1876 was one of football's great years

(In a thriller, Yale edged Harvard 1-0, and Anheuser-Busch came out with Budweiser!)

Since then, more fans have razed refs, prayed for long bombs, braved blizzards, second-guessed coaches, ogled cheerleaders, waved pennants, counted backwards from 10, and roared "Dee-fense, Dee-fense" with Budweiser than with any other beer in the world.

Beechwood Aged Budweiser: The King of Beers. for 100 years.

SALUTES JOHN BRIDGERS

PUTTING A NETWORK OF RADIO STATIONS TOGETHER TO CARRY COLLEGE FOOTBALL IS NO EASY ASSIGNMENT. WE AT BUDWIESER JUST THOUGHT YOU'D LIKE TO KNOW THAT THE STRONG LINEUP OF STATIONS CARRYING THE FSU STORY WAS A DIRECT RESULT OF AN INTENSIVE PERSONAL EFFORT BY FSU ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, JOHN BRIDGERS.

SURE WE'D LIKE TO HAVE YOU HERE FOR EVERY GAME; BUT, IF THAT'S NOT POSSIBLE, JUST TAKE A LOOK AT THE STATIONS CARRYING ALL THE ACTION OF FSU FOOTBALL:

GOLDEN CHIEFS

A group of nineteen individuals and companies has formed a new, super division of the Seminole Boosters, The Golden Chiefs. These dedicated supporters of the FSU athletic program say the purpose of the new organization is to provide additional funds for the athletic program and to help fill Doak Campbell Stadium for every home game. A later, more ambitious goal of the group is to eventually expand the seating capacity of the stadium.

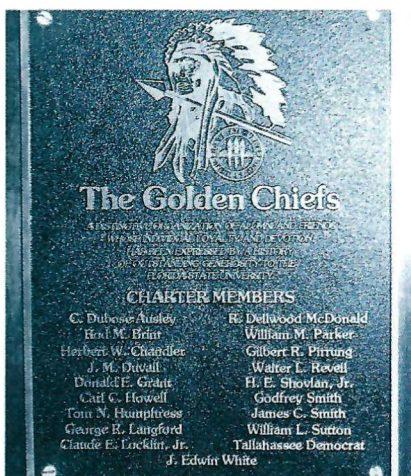

Displayed prominently on the railroad car, and also inside it, the proud insignia of The Golden Chiefs.

The nineteen charter members of the group all donated $5,000 to the athletic program. Additionally, they pay all their own expenses for trips to away games, etc.

Prior to each game, a reception is held for the members in a refurbished 1915 railroad car located on the west side of Doak Campbell stadium. The car was obtained, as Golden Chief George Langford phrased it, "...through the graciousness of Seaboard Coastline railroad." At the reception the Chiefs wear their gold blazers with the special Golden Chief insignia. Following the pre-game reception they move to the President's Box in the stadium where each member has two reserved seats.

Chairman of The Golden Chiefs this year is William M. Parker of Clearwater. Other charter members are (in alphabetical order): C. Dubose Ausley, Rod M. Brim, Herbert W. Chandler, J. M. Duvall, Donald E. Grant, Carl C. Howell, Tom N. Humphress, George R. Langford, Claude E. Locklin, Jr., R. Dellwood McDonald, Gilbert R. Pirrung, Walter L. Revell, H. E. Shovlan, Jr., Godfrey Smith, James C. Smith, William L. Sutton, The Tallahassee Democrat and J. Edwin White.

A handsome plaque inside the headquarters railroad car lists the names of all 19 charter members of The Golden Chiefs. It reads, "A distinctive organization of Alumni and friends whose individual loyalty and devotion has been expressed by a history of outstanding generosity to the Florida State University."

IT BEGINS with BOWDEN!

AND IT HAS BEGUN!

Each issue of SEMINOLE SIDELINE '76 will feature an interview with FSU head football coach Bobby Bowden. How last week's game was played and not played, what the status of the team is, how he sizes up this Saturday's opposing team, where the Seminoles are going.

"Well, this ball game against Florida is going to be a tough ball game, a real tough game, there's no doubt about it in my mind. They've got a great football team; they're on a three game winning streak and we've won two. The Gators have really great quickness and great athletes, it's going to be a tough ball game." That's how Coach Bowden summed up this Saturday night's action earlier this week.

What about individual Gators? Are there any that are particularly impressive?

"No, not especially, 'cause they all look good! It's not a one-man show. They're not like Boston College where we had to stop one man, Glen Capriola, the fullback. But with Florida, uh-uh, they've just got too many good ones you've got to stop . . . they'll beat you with the punt return, they'll beat you with the kickoff return, three of their running backs are also great receivers."

Bowden was asked how the intense rivalry between the two schools affected the game.

"Rivalries, well, that's one time you don't have to get the players up for the game. The players usually get themselves for that ball game, so I think the big thing is not to let the players get themselves too tight, too tense, where they'll give the ball game away . . . I think we've done that some in the past," Bowden said.

Florida Gators lead the series, having won 14 games, lost two and one ended in a tie.

The Head Coach, Doug Dickey, a 1954 graduate of the University of Florida, returned to his alma mater on December 30, 1969, bringing with him credentials as one of the nation's finest, most versatile coaches. Going into this season he had 12 successful years as a head coach. He compiled a record of 86-43-5, had a total of eight football teams going to post-season bowl games, two Southeastern Conference championship teams and was named the conference Coach of the Year twice.

Physically, both teams should be in good shape. No serious injuries to the Seminoles from the Boston College game. The Gators had an open date last week.

Bowden had one final comment to make about tonight's game, "We'll be playing in Tallahassee, thank goodness, and the support of the fans, as always, will mean a lot!"

LAST WEEK, FLORIDA STATE 28,
BOSTON COLLEGE 9

Coach Bowden, with the ever present unlit cigar, talked about last week's game against Boston College with his usual enthusiasm. "I feel good, real good, 'cause anytime you upset somebody that's good,"

Bowden pointed out that the Seminoles went into the game against Boston College anywhere from 10 to 19 point underdogs. He continued, "We were together as a team for this game, the boys all played well . . . they deserved to win that game, they outplayed 'em!"

Bowden went on, "Our kicking game last week was good, the defense played well, the offense certainly cashed in on scoring opportunities . . . that was the big thing, we took advantage of opportunities. For instance, they fumbled six times and we recovered four of those. We cashed in on three of those fumbles to set up touchdowns. We fumbled three times but recovered two of 'em."

Before 23,000 fans, Boston College scored first with two field goals. But, FSU by halftime went ahead 7-6, increased the lead to 14-6 in the third quarter and iced the game with two more touchdowns in the final quarter. When those 23,000 fans went home the scoreboard read: FSU 28 - Boston College 9.

For the fifth straight game, FSU received the opening kickoff, which went into the end zone, and started on the 20. Two long runs by Larry Key brought the ball to the 50 and there the Tribe got off the track and had to kick. From the Boston College 45, Bill Duley boomed one down to the BC 7 yard line.

On BC's first play Rudy Maloy decked Glen Capriola for a loss of two. Capriola came right back with a 17 hard run. Two plays later the big (220 pound) fullback gained 21 yards to the BC 49. Capriola went to the 41 for a first down.

BC, mostly Capriola, drove to the FSU 9 and the "Noles held. BC's Tim Moorman booted a 23-yard field goal to put BC on the board first, 3-0.

From the 20, Key picked up five yards, Mark Lyles got six, Jimmy Black passed to Jackie Flowers to the 43 as the quarter ended. BC 3 - FSU 0.

As the second quarter got underway, Duley punted and it was downed by Joe Joyner inside the BC 1-yard line, a 50-yard kick.

The FSU defense held the BC team inside the eight and Jim Walton was forced to punt for the home team. It was a short kick to the 29 yard line. Chip Sanders fumbled but Joyner pounced on the fumble for a Seminole recovery. A Black pass to Lyles picked up six yards, Lyles then ran for eight. The drive stalled and Cappelen's try for a 3-pointer was blocked.

BC moved down the field but, again, had to settle for a field goal. In the second quarter, BC led 6-0.

Things started turning around at this point. A short kickoff by Boston College, along with a penalty, gave Florida State the ball on its 47. A pass to Lyles and running by Key brought the ball down to the 27. On third down, Sooners kicked. The Tribe got nowhere on this series and Duley kicked it away. The Sooners couldn't generate anything against a stiff FSU defense and, as the quarter ended, OU punted to the FSU 13. Oklahoma's big line kept the Seminoles deep in their own territory and Duley then booted one for 65 yards! Oklahoma quarterback Blevins moved his team down the field to the 37. There, OU's Ivory went in to score. With the extra point the score went to OU 10, FSU 3.

Chip Sanders returned the kickoff to the 25, Key and Lyles couldn't move the ball and again Duley boomed one, this time for 54 yards. Oklahoma then sent in a new quarterback, Tommy Lott. Lott tossed a wild pitch-out, FSU's Gary Rose recovered the loose ball on the Oklahoma 39.

Next play, QB Black kept it and rambled to the 23, Lyles added three more yards, and again Black kept it and got to the five. Paydirt in sight, but it was not to be. Key got three and Rudy Thomas moved the ball inside the one. On a pitchout Key was hit hard at the 5, fumbled and the ball rolled into the end zone and out. The automatic touchback brought the ball out to the 20.

Oklahoma's Blevins, back in the game, moved his club to the FSU 23. On a similar pitchout play, Ivory again went wide, got blocking and scored. With the extra point, Oklahoma led Florida State 17-6.

FSU's Black tossed 17 yards to Ed Beckman at the FSU 46. The drive didn't last, Duley kicked to the OU 14 and Oklahoma ran out the clock, ending the first half. Oklahoma 17, Florida State 6.

Black, using several keeper plays and with runs from Key and Lyles, marched to the OU 45 but the drive ended when a Black pass was intercepted. OU was forced to kick, Lyles, Key, Thomas and Black gained ground up the field but, again, a fumble halted the Seminole drive.

OU headed for Seminole territory but Detroit Reynolds intercepted a Blevins pass and the Tribe moved to the Oklahoma 24 where Cappelen kicked a field goal. Oklahoma 17, FSU 9. The third quarter ended with Oklahoma on the FSU 16.

In the first series of downs in the final period, Oklahoma drove inside the FSU one yard line. The line held, OU fumbled, Reynolds recovered the ball in the end zone for an FSU touchback and the ball went out to the 20.

Black dropped back, scrambled and got to the 12, a 15-yard ramble. Next play, Rudy Thomas hit the left side of the line and scored. Cappelen's kick was good and in the closing moments of the first half it was FSU 7 - BC 6.

On the last play of the first half, Cappelen tried a field goal of 57 yards but it was wide.

FSU kicked off to start the second half and, going into the end zone, the ball was brought out to the 20. A Capriola fumble was recovered by Rudy Maloy at the BC 15.

Lyles banged through the middle for 4 yards. Black, on a keeper, ran 11 yards for the TD, Cappelen made it FSU 14 - BC 6.

The Eagles moved the ball down to the Seminoles' 21 yard line but, again, the defense held. Moorman booted a field goal to narrow the score to FSU 14 - BC 9.

A mishandled kickoff put the Tribe in very bad field position at its own 13 yard line. Two plays gained almost nothing, then Black ran for nine yards to the 26. First down. That drive bogged down and in came Duley. He kicked out of bounds at the Eagles' three, a clipping penalty moved it back to the one.

Two running plays got the Eagles no more than three yards. On the third down, freshman tackle Walter Carter took the ball away from Capriola, but the Eagles recovered and got to the six. A BC kick and FSU took over on their own 35.

Lyles picked up 12 on two runs and Black passed to Beckman as the clock ran out for the third quarter. FSU 14 - BC 9.

FSU was forced to punt, BC's Kaufman fumbled and Joe Camps recovered for FSU at the 12. FSU moved it to the one, Lyles then scored, Cappelen kicked another one, FSU 21 - BC 9.

The Eagles drove downfield to the Seminole 12 but fumbled. The ball was recovered by FSU's Aaron Carter. FSU moved downfield but stalled. Duley punted, backing up BC to its 35.

Then, the spectacular icing on the cake. BC's Smith, trying to pass, was rushed by Jimmy Heggins. The ball slipped out of his hands and into the air, Rudy Maloy grabbed the fumble in mid-air and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Cappelen's PAT was good and the Seminoles were ahead 28-9!

A couple of BC plays later the clock ran out.

It was the Tribe's second win of the year, a victory over a nationally ranked opponent that had not been beaten this season.

FSU's Black attempted 16 passes and completed six of them for a total of 41 yards. His receivers included Woolford (2), Lyles (2), Flowers and Beckman.

Duley kicked six times for FSU for a total 264 yards, an average of 44 yards a boot.

Key carried for 68 yards, followed by Lyles, 65; Black, 42; Thomas, 16.

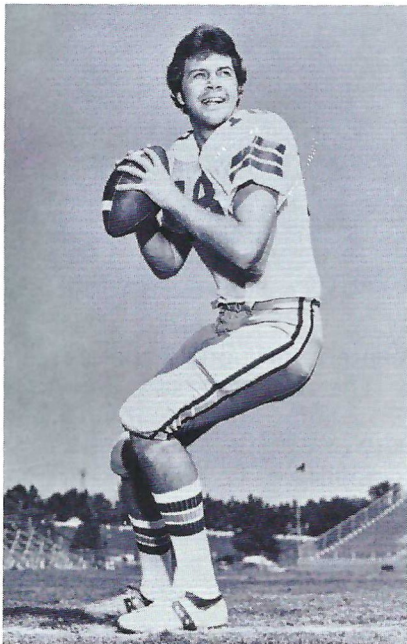

The next game is at Auburn with kickoff set for 1:30 p.m. The next home game will be October 30 against Clemson, followed by Homecoming the following week, November 6 against Southern Mississippi.

The University of Florida

The University of Florida has conferred more than 90,000 degrees since its founding in 1905. The university offers 5,000 individual courses, providing 90 areas of instructional specialization for undergraduates and more than 50 specialties for doctoral degrees.

The university traces its origin all the way back to 1853, which was the founding date of the East Florida Seminary, one of six state-supported institutions consolidated in 1905 to become the University of Florida. Classes in the current campus in Gainesville were first held in 1906.

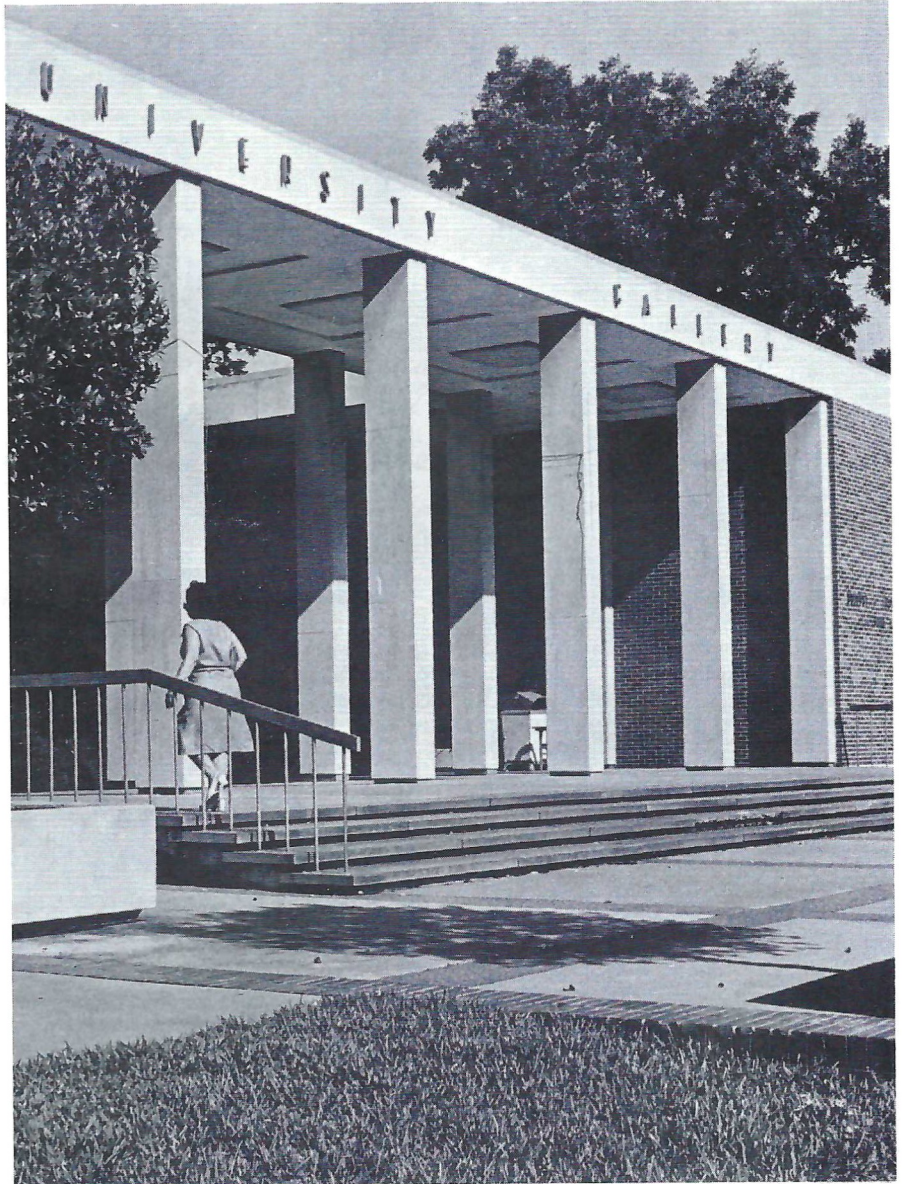

The university has had only seven presidents in its history: Dr. Andrew Sledd (1905-1909), Dr. Albert A. Murphree (1909-1928), Dr. John J. Tigert (1928-1947), Dr. J. Hillis Miller (1947-1953), Dr. J. Wayne Reitz (1955-1967), Dr. Stephen O'Connell (1967-1973) and Dr. Robert Q. Marston (1974-).

Encompassing 16 colleges and two schools, the University of Florida offers a wide range of programs from general to highly specialized education. It is unique in that all of its colleges are located on a single campus where the professional skills represented in the various departments can combine for interdisciplinary work.

In addition to numerous research projects in the various colleges, the university has specialized laboratories carrying on the basic research in engineering, science, agriculture, forestry, business, public administration, architecture, building construction and other areas. The research projects make significant contributions to private industry and government agencies.

A broad program in medical education, research and patient care is carried out in the J. Hillis Miller Health Center. The expansion program currently underway will provide space and facilities for the College of

...and DOUG DICKEY

Doug Dickey, a 1954 graduate of the University of Florida, returned to his alma mater as Head Football Coach on December 30, 1969, bringing with him credentials as one of the nation's finest, most versatile football coaches.

In 12 successful seasons as a head coach, Dickey has compiled a record of 86-43-5, had a total of eight football teams going to post-season bowl games, two Southeastern Conference championship teams and was named the conference Coach of the Year twice.

Dickey's 1975 Gators were his third consecutive bowl team at Florida and the first team in the history of the University of Florida to win nine games during the course of a regular season. Last year's Gators finished 5-1 in the Southeastern Conference and tied for second in the SEC.

Dickey, 43, started his head coaching career at the University of Tennessee in 1964. After an initial rebuilding year, his teams ran up five consecutive seasons of eight or more wins, the only team in the nation to accomplish this during that period.

Dickey is no stranger to college life. He was born in Vermillion, South Dakota, home of South Dakota State University, where his late father, Dallas Dickey, was a speech professor. The Dickeys later moved to Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge and then on to the University of Florida.

Dickey went to high school in Gainesville and later attended the University of Florida, where he played quarterback and guided the Gators to the 1953 Gator Bowl crown.

His coaching career began in 1954 at St. Petersburg (Fla.) High School, continued at Fort Carson, Colorado (1955-56), University of Arkansas (1957-64), then to Tennessee and, eventually, to the University of Florida.

The Florida Head Coach is married to the former Jo Ann Beville and they have four sons, Don, Danny, David and Daryl, and a daughter, Jaren Ann.

FSU quarterback Steve Tensi shattered the Florida pass defense in that 1964 Florida game. He completed 11 out of 22 passes for a total of 190 yards.

A flashback in time to that exciting Florida game played at Doak Campbell Stadium on November 21, 1964. The Seminoles won that game, 16-7.

A large crowd - the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Tallahassee - watched Florida State's Seminoles win their first football game over cross-state rival Florida.

It was a glorious day for the Seminoles as the team dominated every phase of play and unanimously accepted a Gator Bowl invitation right after the victory over the Gators.

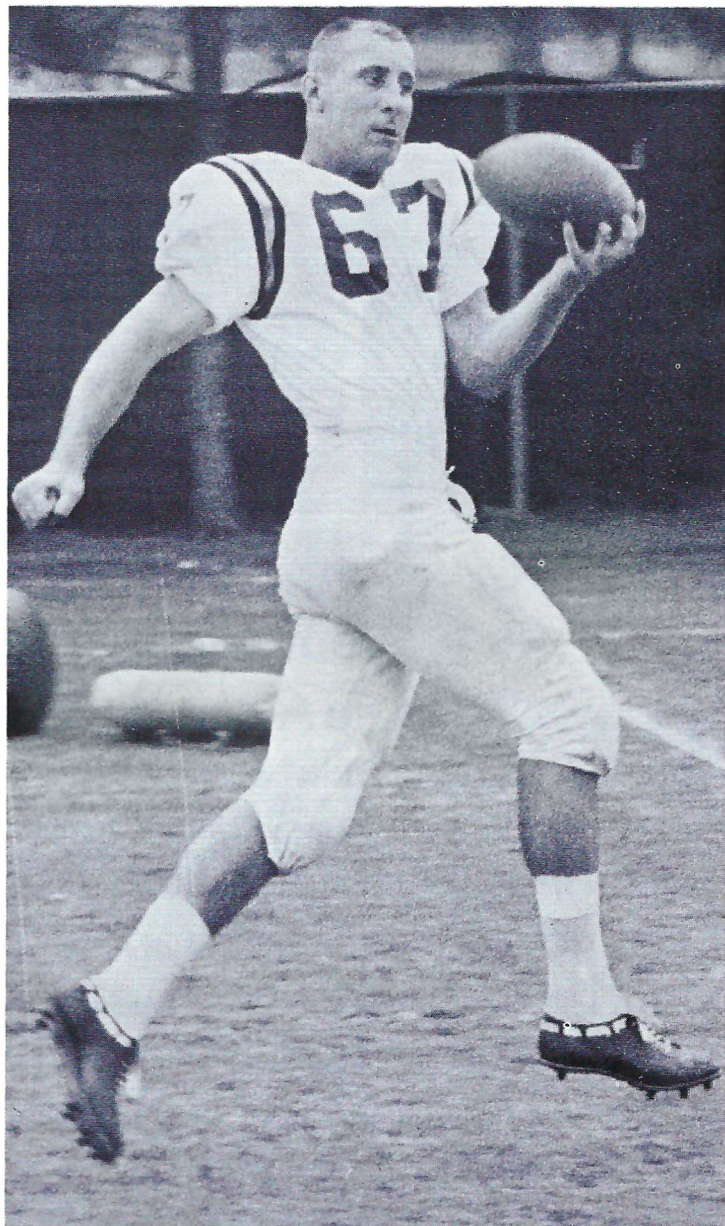

Steve Tensi shattered the Florida pass defense - first in the nation at that time - for 190 yards on 11 completions in 22 attempts. Don Floyd was his favorite receiver, catching seven passes for 85 yards. Fred Biletnikoff caught two for 78 yards, one of them a 55-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter.

Heroes were numerous, not the least of whom was Les Murdock who kicked three field goals of 24, 36 and 40 yards to lock up the game for the Seminoles.

Wayne Giardino and Phil Spooner gained 72 and 71 yards respectively; each of them gained more than the entire Gator effort on the ground.

Jack Shinholser's play in the middle of the line was so outstanding he was honored as "Lineman of the Week" by the Associated Press. Dick Hermann played the greatest game of his career, making 18 tackles and assisting on six others.

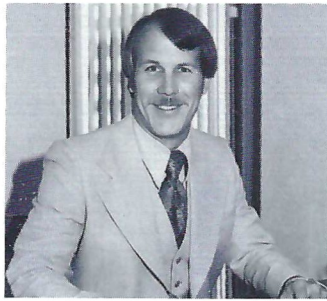

A happy day in Tallahassee on November 21, 1964, FSU beat UF, 16-7!

Fred Biletnikoff caught two passes for a total of 78 yards, one of them a 55-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Seminole Fans:

Welcome to Florida State's Doak S. Campbell Stadium, where support from the bleachers and the sidelines is, though friendly, among the most partisan in the South. When one of our teams takes the field, the spectators are assured of an exciting contest, no matter the outcome. The aspirations of the Seminoles have always been high, and that is true this year more than ever. I know that Coach Bowden and his players are grateful to you for your spirit and loyalty, and I join them in this feeling.

Because of the reduction in state monies for intercollegiate athletics, it has been up to our Seminole supporters—alumni, faculty, staff, students, friends, boosters and benefactors of all ages and from all walks of life—to sustain the fighting strength and spirit of Florida State teams through their generous financial contributions. For this support, and for their enthusiastic attendance at the many and varied sports events that Florida State offers each year, the University is indebted to its friends.

Florida State is an outstanding school in many ways, but only because of the high caliber of the people who make it that way. I am confident that the University will continue to merit your friendship and encouragement for years to come.

Sincerely,

Bernard F. Sliger

METRO CONFERENCE ADDS FSU BASKETBALL

Florida State currently plays its games in Tully Gym which seats only 3,500. Construction is about to begin on the new 12,000 seat Tallahassee Civic Center and officials are hopeful the Seminoles will be playing in it by 1978.

Durham also acknowledged the strong role that the University administration played in helping secure the conference berth. "We are certainly appreciative of the support and effort of the administration," he said.

"Without the concentrated effort of Athletic Director John Bridgers and Dr. Steve McClellan we would have never reached this reality."

McClellan, Vice President for University Relations, underscored the many advantages the Metro Conference membership will present to the University.

"Of course the financial advantages are numerous. The prospect of a large new home arena coupled with a strong conference schedule and the rivalries it will present should mean outstanding attendance for basketball.

"There will also be additional revenues coming from the Conference tournament and a probable Conference TV package. But even going beyond the financial picture, a strong conference tie-up like this will mean a great deal of additional exposure for Florida State University.

The Seminoles will be no stranger to the Metro Conference teams. The overall record in basketball against all six league charter members is 26-26. Under Durham's guidance, the Seminoles are 20-14 against league foes.

Florida State holds a 10-8 advantage over Georgia Tech, is 6-2 against Tulane and 1-0 against St. Louis. Cincinnati holds a 2-1 mark against the Seminoles, while Louisville has won four of five encounters and Memphis State 11 of 18.

Louisville (Jan. 3 at Louisville) and Memphis State (Jan. 15 at Memphis) are both on this year's Florida State schedule.

Although the Seminoles have traditionally been an independent in athletics, the conference affiliation will not be the first for the University. During the school's formative years of modern intercollegiate athletics in the late 1940's, FSU was a member of the old Dixie Conference.

The history of Florida State University dates back to 1857 when it was founded as the Seminary West of the Suwanee. The University enjoyed a brief athletic history early in the twentieth century with only very sketchy records remaining from football schedules in 1902-1905.

By 1905 the state legislature reorganized the university system and the Tallahassee school became Florida State College for Women, a status it retained until the close of World War II.

In 1947 the college became co-educational and renamed Florida State University. It played its first athletic competition that fall in football.

FSU is now one of nine institutions in the State University System and its athletic program as well as its academic area is one of the more highly regarded in the nation.

BOOSTERS

The FSU Seminole Boosters, Inc. was formed in January, 1974 to assume the impressive, if not monumental, task of securing voluntary and private financial support for the Florida State University intercollegiate athletic program. While most visible and usually associated with the football season, the Boosters actually support the entire athletic program, football, basketball, baseball, track and field, swimming, tennis, golf and women's athletics.

The Boosters have had three chairmen since organizing in 1974; Lou Hill of Tallahassee was the first chairman, he was succeeded by Doyle Pope of Quincy. The current Booster chairman is George Langford of Tallahassee. Other officers this year: Dr. Doug Henderson, secretary; Tom Kinnebrew, treasurer; Jim Smith, Alumni Association representative; Charles Gardner, chairman of the Committee of 100.

The executive director of the Boosters is Andy Miller, whose soft southern drawl belies the intense activity and frantic schedule he follows in directing fund raising activities.

"While our ultimate goal is raising funds for student athlete scholarships," says Miller, "we are interested in working with anyone who is striving to improve the status of intercollegiate activities at Florida State.

"We have, or are, developing programs that can involve all the friends of Florida State University, no matter what their status and we urge those friends to contact this office."

The local Booster Club and the Committee of 100 has sponsored the Spring Garnet and Gold Game and barbecue, the Seminole Celebrity Golf Classic, the annual Ticket Blitz-Booster Drive and various other projects.

However, Booster activities are neither confined nor limited to the greater Tallahassee area. There are active booster clubs in Jacksonville, Escambia county, Tampa, Orlando, Miami, Lake City, Gadsden county and Atlanta. These clubs arrange charter bus trips to games, assist coaches in recruiting, have regular meetings with game films and raise funds in their area.

Benefits to contributors to the Boosters include:

*Contributions are tax deductible to the maximum allowed under current IRS regulations.

*Members receive a periodic newsletter.

*Members receive ticket priorities.

*Reserved parking

*(May be limited to Century Scholarship Donors and above).

*Distinctive awards to donors.

Individuals interested in further information concerning Seminole Boosters, Inc., should contact Andy Miller at P.O. Box 1353, Tallahassee, Florida 32301 or call 904/644-3484.

WELCOME VISITORS!

Whether you're a fan of tonite's visiting team, a football fan from out of town who came to town for the game, a business visitor to Tallahassee or an old grad back to visit and support the Seminoles...

WELCOME!

If you're staying overnight, you'll find that Tallahassee has numerous hotels and motels available. These include nationally known operations as well as independent hotels and motels.

If your last visit to Tallahassee was for a football game, you'll find the town has grown considerably. In the past year many new fine restaurants and "fast food" operations have opened in the city. Whether your taste runs to hamburgers and fries or to succulent steaks, superb seafood or exotic foreign dishes, you'll find them plentiful in Tallahassee. Within the pages of this publication are listed many outstanding restaurants, look for them as a guide to fine dining.

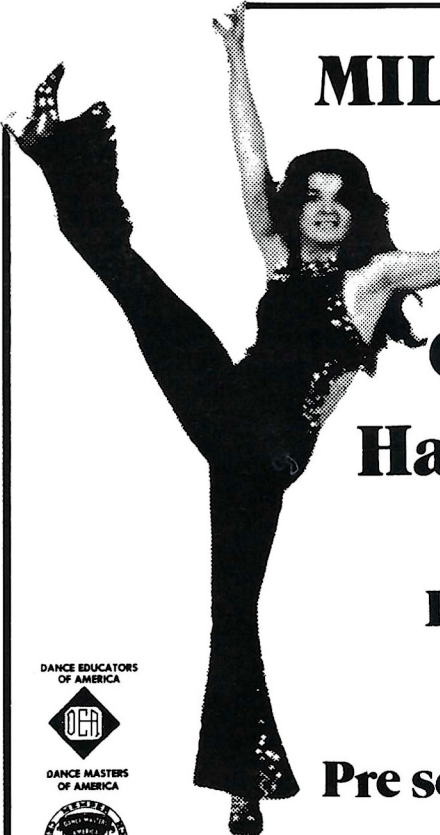

What to do? How about a visit to the famed Tallahassee Junior Museum? It's fun for the entire family and is located near the Municipal Airport at 3945 Museum Drive. It's open on Sunday from 2-5, closed all day Monday. Admission is $1.50 for adults, $.50 for children and well worth it.

Wakulla Springs is a favorite spot with natives and visitors alike. It's located 14 miles south of Tallahassee and is one of Florida's finest natural attractions. Glassbottom boat cruises are popular and the hotel features an outstanding dining room.

For those of you who'll be in town Monday, check with the Tallahassee Area Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber has literature detailing tours of the city that you can take yourself. And, of course, don't forget to visit the Capitol on South Monroe. Tours of the capitol and its historic exhibits are available on a continuous basis from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Enjoy tonight's game!

FIGHT SONG

You've got to fight, fight, fight for FSU.
You've got to scalp 'em Seminoles.
You've got to win, win, win, win this game and roll on down to make those goals.
For FSU is on the warpath now, and at the battle's end she's great:
So fight, fight, fight, fight to victory, our Seminoles from Florida State.

FLORIDA STATE VICTORY SONG

We are on the warpath tonight.
Onward, Florida State.
Show all the world the spirit and might that the Seminoles create.
Stand up for the Garnet and Gold.
Ever loyal we shall be.
We are proud to shout,
"The Warriors are out." And they will lead up to victory.

HYMN TO THE GARNET AND GOLD

Here's a hymn to the garnet and gold, ringing to the sky.
Here's a song for our men and women bold, sing with heads held high.
Striving ere to seek to know, fight for victory.

JOHN BRIDGERS

Athletic Director, FSU

Since taking over the reins of Florida State's athletic program in the spring of 1973, John Bridgers has led the Seminoles to accomplishments that, in some respects, border on phenomenal. Since coming to FSU he has been faced by the same general financial woes that beset the economy in general and intercollegiate athletics in particular nationwide. However, these have been compounded by the fact that the Tribe football program — the department's prime source of revenue generation — has been suffering through its leanest years since the University became coeducational and resumed intercollegiate athletics in 1947.

In his quiet, soft spoken style, Bridgers has met these problems head-on. In most cases he comes away from the problems he tackles a winner.

Perhaps the most outstanding accomplishment of Bridgers' leadership is that at the close of the last budget year, the Seminole program not only avoided going into the red, but actually showed a profit. At a time when even the most healthy programs are finding it difficult to keep their heads above water, it is truly an outstanding achievement. It was done also without sacrificing the quality of performance the Seminoles displayed in competition. In the last two years, Florida State has fielded teams in NCAA Championship competition, and successfully recruited several athletes of world and national caliber in all sports. Intercollegiate athletics has also added the responsibility of a growing woman's program — one that promises to be as competitive in its area as the men's program.

Not all these things were accomplished through the singular efforts of the Seminoles' athletic director, of course, but much of the success can be credited to his untiring devotion to making the Florida State program one of the nation's best. Bridger's himself, however, is quick to point out that none of these things would have been possible without the dedication and understanding of a great many people, including his athletic department staff, coaches, boosters and an interested and supportive administration.

A native of Birmingham, AL, Bridgers came to Florida State from South Carolina. Previously he had spent 10 years as athletic director and head football coach at Baylor University, a period during which the Bears attended three bowl games and recorded the third best won-loss record in the Southwest Conference behind Texas and Arkansas.

A 1947 graduate of Auburn, he served two years with the Army in Korea, being discharged as a captain after enlisting as a private. His coaching experience includes service at the University of the South and Johns Hopkins. He has also served with the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL. He was a coach at Baltimore during the famous 1958 "sudden death" game against the N.Y. Giants.

Bridgers is married to the former Frances Young of Florence, AL. They have two sons, John Dixon and Donald Hamilton.

Save Time, Money and Nerves

Tickets may be purchased now by mail only to various cultural events on campus in 1976-77. Season tickets are available from the Central Ticket Office for the two parallel artists series which will be held this year in Ruby Diamond Auditorium and Opperman Music Hall.

All seats in Ruby Diamond are reserved. Seats in Opperman are not reserved. However, there is an advantage in buying season tickets now. In addition to saving money, ordering early by mail means no parking problem.

Season tickets for the Florida State Artist Series with six outstanding events are $30 for non-students, $15 for students. Another six events are scheduled for the Opperman Music Hall Series, which is new this season. Season tickets for this series are $20 for non-students and $10 for students.

To order tickets send a self-addressed legal sized envelope bearing a 13-cent stamp for every set of tickets ordered.

Address it to Central Ticket Office, University Union, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. 32306. Make checks payable to Florida State University.

Any remaining tickets will be sold on an individual basis prior to each performance at $6 and $3 for the Florida State Artist Series and $4 and $2 for the Opperman Series.

Season coupon books also are available now for the six plays to be presented on the mainstage of the Fine Arts Building by the School of Theater.

A book of six coupons costs $17 and $12 for non-students, $12 and $9 for students, and may be purchased now by mail from the University Theater Box Office, Fine Arts Building, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. 32306.

SEMINOLE SWIMMING

Swimming is a traditional winner in Florida State's intercollegiate history. In 27 years of competition, an overall record of 194-57-2 has been compiled by the Seminole tankers. In other words, 77% of the time they have taken to the water, they have emerged the winner.

Only three times in 27 years of competition have the Seminoles finished with a losing season and only eight times have there been as many as three meets lost. Head Coach Terry Carlisle, now entering his third year, is enthusiastic about continuing the winning tradition.

The 1975 season was a strong indicator that Florida State is making a significant move toward reestablishing itself as a major swimming school in the South. For the first time in six years, the Seminoles defeated rival Florida, and continued to show their strength against conference schools defeating North Carolina, LSU and Georgia.

Over the years, the Seminoles boast nearly two dozen All-American swimmers and divers. Included are a pair of National Champions—one earned by Curt Genders in one-meter diving in 1969 and the other by Phil Boggs in three-meter diving in 1971.

The winning tradition and current move toward further excellence are only part of Florida State's success story. Many former Seminoles have gone on to become outstanding coaches in both high school and college. It is believed that more graduates from FSU are now coaching than from any other school in the country.

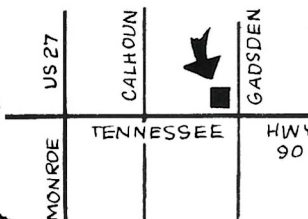

Coach Carlisle was previously an assistant coach at Tennessee, where he received his master's degree in Educational Administration. He received his undergraduate at Yale, where he lettered in swimming.

Carlisle will be assisted by three former collegiate performers now studying at Florida State.

KEN VINSON Head Tennis Coach

Ken Vinson begins his first season as a Seminole head coach as he takes over the position vacated by Randy Jobson after three seasons.

Vinson, a Wink, Texas native, has been a member of the faculty of the Florida State College of Law since 1969. He is a well-known and respected player-instructor in the Tallahassee tennis community and a ranked member of the Florida Lawn Tennis Association's 35-and-over group.

He has been active in local tennis circles as a member of the Tallahassee Tennis Association, a private instructor and serving with the Tallahassee Recreation Department in planning and running tennis tournaments.

Although this is the first collegiate coaching assignment for the 40-year-old professor, he is no stranger to college athletics, having played football at Rice University and North Texas State.

Vinson earned his undergraduate degree at North Texas State before receiving an LL.B. from Texas and an LL.M. from Yale.

He is married to the former Patsy Burkleo of Abilene, TX and has two children, John, 11 and Jenifer, 9.

Ever see a football stadium filled with rolling stones ??

When the Rolling Stones visited Jacksonville last August, 75,000 fans turned out to see them perform in the Gator Bowl. Attendance like this points up how much this receptive audience has grown in the last few years.

Whatever your attraction, football, baseball, boxing, wrestling ... even one like the Rolling Stones ... Jacksonville would like to show you an enviable record of grosses.

Dr. Don Veller Golf Coach

When Dr. Don Veller took over the reigns of Florida State's golf program in the fall of 1974, it marked the beginning of the third tenure for the veteran Seminole mentor.

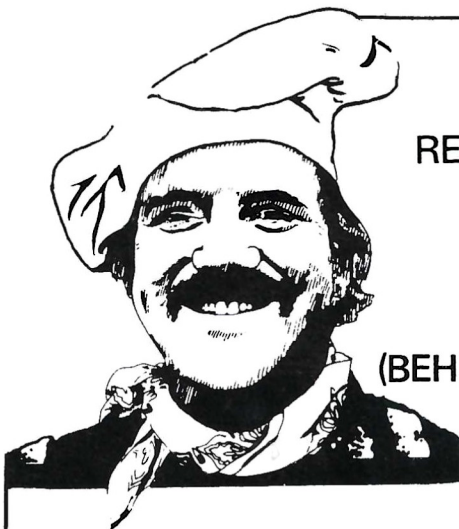

The personable and well-liked former Seminole football coach first led the Tribe golfers from 1953-58. His second tenure began in the fall of 1967 and ran through the 1969 season. His 1956 and 57 teams placed fifth and fourth in NCAA competition.

Veller came to Florida State as Head Football Coach in 1948, the Seminoles' second season of intercollegiate athletics. At that time he had already had seven years of high school coaching experience, one season as head coach and athletic director at Hanover College and a season as an assistant to Bo McMillan at Indiana.

Veller's 1948-52 football teams won 30 of 42 games, including the Seminoles' only unbeaten season in 1950. The 1949 squad upset Wofford 19-6 in FSU's first ever bowl appearance, the 1950 (Jan. 2) Cigar Bowl in Tampa.

In addition to golf and football, Veller has also coached tennis (at Indiana) and track (at Hanover) on the collegiate level. During his tenure as FSU's head football coach he also served as chairman of the division of athletics and in 1958 and 59, he served as assistant athletic director.

MIKE LONG: HEAD TRACK COACH

For more than two decades Florida State's Track program has been under the capable direction of Mike Long and for most of that time span, the Seminoles have enjoyed the reputation of having one of the finest programs in the South.

The 1976 season marks Long's 22nd as head coach of the track program. When he took over in 1955, the Seminoles were struggling for respectability. It did not take the former Minnesota pole vaulter long to straighten things out.

He quickly developed Florida State into one of the most respected dual meet teams in the Southeast. In 21 seasons his teams have an overall record of 108 wins and 28 losses in scored meets and the Seminoles' accomplishments at the relay carnivals is just as impressive.

In 13 of Long's 21 seasons, the Seminoles have lost no more than one dual meet. Five times they have gone unbeaten. Several of Long's runners have earned All-America certificates and one, Danny Smith in the indoor high hurdles, is a two-time champion.

Developing winners is only a part of Long's story of success at Florida State. His teams are noted for giving their very best no matter the situation. Considered one of the nation's finest "on-the-field" coaches, he has that special knack to bring forth the very best and perhaps a little bit more in his athletes.

HEAD COACH WOODY WOODWARD

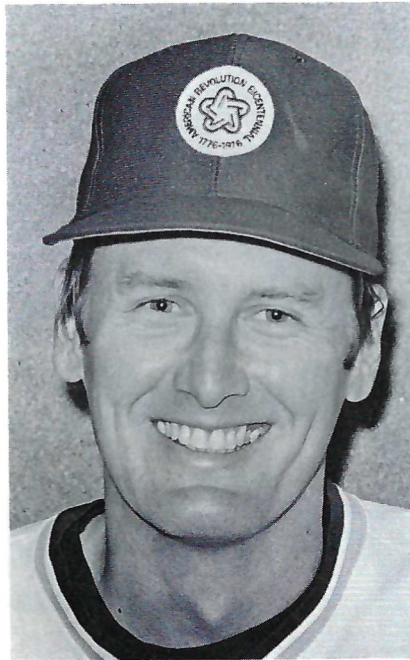

In 1975 Woody Woodward led Florida State back to the College World Series (and in the process to a record tying 49 victories) in what was not only his first year as the Seminoles' Head Coach, but also his first year coaching in the collegiate ranks period.

The 33-year-old native of Miami led the Seminoles through their usually rugged schedule, then past rival Miami twice and SEC title holder LSU to win what most observers considered the toughest regional title in college baseball. For his efforts, the Seminoles' rookie coach was named South Region "Coach of The Year", and the team was ranked No. 1 in the nation by Collegiate Baseball newspaper in its final poll of the year.

Getting off to fast starts is nothing new to the former Seminole All-America. Following the 1963 College World Series, where he was named to the all-tournament team, Woody virtually stepped from the ranks of college ball to the major leagues. A nine-year big league career saw him play for the Braves (in both Milwaukee and Atlanta) and the Reds.

When he took over the Florida State coaching job in the late summer of 1974, Woodward was well aware of the challenge that lay before him in maintaining the caliber program that Florida State baseball represented. As a player he helped lead the Seminoles to a record two straight College World Series appearances and in 1963 was named All-America at Shortstop.

Later as an alumnu he kept close ties with the University and its baseball program. He was frequent visitor to Seminole practices during the off-season as he returned to his Tallahassee home and to work on his master's degree. But his contribution went beyond his "coaching appearances" with a donation of part of his rookie bonus to establish a fund to install lights at Seminole Field. Later he played a principal role in organizing the Varsity-Alumni Game which has become a tradition at Florida State's Homecoming celebration each fall.

Woodward came to Florida State in the fall of 1959 after graduating from Coral Gables High School. Following the 1963 College World Series, he signed a bonus contract with the then Milwaukee Braves. The 1963 Florida Amateur Baseball Player of the Year was initially assigned to the Braves AAA farm team, but before the conclusion of the 1963 season, he was brought up to Milwaukee. He was with Milwaukee in 1964 and '65 and moved with the club to Atlanta in 1966.

In 1968 Woodward was traded to Cincinnati and played there until retiring in 1971. "The biggest thrill of my professional career, says Woodward who still appears to be in top playing shape, "was being a starter in the 1970 World Series against Baltimore.

Woody is married to the former Pamela Terrell of Jacksonville. They have three children, Natalie, 7, Emily, 5, and Matt born last December.

1976-77 BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Florida State's basketball team will be looking to be "just a bit better" in 1976-77 than they were last season. The Seminoles are returning eight lettermen who remember the disappointment of a 21-6 year that post-season tournament selectors declared "not good enough" for an invitation. The outlook for the season ahead is bright and Head Coach Hugh Durham, who is usually realistically cautious, joins in the optimism. "We have the ability to be a better team," says the Seminoles' 10-year veteran mentor who has garnered a 190-79 won-loss record. "On paper we are a stronger team; we should be quicker, stronger offensively and more experienced. But you don't throw paper on the court and win games. We are still going to have to prove ourselves."

Balance was a big factor for the Seminoles last season. Nine players were on the court 393 minutes or more and averaged 6.4 to 14.4 points a game. The bench outscored the starters five times and contributed over 30 points in more than half the Tribe's games. As a team the Seminoles averaged 83.9 points per game while giving up 68.9 using Durham's constant pressure, man-to-man philosophy. Heading the list of Seminole returnees are junior forwards David Thompson (6-8) and Harry Davis (6-7). They were the only two Seminoles to average double figures. Thompson averaged 14.4 points while Davis scored at a 12.3 clip. Durham says they may be among the best pair of forwards in the nation. Thompson is a strong offensive-type player who can go to the boards (he tied for the team rebounding lead last year as a sophomore). Davis is the strong Paul Silas-type player, giving 100 percent all over the court, offensively and defensively. His .638 shooting percentage ranked him sixth in the nation last year in that category. Junior Jim Smith (6-6) is much improved. He averaged 14.1 in the Dominican Republic and will make a strong run for a starting berth.

A trio of seniors head the list of back court players. Carlton Boyd (5-8), Eugene Harris (6-0) and Wayne Smalls (6-2) have been starters at some time during their varsity careers. Harris and Byrd averaged 8.0 points per game last year while Smalls was just a bit behind at 7.4. Each is also a 50 percent shooter from the field. They complement each other extremely well with strong all-around games. The competition they have created from within has made each of them a better player and gives the Seminoles as strong a back court as they have ever had in their history.

The big key for the Seminoles will be having someone step forward to fill the spot left vacant by graduated Greg Grady. A three-year starter, Grady leaves a big gap in the middle. "Someone will have to fill Grady's position," said Durham. "He will be especially missed defensively and on the boards. We have a number of people capable of stepping in, it is just a matter of who it will be."

The Seminoles recruited a trio of big men that Durham is hoping will produce some instant help up front, either in Grady's spot or as a back up at forward. Kris Anderson is a 6-8 product out of Yulee, Fla. and was the most sought after big man in the state. Murray Brown is a 6-7 candidate from Tampa. Donnie Kuhl is 6-9 and played prep ball in Orlando.

Also coming in for their freshman seasons are three guards, 6-2 Mickey Dillard of Dania; 6-0 Tony Jackson of Lexington, Ky.; and 6-3 Dave Vetica of Ellwood, Pa.

One thing Durham will not be fearing is overconfidence on the heels of the Seminoles' 21-6 mark last season. In spite of producing one of the best records in the country that included wins over Western Kentucky, Memphis State and Illinois State, as well as home-and-home sweeps over intra-state rivals Jacksonville and South Florida, the Seminoles were snubbed by post-season tournament selectors. Among their six losses were four to teams (Indiana, Oregon State, Washington and Alabama) who were at one time or another ranked in the top last year. Two of those contests were by four points or less. "We worked hard last year and felt we earned a bid. You can be sure that no one will take anything for granted this year."

SEMINOLE RADIO NETWORK

If you're traveling throughout Florida and Georgia, you can still hear all the action of the FSU football games on the Seminole Football Radio Network.

This year WGLF-FM, Tallahassee, will be the originating station for the network of at least 21 radio stations in Florida and Georgia. Again this season, Bob Shackleton will be calling the play-by-play. "Shack" came to Florida State for the 1974 football season. Prior to that he had served as play-by-play announcer for Michigan State football for 19 years. Shackleton is also the executive director of the FSU Alumni Association.

Working the mike with Shackleton as analyst is a man well qualified for the position, former FSU football coach Bill Peterson.

A casual inspection of the four year future schedule of the Seminoles reveals some interesting items. In 1977, the alternating schedule takes the Seminoles to their cross state rivals, Florida, at Gainesville. The last game of the 1977 season winds up on the west coast at San Diego.

In 1978, the opening game is at Syracuse. The Orangemen have fallen upon hard times since those glory days of the late 50's that produced such stars as Jimmy Brown, Ernie Davis, Floyd Little and others. And, in 1978, the first open date, October 7, in many seasons.

In 1979, the Tribe winds up its season at Houston's famed Astrodome with a game against the University of Houston.

And, in 1980, perennial powerhouse Nebraska hosts the Seminoles for the third game of the season.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

As the second oldest university in the state of Florida, Florida State University continues to revere its historic past while, at the same time, setting high standards for the future.

Since its founding in 1857, when it was known as the Seminary West of the Suwanee, the University has expanded on a sprawling campus with nearly 22,500 students—that's an all-time high—and can boast of a faculty that is recognized both nationally and internationally.

This has been a year of transition and change at Florida State. Members of the academic community witnessed not only the resignation of Dr. Stanley Marshall as the President of FSU, but also the possible discovery of new chemical elements. And, despite the lingering effects of the economic slowdown, the University proceeded with building and construction projects—both underway and those on the drawing board—that total almost $15 million.

On March 8, Dr. Marshall submitted his resignation after serving the University as President for seven years. The man who led the University through some of its most difficult and turbulent periods simply stated that he thought it was "time for me to make a change in my professional life and in my life-style." Dr. Marshall was replaced by Executive Vice President Bernard Sliger who will serve as the Interim Vice President until a replacement for Dr. Marshall has been elected.

Of course, another major change took place within the Athletic Department when Bobby Bowden was picked to replace Darrel Mudra as head football coach. Bowden is no stranger to the FSU campus as he was a former assistant Seminole coach. He came to Florida State this time from a successful career at West Virginia University.

Of truly worldwide scientific significance was the possible discovery of new chemical elements, far heavier than any yet known, by a group of scientists working at Florida State University. If this discovery is confirmed, these new elements (and there may be as many as six new elements) would be the first natural elements found in 51 years and the first ever found within the United States. The research, which was started at the University of California, was moved to Florida State because of the unique capabilities of the Tandem Van de Graaf Accelerator laboratory located on campus.

Long known as one of the top research institutions in the entire nation, Florida State University continued to receive millions of dollars for research efforts. One grant, awarded for the Career Education Center, was for $900,000 while another, from the Lilly Endowment, Inc., was for $27,716 for the University's Charles MacArthur Center for American Theater. That center will eventually be housed in a multi-million dollar complex located next to the Fine Arts Building.

Construction was an important issue during the past year. Principal projects underway or in the planning state at the University include a physics laboratory, $1,439,437; renovation of the Diffenbaugh Building, $3,755,500; air conditioning of buildings campus-wide, $6,000,000; a new College of Education Building, $3,054,000; a music building, $5,300,000; a maintenance complex, $2,000,000; and the long awaited Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center, $24,000,000.

We welcome you to the campus of Florida State University and hope you enjoy this evening's football game!

TERMS

Audible — A vocal signal by the quarterback changing the play called in the huddle.

Blitz — Commitment by defensive backs and/or linebackers to rush the passer.

Blocking — Legally hindering the progress of an opponent by contacting him with any part of the blocker's body.

Bomb — A long pass attempt for a touchdown.

Buttonhook — A pass pattern in which the receiver goes downfield and U-turns back sharply to receive the ball.

Clipping — Running or diving into the back of an opponent, for throwing the body across the back of the leg or legs of an opponent other than the ball carrier.

Corner Back — Defensive back who usually lines up across from wide receiver.

Dive-Tackle Play — A quick-handoff running play over tackle.

Draw-Play — Quarterback drops back as if to pass but instead hands ball to running back, after quarterback's teammates have assumed pass-blocking positions.

Fair Catch — The opportunity for a player of the receiving team to catch a kicked ball that has crossed the scrimmage line without being tackled or blocked by an opponent, after signaling his intention by completely extending one arm above his head.

Flanker — Offensive back deployed as a wide receiver. Must line up one yard behind line of scrimmage.

Free Safety — Same as weak safety.

Fullback — A running back who usually lines up behind strong side of the offensive line.

Kickoff — A free kick with which each half is opened, and which is employed also following each try-for-point or Field Goal. A kickoff must be either a Placekick or a Dropkick.

Lateral Pass — A live ball thrown toward or parallel with the passer's own goal line.

Linebacker — A defensive player operating immediately behind his line where he can either aid linemen in stopping a running play or cover an opponent's receiver if a pass develops.

Look-In Pass — Receiver runs straight pattern and looks for the ball immediately over his inside shoulder.

Man-to-Man Coverage — Pass defense plan wherein defensive backs cover receivers wherever they go, rather than field areas.

Middle Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the opposing center.

Mike — Nickname for middle linebacker.

Monster — Same as strong safety.

Neutral Zone — The space between the scrimmage lines of the offense and defense. Approximately 11 inches.

Nose Guard — Defensive lineman who lines up directly in front of opposing center on line of scrimmage.

Onside Kick — A kickoff that travels 10 yards or more is anybody's ball. The so-called "onside kick" is an effort by the kicking team to kick the ball barely beyond 10 yards and recover it before the receiving team can do so.

Pocket — Area of protection for the passer formed by blockers. Passer drops straight back from scrimmage behind the blocking shield into what resembles a "cup" or pocket.

Post — A pass pattern in which the receiver goes downfield to pre-determined depth then cuts at an angle toward the goalposts.

Prevent Defense — A strategem replacing linebackers with additional backfield pass defenders, sacrificing strength against short gainers in order to prevent a long pass completion. Most often employed by a team protecting a lead late in either half.

Pulling Guard — Guard who pulls out behind scrimmage line for a trap block or to lead sweep blocking for ball carrier.

Reverse Play — A running play with backfield action suggesting one direction while ball carrier goes in opposite direction.

Roll-Out Pass — Quarterback runs laterally with blockers before throwing, instead of dropping straight back to pass.

Running Back — Member of the offensive backfield who primarily carries the ball. Also used as a receiver and blocker. Can be either tailback or fullback.

Sam — Nickname for strong linebacker.

Screen Pass — Pass to a receiver behind a wall of blockers, who have permitted defenders to penetrate.

Scrimmage Line — The yard line (marked or unmarked) that passes through the point of the ball nearest a team's own goal line.

Strong Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the strong side of the offensive line.

Strong Guard — Offensive guard playing on the strong side of the line.

Strong Safety — Defensive back who usually lines up deeper than corner backs and across from strong side of offensive line.

Strong Side — The side of the offensive line where the tight end lines up.

Strong Tackle — Offensive tackle playing on the strong side of the line.

Stunting — Defensive players changing positions as the ball is snapped, to confuse offensive strategy.

Sweep — End run with wave of blockers leading the ball carrier.

Tailback — A running back who usually lines up behind the weak side of the line.

Tight End — Offensive end who lines up in close formation (as opposed to Split End's wide set) where he can either block for a ball carrier or be employed as a pass receiver.

Trap Block — Tactic whereby offensive lineman pulls out of position at the snap allowing man he would usually block to come through line and be blocked (or "trapped") by another blocker.

Unbalanced Line — Offensive line deployment whereby more blocking linemen are lined up on one side of the center than on the other.

Weak Guard — Offensive guard playing on the weak side of the line.

Weak Linebacker — So designated because he usually lines up across from the weak side of the offensive line.

Weak Safety — Defensive back who usually lines up deeper than corner backs and across from weak side of offensive line.

Wide Receiver — A lineman and/or a back who is set wide for pass receiving purposes. Also called Split End, Flanker or Wideout.

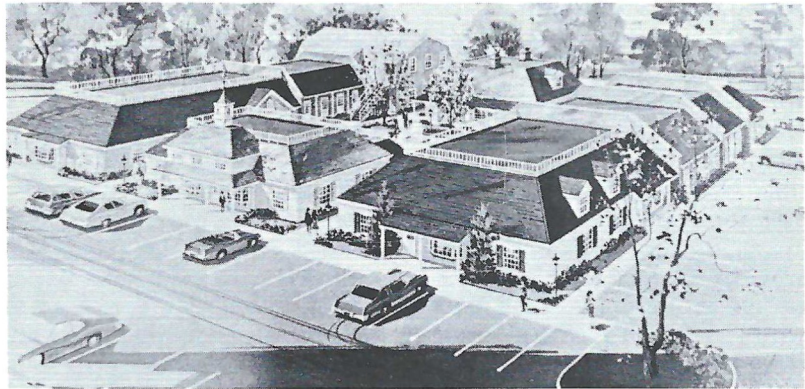

Zone Coverage — Plan of pass defense wherein areas are covered rather than individual receivers. Opposite of Man-To-Man.

BAND THE SEMINOLE

AT HALF-TIME, MUSIC IS THE NAME OF THE GAME!

Entertainment is their business, and for over a quarter of a century the Marching Chiefs have been doing exactly that; providing entertainment for countless millions around the world.

Formed in the early 1950's, the name of the Marching Chiefs has become synonymous with the finest in collegiate marching bands. With colorful, fast paced shows and music to satisfy even the hardest to please listener, the Chiefs have built and maintained a position as one of the top marching bands in the nation.

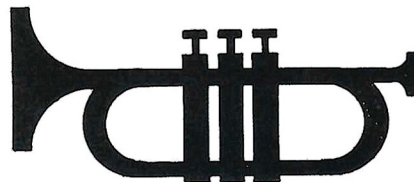

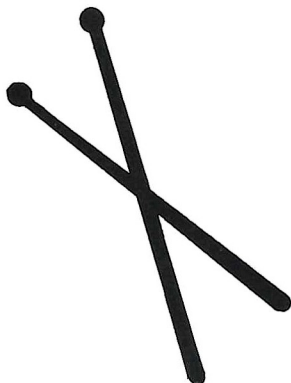

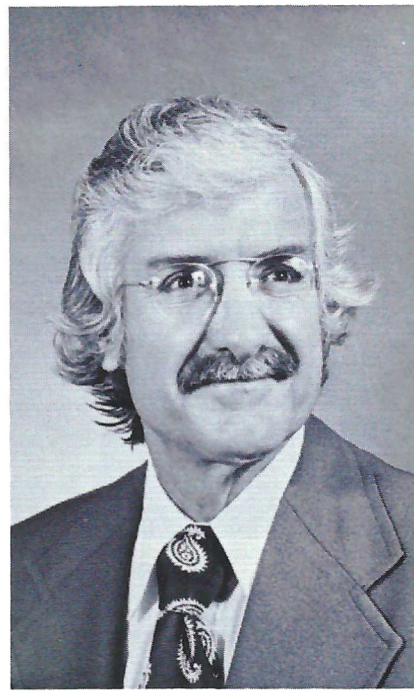

Throughout the years, the Chiefs have brought their style of pageantry to audiences in every corner of the nation and even beyond. They have performed in the Senior Bowl, in Mobile, Alabama; the Sun Bowl, in El Paso, Texas; two appearances in the Gator Bowl, in Jacksonville, Florida; and the Peach Bowl, in Atlanta, Georgia. In addition, numerous appearances on nationwide television have helped to bring the Chiefs into the homes of millions of people, and at the same time, bring new honors to an already distinguished group of musicians.

In 1969, the Chiefs appeared at the Half-time of a televised game between Florida State University and the University of Houston. As a result of their performance, they were selected as the weekly winner of the ABC Television "Band of the Week" contest. At the conclusion of the football season, ABC Television released a final rating of what is considered to be the finest marching bands in the nation. In this final rating, the Chiefs finished second behind the Louisiana State University Band.

Honors continued to come to the Chiefs when, in the summer of 1974, they were selected by the United States State Department to become the "Musical Ambassadors" of the United States. Traveling to the International Trade Fair, in Damascus, Syria, the Chiefs performed over a two week period before almost two hundred thousand people. At the conclusion of their stay in Syria, the Chiefs were invited by the Jordanian Army Band to join them for a special performance in Amman, Jordan. King Hussein surprised all by attending the performance, and the Marching Chiefs saluted him by forming his name in Arabic script on the field.

When the Chiefs step out on to the field this year, audiences will be greeted by a modified version of the style that, in the past, has entertained millions. Under the new leadership of Professor Carl Bjerregaard, Coordinator of Bands; William Raxsdale, Assistant Director of Bands; and Charles Carter, Associate Director and Arranger, the Chiefs will be presenting a more contemporary style of performance, in contrast to the "Big Ten" style of marching, which the Seminole fans have seen in the past. Music will be coordinated with the various drills and formations, to create a new dimension in sight and sound.

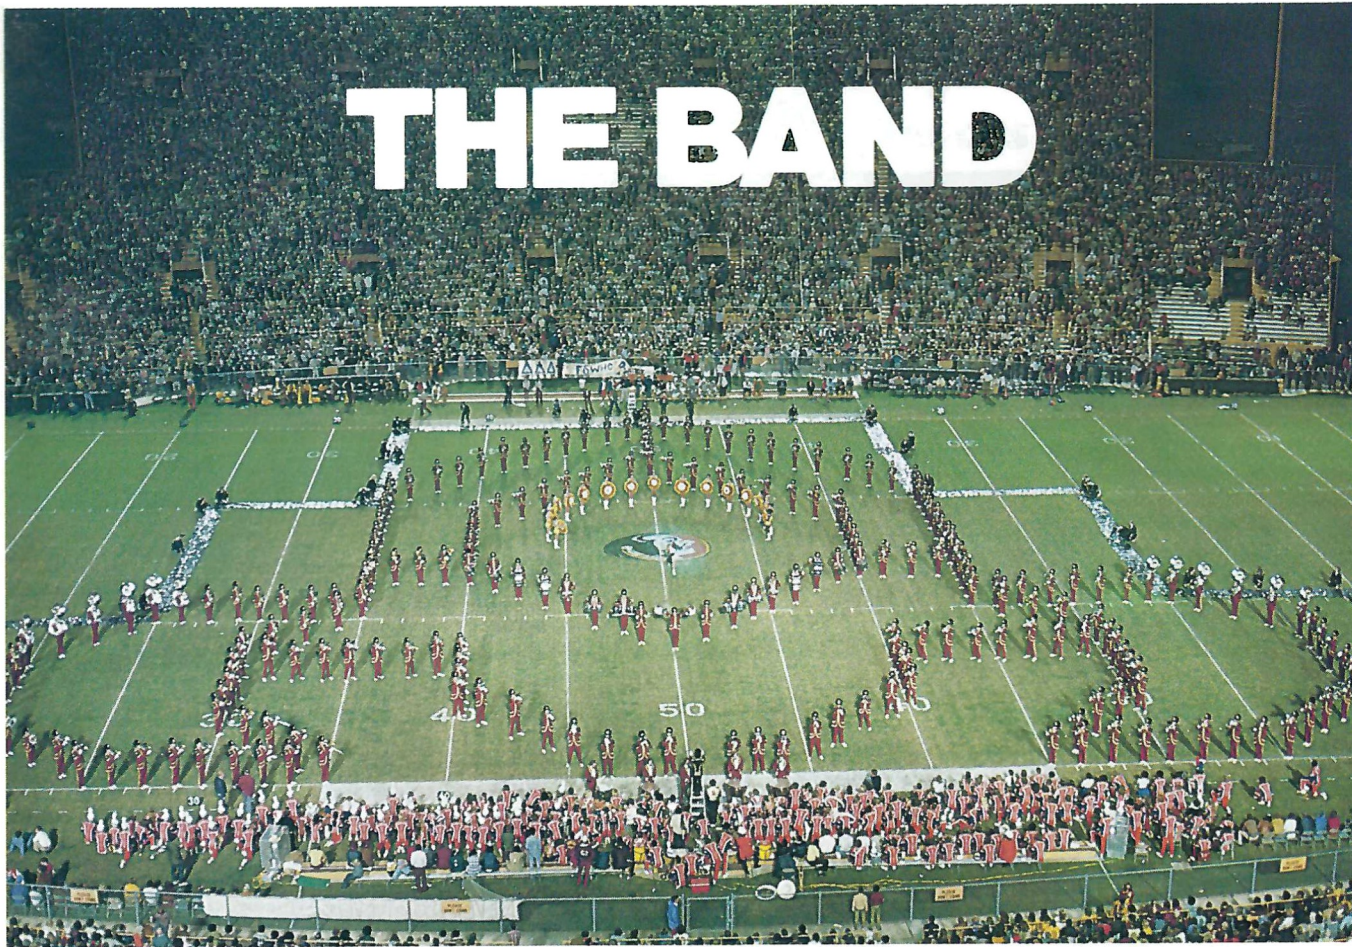

CARL BJERREGAARD, is professor of music at Florida State University, where he is Coordinator of Bands. He received his Bachelor of Music degree from Western Michigan University and his Master of Music degree from Michigan State University as a woodwind specialist. Professor Bjerregaard has directed instrumental music instruction in the Montague and Muskegan Public Schools. He has served on the summer faculty of Eastern Michigan University, Michigan State University and the Bule Lake Fine Arts Camp. Profesor Bjerregaard maintains a busy schedule of adjudication and clinics. As a guest conductor, he has directed All-Star Bands and school bands throughout the Midwest. Mr. Bjerregaard comes to Florida State University from Western Michigan University where he was Director of Bands from 1967 to 1976.

WILLIAM RAXSDALE, Assistant Director of Bands at Florida State University, has recently moved from Acadiana High School in Lafayette, Louisiana, where he was Director of Bands. Mr. Raxsdale served as clinician for the Florida All Star Marching Band, the Mississippi State University All Star Band, and the Texas Tech and Florida State University Marching Band Workshops. Mr. Raxsdale is also known throughout the south for his marching band and color guard adjudication. He spends a great part of his summers instructing clinics and preparing competition shows for championship bands. A native of Louisiana, Mr. Raxsdale earned the Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from the University of Southwestern Louisiana and presently serves on a national advisory committee for the College Band Directors National Association.

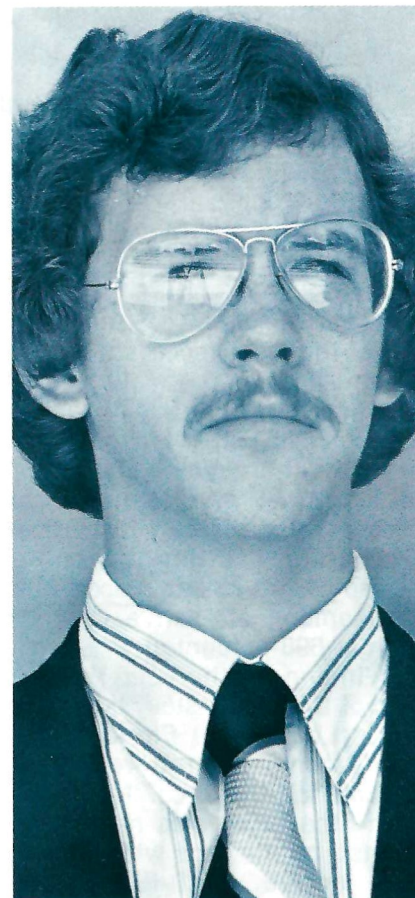

CHARLES CARTER, Associate Director and Arranger, received his Bachelor of Music degree from Ohio State University in 1950, majoring in theory and composition. The Oklahoma native furthered his education at Eastman School of Music where, in 1951, he received his Master of Music degree, followed by Doctoral work here at Florida State University, from 1953 until 1956. Before becoming staff arranger at Florida State University in 1953, Mr. Carter arranged for the Ohio State University Band and also taught lower brass. Presently here at Florida State, Mr. Carter teaches theory, composition and arranging. In addition, Mr. Carter is responsible for the arranging of all music used by the Marching Chiefs. Besides his arrangements for marching bands, Mr. Carter has over twenty original compositions on the market in all fields of music.

THE BAND

Leader of the Band

Chris Dickinson, a Senior from Jacksonville, majoring in Music Education, is this year's Drum Major for the Marching Chiefs. Mr. Dickinson has numerous honors to distinguish his musical career. In 1973, he was selected to participate in the All-Star Band, composed of some of the best high school musicians in the state of Florida. Mr. Dickinson came to Florida State University from Florida Junior College in Jacksonville. While attending Florida Junior College, he was a trombonist with the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra. Here at Florida State University, he has distinguished himself as a performer with such groups as the University Symphony, the Wind Ensemble, the Opera Orchestra, and the Marching Chiefs.

HUGH DURHAM Head Basketball Coach

to an 11-15 record. Since that time, no Durham-coached team has won fewer than 17 games. The 1969-70 squad finished 23-3 and the 1971-72 Seminoles went all the way to the NCAA finals before settling for a 27-9 record.

The Florida State head man has been associated with the Seminoles for 19 years as either a player or a coach. He came to Tallahassee from Louisville, Kentucky, where he was an outstanding prep athlete earning 14 letters in four sports. His enthusiasm for all sports is strong and he can be found regularly as a spectator at nearly all Seminole home events. He is an avid racquetball player, having won several state titles, and plays golf and tennis as time allows. For the last several years he has served as director of his own highly successful basketball camp.

As a Florida State player, Durham was one of the finest guards to play for the Seminoles. His three-year varsity scoring total of 1,381 points ranks sixth on the all-time list. He was as much a leader off the court as on, earning membership in the Gold Key Honorary and being named to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. Following his graduation he was named coach of the freshman team and still holds the record for the best winning percentage with a 9-1 record. He became a fulltime assistant to Bud Kennedy in 1961 and was named head coach in 1966 following Kennedy's death. During his tenure as an assistant coach, Durham also served as coach of the FSU golf team and his squads were also highly successful, winning 48 of 54 dual matches. One of Durham's recruits in golf was Hubert Green, former PGA Rookie of the Year.

Durham graduated from Florida State with Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Business. He and his wife Malinda have three sons, David, 15, Doug, 11 and Jim, 7.

Over the last nine years, Florida State's basketball program has become recognized as one of the most successful in the nation. It is no coincidence that the same period marks the tenure of Hugh Durham as Head Coach. Actually, there may be no better measure of the Seminole's success than the fact that Durham's lifetime coaching record of 169-73 has placed him 13th among all active coaches with a .698 percentage.

Winning on the court is only part of Durham's story however. During his tenure Florida State has become favored recruiting ground for the pros. No fewer than nine Seminoles have been drafted by the pros with several now active, including NBA All-Star and MVP, Dave Cowens, of the Boston Celtics. Those players who choose not to go into professional ball have also met with success, with several going on to graduate school, medical school or law school, and others starting on coaching careers of their own. "We make a total commitment to the individual," says Durham, who has seen well over 80% of his players earn at least bachelor's degrees. "We realize that for many of our players, basketball is not going to be a career. While we are trying to develop the playing ability of all our athletes, especially those with the potential to play pro ball, we also try to see that all of them are prepared in other areas as well."

Durham teams have been winners in all but his first season as head coach. That first year saw an injury-riddled Tribe struggle

DICK ROBERTS:
ASSISTANT
TRACK COACH
AND HEAD
CROSS COUNTRY

Dick is a man of many hats around the Florida State athletic department. In addition to his duties as an assistant to Coach Mike Long in the track program, he also serves as academic advisor to all athletes except those in football and as head of the Florida State cross-country team.

This will be the seventh season for the former Seminole distance star at his alma mater after a successful career as cross-country and track coach at Dunedin High School. His Dunedin teams produced one state championship, 10 individual champions and 13 state records.

One of the St. Petersburg native's primary responsibilities to the track program has been recruiting and he has proven highly successful by bringing several of the South's top athletes to the Florida State program. His on the field responsibilities include coaching the distance runners and the high jumpers and to coordinate home meet administration.

The Florida State Invitational and a Metro Seven Conference Championship meet highlight Florida State's cross country schedule.

Also highlighting the five meet schedule is Florida State's first appearance in the Metro Seven Conference Championship to be held October 30 in St. Louis, Mo. "This meet adds real incentive to the closing part of our schedule," Roberts said. "In the past, our incentive has lasted through the Florida State Invitational; now we have something at the end of the schedule to serve as a real good season windup."

TERRY KENNEDY HONORED

Terry Kennedy, Florida State's power-hitting catcher has been named recipient of the First Annual Eastern Airlines Florida College Baseball Player of the Year Award to be presented at halftime tonight. Kennedy, who has already been named to several all-star teams, including the Independent All-America, was named the winner among the University Division schools.

He was the Seminoles' leader at the plate throughout the season. He finished the year with a .364 batting average which included school records of 21 home runs, 18 doubles, 158 total bases (for a .810 slugging percentage) and 64 RBI among his totals.

The 6-3, 210-pound, Mesa, Ariz., sophomore, surpassed the old NCAA home run record of 20, but could not claim the new mark since Wyoming's Bill Ewing finished the year with a total of 23 homers.

Kennedy, who has returned to Florida State this fall to prepare for his junior season, was not discouraged, however.

He was more disappointed by the fact that he was not able to lead his teammates out of the South Region Tournament and back into the College World Series played in Omaha, Neb. Kennedy missed the Seminoles' trip to Omaha a year ago having been sidelined with tonsillitis and mononucleosis.

He was felled by tonsillitis again this spring, just a week before the regional tournament, but managed to return to action and hit his final two homers in spite of being greatly weakened by a three-day stay in the hospital.

Kennedy received over half the 25 ballots cast by the panel of state's sports media, coaches and sports information directors. He was followed in the balloting by Miami pitcher Gavin Long, who compiled a 15-0 record, pitcher Chris Welsh of South Florida and outfielder Nick Belmonte of Florida.

The college division balloting was much closer with John Castino of Rollins College edging freshman Joe LeFebre of Eckerd. A pitcher-outfielder, LeFebre had a 7-1 record and hit .372. Tom Bonfield, St. Leo College first baseman, and outfielder Bruce Witkowski of Biscayne were next in the balloting.

A total of 19 colleges and universities have baseball teams in Florida, seven in the University Division (or NCAA Division I) and 12 in the College Division (NCAA Divisions II and III and NAIA).

pre- game

Tonight the Seminoles of Florida State University take on the Gators of the University of Florida. For our pre-game program what could be more appropriate than to have a real Indian wrestle a real 'gator? Those of you who arrived too late for the pre-game program might want to consider leaving a little earlier next time. Not only will you see an interesting and entertaining program before each home game, you'll also find that traffic is a bit easier to negotiate and chances for a good parking space are better, too!

Our next home game is against Clemson on October 30, as with all home games, kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. The Clemson game has been proclaimed "Mom and Dad's Day". The parents of all FSU students have been invited to purchase their tickets and attend the Clemson football game. It's also "Band Day" and, prior to kickoff, four bands will perform, two from Tampa, one from Valdosta and one from Tallahassee. Doak Campbell Stadium will be echoing the sounds of all these talented high school musicians so plan now to be here, October 30, FSU vs Clemson, "Mom and Dad's Day" and "Band Day."

A CONTINUING SHORT HISTORY OF FSU FOOTBALLas it was in the early 1950's

The FSU band gets a name, Reubin Askew gets a fight song, the Seminoles get their first bowl victory, FSU gets a stadium.

In the last issue of SEMINOLE SIDELINE '76 we traced the origins of FSU football from its early beginning with a three game season in 1902 (as Florida State College's Purple and Gold) through the end of the 1949 season. Tonight, a look at the early 1950's.

In 1950, as in previous years, the Seminole's first home game was at Centennial Field, a converted baseball park with limited facilities. But, before the season was over, that unhappy situation changed. On October 8, 1950 the Seminoles played their first game in the new, 15,000 seat stadium on the edge of the campus. At coach Don Veller's recommendation, it was named "Doak Campbell Stadium", honoring the president of FSU. 9,676 happy fans left the new stadium after seeing Florida State wallop Randolph-Macon 40-7 in the second game of the season. In the first game, the Seminoles had defeated Troy State 26-7.

The FSU band also got an official name in 1950. Pat Gunnoe, a student from Ironton, Ohio, won an award for his suggested name of "Marching Chiefs". That same year FSU got its own fight song with words by students Doug Alley and music by faculty member Tommy Wright; the new, official song was accepted by the student body president, Reubin Askew. 1950 was just as good a year on the gridiron as had been predicted. It was a perfect 8-0-0, FSU's first unbeaten, untied season.

In 1959, FSU dropped out of the Dixie Conference and, for the first time in its history, began giving aid to athletes under NCAA regulations. This small step towards the big time caused some scheduling problems as both Howard and Sewanee asked to be dropped from the FSU football schedule. Florida State University closed the 1951 season with a record of 6-2-0.

The glory days, if not over, were gone for a while. 1952 saw the Tribe lose its first four games, three at home, the next on the road. Was this a sign of things to come? It sure was, the FSU record for the 1952 season was a dismal 1-8-1.

Coach Don Veller retired at the end of the 1952 season and was replaced by Tom Nugent, a colorful and outgoing type from VMI. 1953 was a "building" year and the 1953 won-loss record reflected that building process, 5-5-0. But there were some bright spots. The first home game of the season was against Louisville and a talented quarterback named John Unitas. However Unitas was injured in the first half and saw no action after that. It was a most successful first home game debut for the new coach as FSU beat Louisville 59-0!

Optimism was the word on campus at the start of the 1954 season. The Tallahassee Democrat had a new sports editor, Bill McGrotha, who said, "In a nutshell, things look good." And, there was a new sports publicity director at FSU, Pat Hogan.

Well, that optimism began to fade a bit as the Seminoles lost their first two games at home. Then, on to Louisville and Unitas again. And, again, Unitas was injured and saw little action. The FSU optimism reappeared as FSU whipped Louisville 47-8. In the second half of that game a promising freshman running back from West Palm Beach, Buddy Reynolds, scored six points. Later he changed his name to Burt.

Things were improving and FSU wound up with a 1954 season record of 8-4-0, which included a post season loss of 47-20 to Texas Western in El Paso's Sun Bowl.

The 1955 Seminoles hoped to continue the momentum they had generated in the previous season. They won the first game but then proceeded to lose the next four. So, what do you do when your team has lost four straight games? If you're Tom Nugent you pull something out of left field and that's what Nugent did, he threw a surprise party for the entire squad and coaching staff with a rock band and plenty of barbecue! It worked, FSU won the next game and wound up with a season record of 5-5-0.

BUT, the big football news of '55 did not come on the gridiron. The big news was the Board of Control ordering the University of Florida and Florida State University to start athletic relations in football and all other sports. The air was filled with charges and countercharges, protests were filed, newspaper columns condemning the action were written. But the Board was adamant in its decision and the first FSU-UF game was scheduled for 1958.

In the next home game issue of SEMINOLE SIDELINE '76 we'll tell you about that game, and subsequent Florida games...and the first FSU victory over an SEC school...the tubulent story of controversial Perry Moss...and more of FSU football history of the late 1950's.

(Our appreciation to Dr. James P. Jones, author of "FSU ONE TIME". Much of the material in this article came from Dr. Jones' fine book.)

Coach Don Veller with his star guard, "Duke" Maltby, Captain of the Unbeaten '50 team.
