Hold That Line!

All freedom-loving Americans should take an active and responsible part in an effort to "hold the line" against all forms of National Socialism that would destroy our individual competitive enterprise system and our republican form of government.

Too often our precious "ball of freedom" is in the hands of those who are running around left end and leading us down the road to bankruptcy and socialism.

The only thing that will save us, materially speaking, is an aroused public opinion created by the freedom-loving people of this great nation of ours. Those who would help preserve our Constitution and the Bill of Rights must have the courage to speak out against all forms of National Socialism, thereby helping create public opinion—the most powerful material force in our form of government.

The Football Staff

Tonight's Game . . .

Mississippi Southern's regular-season finale tonight could be its most important contest of the year and is certain to be one of its toughest. It's important because a bowl bid may hang in the balance and it'll be tough because Florida State University's Seminoles are always just that kind of ball club.

The Southerners and Seminoles both have big-time aspirations. After its lop-sided (39-0) victory over The Citadel last week, Florida State was reported to be seeking admission to the Southeastern Conference. It's a well-known fact that Mississippi Southern wants to get in a conference. Tonight's battle could mean a lot toward this end. The Southerners go into the game with an 8-1 record. FSU has won four of eight, but look at its conquerors: Miami, Georgia, Georgia Tech and VPI. A real battle is in the making tonight!

HATTIESBURG

CHARLES L. (Chuck) FINLEY
Coach

Coach Charles L. (Chuck) Finley's Mississippi Southern cagers will open their 1955-56 season against the powerful West Texas State Buffaloes in the MSC field house on Monday, December 5. From that point on the Southerners will be off and running against one of the most formidable schedules in the college's history.

Six squadmen from last year's club will lead the Southerners in action. Included are Robert Boothe, Jim Milstead, Don Eddy, Ed Hatten, Marvin Beck, and Bob Kinney. All but Beck are sophomores. Early reports of the training indicate that the Southerners will be inexperienced but with a terrific potential. Kinney is 6-10 and the overall squad height is greater than ever before.

Athletic Director Reed Green has announced that the entire South stand in the field house will be sold before the season on a RESERVED SEAT—SEASON TICKET BASIS. The season tickets, covering 10 home games (West Texas is a charity game sponsored by the Memorial Chapel Fun), will sell for $10. Individual reserve seats will cost $1.50 per game. General admission seats, located at each end of the field house, are priced at $1.00. Southern students and faculty will occupy the North side stands.

To purchase season tickets, write or telephone Mr. Reed Green, Athletic Department, Mississippi Southern, Hattiesburg (JU 4-8411, Ext. 254).

Intercollegiate Athletics Observes NCAA'S

50th Anniversary

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS, during the current college year, 1955-56, commemorates the golden jubilee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The universities and colleges of the nation take pleasure in observing their national organization's 50th anniversary because the development and progress of the NCAA is the story of intercollegiate athletics' own expansion and improvement.

Fifty years is a long time. In 1905, the key offense in college football was the flying wedge . . . organized track and field competition was just getting under way . . . the original peach basket goal was about to be replaced by the open metal hoop in basketball but the sport still was new and strange to most sections of the nation . . .

The NCAA evolved from a meeting of 13 colleges and universities called in 1905 to reorganize the game of intercollegiate football. (The rugged nature of the game was causing too many injuries and deaths.) A permanent organization was established, March 31, 1906.

Today, the NCAA is composed of more than 465 colleges and universities, athletic conferences and associations, devoted to the sound administration of intercollegiate athletics. Also today, the member institutions of the NCAA provide intercollegiate athletic competition for more than 130,000 students annually in more than 26 different sports. The men responsible for the coaching and administration of intercollegiate sports firmly believe that these competitive athletic programs are a vital part of the educational system which prepares our youth for future productive careers in society.

The universities and colleges of the nation have joined together in one Association—the NCAA—for purposes of athletic discussion, legislation and administration at the national level. The NCAA is solely and completely responsive to the will of its members as expressed by their governing boards and chief executive officers. The NCAA concerns itself with any phase of college athletics which spreads across regional lines and becomes national in character, and a majority of the member institutions concur that national action is needed.

These member institutions carry on many diversified activities through the NCAA. For example, they:

- establish and maintain athletic standards.
- formulate and publish the official playing rules for college sports.
- conduct National Collegiate Championship events in 13 sports.
- maintain the official national statistics and records of college sports.
- provide financial and other assistance to groups interested in the promotion and encouragement of intercollegiate and intramural athletics.
- conduct studies as a means of developing solutions to athletic problems; i.e., the recent surveys on television, post-season events, length and time of playing and practice seasons, admission taxes, college baseball, etc.
- participate in the U. S. Olympic and Pan American movements in matters of fund-raising, sports organization and the selection of coaches and athletes for United States teams.
- administer a group insurance program providing catastrophe medical coverage.
- maintain a large film library covering play in National Collegiate Championship events.

The development and expanded activities of the NCAA reflect the progress of intercollegiate athletics over the past half century. The NCAA and its member institutions, in the years ahead, will continue to make every effort to provide maximum opportunities for our youth to enjoy the experience of competitive athletics as an integrated part of their over-all college education.

THE HOME TEAM

Are you for the home team — flying the banner for the free enterprise system — the capitalistic system? Those who are for the home team must have the courage to “speak out” for the greatest economic system the world has ever known. We must have the will power to “speak out” against Federal money when the purposes for which it is to be used are unsound, uneconomical, and socialistic.
