

FSU wins volleyball tourney

KNOXVILLE — One streak came to an end, but another continued as the Florida State volleyball team captured the Lady Vol Invitational Saturday.

FSU defeated host Tennessee in the tournament finals for its third tournament victory this season. But the Lady Seminoles saw their consecutive-game victory streak come to an end in the finals. In defeating the Lady Volunteers, 15-9, 15-11, 10-15 and 15-12, FSU's string of 37 straight game victories ended in the third game.

But in winning the tournament, FSU kept alive its streak of 15 consecutive match victories. FSU had not lost since Minnesota defeated it Oct. 3 in the Southwest Missouri Invitational.

FSU senior Barbara Mellen and sophomore co-captain Sally Summer were named to the all-tournament team.

FSU plays Eastern Kentucky today at 3 p.m. in Richmond, Ky, before traveling to Lexington for a match with Kentucky Monday night.
