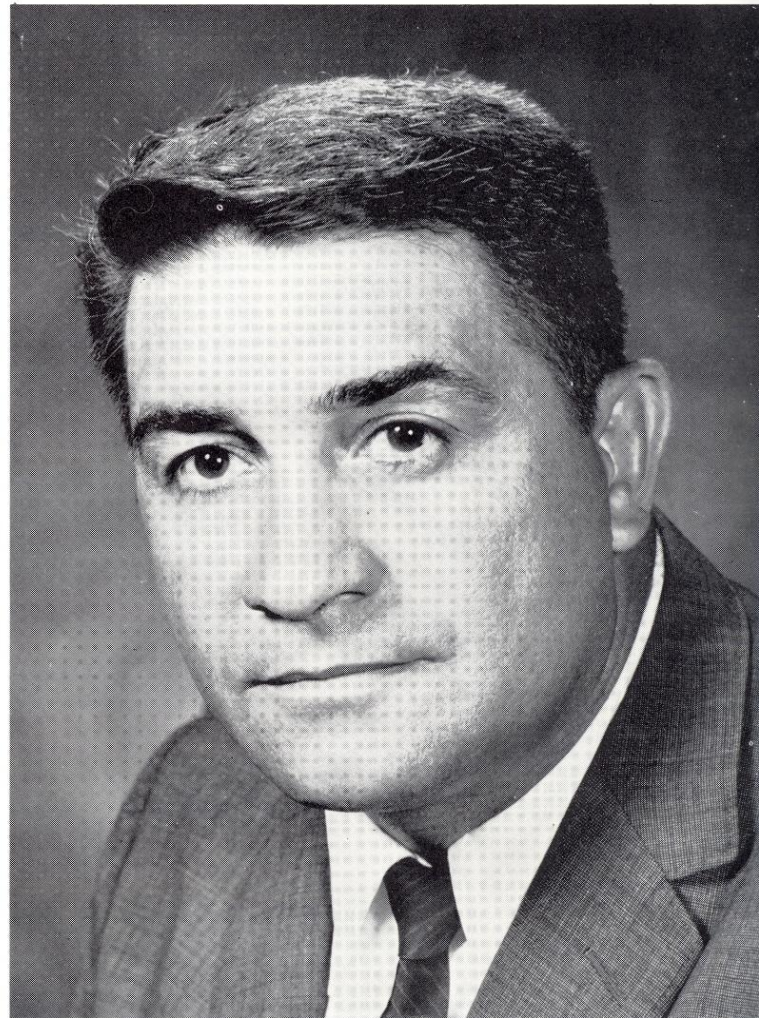

Highlights of the season included battles with such intercollegiate competition as the University of Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, and Kentucky.

Losing only one home game during the season, the Tribe packed fans and spectators into Doak Campbell Stadium with each appearance and provided them with a rousing sample of college football.

Excellent coaching efforts, coupled with a high team spirit and enthusiastic fan support, enabled the Seminoles of Florida State to make the victory columns and complete a season to be proud of. Their performance this year will be long remembered.

FSU Pushes Past GW To Debut With Win

Starting the '61 football season in Doak Campbell Stadium on September 16, Florida State's Seminoles pushed past the visiting Colonials from George Washington University, for a 15-7 win.

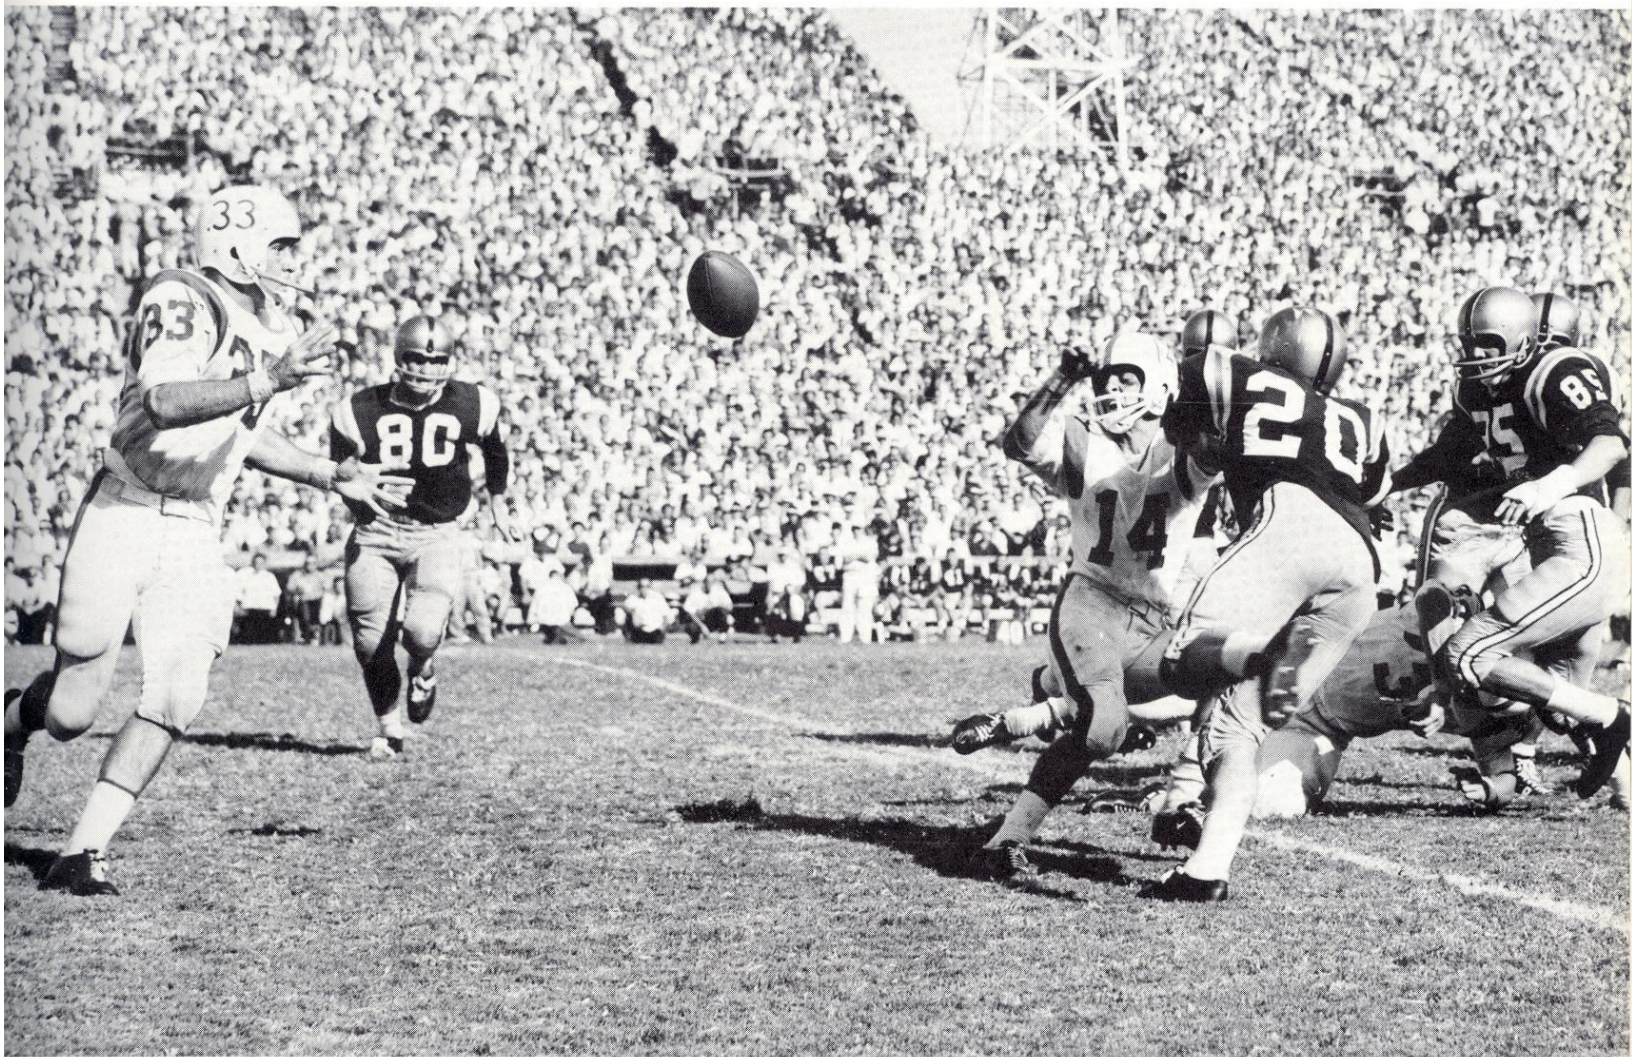

After two full quarters of battling, the Tribe held a 6-0 head at the halftime. The Colonials opened the second half with a stunning 82-yard sprint to Tribe paydirt, and set the Seminoles back on their heels.

Not to be denied, the Seminoles pushed quickly into enemy territory to regain the lead which they held until the final gun.

Defense sparkled in this season opener, pouncing on three George Washington fumbles, the defensive unit showed their stubborn personality by thwarting Colonial efforts again and again, thereby holding the visitors to little gain.

Seminoles Battle Gators To Deadlock

If such a thing as a moral victory exists in college football, then Florida State's Seminoles certainly earned one against the University of Florida Gators.

The Gators managed an edge in statistics, but that didn't bother the underdog Seminoles, who battled tooth and nail for every inch of Florida Field's trampled turf.

While 44,000 fans screamed their lungs out the Seminoles and Gators swapped first-half field goals and fought to a 3-3 deadlock.

Even a post-game "audience participation" show between FSU and Florida supporters ended in a tie. Seconds before the closing whistle, Seminole fans made a grab for the Gator's metal goal posts, but were met with quick opposition from staunch Gator backers. It was a fitting climax to what will go into FSU history books as a stunning deadlock.

Hopeful Seminoles Challenge Ole Miss

The Seminoles' visit to Oxford, Mississippi, resulted in a 33-0 bow to the Rebels as Ole Miss romped its way to the position of one of the top teams in the nation.

The Seminoles were able to penetrate Rebel defense and reach enemy territory only twice while the Rebels flashed the big-league class for which they are well-noted.

Hoping for a big play and the feel of paydirt at least once, the Tribe was beaten back on the ground and in the air by Ole Miss.

The Rebels rolled up an impressive 351 yards in a rushing attack, 169 yards with passes, and gained 28 first downs, as the Seminoles fought to hold off their assault.

Going against the ranked Rebels was the season's biggest challenge, but tough Ole Miss proved too much for the hopeful Seminoles.

Breeze Aids Tribe In Georgia Upset

A howling 29-mile-per-hour wind out of the north played an important role in the Seminoles' encounter with university of Georgia's Bulldogs, as the Seminoles took good advantage of this breeze by collecting a three-point field goal lead which eventually won the game for them, 3-0. The duel was a headknocking affair with the Tribe picking up ground yardage, while Georgia's Bulldogs used an air attack.

Picking a star of the well-earned victory would have been like looking for that proverbial needle in the haystack, as more than 150 yards were chalked up by the Seminole offense; but in the end, it was the Tribe's defense which proved the difference.

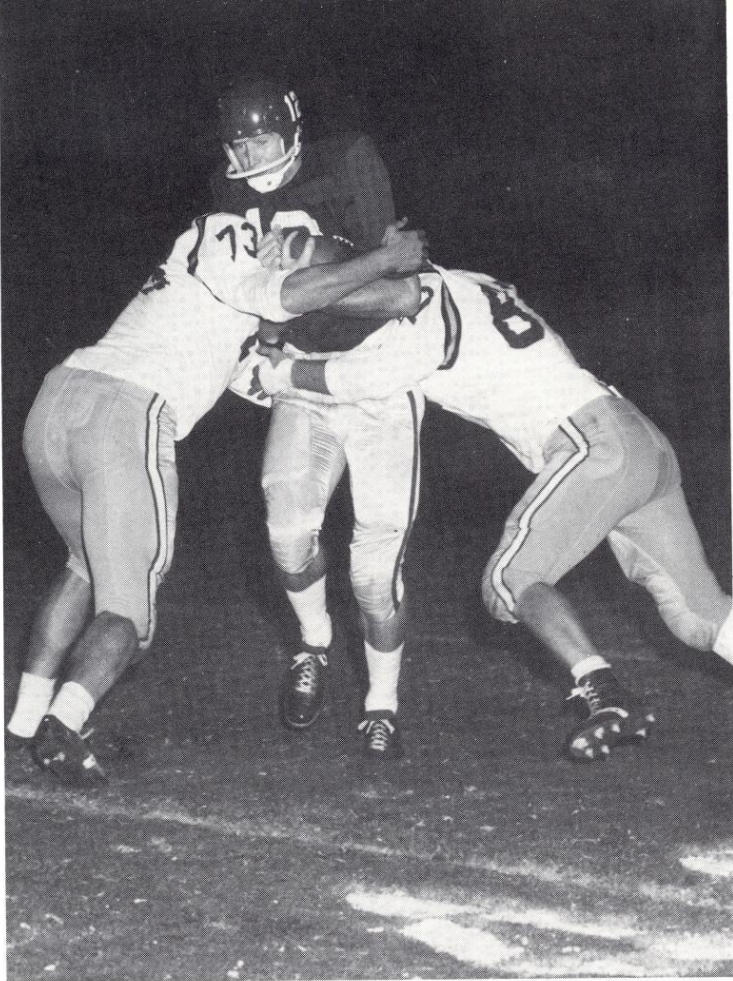

The victory marked the end of Georgia's complete domination of a six-game series. The closest Florida State had come before was in a 3-0 affair which the Bulldogs won in 1956. This year proved to be one of charm as the Seminoles spoiled Georgia's FSU visit.

Backfield Sparks Richmond Win, 13-7

Florida State's backfield powerhouse sparked the Seminoles to a fourth quarter touchdown and a 13-7 victory over a stubborn Richmond eleven before some 13,000 fans in Doak Campbell Stadium.

The Seminoles, who fell behind 7-6 on a Richmond touchdown pass with only 20 seconds left in the first half, came back the third quarter and marched 88 yards for the winning score.

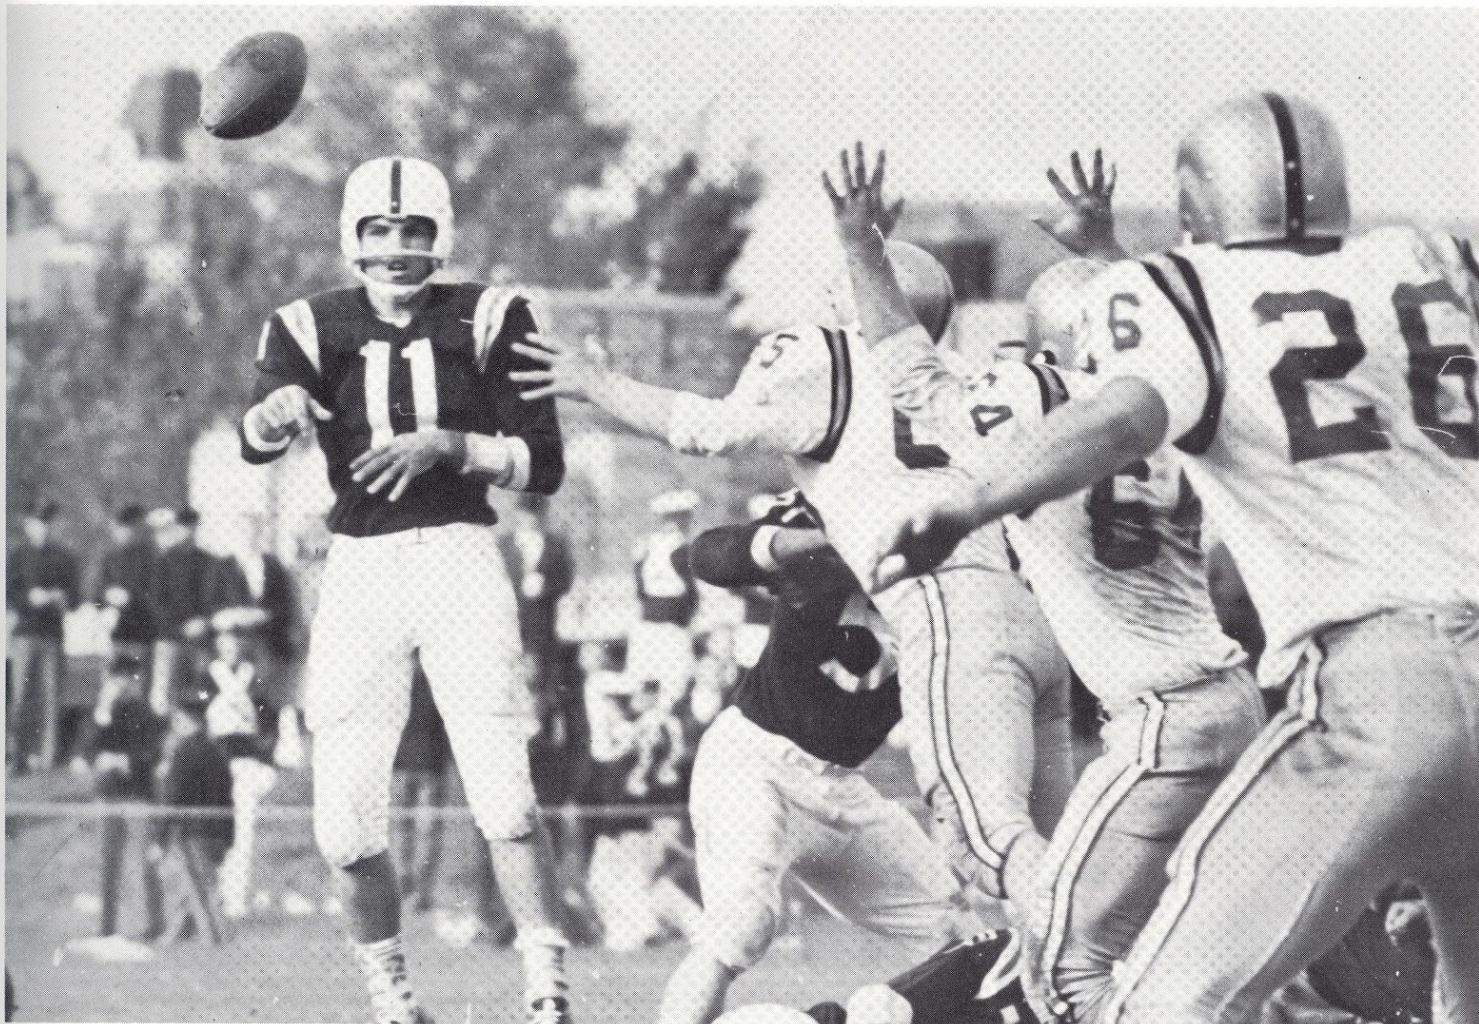

A fumble on their own 11 yard line cost the FSU athletes the seven point yield to the visitors from Virginia. Capitalizing on the grab, the Spiders connected with a quick pass for the tally.

The Tribe showed both ground and air skill by romping for 261 yards rushing and 64 yards passing. Richmond found it tough going against the Seminole defense, as the Tribe held them to only 58 yards rushing and seven first downs.

Florida State who seemed to control the battle from the beginning kickoff added their second win in two years against the Spiders.

Aggressive Gobblers Determined To Win

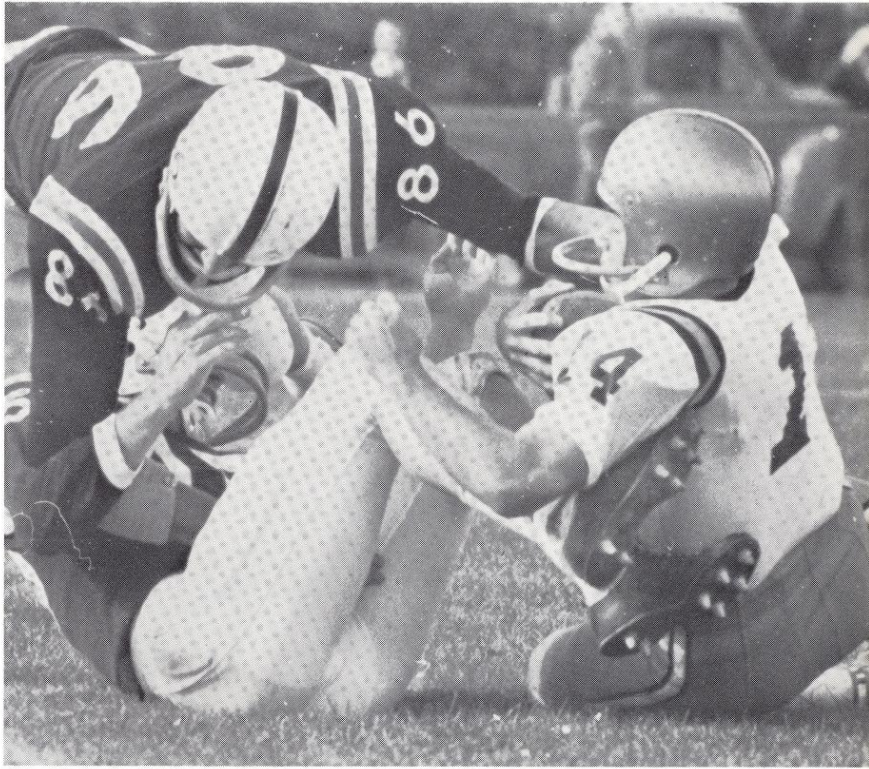

Fumbles, penalties, and passes marked the contest in Blacksburg, Virginia, when the Florida State Seminoles journeyed there and were upset 10-7.

A fake kick, which turned into a long pass play accounted for the Tribe's lone touchdown, but Tech Gobblers coupled an early field goal tally with a third quarter scoring pass for the win.

Florida State led the tilt in the statistics book, but they never really sparked in their usual manner. The aggressive Gobblers, however, were determined in their bid for a win, and kept knocking at the scoring door all afternoon.

Playing before 14,000 cheering supporters, Tech clicked in what was reported their best game of the season.

The visiting Tribe tried vainly, but could not pick up the necessary pep to mark another win.

Visiting Seminoles Bow To 'Cats, 20-0

The Seminoles hit the road again and traveled to Lexington, Kentucky, to face the Wildcats and bow to a 20-0 defeat there. Florida State, tabbed to lose by two touchdowns, made a gallant attempt to upset its Southeastern Conference opponent, by not letting the foes breathe easily until a two-touchdown explosion in the third quarter.

Plagued by injuries, the Seminoles rebounded in a stubborn fashion and drove deep into Kentucky territory five times, only to be stopped by a staunch Wildcat defense.

The Tribe was forced to punt five times as the Wildcats beat back FSU's efforts with force. Kentucky, eager to stay on the winning trail, thundered 285 yards in the air and on the ground to overpower its Florida opponents.

Seminoles Avenge Last Years 0-0 Tie

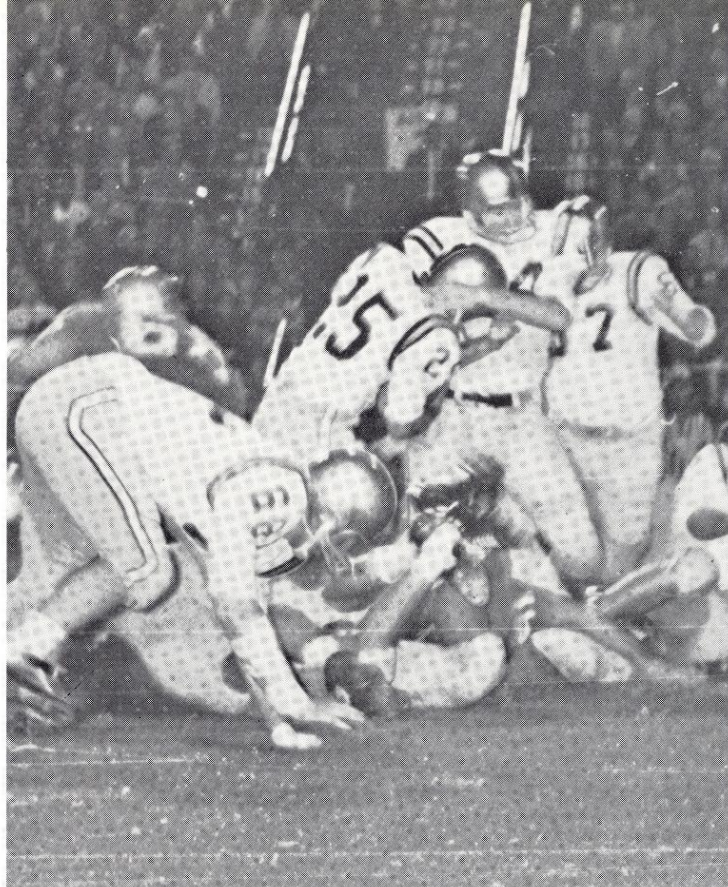

No time was wasted as the Seminoles scored early and went on to trounce the Citadel Bulldogs 44-8 at the home game in Campbell Stadium.

The Seminoles kept fans on their feet all four quarters by dazzling aerial and ground attacks on the Southern Conference Champions and made up for the 0-0 tie handed them by the Cadets last year.

Seminole offense marched the length of the field three times to find paydirt despite a determined defensive effort put up by the Bulldogs.

A closer game score was expected as the Tribe tackled the Cadets, but the military men failed to get started offensively. The forward wall of FSU showed exceptional team work by holding the Bulldogs to short unfruitful gains.

FSU, on the other hand, played what was termed as one of its best games of the year.

Southern Hands FSU Homecoming Defeat

Florida State's Homecoming glee was dampened by a tough defeat at the hands of visiting Southerners from Mississippi.

An enthusiastic capacity crowd watched in vain as the Seminole attack was constantly crushed by hard-nosed defenders who refused to give an inch of turf this sunny afternoon.

This was the sixth win over FSU boasted by the Southerners, and their combined running, passing, and defending talents handed the Tribe a fourth defeat this season.

The loss closed out the home-game schedule for the 1961 Seminole football year, and gave many of the fans their last look at a team which had faced perhaps the toughest schedule yet slated by the school. But even in this moment of defeat, the Tribe showed spark worthy of their fans' praise.

FSU Closes Season With a 28-8 Loss

Florida State's 28-8 loss to the University of Houston brought to a close the Seminole's football season.

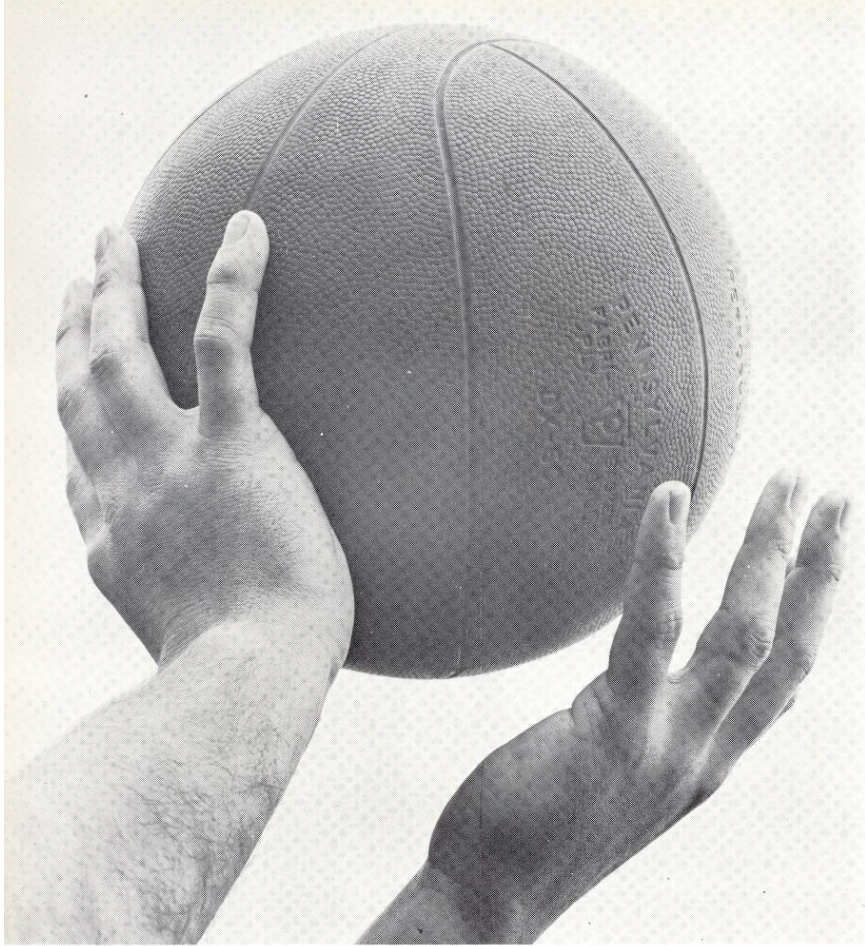

Meeting the Texans at Rice Stadium, the Tribe found the going rough against Houston's perfected air attack, and were quickly forced into a game of defensive strategy.

The Seminoles took advantage of the aerial play and snagged an interception to account for its only score. A two-point pass play which followed was the last scoring assault by the Seminoles.

Ten FSU seniors played their last college football in the battle against Houston's Cougars, and were kept busy by the aggressive Texans. Finding their scoring combination in the second quarter, the Texans tallied for four TD's before the final gun and handed the Seminoles their fifth loss.

Cagers Encounter Toughest Foes Yet

Splitting its 23-game schedule into 10 home games and 13 games away, the Seminole cage squad this year faced perhaps the toughest opponents in its history.

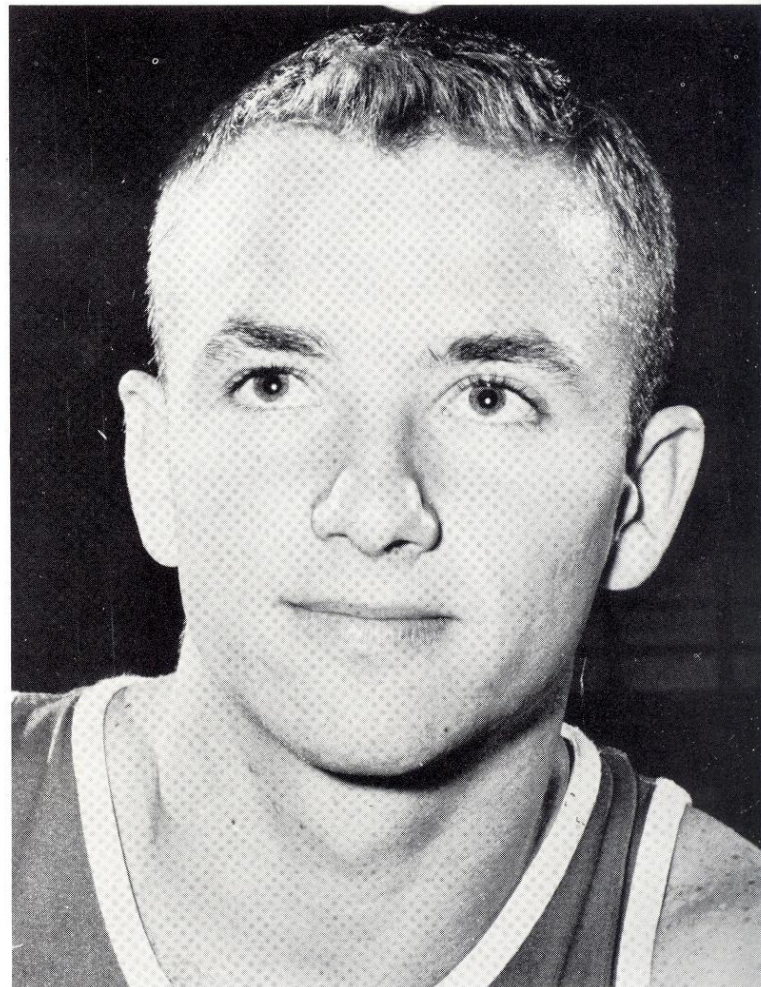

Under the direction of Coach Bud Kennedy, the Seminole players tackled such opponents as Furman, Ohio State, Rollins, University of Miami, University of Florida, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Clemson, Alabama, Houston, Georgia, Auburn, and Oklahoma.

Posting a 14-10 record in 1961, the lanky cagers boasted seven returning lettermen for this year's squad.

Coupling experience and drive, the cagers drove for national recognition again this year and were led to victories by Co-Captains Ray Swain and Dave Fedor. Senior Forward Fedor, FSU's All-American candidate, averaged 19 points per game during the 1961 season and continued to romp this year.

Tankers Splash To Successful Season

The Florida State Seminole swimmers, under the direction of Coach Bim Stults, splashed into its opening meet on December 9, and continued encountering intercollegiate competition until March 17.

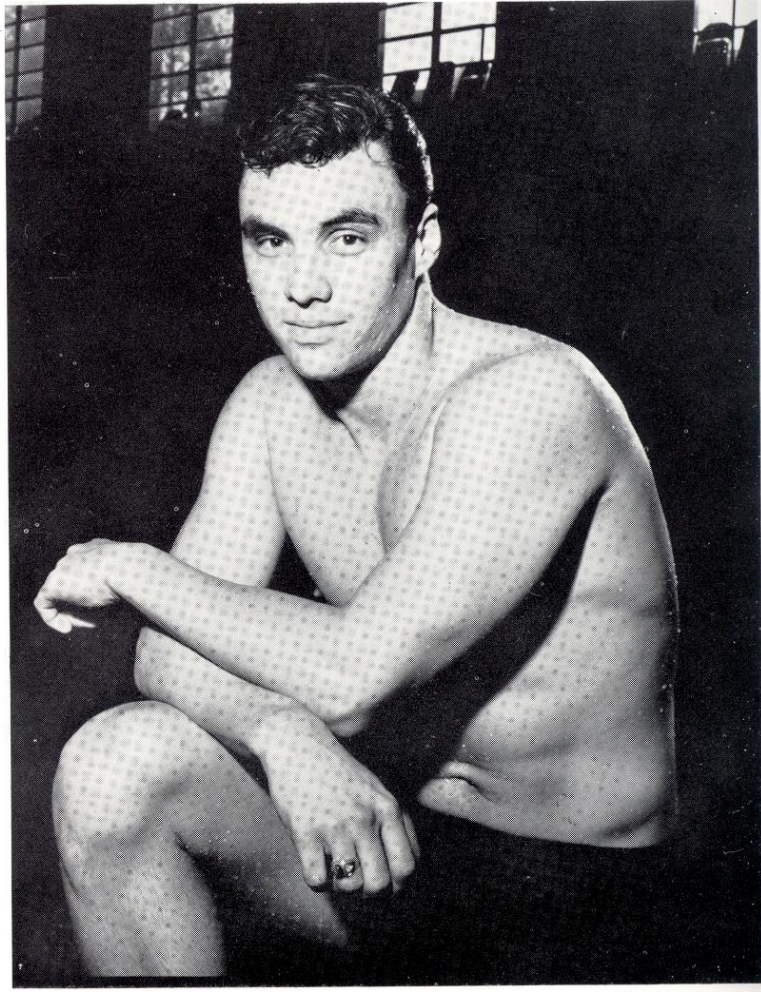

The tankers marked up a 9-1 record in 1961, along with copping the Georgia AAU and the Florida Intercollegiate Championships.

This year's tough schedule included Georgia, Texas A & M, Tulane, Georgia Tech, Miami of Ohio, University of Florida, Bowling Green, East Carolina, Alabama, and University of the South. The swimmers entered in the Florida Intercollegiate Championship, the Georgia AAU, and NCAA meets.

Outstanding this year were Paul Thompson, Tommy Mew, Ronald Bissland, Pete Combes, Pete Davis, Bill Lawrence, Mark Owen, Risto Pyykko, Bill Richardson, Dick Acosta, Tom Brandley, Don Montgomery.

Six Returnees Man 1962 Baseball Team

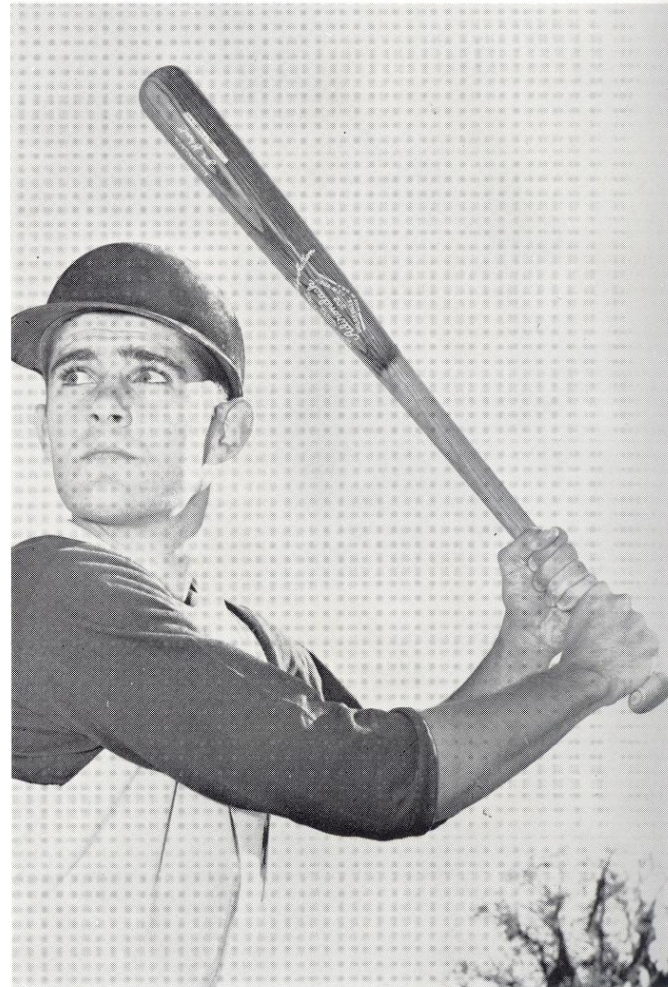

With six returning lettermen, FSU's baseball team was ready for action in 1962. Those lettermen returning for another year of service were Kyle Spitzer, Ray McShane, Jack Ross, Gary Elliot, Bob Madison and catcher Buddy Teagle.

Hoping to maintain the fine 20-5 record of the past year, the baseballers met such opposition as Auburn, Georgia Tech, Duke, Miami, East Carolina, and the United States Naval Academy. Three additional games were added to the scheduled 25 in 1961, bringing the total to 28.

The team was well balanced with such standouts as Hal Mangin, a player who managed any position on the field; Larry Hawkins, who pitched Manatee Junior College to the national finals last year; George Fergusson, fourth in RBI's in 1961; and Tom Davis, brother of former FSU pitcher, Frank Davis.

Some 38 potential cindermen showed up for the first day of practice as the 1962 track season at Florida State got under way in early fall.

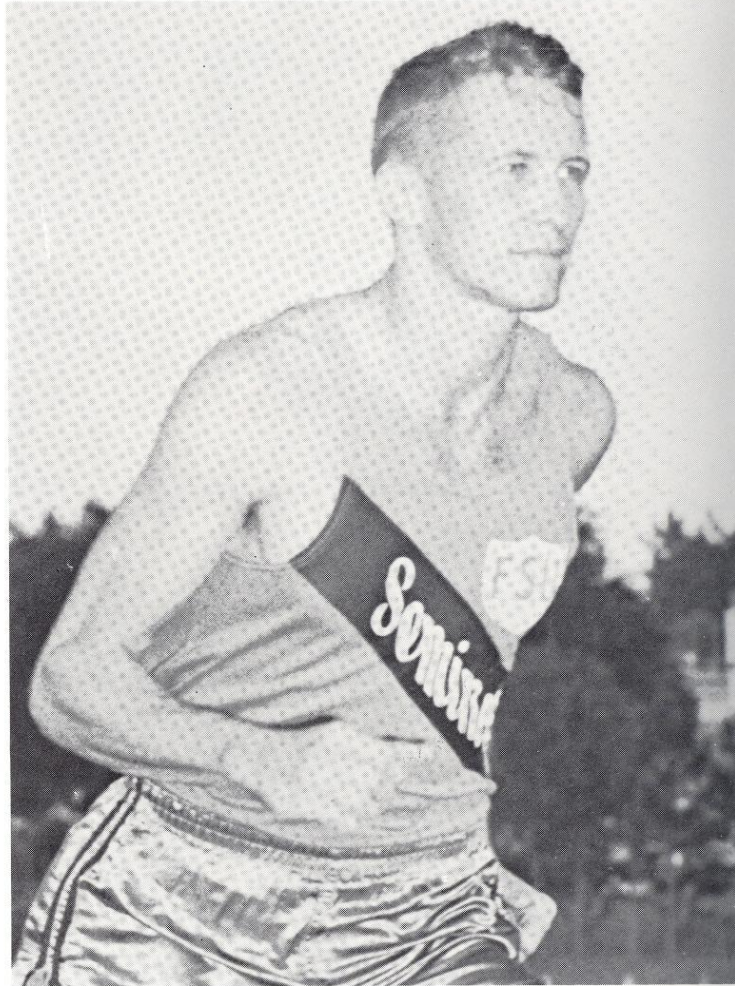

Returning after a superb performance last year, there were more than a dozen experienced lettermen, ready to again represent FSU in intercollegiate track and field events. Officially opening the season with an indoor meet at Montgomery, Alabama, the Thinclads participated in dual events with Miami, William and Mary, Florida and SEC Champions, Louisiana State.

Head Track Coach, Mike Long, and Assistant Coach Vernon Giles stressed the importance of individual performance to the eager athletes, and selected some 30 Thinclads to travel to Pennsylvania, Texas, Louisiana and Alabama.

Participating in both AAU and NCAA meets, the Cindermen brought the season to a close in June.

Top Ranked Players Spur Netter Wins

Sporting three nationally-ranked players this year, the Seminole Netters copped honors all season with their aggressive drive.

Big guns in 1962 were Harry Campney, Andy Patton, and Roger Nichols; backed up by the remaining varsity talent.

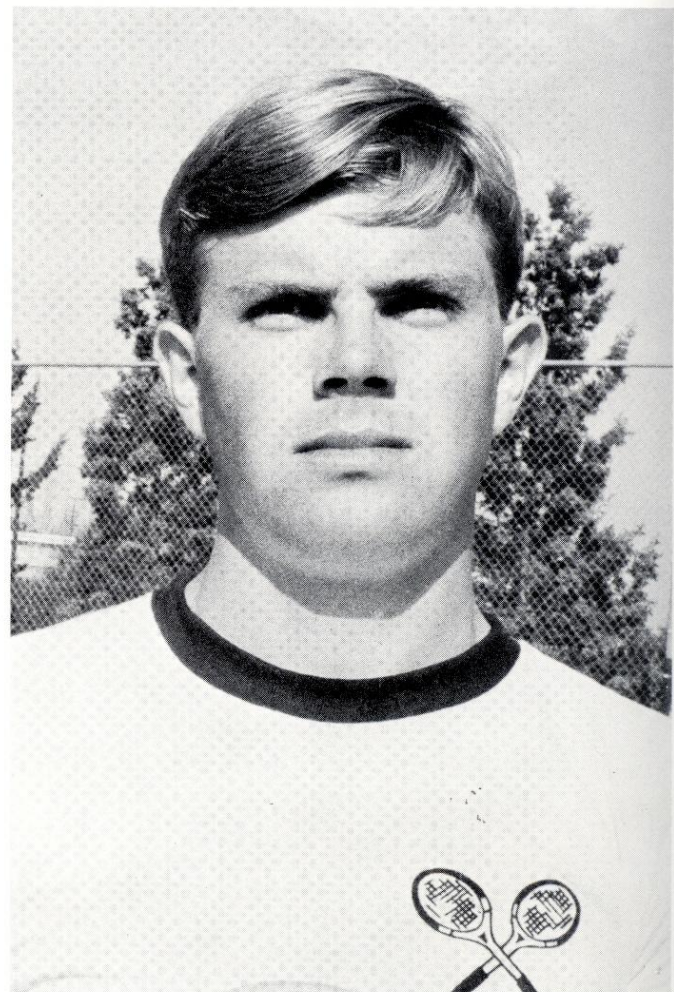

Directed by Head Coach Ed Cubbon and Assistant Coach Danny Malcome, the Seminoles opened on March 15 by facing the University of Georgia, and played a tough schedule until the season's end in May. Teams played this year were Rollins, University of Pennsylvania, Georgia Tech, Florida, and Miami.

A trip into South Carolina put the Netters against The Citadel, South Carolina, and Presbyterian.

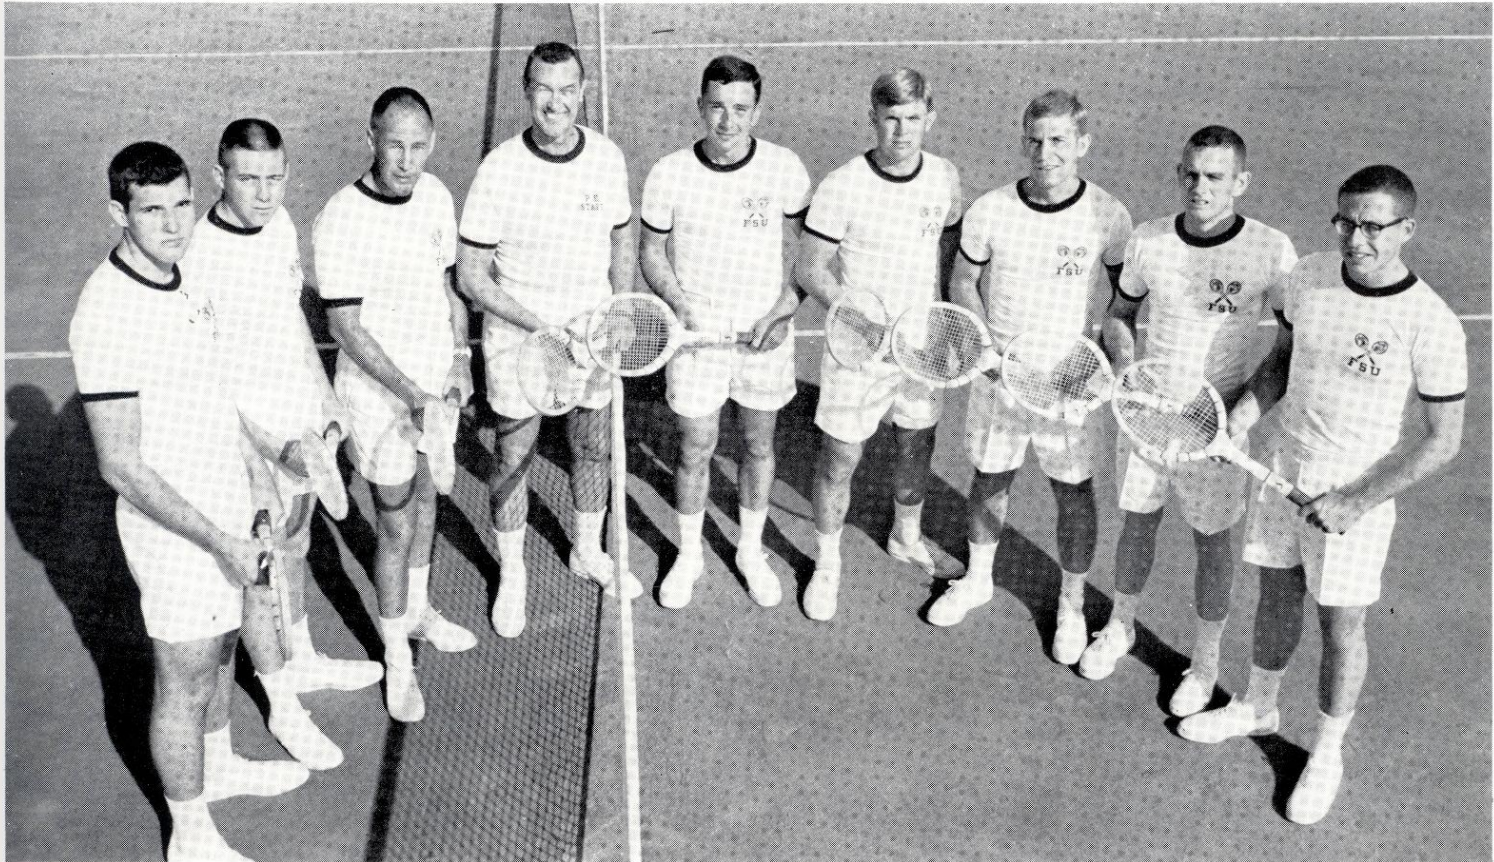

The Seminole Varsity came through in their 1961 events by copping 16 wins out of a scheduled 21 games and hoped this season to better the record.

Golf Team Opens Against the Gators

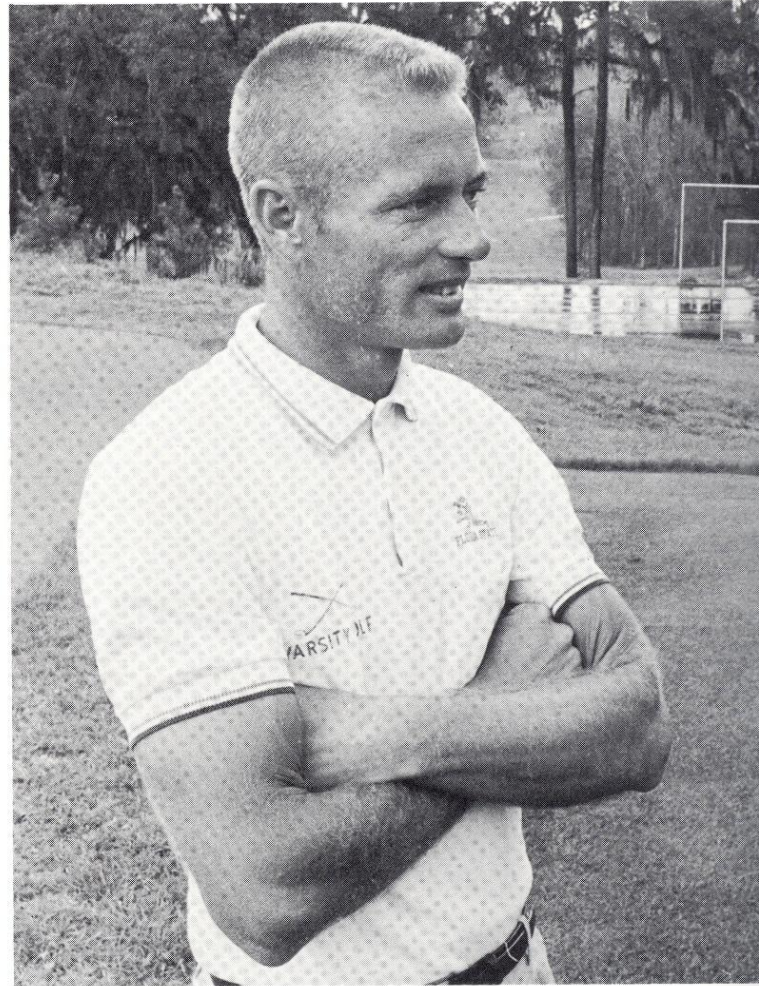

The 1962 Florida State golf team opened its season with a home game against the University of Florida on March 5. The Seminole golfers also competed in such meets as the Florida Collegiate Tournament, Miami Tournament, Southeastern Conference Tournament, Houston All-American Match, and the National Golf Tournament. Top highlight of the season was the All-American Intercollegiate Tournament held in Houston, Texas. This game involved the top golf teams in the nation.

Comprised mainly of seniors and backed by both juniors and sophomores, the team started out with a 144 hole qualifying match.

Under the leadership of Coach Bill Odeneal the Seminoles boasted one of the best golfing squads in FSU history. The outstanding spirit of this year's golfers was the key to the building of a good team.
