Dr. Marshall

If ever there is an element of the unknown in collegiate football, it is present when a new coach sends a young team on to the field. When Darrell Mudra came to Florida State as Head Coach last winter, it was not to inherit a veteran team with a winning record. It was to restore and rebuild—to recover the winning tradition to which those of us at Florida State have become accustomed.

From all reports Coach Mudra is just what we needed, and from my personal observations of the man and his management of the team, I am convinced that the reports were well founded.

The 1974 Seminoles want to win. They have worked hard to master new strategies of play introduced by Coach Mudra and his able young coaching staff. Many of the players you will see in action this year are new—some are freshmen. They will be full of surprises. But the returning players will surprise you too. They have added the sharp edge of superior training and conditioning to their ability and previous experience.

The challenge of '74 is evident in the roster of teams the Seminoles will play this season. We welcome that challenge and look forward to renewing the fun and excitement of football in each new contest. Regardless of the final outcome of the games, I know that the Seminoles will give their best efforts, and with that committment we are ready for 1974.

Those of us in the stands—alumni, students, faculty, staff, friends, and Seminole Boosters have an important role to play. The energy emanating from a full stadium of loyal, appreciative fans cannot be overestimated as a factor in the morale of a team and its willingness to push for the extra yard, the all-but-impossible play, and the winning margin. In short, the fans have a share in the success of every team. We look forward to making that difference at every home contest.

Let's show our young Seminoles and their coaches that they have our full confidence and our full support.

Sincerely,
Stanley Marshall
President

... Welcome To The South's Friendliest Campus

When the Seminary West of the Suwannee was founded in 1857, no one guessed that it would eventually become a large state university with a student enrollment of over 20,000.

But from that small school for men, Florida State University evolved as one of the largest state institutions of higher learning in Florida and from its Gothic entranceway, has grown westward, sprinkling its skyline with modern, highrise architecture.

The University's 14 schools and colleges include Arts and Sciences, Business, Social Sciences, Criminology, Communication, Nursing, Social Work, Library Science, Home Economics, Education, Theatre, Law, Music and Visual Arts. Within these fields there are 52 doctoral programs and more than 80 bachelor's and master's degree programs. Funds for University research totaled some $13 million in 1973-74, resulting in many projects having practical applications for Florida's industries, environment and social welfare.

With a staff of over 7,000 employees, including more than 1,300 faculty members, the University has an operating budget of $77 million, which includes funds from state, federal and private sources.

Florida State was one of the first universities in the nation to have its affirmative action plan approved by the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The University actively strives to build a community in which opportunity is equalized and uses its facilities and human resources to develop the skills and opportunities of the members of all groups so they may play responsible and productive roles in society.

Polk County Scholarship House

Cooperative Living For Education

Florida State's most unique scholarship program — one where students help themselves through college — is in the middle of an expansion program that will double its ability to offer aid to deserving students.

Southern Scholarship & Research Foundation

The Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation (SSRF) provides housing for students who then do all their own cooking and cleaning, thus saving a considerable amount of money.

Two years ago the Foundation traded three lots of land around the campus to the University for a seven-acre site on Stadium Drive. Plans are to build at least 14 new scholarship houses there.

At the present time the SSRF owns 14 old homes around the campus which have been converted into scholarship houses. An average of 15 students lives in each house, none of which was designed for cooperative living and life in them is often hectic.

In January the Foundation will open its first new house, the Polk County Scholarship House, which will accommodate 27 students, including a graduate student and a head resident.

This weekend the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Foundation is being held in Tallahassee. They are guests of President Stanley Marshall in his box during this football game.

New board members this year include Wayne Cook, Ms. Anne Burnette, Elliot Messer, Jimmy Carr, J. Vern Williamson and Bill Jameson, all of Tallahassee, and Dr. Hugh Adams, president of Broward Community College in Ft. Lauderdale.

William H. Bevis is president and Dr. Marshall Hamilton is vice president. Both are from Tallahassee. Executive director is Dr. Don Veller.

"The new scholarship house to open in two months is the realization of a longtime dream of many thoughful and sympathetic citizens of Polk County," said Dr. Veller.

He explained that the Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation is not tax supported but depends entirely on private contributions of cash, property, bequests, memorials and other gifts — particularly from those who believe in the work ethic.

The original philosophy of the Foundation, which was begun in 1950, was that society should not lose the potential of highly promising youth merely because their parents, for various reasons, could not afford to send them to college.

There are many unique aspects of the SSRF which make it impressingly different from other scholarship programs. Here are a few:

- * In lieu of cash assistance, the Foundation provides rent free, furnished houses to highly intelligent, but financially deprived, students who reduce their expenses by buying their own groceries cooperatively, taking turns cooking, washing dishes, doing housework and laundry and maintaining the house for future use.
- * If a student does not uphold the ideals of good citizenship, he or she may be dismissed from the program.

On target for a January opening

- * The houses are inspected regularly for cleanliness, sanitation and general decorum.
- * The cooperative living aspect provides excellent opportunities for sharing and learning to live in a give-and-take democratic society.
- * By virtue of the "no-cash-to-students" concept, a donor's contribution to this Foundation goes farther than under most scholarship plans because the same money can be used year after year.

Contributions may be sent to Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation, P.O. Box 2372, Tallahassee, Fla. 32304.

Students "Rest Easier" With New Furnishings

Students attending Florida State University on the Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation program will now be able to rest easier — literally, thanks to a new shipment of furniture from a long-standing friend.

The SSRF, the state's most unique scholarship program, is chartered as a charitable foundation and is therefore dependent on contributions from individuals and organizations. Badcock Furniture Company of Mulberry, Fla., has been a major contributor over the past several years, donating some $10,000 in household furnishings annually.

Items such as dryers, refrigerators, stoves, television sets, sofas, chairs and desks will be distributed among the 14 scholar-ship houses located adjacent to the campus. Presently, there are 250 students occupying the houses.

"We are extremely grateful to organizations such as Badcock Furniture," said Dr. Don Veller, executive director of SSRF and professor of physical education, health and recreation. "Through this generosity and that of individuals, many talented young people attend Florida State and receive the education they wouldn't otherwise get."

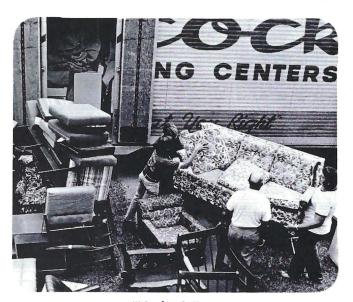

Since its inception in 1950, some 4,000 student-scholars have attended Florida State through the help of SSRF.

The Foundation's program is essentially a joint, work-scholarship plan in which students live in rent-free houses, purchase and prepare their own food, share in household duties and accept the responsibility for maintaining high grade averages.

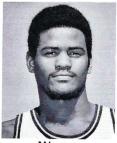

To be considered for a scholarship an applicant must have an outstanding academic average in high school or junior college and be recommended by school officials and community leaders as having demonstrated outstanding integrity and citizenship and be unable to attend college without substantial outside financial help.

Although no monetary aid is given these students, on the average they save approximately $1,200 per year per student.

Recently, the SSRF completed a land swap with Florida State which will enable it to build 15 new houses for another 300 students, providing funds become available.

"Moving In"

Seminole Basketball THE ACTION GAME

The theme this year is "The Action Game" and the Seminoles are "Thinking Big." The goal is neither startling, nor unreasonable — National ranking and a post season tournament bid.

Head Coach Hugh Durham will field a team that looks young on paper, inasmuch as there is only one senior among the top 12 players. However, the team will not be inexperienced.

The Seminoles return six of the top eight players from last season and a total of seven lettermen. Bolstering this nucleus is another talented group of freshmen and transfers.

Among the leading returnees are juniors Larry Warren, who led the Seminoles in scoring last season with a 16.9 average, Greg Grady, who averaged 10.6 points and 9.6 rebounds as the Tribe's high post man, and Zach Perkins, who was a most valuable "sixth man" averaging 8.8 points and 8.0 rebounds while substituting at both post spots.

Last year's fabulous freshman trio of Eugene Harris, Carlton Byrd and Wayne Smalls returns to give the Seminoles a solid collection Counted on for big contributions in the year ahead are sophomore Bob Chassee and senior John Harrison, both of whom will fill in at the post spots.

The Seminoles have been working since Oct. 15 in preparation for next week's opener. Except for a few minor injuries the preseason practices have gone smoothly. There have been several bright spots, including the emergence of freshmen Harry Davis, Mark Gilbert, Hank Mann, and Mark Brodie plus junior college transfer Bruce Boyd who all appear ready to make a contribution Another performer making his presence known is transfer James Smith. However, he will have to sit out this season under NCAA regulations.

The Seminole schedule will provide a good test, while not being overbearing. Among the top contests will be games with Louisville, Memphis State, Marshall, Ohio University, Illinois State, Purdue, Canisius, New Mexico and Jacksonville.

Only one tournament is on tap for regular season play, but it is one of the better ones with Purdue, Louisville and Western Kentucky at the Holiday Classic in Louisville.

The big home slate, which should be an advantage for the Seminoles, includes games against Illinois State (Dec. 3), Marshall (Dec. 7), Louisville (Dec. 14), Cal State Bakersfield (Dec. 18), Ohio University (Dec. 21), Eastern Kentucky (Jan. 4), Wisconsin-Milwaukee (Jan. 7), Biscayne (Jan. 11), Hofstra (Jan. 18), UT Chattanooga (Feb. 1), Jacksonville (Feb. 6), Georgia State (Feb. 13), Georgia Southern (Feb. 22), Mercer (Feb. 24) and South Florida (Feb. 28).

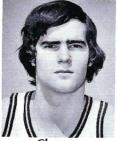

Season tickets for all 16 games are still available for $42 — that's less than $2.63 a game. They will be sold at the Athletic Ticket Office all next week (9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) and also before Saturday's season opener.

The Last Word

Seminole action is fast and mean. Takes exceptional men to climb in there with it, let alone keep it sorted out. But Times Sports' grid wranglers have the belly for it. And when they've put their words and pictures together, there's nothing more to say. For the best, most colorfully complete coverage of FSU football, read Florida's Best Newspaper.

Head Coach Darrell Mudra

Darrell Mudra is a winner!

He is the man Florida State University has picked to lead the Seminoles out of the wilderness of defeat.

One of Coach Mudra's strongest selling points was the fact that he has turned football programs around with almost instant success, something Florida State desperately needs.

The 44-year-old Omaha, Neb., native came to Florida State from Western Illinois with extremely high recommendations. "Darrell Mudra is one of the outstanding football coaches in the country," says former Nebraska Head Coach Bob Devaney, now that school's athletic director. "He has been able to win wherever he has gone and in many cases despite great obstacles."

Tommy Prothro, ex-college coaching standout, now boss of the San Diego Chargers, is another who thinks Mudra was the man for the Florida State job. "I believe Darrell Mudra is a very, very superior coach. I would have been surprised if any candidate for the Florida State job was the caliber of Darrell Mudra."

Coach Mudra's record speaks for itself. He has turned five losers into big winners. In 15 years of college coaching, the soft-spoken educator has recorded 106 victories against only 32 losses and two ties.

Mudra attended Peru State College in Nebraska where he was an all-conference halfback. He received a masters degree from Omaha University and his doctorate from Colorado State. He served in the Air Force during 1950 and '51.

He was an assistant coach at Hurron (S.D.) and Colorado State before becoming head coach at Adams State, Alamosa, Colo., in 1959. The previous season Adams State had gone 1-9 but in Mudra's first year the Colorado school gained eight victories against one loss. In four seasons there, Mudra-coached teams never lost more than two games in a single year and he lead the Indians to a bowl game.

In 1963, he moved to North Dakota State, a team which had been 0-10 the previous year. In three seasons his records were 3-5, 10-1, and 11-0, including two bowl games.

The next challenge was the Montreal club of the Canadian professional league. In 1965 the Alouettes were 3-11 but under Mudra in '66 they went 7-7 and made the playoffs.

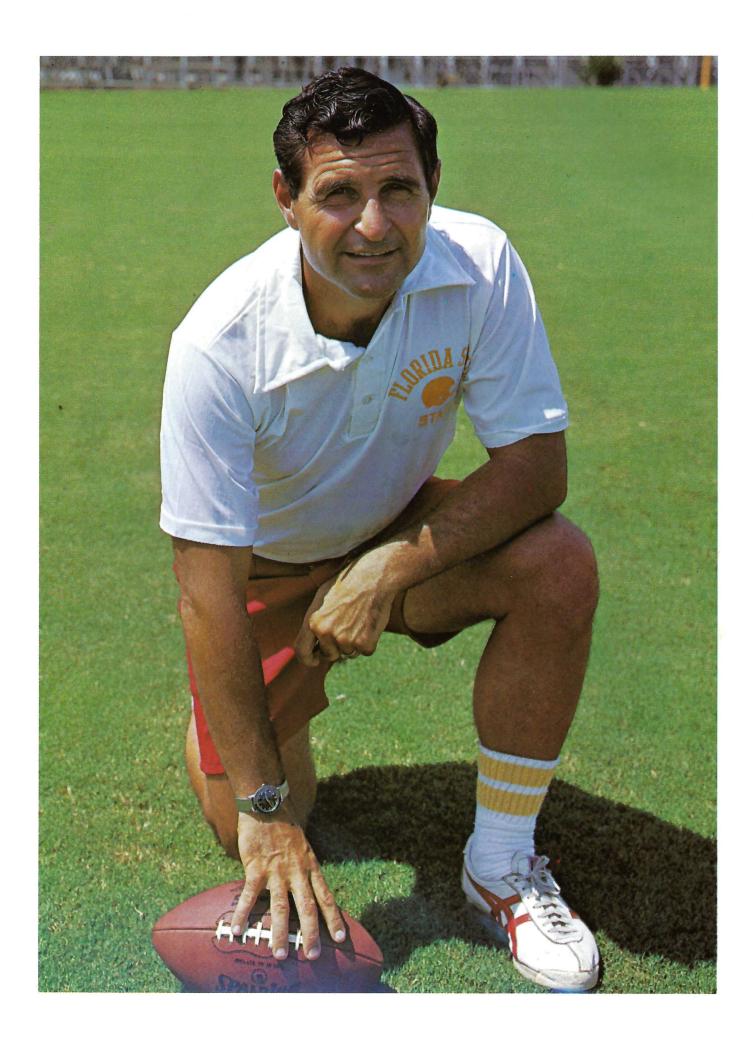

The University of Arizona was the next program Mudra turned around. It took him two seasons to do this, but in the second year he directed the Wildcats to an 8-3 record and a spot in the Sun Bowl.

Western Illinois gained his services in 1969 and in five years at the McComb institution Mudra's clubs went 39-13.

Coach Mudra is married to the former Jean Marie King of Omaha, Neb. They are the parents of four children, Darrell Jr., 20; Stephen, 19; Sherry, 18; and Michele, 14.

The Star Spangled Banner

O, say! can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and home of the brave?

SUPPORT . . .

THE SEMINOLES

SEMINOLE BOOSTERS, INC.

One of the most fundamental programs within any athletic department is that of providing funds to pay the educational expenses of the student-athletes participating in all sports. Through voluntary support, the Seminole Boosters, Inc. hope to provide such support.

"Now is the time for friends and alumni of Florida State to pull together," says Doyle Pope, Chairman of the Board of Directors. "The potential of the University is tremendous. Through Seminole Boosters, we hope to organize the thousands of those who are concerned with building the best athletic program in the nation."

Seminole Boosters, Inc., a private Corporation, is made up of member representatives from throughout the Southeast. In addition to Chairman Pope of Quincy, other members of the Executive Committee are Jimmy Carter, Panama City, Treasurer; Don Grant, Perry, Secretary; John Harllee, Bradenton; Theo Proctor, Jr., Tallahassee; Charles Booth, Orlando; and Harry Massey, Palm Beach.

Individuals interested in more information concerning the Seminole Boosters, Inc. should contact Executive Director Ted Ouzts, P.O. Box 1353, Tallahassee, FL 32301 or call 904/644-3484.

KEEP YOUR OWN STATISTICS

Every football fan knows that the score doesn't always give a good picture of a game. A few statistics, like those that can be kept on this page, can make the picture clearer, show what the individual stars contribute and help to win post-game "debates." Besides, it can be fun to second guess the official scorer whose statistics will appear in tomorrow's papers. But before you start, here are some pointers on being a statistician:

- 1. Keep cumulative totals to be informed "up to the minute" and to simplify our figuring of team totals. Example: Jones gains 3, 6, 9, 2 yards and you write 3, 9, 18, 20 on his line.
- 2. Be satisfied if you come within 10-15 yards of the official team totals. Individual judgments as to the line of scrimmage can make quite a difference in the totals.

- 3. Remember that it takes 10 yards to make a first down—that last inch can be as important as a yard and must be scored as one. Wait until the official places the ball and then go by the official down/yard marker on the sidelines.
- 4. Be sure to credit first downs on scoring plays originating from lines of scrimmage beyond the 10-yard line.
- 5. On plays involving penalties measured from the point of the foul, credit the rusher or pass receiver with yardage only to the point of the infraction.
- 6. Charge gains and losses on fumbles to the player who, in your judgment, contributed most to the error.
- 7. Don't score two-point conversion attempts after touchdowns as rushing or passing plays.

ECONOMY, PLUS LIBERAL FRING

Good gas mileage is still the thing you want most in a little car, of course. But we know you'd like more.
Like sporty looks and colors and models to choose from.

Bucket seats that fit you comfortably.

Nice soft carpeting.

A floor-mounted shift control and an instrument panel with dials and gauges instead of flashing lights. Really good handling.

An engine with a little bit of varroom going for it.

A rear seat that folds down and a rear door that opens up, so you can use your little car almost like a station wagon.

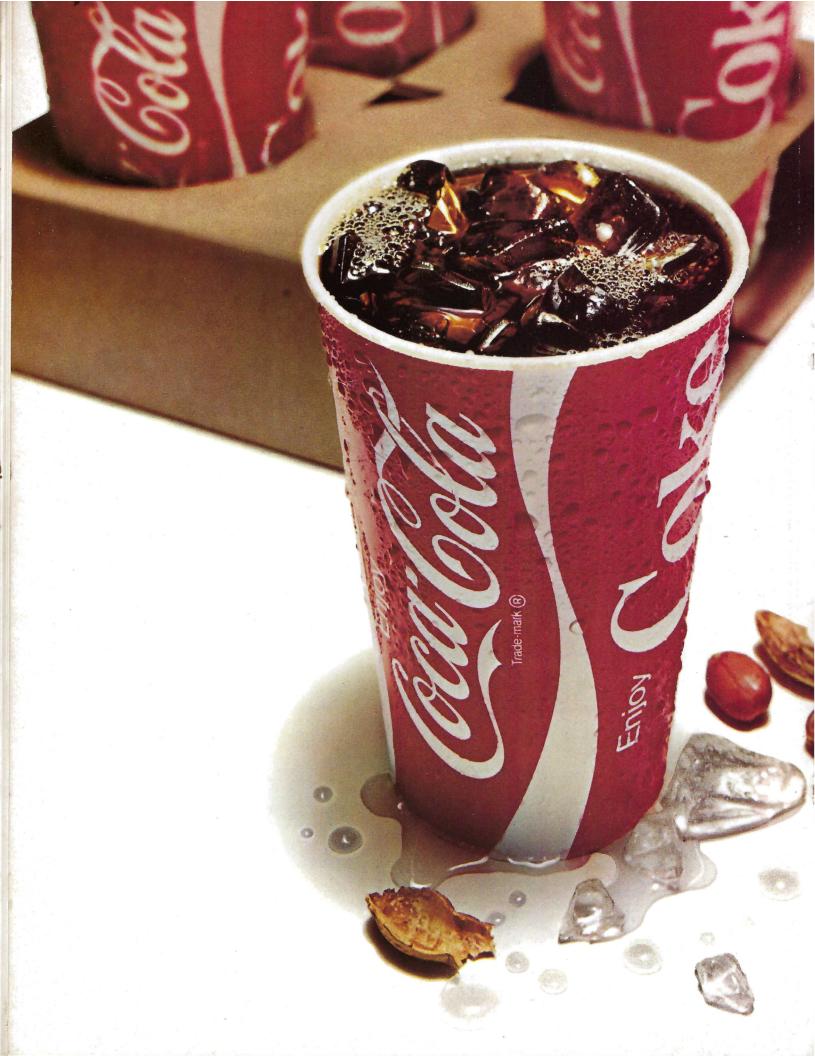

The Vega GT.

An economy car-and-a-half.

Football Terminology

Audible — A vocal signal by the quarterback changing the play called in the huddle.

Blitz — Commitment by defensive backs and/or linebackers to rush the passer.

Blocking — Legally hindering the progress of an opponent by contacting him with any part of the blocker's body.

Bomb — A long pass attempt for a touchdown.

Buttonhook — A pass pattern in which the receiver goes downfield and U-turns back sharply to receive the ball.

Clipping — Running or diving into the back of an opponent, or throwing the body across the back of the leg or legs of an opponent other than the ball carrier.

Corner Back — Defensive back who usually lines up across from wide receiver.

Dive-Tackle Play — A quick-handoff running play over tackle.

Draw-Play — Quarterback drops back as if to pass but instead hands ball to running back, after quarterback's teammates have assumed pass-blocking positions.

Fair Catch — The opportunity for a player of the receiving team to catch a kicked ball that has crossed the scrimmage line without being tackled or blocked by an opponent, after signaling his intention by completely extending one arm above his head.

Flanker — Offensive back deployed as a wide receiver. Must line up one yard behind line of scrimmage.

Free Safety — Same as weak safety.

Fullback — A running back who usually lines up behind strong side of the offensive line.

Kickoff — A free kick with which each half is opened, and which is employed also following each try-for-point or Field Goal. A kickoff must be either a Placekick or a Dropkick.

Lateral Pass — A live ball thrown toward or parallel with the passer's own goal line.

Linebacker — A defensive player operating immediately behind his line where he can either aid linemen in stopping a running play or cover an opponent's receiver if a pass develops.

Look-In Pass — Receiver runs straight pattern and looks for the ball immediately over his inside shoulder.

Man-to-Man Coverage — Pass defense plan wherein defensive backs cover receivers wherever they go, rather than field areas.

Middle Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the opposing center.

Mike — Nickname for middle linebacker.

Monster — Same as strong safety.

Neutral Zone — The space between the scrimmage lines of the offense and defense. Approximately 11 inches

Nose Guard — Defensive lineman who lines up directly in front of opposing center on line of scrimmage.

Onside Kick — A kickoff that travels 10 yards or more is anybody's ball. The so-called "onside kick" is an effort by the kicking team to kick the ball barely beyond 10 yards and recover it before the receiving team can do so.

Pocket — Area of protection for the passer formed by blockers. Passer drops straight back from scrimmage behind the blocking shield into what resembles a "cup" or pocket.

Post — A pass pattern in which the receiver goes downfield to pre-determined depth then cuts at an angle toward the goalposts.

Prevent Defense — A strategem replacing line-backers with additional backfield pass defenders, sacrificing strength against short gainers in order to prevent a long pass completion. Most often employed by a team protecting a lead late in either half.

Pulling Guard — Guard who pulls out behind scrimmage line for a trap block or to lead sweep blocking for ball carrier.

Reverse Play — A running play with backfield action suggesting one direction while ball carrier goes in opposite direction.

Roll-Out Pass — Quarterback runs laterally with blockers before throwing, instead of dropping straight back to pass.

Running Back — Member of the offensive backfield who primarily carries the ball. Also used as a receiver and blocker. Can be either tailback or fullback.

Sam - Nickname for strong linebacker.

Screen Pass — Pass to a receiver behind a wall of blockers, who have permitted defenders to penetrate.

Scrimmage Line — The yard line (marked or unmarked) that passes through point of the ball nearest a team's own goal line.

Slot Back — Back stationed in slot between interior linemen and end. Must be one yard behind the line of scrimmage.

Split End — Offensive lineman deployed as a wide receiver. Must line up on line of scrimmage.

Strong Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the strong side of the offensive line.

Strong Guard — Offensive guard playing on the strong side of the line.

Strong Safety — Defensive back who usually lines up deeper than corner backs and across from strong side of offensive line.

Strong Side — The side of the offensive line where the tight end lines up.

Strong Tackle — Offensive tackle playing on the strong side of the line.

Stunting — Defensive players changing positions as the ball is snapped, to confuse offensive strategy. Sweep — End run with wave of blockers leading the ball carrier.

Tailback — A running back who usually lines up behind the weak side of the line.

Tight End — Offensive end who lines up in close formation (as opposed to Split End's wide set) where he can either block for a ball carrier or be employed as a pass receiver.

Trap Block — Tactic whereby offensive lineman pulls out of position at the snap allowing man he would usually block to come through line and be blocked (or "trapped") by another blocker.

Unbalanced Line — Offensive line deployment whereby more blocking linemen are lined up on one side of the center than on the other.

Weak Guard — Offensive guard playing on the weak side of the line.

Weak Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the weak side of the Offensive line.

Weak Safety — Defensive back who usually lines up deeper than corner backs and across from weak side of offensive line.

Wide Receiver — A lineman and/or a back who is set wide for pass receiving purposes. Also called Split End, Flanker or Wideout.

Zone Coverage — Plan of pass defense wherein areas are covered rather than individual receivers. Opposite of Man-To-Man.

Swimming

Swimming is a traditional winner in Florida State's intercollegiate history. Twenty-six years of competition has produced a 189-53-2 record. In other words, 77% of the time Florida State took to the water they won.

Bim Stults built the bulk of that record in twenty-five years as head coach. Only twice in his career did the Seminoles finish with a losing season. And, only six times did they even lose as many as three meets.

During that quarter century of victory, the Seminoles produced nearly two dozen All-Americans. Included are a pair of National Championship awards, one earned by Curt Genders in one meter diving (1969) and the other by Phil Boggs in three meter competition (1971).

The winning tradition is just one part of Florida State's success story. Many former Seminoles have gone on to become outstanding coaches in both high school and college. It's believed that more FSU graduates are now coaching, than from any other school in the country.

Coach Stults retired at the end of the 1973 season and FSU hired Terry Carlisle, assistant swimming coach at the University of Tennessee. Coach Carlisle came with every intention of continuing the winning tradition. He set two major goals for the future: bringing Florida State to National Championship status was one and breaking all standing records was the other.

The 1973 Seminole swimmers hit the water with records in mind and came out with nine new ones. The only swimming records left untouched were the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events both held by All-American Dean Jerger. Three members of the '74 All-American 800-yd Free Relay team return this year and should be the nucleus of an even more balanced squad.

Success for the future looms bright as displayed by the Seminoles at the end of last year's rebuilding effort. Coach Carlisle's swimmers came on strong to push Miami for the National Independent Championship title.

This season challenges Carlisle's second team with the toughest schedule in F.S.U.'s swimming history. Thirteen returning lettermen will be called on to providing the leadership needed to face teams the caliber of Tennessee, Florida, Miami, Alabama and North Carolina.

The Seminoles will be taking to the water at home for their first three meets opening the season Dec. 14 at the Union Aquatic Center against South Florida. After a break for the Holidays, they get back into action Jan. 4 against North Carolina, then comes a Jan. 11 date against state rival Florida.

The heart of the schedule falls in a 14-day period from Jan. 25 to Feb. 8 with four extremely tough meets. A triangular meet with Alabama and Miami (Jan. 25) in Tallahassee followed by a big dual meet (Jan. 31) against Tennessee kick off the two week period.

Then comes a Feb. 1 meet against Auburn here before winding up with a return dual meet at Florida Feb. 8.

Two "top 10" teams and four in the "top 20" from last year's NCAA Championships are included in this year's schedule. The Seminoles believe that if they compete with the best from the beginning they will have a better chance of being among the best in the four big championships at the end of the season.

Those championships include the National Independent's (Mar. 6-8) Region 4 AAU's (Mar. 15-16), NCAA Championships (Mar. 27-29) and National AAU's (Apr. 10-13).

Marching Chiefs

Reflections on the Past Season

This evening, I depart from the traditional format of this page of the football program. Instead of presenting an outline of the pre-game and half time performances as has been the case in the past, I would like to take this opportunity to reflect upon the past season of the Marching Chiefs.

It seems as if September 9th was only vesterday, when in actuality it was over two months ago. The veteran members of the Marching Chiefs returned for pre season practice, rich in the memories of a trip that saw them performing at the International Trade Exposition, in Damascus, Syria, and before King Hussien and other dignitaries in Amman, Jordan. These 150 old members were met upon their arrival for practice by the faces of the future, a talented group of over 140 musicians who hoped to earn their place in the ranks of the Marching Chiefs. And so, for a period of one week, old and new members competed, hoping to become one of the 234 marching members of Chiefs.

With the nucleus of the band selected, the staff and members turned their attention to the urgent task of preparing both pre game and half time shows for the season just ahead. To practice, practice, and practice, striving all the while for perfection, which down through the years has been a hallmark of the Chiefs performances. Under the watchful eye of Mr. Richard D. Mayo, a fair performance becomes an excellent one and finally, superior. With musical arrangements provided by one of the nation's best arrangers, Mr. Charles Carter, you some how felt that you had an advantage over any college band in the nation everytime you stepped on to the field.

All too suddenly the season seems to have vanished. The memories of each weeks performance seem to fade, but always there are the memories that can never be forgotten. The six home games and the two performances in Auburn and Miami, bring back pleasant thoughts of one type or another to everyone. For some members of the Chiefs the memories of this year and the past will have to span a life time, for this is their final year as a Chief. For others, there still is the future in which to build upon that which they have already experienced.

FSU FOOTBALL FLASHBACK

A Look at Florida State Games, 5, 10, and 25 Years Ago This Week

1969

Florida State 33 N. C. State 22

TALLAHASSEE (Nov. 22, 1969)—ABC called this one their "wild card game" and it was a wild, wild one. The first three series resulted in scores and TV fans really got their monies' worth.

A four-yard Bill Cappleman to Jim Tyson pass kicked off the scoring. The Wolfpack came back with a field goal only to have the Seminoles retaliate with another touchdown, this one by James Jarrett.

N C State cut the lead to three when Gary Yount scampered 24 yards with a Cappleman interception but the Tribe added ten points before the end of the half.

Big defensive tackle Frank Vohun made the play every tackle dreams about when he intercepted a pass and lumbered 22 yards into the end zone. He refused to give up the ball after the score, forcing Guthrie to kick a 35-yard extra point. At the close of the half, Guthrie booted a mere 31-yard field goal to give the Seminoles a 23-10 advantage.

In the third period Phil Abriara took a Yount punt on his eight and streaked 92 yards down the sideline for a touchdown. It was the longest in Florida State history.

The Wolfpack scored once in the third quarter and again in the fourth period while the Seminoles wound up their scoring on a 25-yard field goal by Guthrie.

Despite the score, it was not a big offensive show. The Seminoles had 243 total yards to 244 for the Wolfpack. Cappleman passed for 149 yards on 13 completions. Bailey was the leading rusher with 44 yards and again Tyson was the leading receiver with six receptions.

Florida State 16 Florida 7

TALLAHASSEE (Nov. 21, 1964)—The largest crowd ever to see a football game here watched Florida State's Seminoles win their first game over cross-state rival Florida.

It was a red-letter day for Seminoles as the team dominated every phase of play and unanimously accepted a Gator Bowl invitation following the victory.

Steve Tensi riddled Florida's pass defense—first in the nation at the time —for 190 yards on 11 completions in 22 attempts.

Don Floyd was his favorite receiver with seven receptions for 85 yards. Fred Biletnikoff caught two for 78 yards, one a back-breaking 55-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter.

Heroes were numerous, not the least of which was Les Murdock who kicked field goals of 24, 36 and 40 yards to ice the game for the Seminoles.

Wayne Giardino and Phil Spooner gained 72 and 71 yards respectively. Each totaled more than the entire Gator effort on the ground.

Jack Shinholser's play in the middle of the line was so outstanding he was named "Lineman of the Week" by the Associated Press.

Dick Hermann played the greatest game of his career, making 13 tackles and assisting of six others.

The Seminoles made 15 first downs to eight for Florida and outgained the Gators 332 to 244.

Florida's touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a six-yard run by Jack Harper and made the score 13-7.

The Gators' onside kick was recovered by guard Larry Williamson at the Florida 49. A Tensi pass to Floyd good for 27 yards set up Murdock's final field goal—a 40-yard kick into the wind with 6:42 remaining.

Florida State 34 Tampa 7

(From Tallahassee Democrat Reports)

PHILLIPS FIELD, TAMPA (Nov. 19, 1949—Florida State climaxed a meteoric three-year ascension through the ranks of the state college football teams Friday night, by downing the University of Tampa, 34-7, then accepting a bid to play in the Fourth Annual Cigar Bowl here, Ian. 2.

In just their third season of modern-day intercollegiate football, the Seminoles are sitting in the middle of a post season classic. The official invitation was extended by Rex Farrior, chairman of the Shrine's selection committee and well known state's attorney.

Head Coach Don Veller accepted the bid. It had been cleared by the school's athletic committee and accepted by a unanimous vote of the players earlier in the week after the Tampa authorities sent an "inquiry" of availability.

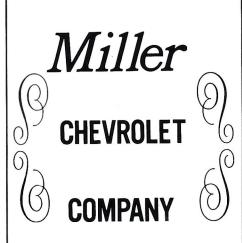

The win over Tampa raised the Seminoles record to 7-1 for the season and clinched their second straight Dixie Conference crown.

The Seminoles broke the game open with three second period touchdowns, then salted the big victory away with two more scores in the fourth stanza. The running of fleet footed Red Parrish and the passing of Buddy Strauss and Dick Peterson set up or scored four of the five Seminole touchdowns.

Parrish picked up 101 yards on 13 carries, scoring one TD on a 20 yard run and setting up a second on a 23-yard scamper to the two yard line.

Strauss completed four passes for 131 yards, one of them a 69-yard scoring strike to Norman Eubanks and another for 28 yards to set up a second score.

Bill Dawkins and Dub Kendrick paced the Seminoles' forward wall. Ted Hewitt and Ralph Chaudron sparked the secondary. Chaudron alone stole three Tampa passes.

EDDIE FEELY Varsity Offensive Assistant

Eddie is one of three assistants retained by Coach Darrell Mudra. The former Seminole quarterback joined the previous staff last spring after leading his Merritt Island High School team to the State 4A championship.

Feely's jayvee team scored a 27-7 victory over Florida in 1973.

Eddie played his final season for the Seminoles in 1962 and began his prep coaching career following graduation in 1963. After one year as an assistant

He led his Merritt Island teams to the State playoffs in 1970, '71 and '72, winning the title with a 13-0 record on his final try. In 1971 his club had an 11-0 record before losing to eventual champion Fort Pierce Central and in 1970 he was eliminated by state champ Tallahassee Leon.

At Florida State, Feely was the last scrambler style quarterback to direct the Seminoles before Steve Tensi ushered in the pro-style, dropback quarterback, the trademark of Florida State's defense.

Eddie and his wife Myra Lou, a former Florida State cheerleader, have four children.

SAM ELLIOTT Offensive Backs

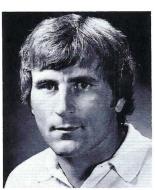

Sam comes to the Seminoles from Kent State where he coached under Don James, a former Florida State

The California native was at Kent State three seasons during which the football program became a winner. In 1972, Kent won the Mid-American Conference title and gained a berth in the Tangerine Bowl. In 1973, the Golden Flashes were again in contention for the title.

Elliott served as a graduate assistant at Florida State in 1969 after performing in the same capacity at his alma mater, Ohio State, for one year. During his coaching stint with the Buckeyes, Ohio State played in the Rose Bowl.

During his playing days, he lettered three seasons as a defensive back, being selected the Buckeyes' captain in his senior year.

Sam, 27, is married to the former Judy Wuille of Columbus, Ohio.

After three years as head coach in North Carolina high schools, he went to Jackson-ville where he was offensive coordinator at Wolfson High. He became head coach and athletic director at Lake Wales High School in 1968 before coming to Florida State. In college, Mike was the Lenoir Rhyne captain in 1963 and voted the team's most valuable player.

Wake Forest Finds Japanese Friends

by MEL DERRICK

"Sayonara," he said. "Domo arigato gozaimasu. Subarashi."

Back came the reply from a Japanese. Same words. Different language. "Goodbye. Thank you very much. It was wonderful."

It was the final link in the bonds of friendship which were forged on Wake Forest's 13-day goodwill tour of Japan last January—an American saying farewell in Japanese; a Japanese repeating the words in English.

Football Friendship

And, somehow, it was typical of the entire trip—young college players, bridging 8,000 miles and centuries of culture, becoming friends through football.

The Deacons played two games in Japan, beating the Osaka All-Stars 28-3 and the Tokyo All-Stars 35-0. The victories were expected . . . and unimportant.

Expected because Japanese football is approximately on the same level as high school football in the U.S. Unimportant because the games were just a few hours of competition in almost two weeks of beautiful memories . . .

This symbol was the result of a joint effort by Wake Forest and the Japanese teams it played on the trip to the Far East.

Wake Forest and Japanese players standing at attention as the national anthem of each country was played . . . hugging each other after the games . . . exchanging presents . . . swapping jerseys . . . taking pictures of each other cheering each other . . . trying out each other's language . . . speaking in broken phrases but getting the message across.

"It was," says Frank Mariana, a middle guard, summing it up for the rest of the Deacons, "the greatest experience in my life."

Each player paid his own way on the tour. He had to come up with $400 cash, then find a sponsor to take care of the rest. All told, there were some 50 players and coaches, and some 100 members of the Deacon Club, Wake's athletic booster organization.

Hop Scotch

The tour included stops in Anchorage, Alaska, Osaka and Tokyo, with side visits to Kyoto, Takarazuka, Kamakura and Enoshima. In Osaka, the players spent three nights in the homes of Japanese players, living native style, eating native food, visiting areas of the city few foreigners see. Certain moments stand out . . .

... Doc Martin, the Wake Forest trainer, taping ankles in his hotel room while a Kabuki drama played on the television set.

. . . National Stadium in Tokyo, where the track and field events of the 1964 Olympics were held, the football crowd of 25,000 almost lost among the 80,000 seats but a Japanese official gazing up and saying, "This is wonderful; this is the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Japan, bigger than even our national championship game."

... The boiling hot Japanese baths ... raw fish and dried squid ... pachinko (pinball machine) parlors ... Kyoto and its temples and shrines ... the unbelievably packed subway trains in Tokyo ... Kamikaze taxi drivers ... the giant Buddha at Kamakura ... the Lone Ranger on TV speaking Japanese. "Hayaku, Silversan!" Heigh-yo, Silver!

The bonds of friendship will continue. Tom Ikaku, who captained Kwansei Gakuin to the Japanese national championship two years ago, will serve as a graduate assistant coach at Wake Forest this fall. "I hope," he said that final day in Tokyo, "to make as many friends in your country as you made in mine."

With seven of 11 lettermen returning from last year's 18-8 squad, plus 16 big home games lined up for the season, Coach Hugh Durham views the 1974-75 campaign with "guarded optimism." At the very least it should be one of the biggest and most exciting for Seminole fans in recent seasons. With the 16 home games, the Seminoles will be playing before the home folks more than ever before and the schedule includes a solid lineup of top teams, including Marshall, Louisville, Jacksonville and Eastern Kentucky. Among the returning veterans are postmen Greg Grady and Zach Perkins, wingmen Larry Warren and Wayne Smalls and pointmen Eugene Harris and Carlton Byrd, all of whom thrilled Seminole fans last season.
