North Carolina handed Florida State one of its worst baseball drubbing this season here Saturday as the Seminoles absorbed their second consecutive defeat in as many days coming out on the short end of a 12-1 score.

North Carolina State trounced the hapless charges of Coach Fred Hatfield in Raleigh Friday by a 7-2 decision.

The Seminoles, now sporting a 15-5 record, look for better things in the familiar confines of their Tallahassee surroundings.

FSU had one of its sadder outings in recent days Friday when six Tribe hurlers gave up a season high total of seven bases on balls as the Seminoles made four miscues afield.
