Tribe Tonight

by Mark Carlson, Sports Information Director

Welcome back.

That seems like a most unusual way to begin this piece, but after an absence of a days from Doak Campbell Stadium something needed to be said.

And, what a 49 days it has been. The Tribe comes home tonight with a nifty 5-2 record that includes a better-than-expected 3-2 showing on the most recent road trip that was considered the most treacherous ever undertaken in the history of college football.

Just to refresh your memories. When you last watched your favorite football team, they were winning 10-5 over Memphis State and hiking the season record to 2-0. A trip to Nebraska followed and with it the first defeat of the season.

Many thought the Nebraska result [14-34] was a forecast of worse things to come. Not so, however. After an open date, the Tribe traveled to Ohio State and claimed a 36-27 verdict before 87.158 fans, the most to ever watch a Seminole football game.

Then came a trip the following Saturday to the famous Notre Dame campus. Few teams have ever won on their first visit to South Bend, but FSU toppled the Irish, 19-13. That win replaces last year's 18-14 victory at Nebraska as the most prestigious in Seminole history.

The constant travel apparently caught up with the Tribe the following Saturday when a talented Pitt squad put a 42-14 rap on the Seminoles. It was the worst defeat for FSU since a 1978 excursion to Mississippi State.

Last Saturday the trip ended with a surprisingly easy 38-14 win at LSU. The win was the third consecutive win in Baton Rouge for the troops of Bobby Bowden, who have never lost in what LSU partisans fondly refer to as "Death Vallev."

So, now that it's over, what did head coach Bobby Bowden think of Oktoberfest?

"I'm just glad we don't have to do it again," said Bowden. "It was very important to win three of five games. I wish we could have done better, but what it does is get us back in good shape."

Earlier this week Bowden was asked to grade the trip.

"I'd have to say it was a B," Bowden drawled. "Two wins and a tie would have been a C — just average. I think we got the best of it."

Now tonight it's "Homecoming" in two ways. First the Seminole football team return and second, many former graduates are on campus.

This is the first of three consecutive home games for the Tribe. Following Western Carolina into Doak Campbell Stadium will be Miami (Nov. 7) and Southern Mississippi (Nov. 14).

The season concludes with the annual backyard brawl against Florida at Gainesville on Nov. 28.

So, even though many of you would like to believe that once Oktoberfest ended the season would get easier, forget it. It could be an even rougher road than the last five games since two of the final three are against in-state rivals.

"It's funny, at the beginning of the season we thought about the awful road trip," Bowden says, "but now when you look at the schedule, you have to say the toughest part is still ahead."

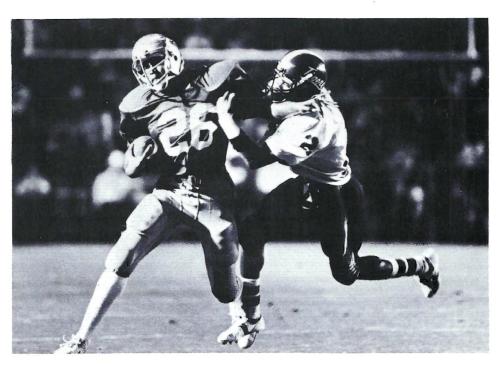

A victory against the Catamounts tonight will allow the Seminoles to achieve two goals. The victory would be the 200th in the history of FSU since it began playing football in 1947. Historians now note the Seminoles are 199-146-12 since they began with a 14-6 loss to Stetson in '47.

A win tonight would be the 50th for Bowden here since he took over the slumping program in 1976. He carries a 49-16 report card at FSU as he prepares for tonight's kickoff.

Bowden will become only the second FSU head football coach to gain 50 victories. The first was Bill Peterson, who will be in the radio booth tonight, analyzing the contest for the Seminole Network.

TRIBE TIDBITS: Western Carolina is a member of the Southern Conference . . . WCU tailback Melvin Dorsey has rushed for 823 yards in eight games this season, a 103-yard average per game . . . his best effort was 165 yards against Furman . . . Seminoles Greg Allen and Garry Futch were honored by Associated Press for their performances vs. LSU . . . Allen, who rushed for a school record 202 vards in 31 carries in his first collegiate start, was named Associated Press Southeastern Back of the Week and Futch shared Lineman of the Week honors after registering 10 tackles, including five for losses . . . If you don't have a ticket for next week's game vs. Miami, forget it — none are available... the game was sold out almost a month ago, the earliest non-Florida sellout in Seminole history . . . FSU will be trying to stretch its 18-game home win streak tonight . . . the Tribe has not lost in Doak Campbell since 1978 when Houston turned the Seminoles back, 27-21... the Seminoles have won 19 of their last 20 home games and 25 of the last 27... Billy Allen's kickoff return for six points last Saturday was the first time a Seminole had done that in a regular season game since 1974 when Leon Bright went 100 yards vs. Virginia Tech . . .

When Football Started In Florida WeWere Starting Our 29th Year.

In 1906, Floridians cheered their first college football game. And Barnett celebrated its 29th year in Florida.

Of course, football's come a long way since those early days.

And, we're happy to say, so have we.

Today, Barnett Banks do business with more people in more places than any other banks in Florida. And the reason is simple.

Because for 104 years, we've made a practice of making our customers #1 at Barnett.

All Barnett Banks are members FDIC.

Life as the Coach's Wife...

By Ann Bowden

At the time of this writing, I am struggling to overcome the emotional trauma that accompanies a loss such as the one that was just inflicted upon us by the University of Pittsburgh. I must use the word is because every time our team loses, every Florida State fan feels a personal loss. It strikes even closer when you're the wife of the head coach. I'm going to attempt to communicate some of those feelings and some other things that go along with being married to Bobby.

Recently, when asked to do an interview with a local sportscaster, I jokingly remarked, "Do you want me to tell it like it really is or the way people want to hear it?" He informed me that I need not incriminate myself but as nearly as possible, tell it like it is.

First of all, let me say that I can't imagine what it would be like to be anything other than a coach's wife-other than a player's wife which I was for four years when Bobby began his coaching career in 1953 as an assistant at Howard College (our alma mater). This season will complete our 28th year and 20 of those will have been as a head coach. Being a head coach is of significance because of the added responsibility and pressures that accompany being the head man, not only for him but for his wife and family as well.

Fortunately for us as a family, Bobby's early years were spent in low pressure jobs at smaller schools, if there can be such a thing in the game of football. I suppose every coach would argue that there is a certain amount of pressure that goes with any coaching job. I would not debate the point.

I have found from my own experience that the bigger the program, the bigger the task and the greater the pressure. Because of the finances involved in producing a topnotch program and due to the increased fan following, more people have a vested interest in what's happening out there. Sometimes there is more contributed vocally to the program than there is financially. Bobby received a most distasteful letter from a fan once after a loss and when it was checked out, we found the guy contributed less than five dollars a year. You'll always meet those people along the way.

How do I react after a loss? I suppose my first reaction is anger because I think maybe our players could have played better. Anger because I think maybe the coaching staff could have prepared them better. Anger with the officials because they didn't let a close call go our way. Anger at the fans because THEY are angry and don't seem to understand. Most of all I'm angry with myself because I have those feelings. Certainly the players want to win and so do the coaches and I think they try to give 100 percent all the time.

In our field, when I say "our", I don't use the term loosely. I feel very strongly that we-meaning our family-are all in this thing together. Bobby's success affects me and our children as well as what we do affects him. I consider myself a "helpmate"—a partner who has always been vitally interested in him as a person and in what he is doing. I enjoy being included and involved and so do our children. I would always hope that he shares in this feeling and I feel he does; however, as a young mother with a large family there were times when I felt there was not always a proper balance. I don't have problems with that anymore.

Recently I was asked if I resented Bobby's statements that placed us down the totem pole below "God, football and golf." I took that lightly and replied "No, certainly I'm proud that he is a Christian and places God first in his life—that's how it should be with everyone. As for football and golf, well, I suppose I know as well as my children that we definitely rank above football and golf in importance." I suppose it's the security of this knowledge that eliminates any resentment.

I have found that in the case of most successful men, it's the wife and family that give the most where the family relationship is concerned. We accept this as "part of the game."

Mark Carlson, Sports Information Director

This is a story about:

- (A) James Thomas Jr.;
- (B) James T. Thomas;
- (C) J. T. Thomas;
- (D) All of the above.

but this piece does concern one perwho signs his checks three different as and is a member of the Pittsburgh selers defensive secondary. It's also and a Florida State graduate ('73), ho's making his mark, not only in the sed life of profootball, but also in the senses world and community of Pitts-

It's an appropriate Homecoming feathreeven though J. T. Thomas will not be bere tonight. Instead he will be preparing for a game in Pittsburgh tomorrow against the San Francisco 49ers.

Indeed, it's incredible in the eyes of many that he's even on the Steeler 40-man roster today. Many of the media types in the Steel City area had almost written J. T. off the club in July prior to the start of training camp. Instead, he will start at free safety tomorrow and contribute more than his share to the Pittsburgh pass defense.

Last summer was the second time the media folks had written off J. T. Thomas as a member of the Steelers. The first came in the summer of '78 when a blood disorder, Boeck's Sarcoid, a rare but not fatal disease, forced him to the sidelines.

In this modern age of medicine where almost everything appears curable, Boeck's Sarcoid is a mystery. Very little is known about the disease.

"It comes and goes," Thomas explained. "They (doctors) don't know why. It's like the common cold."

However, that year of inactivity probably was a benefit to Thomas. He learned more about himself and the world.

"I look at whatever happens to me in life as a learning tree," Thomas says. "If I traveled the same path as Terry Bradshaw or Lynn Swann, that wouldn't make life unique. That's what makes life exciting.

"My year sitting out, I came in touch with reality. In football, you have a tendency to be exalted. You see reality in a very vague mirror. You think you're cognizant of things, but you're really not. They always say football players die two deaths, the first when they leave the game. In a sense, I've been resurrected."

If you're getting the idea that Thomas is an interesting sort, you're right.

An example is the recent visit by the Steelers to New Orleans. While many of his teammates were checking out the sights of Bourbon Street, J.T. was off by himself.

"I love my solitude," say Thomas, a member of all four Steeler Super Bowl teams. "I just go out alone. I need the space.

I grab a cab and just go. I went to a restaurant called Bunning's at West End Park.

"I sat at a big table at a marina where they had yachts tied up. It was right alongside Lake Pontchartrain. And I ate lots of healthy seafood. It was fantastic." Why would he pass up the opportunity to be with his teammates?

"We're on top of each other all week," he says. "We see each other at meetings, on the practice field, at lunch, in the locker room, in the showers and you name it. I need to be by myself once in a while. I even go off and find dives; no one recognizes you there."

Don't however, get the idea Thomas is not a "team" player.

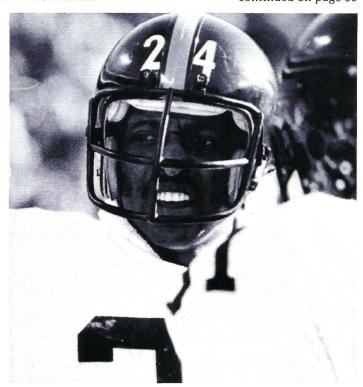

"Football is a game of dependency," says Thomas, the first black to ever play in a football game at Florida State. "If one phase is not functioning properly, you all stink. We depend on the pass rush; they depend on our coverage. In basketball, you find the hot guy and give him the ball. In baseball, you can pinchhit for an individual. But football doesn't work that way. Everyone has a function.

"You take one spark plug out of my BMW and it doesn't work, and the Steelers are the same way. But as defensive backs, we often get the blame for a big touchdown because we're the last line. But I like it that way."

Yes, indeed, J.T. Thomas is making a name for himself, but he hasn't forgotten Florida State.

"I still keep in contact with the people down there." he says. "I've been at several clinics with Coach (Bobby) Bowden and Bill Shaw (defensive line coach) was a teammate. When I take my family to Florida in the winter I always try to stop in Tallahassee. I really like it there and at one time after my rookie season continued on page 89

Bowden & FSU: A Perfect Match

What is the reason for Bobby Bowden's Florida State success?

Perhaps retired Dr. Coyle Moore, who was dean for Florida State's School of Welfare and a long-time observer of the Seminole sports program, gives the best insight with the below quotation.

"Bobby Bowden is a Southern Cracker, to the manor born, perfectly adapted to us Southern Crackers and Rednecks in Northern Florida. He speaks our language, adheres to our religious faith, and fits our needs like a glove."

Bowden, who was raised in Alabama, has been able to tie together the loose ends of a major college football program with his downhome, country, folksy way of getting things done. A city slicker he ain't.

He has the ways of a southern cracker yet the polish of a sophisticated head coach from the eastern establishment thanks to a six-year head coaching stint at West Virginia. Bowden has been able to find the right blend that makes him the second most popular head coach in the deep south today. Only Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama draws more attention.

At various times in the last two years, Bowden has been described by the media as a "savior" and "St. Bobby." Indeed, he has fit the needs of the Florida State football program like a glove. Bowden has taken a program that was in ashes and turned it into one of the most respected in the country.

In case you disagree, consider . . .

- (1) A 44-14 record in five seasons compared to a 19-38 in five years B.B. (Before Bowden);
- (2) Back-to-back Orange Bowl appearances when the school had never previously appeared in a New Year's Day post-season contest;
- (3) Second place spots in both the Associated Press and United Press International Top 20 polls at the close of the 1980 regular season;

(4) Consecutive Top 10 finishes in the final wire service polls the last two years when FSU only once previously since 1947 had finished in the Top 20.

Yes, the Florida State football program has turned around with Bobby Bowden at the helm. In fact, it can even be described as amazing. That first year (1976) the Tribe went 5-6—not a good mark by many standards, but when one remembers the previous year was 3-8, 1976, was considered a plus. Since then FSU has reeled off regular season marks of 9-2, 8-3, 11-0 and 10-1.

There have been three bowl appearances—the 1977 Tangerine and 1980 and 1981 Orange Bowls. The Tribe has consistently ranked in the Top 20 each of the last two years and there have been eight national or regional television appearances—more than any other school in the country.

Bowden is the first to recognize the work of his staff for bringing the Seminole program to the point where it exists today. But, others direct the credit to the 51-year old Bowden.

This was quite evident during and after the 1979 season when Bowden's name was mentioned for every head coaching position that opened. But, FSU President Bernie Sliger managed to get Bowden's name on a contract that should make him a permanent fixture in Tallahassee and Doak Campbell Stadium for many years to come.

Bowden signed an automatically renewing five year contract that contains a clause unique to college athletics—if Bowden elects to resign from his current employer for another coaching position, he must pay FSU for the time remaining on the contract.

"It means we are married and nobody's going to put our marriage asunder," Bowden explained. "I didn't want to go anywhere. I wanted to stay here. I love it here. Florida State and its fans are not spoiled yet."

Bowden realizes there is room for the program to grow.

We haven't won the national chammakip." Bowden says. "We were last year—a pair of two point version plays kept us from winning title. No, we still have some growlt ain't the time for 'ole Bobby dhis players to sit back. There's still to be done."

Still. Bowden can fondly recall the pleasant memories of the last five seasant memories of the last five seasant Twice he has been named Namal Coach of the Year. First the poor was given by ABC-TV and Chevrolet after the 1979 season and at the close of the 1980 campaign, the American Sportsmanship Council named him mind on FSU's staff in the 1960's, when Bill Peterson was head coach and the Seminoles were first making waves in the polls with a celebrated passing game that featured wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff.

Bowden left to be offensive coordinator under Jim Carlen at West Virginia. When Carlen checked out, going to his current job at South Carolina, Bowden became head coach of the Mountaineers. He was doing well in a tough situation and, when Florida State called Bowden had to give it some thought.

After two minutes, he accepted.

asm in everything you do in life," Bowden says," and you coach what you believe. If we can be enthusiastic in the little things we do, it will carry over to a winning season.

"But don't get me wrong about discipline. I believe in letting the players know who is boss, and I believe in some sacrifice and devotion. But discipline can only go so far.

"Heck, I've always said that if short hair and perfect manners won football games, the Army-Navy game would be played every year for the national championship."

its "Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year." And twice he has been the Associated Press Southern Independent Coach of the Year.

Success fits Bowden. He has been just as successful at his previous head coaching stops—Samford and West Virginia.

His Samford record was 31-6 over four seasons. In six years at West Virginia, he piloted the Mountaineers to a 42-26 record and two Peach Bowl appearances. His 44-14 FSU log gives him a career mark of 117-46, a .717 winning percentage.

Bowden is no Tallhassee stranger. He had been an offensive coaching "I'm a southern boy who wants to be in the Deep South," he said. "I slipped on ice once too often, got bogged down in the snow one time too many. I didn't want to act anxious, but I was eager to come to Florida State."

Bowden doesn't follow a complicated coaching philosophy. In fact, it's quite simple.

"I believe in blocking and tackling," he says. "Everything else in this game is irrelevant, blocking and tackling will cause wins."

Enthusiasm and discipline are key words which exemplify Bowden's overall attitude, both on and off the field.

"I believe in discipline and enthusi-coach. He is also a deeply religious individual, who speaks often to church groups throughout the state.

"God is an integral part of my life," Bowden says. "I look to God for guidance but firmly believe God helps those who help themselves. Man must help himself, but also seek guidance."

Born on November 8, 1929, Bowden attended Woodlawn High School in Birmingham, Ala., and was a Little All-American quarterback at Samford University. He holds a bachelor's degree from Samford and master's from Peabody College. He married his childhood sweetheart, the former Julia Ann Estock and they have six children.

FSU Assistant Coaches

 \blacksquare

Jim Gladden, Defensive Ends Jim has been with the Seminole coaching staff since 1975, when he first was a graduate assistant. He was promoted to full-time status a year later and has tutored the defensive ends ever since. He also schedules FSU's junior varsity games.

Gladden came to Florida State after 15 years of coaching the prep ranks. He coached high school teams in Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and Florida before entering the collegiate ranks.

A native of Springfield, Mo., Gladden graduated from William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo., where he was an all-conference end.

Stanton is the veteran of the assistant coaches. He began his coaching career in the high school ranks in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia. He later moved to George Washington University and then spent five seasons at North Carolina State, his alma mater.

Stanton was the defensive backfield coach for FSU in 1974 but returned to N.C. State for two seasons to join Bill Dooley's staff. Bowden brought him back to FSU in John Eason, Receivers. John is the newest Seminole coach. This will be his first campaign as the Garnet and Gold receiver coach.

Eason came to FSU from Tallahassee's Leon High School, where he was assistant principal since 1979. He was an assistant football coach at Leon between 1973 and 75, and had also coached in Ocala two years.

Eason was an All-American receiver and punter for crosstown Florida A&M, graduating in 1969 with his degree. He played professional football three years, two with the Oakland Raiders and a third with the Montreal Allouettes of the CFL.

Gene McDowell, Linebackers. Gene McDowell is one of three Seminole coaches who now coach at their alma mater. McDowell has spent the last 18 years coaching football and most recently, directing the Seminole linebackers.

McDowell spent his early coaching years with the Seminoles but moved to Kansas State briefly. He returned to Tallahassee in 1974 to coach the defensive ends and took the linebacking duties when Bowden became head coach.

McDowell, a native of Quincy, lettered three years at linebacker for FSU. He was selected third team Associated Press All-America following his senior season. Gene is a bachelor.

■ Billy Sexton, Quarterbacks. Billy, the youngest member of the Seminole staff, is in his fifth year at Florida State. He has been on the full-time staff for three seasons.

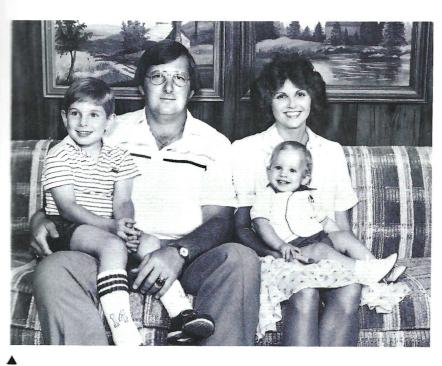

Sexton earned his bachelor's degree from FSU in 1974, then moved to Tallahassee's Leon High School where he spent three years coaching the offense. He returned to FSU in 1976 as a graduate assistant.

George Henshaw, Offensive Coordinator. George has been an assistant coach under Bowden for the last eight years. He serves as offensive coordinator, his third season in that capacity. During his first three seasons at FSU, he coached the noseguards and tackles.

Henshaw was also with Bowden at West Virginia where he was the defensive line coach from 1972-76. Prior to that, he played under Bowden at WVU where he was a three-year starter at defensive tackle. He co-captained WVU's 1970 11-1 Peach Bowl squad and later was voted to the 1950-70 all-time West Virginia football team. (1-r) Kathy, George and Michael Henshaw

Bill Shaw, Defensive Line. Bill is Florida State's third-year defensive line coach. He came to the Seminoles from Jacksonville (Ala.) State where he was defensive coordinator for two seasons. Prior to that, he coached at VMI three seasons.

Shaw was a member of Florida State's 1968 Peach Bowl and 1969 Fiesta Bowl squads. After graduation, he was briefly a graduate assistant at his alma mater.

At Jacksonville State, Shaw's 1977 defense limited six of its opponents to a touchdown or less on its way to the NCAA Division II playoffs. Overall, the school had an 18-6 record while Shaw designed the defenses.

(l-r) Brandon, Bill, Brenda and Clayton Shaw Nick Kish, Runningbacks. Nick has been on the Bowden coaching staff for five years—1981 will be his third full time. He handles the runningbacks and heads up the Seminole recruiting efforts.

Kish joined the Seminoles after a successful four year prep coaching stint in New York. He had a four-year record of 29-2, including 28 wins in a row. His teams were city champs from 1973-75.

Kish received his bachelor's degree from Buffalo in 1969 where he was the Bull's MVP and defensive captain. He had played his first three seasons at Syracuse.

Bob Harbison, Administrative Assistant. Bob has been a member of the FSU football staff for all but two seasons since football was initiated in 1947. He spent 30 years on the field and has been an administrative assistant for the past three.

He is responsible for day-today operations of the football program, supervising the fiscal affairs of the staff and serving as the liaison between the coaches and the university community. He also is in charge of officiating.

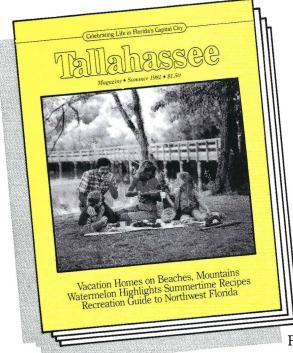

A graduate of Indiana, Harbison played offensive end and defensive line for the Hoosiers and finished his career with a performance in the Blue-Gray game.

Darien Andreus Up and Running

By Lisa Morton, Assistant Sports Information Director

The sun peeks up from behind the hill and the shadow of a runner emerges. The feet develop a rhythm as they move across the dew-covered grass. Perspiration beads form on the runner's forehead from the hot, moist air.

A door opens up and a runner steps out into the cold, almost unwillingly. The first steps are dreaded as the cold air seems to pierce the lungs. It's dark outside but lights are starting to flicker on here and there.

On both occasions, in two different parts of the year, it's 6:30 a.m. in Tallahassee. While the rest of the world is waking up, Darien Andreu of Florida State's women's cross country team is already tuned into a new day.

"I love running" says Andreu, a senior from Orange Park, Fla. "You've got to love it because it's not easy to go out there and run the miles. You have to get satisfaction out of it."

Which part of the year does Andreu find it easier to run in? "Definitely the warmer months," she says. "The heat and humidity don't bother me at all. You can see some great things out there like the Capitol shrouded in a fog and the sun coming up behind it. I also like to run through the campus and see what's going on. The miles just seem to fly by."

But in the winter months in Tallahassee, running becomes more of a chore, even for Andreu. "It's bitter," she says. "You open the door and the cold air rushes upon you. You've got to start generating some body heat quickly. The air seems to go right through all the sweats, too. It's definitely not enjoyable until you get past the first mile. I just think about getting through it."

Actually, the morning runs are but one of the daily runs for Andreu and her teammates during the cross country season. In the afternoon, the squad assembles and does a variety of workouts; sometimes a hard interval workout, sometimes a long run that could stretch as far as 12 miles. Other times the squad will run the hills, a critical but hard part of the entire phase of training for cross country competition.

"Our program is incredible here," says Andreu, who also runs the 3,000, 5,000 and 10,000 meter distances during track and field season. "Just look at the job Roger (Smith) and Gary (Winckler) have done since they became the coaches here a year ago. They turned the track program around (FSU finished third in the nation last year) and our cross country program is following. They are tremendous motivators and bring out the best in all of us."

During the spring, cross country is out and track is in full swing. "Track is a whole different world," says Andreu, who stands 5-3 and weighs barely 100 pounds. "It's a perfect sport—it's measured and you know where you are in reference to time. You get entirely caught up with the watch."

Andreu's favorite track race is the 5,000 meters, which is known as the 5-K in track lingo. That's also the distance of a cross country race which may explain why she excells at both cross country and track even though they are run in two very different ways. "In the track race, you have to be aware of tactics but at the same time amuse yourself since you're going around the same flat track," she says. "It's strange in that it takes a lot of concentration or you could find yourself lulled right out of the race."

But Andreu has found herself successful in both, qualifying for the regional and national meets during cross country season and qualifying for the 3, 5, and 10-K runs during the spring season. "When I came here, Darien was one of the squad's top runners already," says Smith, who coached at Wyoming before he took the FSU position. "But the improvement since then is just incredible. She has a lot of talent and she adapts well and really understands what we're trying to coach. She'll be one of the top runners in our region meet this year."

That meet is being run next week in Athens, Ga. and FSU fans should expect to hear Darien Andreu's name at the top of the finisher's list. And after regionals, the next step is nationals where Andreu hopes to lead FSU to a top ten finish.

"We're capable of reaching the top ten, and we even have a shot at the top five this year," she says. "If we can get the best performance out of everyone and if we can run as a team and help each other, then we can reach our goals.

If dedication has anything to do with it, Darien Andreu will reach hers.

Dick Roberts FSU Men's Coach

According to the Collegiate Dual Meet Rankings put out by Track and Field News, Florida State's track program—men and women combined—is the fourth best in the nation. The computations are arrived at based on four factors; schedule toughness, depth of performances, head-to-head competition and hypothetical competition.

Florida State's men's program ranked ninth with the women's program getting fifth place. But as a combined unit, the Tribe program was considered the fourth best in the United States.

Merrill Lynch is the largest brokerage firm in Florida. But being a breed apart is more than just size; it's offering the service, convenience and versatility needed to satisfy the investment needs of all Floridians.

Service. Behind the scenes, the largest research department of any brokerage firm covers all the major industries, issuing fundamental opinions on more than 1400 widely traded issues. And it is all available to you through your personal account executive. Merrill Lynch has more than 500 account executives in Florida alone, so your representatives will have the time to discuss your finances, your goals and your opportunities.

Convenience. There are many times when a transaction can be completed by a simple phone call. But there are other times when you want to sit down and talk to your account executive, to thoroughly plan your next investment move. At those times, it's good to know there's a Merrill Lynch office nearby. In fact, we have 44 offices located throughout Florida.

Versatility. Floridians have special investment needs, and Merrill Lynch has the resources to meet them. We can help you reach your personal financial goals, despite a rapidly changing economy. For instance, if you're living on a fixed income, you'll be happy to know that Merrill Lynch is one of Florida's largest marketers of bond funds and annuities.

How can Merrill Lynch's unmatched resources benefit you? Look in your white pages for your nearest Merrill Lynch office and find out what it means to deal with a breed apart.

Seminole Spirit

ALMA MATER

High o'er the towering pines our voices swell.

Praising those Gothic spires we love so well,

Here sons and daughters stand, faithful and true.

Hailing our ALMA MATER, FSU.

FIGHT SONG

[©]Music by Thomas Wright Words by Doug Alley

You've got to fight, fight, fight for FSU.

You've got to scalp 'em Seminoles.

You've got to win, win, win, win this game and roll on down to make those goals.

For FSU is on the warpath now and at the battle's end, she's great

So fight, fight, fight to victory, our Seminoles from Florida State.

(Yell) F-L-O-R-I-D-A S-T-A-T-E

Florida State! Florida State! Florida State!

(Repeat song)

FLORIDA STATE VICTORY SONG

We are on the warpath tonight.

Onward, Florida State.

Show all the world the spirit and might that the Seminoles create.

Stand up for the Garnet and Gold.

Ever loyal we shall be.

We are proud to shout,

"The Warriors are out." And they will lead us to victory.

HYMN TO THE GARNET AND GOLD

Here's a hymn to the garnet and gold, ringing to the sky.

Here's a song for our men and women bold, sing with heads held high.

Striving ere to seek to know, fight for victory.

Alma Mater, this song to you,

Echoes, FSU.

Bowden, Dooley & Pell agree! Tough FORD trucks are #1.

Ford Pickups have outsold Chevy for more than 13 years in Florida and South Georgia.

Ford's F-100 Pickups are the best-selling pickups in America* because they're designed to get the job done. The standard 4.9 liter 6-cylinder engine and optional 4-speed overdrive transmission are rated at 21 EPA estimated MPG and 29 estimated highway.

Ford gives you a lot of truck for the money. Our exclusive Twin-I-Beam front suspension is standard, along with steel-belted radial tires, halogen headlamps, rubber isolated spring pads, double-wall construction, and top-rated payload capacities.

Test drive America's #1 Pickup at one of your 140 Ford Dealers in Florida and South Georgia. See your Ford dealer today for a FREE SEMINOLE BUMPER STICKER.

*Based on 1977-80 Calendar year retail deliveries.

Use estimates for comparison. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, trip length and weather.
Actual highway mileage will probably be lower.

Not just who won and how big, but the whole epic story, in depth and detail — covered by pros who obviously know how much you care. The best, brightest, most colorfully complete coverage of every Seminole game is yours in Times Sports.

The Super-Dooper Multiple Choice Seminoles Football Fan Letter

Dear Seminoles:
I've never \square seen a football game before \square written you a fan letter before \square figured out why those guys in the striped shirts keep dropping their handkerchiefs. But I'd like to tell you \square what a great game you played \square how cute you are \square to call your mother once in a while. I really liked the way you \square tackled those big guys \square ran the ball \square sat on the bench. And I thought you did a great job of \square passing \square holding that line \square keeping grass stains off your pants. Seminole football means \square life itself \square wearing garnet and gold \square going to the Orange Bowl!
And for giving us such a \square nationally-ranked \square exciting \square Bowden-ful football team, I'd just like to say \square thank you \square you done good \square Go Noles! Thumbs Up to a victorious season in 1981.
Your Fan,
P.S. \square Hit the books. \square I love you. \square Wash those jerseys before you come home.

START COLLEGE TWO YEARS OLDER, TWO YEARS WISER, AND $9,200 RICHER.

A lot of people who start college right after high school discover they're not ready for it.

That's something to think about. And a good reason to think about serving two years in the Army first.

In the Army, you mature fast. You're given responsibility. You develop discipline. And you really appreciate the value of an education.

And now, you can also get extra benefits to thelp pay for your education.

If you join the Army's Super

Veteran's Educational Assistance Program (VEAP), the money you save for school is matched two-for-one by the government (see table).
Then, if you qualify, up to $2,000 is added to that.

Which means in just two years in the Army, you could salt away as much as $9,200 for college. So you won't just be two years older when you start college. You'll also be two years wiser. And $9,200 richer.

Find out more about how you can serve your country as you serve yourself.

Seminole Stars **

Garry Futch Senior/Ocala, Fla. Defensive Tackle

When Garry Futch's eligibility is up at the end of the current football season, he'll probably be remembered by Seminole fans as the man who fell on a Jeff Quinn fumble at Nebraska in 1980 in the waning seconds of the game. That recovery killed a late Husker rally and gave FSU one of its all-time greatest victories, 18-14.

"He's very consistent, very tough and physical," says defensive line coach Bill Shaw. "He's played very well and has graded out higher than any lineman I coached.

Futch has put together two fine back-to-back performances against Pittsburgh and LSU. "Against Pittsburgh," says Shaw, "Garry played a good game even though it looked like the Panther offensive line dominated our entire defense." Futch had give stops in that contest. Against LSU, there wasn't any doubt about what kind of game Futch had. He dropped quarterback Alan Risher for three sacks totaling 19 yards and tackled another three LSU ball carriers behind the line of scrimmage. In all, Futch recorded ten tackles, seven of them solo shots. His four quarterback sacks on the season tie him for the FSU lead with Alphonso Carreker but the yardage lost on those sacks (29) leads all Tribe defenders.

Mike Whiting Senior/Largo, Fla. Fullback

Mike Whiting, featured on the cover of this week's program, is easily one of the most valuable performers on the Seminole squad. When the year began, Whiting was already among the top 10 career ground gainers in FSU history.

In 1980, in addition to his fullback duties where he gained an even 500 yards, Whiting was the Tribe's leading receiver with 25 catches for 203 yards. His teammates voted him the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the 10-2 season.

Although he's been injured a bit in 1981 (he sat out last week's LSU game), Whiting has impressive statistics. In 75 rushing attempts, he has only been caught one time behind the line of scrimmage—for a one yard loss. His 284 yards adds to his previous career totals, placing him seventh on the all-time rushing list (1,308) at Florida State. Perhaps more important are his 20 catches for 135 yards, second on the squad.

More times than not Rick Stockstill has found his receivers covered and has gone to Whiting for a short pass in the flat for a Seminole first down.

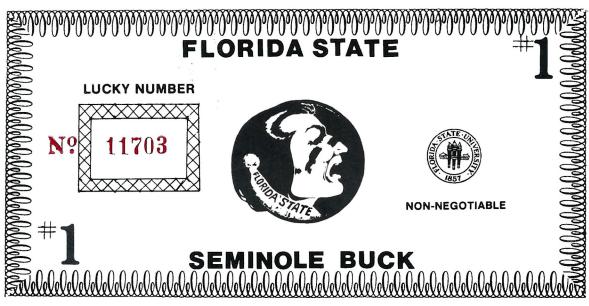

Whiting's best game came against Notre Dame, when the Seminoles upset the Irish 19-13 at South Bend. He accounted for both Seminole TD's with pass receptions of five and 17 yards and had another 20-yard touchdown catch called back. In addition to his fine receiving, Whiting pounded out 71 yards in 15 carries along the ground to propel the FSU running attack.

We haven't even mentioned Whiting's strong suit yet. He's an outstanding blocker and most of the time he opens the holes for the FSU tailback, who get most of the work out of FSU's split back formation. But when it third and one yard to go, it's a safe bet that Whiting will get the call...and the yardage.

CHEVY CAVALIER THE ESCAPE HATCH

Escape to where you long to be.

Here's the kind of engineering designed to take you miles away from the middle of the road. The 1982 Cavalier Hatchback. A brand-new car that owes its creation to innovation. Not imitation.

Escape with the goods.

Reclining front seats, power brakes, side and rear window defoggers and a remote hatch release (quite a remote feature on ordinary hatchbacks) combine with 38 other standard features to make the '82 Cavalier the most complete new car we've ever introduced.

On the technical side, innovations in front-wheel drive, aerodynamic design and operating efficiency help add up to 43 Est. Highway/ 26 EPA Est. MPG.* And engine buffs will be interested to know Cavalier's standard 1.8 Liter, 4-cylinder engine actually delivers more horsepower per liter than some highly regarded V8s.

Plan your escape now.

Your Chevy dealer can help put your escape plan in motion, starting with a test drive. Get inside. Drive it around the block. Then all that's left to do is to decide whether you want to buy or lease a new 1982 Cavalier. Whichever you choose, one thing's for sure:

You won't have any trouble at all adjusting to your new freedom.

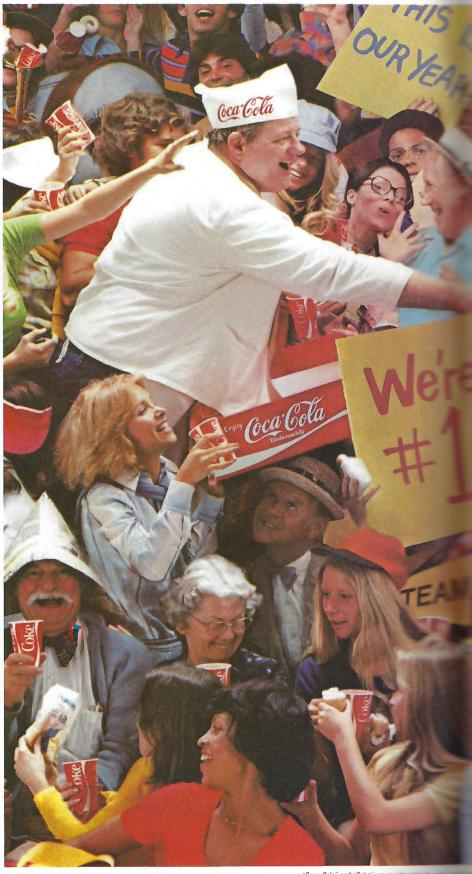

*Use estimated MPG for comparisons. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance, weather. Actual highway mileage lower. Chevrolets are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.

The simple pleasures of driving a Honda Prelude. Starting from the top.

We think you'll agree, it's a real pleasure to look at.

But our sportiest Honda also sports the kind of features that make it a thrill to drive.

THE POWER-OPERATED MOONROOF. FOR OPENERS, IT'S STANDARD.

At the push of a button, the tinted-glass moonroof slides back. At the same time, an automatic deflector helps keep the wind out.

When you're behind the wheel, you'll be pleased at what you see in front of it. This year, the instrument panel houses a separate tachometer and speedometer, a quartz digital clock, a maintenance reminder and an electronic warning system.

Of course, the Prelude is just as much of a pleasure to sit in.

Its luxurious interior features comfortable bucket seats and adjustable headrests.

SOME SIMPLE ENGINEERING FACTS.

Our sportiest car has frontwheel drive, four-wheel independent suspension, rack and pinion steering and a responsive 1751cc CVCC® engine. The fact is, the Honda Prelude is designed to give you years of good performance. POWER STEERING COMES AUTOMATICALLY WITH THE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION.

The 5-speed stick shift is standard. But with the optional automatic 3-speed, you also get variable-assist power steering.

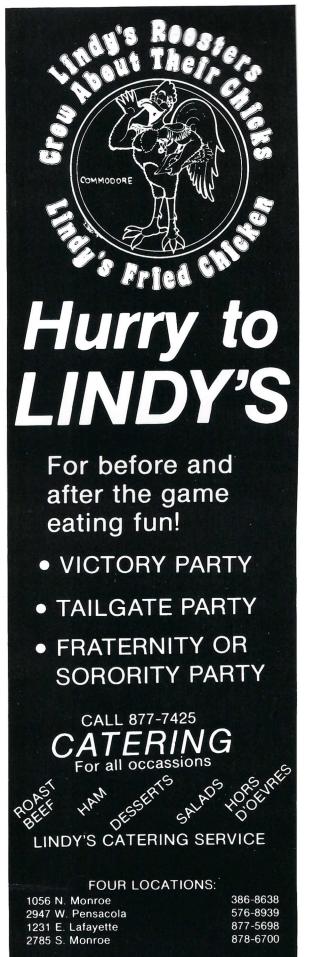

And after you've weighed all your options, we hope you drive off in the Honda Prelude.

HONDA We make it simple.

BEEPER SUCCESS STORY #3

Pugnacious C. Dillingwot, former man about town, entrepreneur and business man. On the way to the top he turned in his METRO BEEPER and promptly lost touch. He was astutely quoted as saying "Who needs one of those things, I always know where I am." Such irrefutable logic has earned Pugnacious Dillingwot, the dubious honor of this starring role in BEEPER Success Story #3. Anyone knowing the where abouts of this man, please tell him he has a message waiting.

With a Metro Beeper you can go where you want to go, do what you want to do . . . and still keep in touch!

ne Presidents C

Florida State has served Florida and the nation throughout the twentieth century under the institutional titles of Florida State College for Women and Florida State University. Under the guidance of a succession of truly outstanding presidents, it has achieved its present position as one of the finest universities in the country. The name THE PRESIDENTS CLUB is attached to this FUND to not only recognize these distinguished presidents but to focus attention upon the critical importance of the academic assistance we provide through this CLUB.

Florida State has become a fine university because of the strength of its academic programs and the importance its leadership has always placed upon the examination of proposals which had a potential for the development of still greater academic strength. The resources of THE PRESIDENTS CLUB are focused upon this insistence that the academic programs in a fine university such as Florida State can be improved.

Ideally, those universities aspiring to be leaders in developing new ideas will always have the resources for testing and development. The economic realities are such, however, that the present austerity in university budgeting will continue. The ability of our President to exercise leadership in testing ideas for academic improvements will be lessened.

That is why THE PRESIDENTS CLUB—A FUND FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE is devoted to the support of academic programs. That is why a contribution to THE PRESIDENTS CLUB is never used for anything but enhancement of an academic program.

Campus Recreation: The Big Picture

by Bernie Waxman

Homecoming is always a time for celebration. A chance to book back on what was a chance for the pioneers to come back and see what they helped create.

In this week's article we are going to take a look back at some the unforgettable moments over the last 10-15 years in intramurals at Florida State and the people who gave us so many moments of joy and laughter.

Football trainer Randy Oravetz's feat on the wrestling mat continues to stand out as one of the "magic moments" in sport. Randy, a student trainer at the time, was representing the football team in one of the lighter weight classes. With the guile, speed, and gracefulness of a gazelle, the strength of an ox, and desire of a starving bear, Randy went into the finals a heavy favorite. In a record-setting performance (still unmatched) Randy was pinned so quickly it was difficult to tell if the whistle to start the match was the same toot that ended the match. Clearly a record that may never be broken...

Then there was Jim Towey. Jim, although involved in varsity athletics and law school (both extremely competitive), found his outlet in new games—a concept that allowed everyone to win. He was instrumental in games that included bobbing for water, connect the dot, guess your age, lude games (a variation of some standard home games) and finally, He perfected the snow flounder game. The rules to this latter game are simple; first ski to exhaustion, find some powder and fall face first burying the tips of your skis in the snow...try to lift yourself while the force on the skis drives you further down—when exhaustion and panic have taken over completely you have mastered Jim's Snow Flounder. Any spring in Colorado Jim will give clinics on this great New Game.

And then there was the run by one of the craftiest of all IM runners (me). After one of my dazzling moves, I noticed a cool breeze where there formerly was no cool breeze—I still had all three flags, but only the waist band of my shorts remained. Fortunately the game was not a sell out and a generous fan offered me his warm-up bottoms after wetting them from laughing so hard. Oh well!

And what about the first team superstars competition—quite a humbling experience for more than just a few athletes. The canoe race could more easily have passed as sailing—tacking was employed by our less than experienced superstars. So much for the theory of a straight line being the shortest distance between two points. The obstacle course took a devasting toll on the competitors; by the end of the course (those lucky enough to make it that far) a twenty four inch hurdle appeared nearly impossible to clear. The final tally: Superstars 12, Obstacle Course, 16. The tandem bike race afforded us similar results. It was all quite fun and with the exception of some bruised egos, everyone survived pretty well.

In more recent times, two FSU administrators have been making news in the courts—Dr. Bob Leach and Dr. Jim Hayes continue to set racquetball back years. If the game wasn't played on the racquetball courts, it would not be recognized as racquetball. Actually those two are becoming a force in our local competitions (clearly a victory for persistence).

The lighter moments have not been exclusively the domain of the players, as our officials have afforded us a chuckle or two along the way (only in retrospect of course).

There was the softball official so intent on getting a good view of the play he failed to realize he had stepped into the path of the ball—not once, but twice (as good a head ball as I've ever seen in soccer).

And there was the basketball official who reacted to a ball thrown in his direction by catching it and making an assist with the next pass.

Or finally the official who, failing to have a coin, asked the captains to pick a number between one and ten...thousand!

This article would be remiss without mentioning some of the great dynasties built over the years. F-Troop—a group of veterans put together by Ron Tyler and quarterbacked by Jeff Austin (FSU '67 thru '81) won more games over a three year period than any other team. The Flambeau team led by any number of sports editors over the last 15 years set the record for fewest wins (with at least 50 games). Purple Haze and Perverted Purple consistently fielded more misfits and losers than any other team and still managed to have at least as much fun as the all-campus champs. The list goes on and the laughs continue off the fields into the barrooms, the dorm rooms and over many dinners. I guess that's what intramurals is really all about, and what better time to sit back and remember than Homecoming 1981 and see the sparkle return to the eyes of past heroes here to relive those lighter moments at FSU.

Ask Them Yourself

Compiled by Dan Pearson

For Coach Bobby Bowden

After having two months to evaluate the freshman class in games and practices, how do you feel about your last recruiting year?

J.T. Monk, Orlando

A I feel really good about our current group of freshmen. I wish we would have signed a few more big linemen, but overall I thought we got some really good kids. Whenever you have freshmen that are contributing then you have to say it was sucful. Cedric Jones, Greg Allen, Billy Allen, Jessie Hester and Lenny Chavers are a few who come to mind who have all helped our team this year.

For Greg Allen

 Have you been disappointed in your lack of playing time earlier in the season, especially after having run for over 200 yards last week against LSU? Dan Bradley, Tallahassee

A No, not really. Everyone on this team is given a fair shot at starting and at being number one. Being a freshman, I had to wait and work hard and hope I was being noticed. I have been happy with my progress so far and I just hope I can continue to improve.

For Rick Stockstill

How important is an education to you personally? Leisha Cowart, Chattahoochee

To me, the education is the main reason for going to college. Football can't last forever. When it's over, every player needs something to fall back on and that's where an education is really important. I'd like to have a shot at pro football but there's never a guarantee a player will make it. Football is a vehicle that has paid for my education, but it is still secondary to the education itself.

For Tommy Young

Was the switch from runningback to linebacker a difficult one for you? Kathy Smith, Havana

A Not really, in fact I think linebacker is an easier position to play. At runningback there's a lot more to think about-who you have to block, what holes to run into, patterns on passes. At linebacker, it's more reaction and less thinking. The object is to stop the person with the ball as soon as possible. There are things to think about at linebacker too, especially on stunts (a defensive play where the linebacker does not follow normal rush patterns to confuse the offensive blockers), but if you make the tackle near the line of scrimmage, no matter what your technique was, you've done the job.

For John McLean

Did having an older brother playing at Florida State affect your decision to come here? Chervl Downs, Miami

A Indirectly, it did. I always dreamed about playing for Florida State and when it came time to choose a college, knowing that Scott was already at FSU made the decision a little easier. Whenever you move, it's better if you know somebody in the town you're moving to.

For Tom Brannon

The offensive line really started improving after the first two games and then it seemed to fall apart a little against Pittsburgh. What is the explanation for that? Joe Prince, Daytona Beach

A We have improved as the season has gone along. I think after we got those first three games out of the war we started playing together as a unit which was a lime plus. As far as the Pitt game goes, we fell behind early. When you are down by 14 or 21 points, defense knows you have to throw the ball. When that's apparent, the defense will ignore the run, take more chances and use more blitzes. Pitt did that us and we were unable to hold them out on every plan.

The financial cornerstone of the Seminole athletic program, SEMINOLE BOOS-TERS, INC. is the authorized, directsupport athletic fundraising arm of Florida State University.

To a great extent, the athletic program depends on the generosity of the school's fans and alumni. Fortunately, Florida State University's supporters are among the best in the land. In 1981 direct contributions and pledges to SEMINOLE BOOS-TERS, INC. reached TWO MILLION DOLLARS! This fundraising success has ranked Florida State among the top schools in the country in terms of athletic contributions.

Outstanding leadership is the key to the BOOSTERS' success. President of SEMI-NOLE BOOSTERS, INC. is J.E. CARTER, a Tallahassee Certified Public Accountant.

Says Carter: "We have an excellent group of men and women on this year's Board of Directors. Our primary goal is to ensure that Seminole teams have the funds they need to be competitive on a national basis. Without the Boosters financial support, maintaining the outstanding coaches and facilities necessary for nationally competitive teams would be impossible.

Other BOOSTER officers for 1981 include: Vice-President JOHN OLSON, a Tallahassee insurance executive: PHILIP BROWNING, president of Striton Properties in Jacksonville, and the Boosters' secretary; and treasurer TOM BARRON, president of Capital City Second National Bank.

At-large members of the executive committee include: Clearwater businessman BILL PARKER, president of Crest Chemical Company; Miami insurance executive LESLIE PANTIN, JR.; and LOMAX SMITH, president of West Florida Construction Company in Tallahassee. Other members of the executive committee are: Athletic Director HOOTIE INGRAM; DUBY AUSLEY (Board of Regents' representative); PHIL FORDYCE (President's representative) and HURLEY BOOTH (immediate past president).

General Fundraising Chairman in 1981 is Tallahassee attorney DOUG MANN-HEIMER. Major Gifts Chairman is LOMAX SMITH, who is also chairman of the Bowl Welcoming Committee. Booster vice-president JOHN OLSON is Chairman of the Area Chairman Committee which assists the staff in developing a Booster fundraising network on the statewide and regional level.

1981 has been a banner year for the BOOSTERS. The BOOSTERS own and maintain Coble Terrace (home of the FSU Seminoles), fund special projects like the Seminole mascot and underwrite various awards and recognition banquets. BOOST-ER goals for this year include: additional stadium expansion; $1 million-plus in direct (cash) contributions on an annual basis; and retention of high quality coaches and administrative personnel. In addition, SEMINOLE BOOSTERS, INC. has taken over the food and merchandise concessions at Doak Campbell Stadium, and has greatly improved service to Seminole fans.

Carter cites as one of the proudest accomplishments of his term the continued expansion and growth of local Seminole Booster activity throughout Florida, Georgia and Alabama. Approximately $800,000 in direct contributions this year came from outside the Tallahassee/Leon County area. Particularly successful fundraising campaigns were conducted in Jacksonville; Lake City; Cairo, Ga.; Gadsden County; Thomas County, Ga.; Jackson County; Bay County; Okaloosa & Walton Counties; the Pensacola/Milton area; the Orlando area; Atlanta; Tampa; Pinellas County; Perry; Bradenton; Sarasota; Polk County; Ft. Myers; the Gainesville area; Broward and Dade Counties; Brevard County; and Lowndes County, Ga.

Volunteer leaders and organizers throughout thirty-five designated areas are building a powerful and widespread network of Seminoles to insure the continued financial support of Seminole athletics.

Memberships in SEMINOLE BOOST-ERS, INC. range from a $25 tax-deductible contribution to the elite GOLDEN CHIEFS. contributors of $5,000 per year to the athletic program, giving that group the distinction of being the most generous annual contributors in any capacity to Florida State University.

'The Booster professional staff is largely responsible for our fundraising success," says Carter. "Our Executive Director ANDY MILLER, his assistant CHAR-LIE BARNES, and Womens' athletic fundraiser DEBORAH MASON are skilled and talented professionals. They provide us with the necessary expertise to make us recognized as one of the most successful Booster organizations in the country.

The BOOSTER staff was expanded last year to include a fulltime fundraiser for women's athletics, and, for the first time, a planned giving program is being instituted.

Marching Ghiefs

F-L-O-R-I-D-A S-T-A-T-E. Florida State! Florida State!

The Marching Chiefs, the band behind the Florida State fight song, have a reputation for bringing already fired-up Seminole football fans to the point of frenzy.

Since the 1950s, the Marching Chiefs have provided Florida State football fans with the best in musical and marching entertainment. Colorful, fast-paced halftime shows satisfy even the hard-to-please with themes ranging from Broadway plays to "Saturday Night Live" and super heroes.

that in the past has entertained millions. Under the fifth year leadership of Bentley Shellahamer, assistant director of bands and director of the Marching Chiefs, Charles Carter, associate director and arranger, and graduate assistant Don McLaurin, the Chiefs will be presenting a style of performance which Seminole fans have seen in the past. Much will be coordinated with the various drills and formations to create a new dimension in sight and sound for the most exciting year yet!

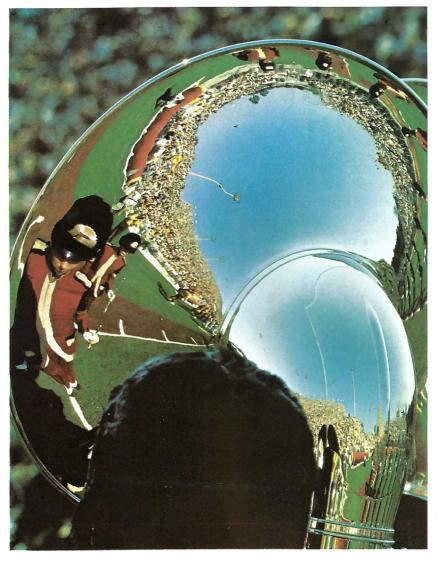

Bentley Shellahamer Assistant Director of Bands Director, Marching Chiefs

More than 300 band members, including two feature twirlers, a corps of majorettes and flag girls, representing every school and college in the University, comprise the "Pride of Florida State."

In addition to the Chiefs' performances at home games and road contests, their past national and regional television appearances have brought them into the homes of millions.

As the Chiefs step out on the field this year, audiences will be greeted by the familiar version of the style

This is Florida State

Florida State University— the home of more than 22,500 Seminoles—has a campus that starts at the top of one of Tallahassee's famed seven hills, and rolls gently downward and westward across 340-odd acres.

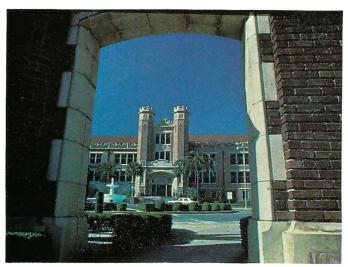

Founded in 1857 as the Seminary West of the Suwannee, its heritage is evidenced in the wide range of architectural struggles to preserve history and keep up with modern times and air conditioning. Yet it still ranks as one of the South's last, few bastions of campus greenery—the kind that combines the blossoms of camellias, azaleas and dogwoods with moss-hung oaks that are, in some cases, as old as the University itself, if not older.

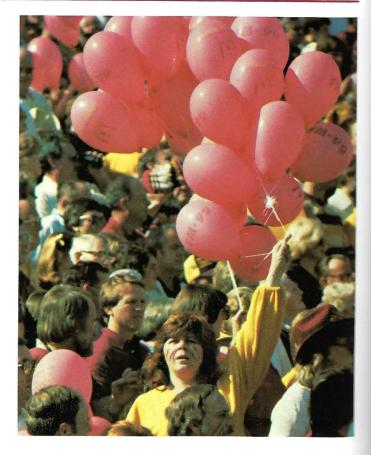

From the Gothic towers of Westcott at the eastern entrance to the campus, to the modern glass and steel structures of its Science Complex on the west, Florida State University has moved forward in time and growth more rapidly than many of its newer counterparts in the State University System. Its enrollment has quadrupled since it became coeducational in 1947, following nearly half a century as the Florida State College for Women.

Today, its 14 schools and colleges offer students the opportunity to pick and choose from more than 100 career options offered in arts and sciences, business communication, criminology, dance, education, home economics, law, library science, music, nursing, social sciences, social work, theater and visual arts programs.

The University is a member of the Academic Common Market and has overseas study centers in Florence, London and the Panama Canal Zone. Summer programs of study are offered in law at Oxford, in hotel and restaurant administration in Switzerland, and in comparative studies of economic and social systems in Yugoslavia.

The location of Florida State in the Capital City of Florida offers unusual opportunities for study and research in the social and policy sciences, and an optimum environment for internships and on-the-job learning experiences for students in many fields of study.

One such program at Florida State is the Policy Sciences Center. It combines teaching and research in politics, economics and other social sciences to provide information and analysis for state government leaders including the Governor, the Legislature and agency staff members. Already achieving national prominence the Center studies and evaluates such topics as taxation, economic development, population, land use, family planning and human resources. Surveys conducted by the Center help legislators and others assess trends and changes in public opinion.

The University operates major laboratory facilities for nuclear, marine and computer research. The Florida State nuclear physics laboratory is ranked one of the top four in the nation by the National Science Foundation. Because of this ranking, it has been recommended for higher funding.

Florida State is also the home of the Flying High Circus, the only collegiate circus in the United States. The Circus has delighted audiences the world over with breathtaking, highly-skilled performances that rival professional circuses. The student performers have earned a national reputation as a high-caliber student troupe. Their traveling show is primarily an aerial and stage presentation with approximately 90 students performing during a two-hour show.

I've been questioned concerning my reference to that statement, "it's part of the game" many times. I've found it necessary to explain that in this business, it's really not just a game at all. It's a profession that requires you to be a winner. If you lose more than you win, pretty soon you're out of it. You have to accept that fact and the sooner you do it the better. Whether it's right or wrong is up to debate. To stay viable, you have to make money. It can't be accomplished without winning and to win you must have good athletes and to get the good athletes you must have good facilities and a good program to attract them. Then it's back to the money. I know it sounds like a vicious cycle, it is. Sometimes you feel like you're on a merry-go-round.

Emotional highs and lows go hand in hand with winning and losing. There have been many memorable games over the years here at Florida State. Sometimes you're on the mountain top and other days it's the valley. I can remember the euphoric times—our 37-9 win at Florida Field back in 1977 or the 1980 win at Nebraska. How can you beat the back-to-back wins over Ohio State and Notre Dame? And there weren't many better than in 1980 when we beat a very good Pittsburgh (and Hugh Green) team here at Campbell Stadium.

But you never forget the lows. How 'bout the Mississippi State whipping we got in 1978 when our defense was riddled by injuries or the '81 loss to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl by just a point? We haven't forgot the other one point loss last season to Miami either.

Two other big wins that came during Bobby's career were at West Virginia. We defeated a good California team in 1975 that featured Chuck Muncie, now with the San Diego Chargers. But the biggest may have been in 1975 when a Johnny Majors-coached Pittsburgh team invaded Morgantown with Tony Dor-sett (he was just Dorsett at that time) and we won on a last second field goal. I suppose the reason that that game meant so much to me was that our son Tommy was the starting wide receiver and caught a crucial pass that set up the winning field goal in the waning seconds. Our oldest daughter was on the sidelines as a cheerleader during that game too. With my husband as the head coach. Mom was in her greatest glory.

It was also at West Virginia that I experienced my first big time low, I lay on my bed sobbing when it was all over. It was in 1970 and we were playing in Pittsburgh. It started off beautifully and we were ahead 35-8 at half-time (and at one time, 35-0). Our fans had already started to celebrate and I was among them. Then, the sky fell and in the second half our best linebacker along with two or three others left the game with injuries, creating huge gaps that we just couldn't plug. When it was all over, Pittsburgh had won 36-35. I felt like Chicken Little. That was the first time I cried real tears. It was also the last time; I came of age in this game and realized that we had a long way to go and many years ahead of us. After our most recent loss here at Florida State, my heart ached but there were no tears.

We have a winning program with winning people here. Those are important to build success in anything I've always wanted to be a winning wife and mother and helpmate. In my eagerness, sometimes I get carried away. I only want the best and I feel there is no place for mediocracy. I've always had a hard time accepting mediocracy.

I don't believe that I have just piggy-backed through life with Bobby. I am my own person and have my own interests outside of football — many of which I have pursued along the way as time would permit, sandwiched in between raising our six children and following all of their interests.

I've loved every minute (well, almost every minute) of being the wife of a successful football coach and the mother of athletically-involved children. I've gotten a ride on almost every seat on the bus. I've been the wife of:

- 1) an assistant small college coach
- 2) a head coach at a small junior college
- 3) a head coach at a small college
- 4) an assistant coach at a major university
- 5) an offensive coordinator at a major university
- 6) a head coach at two major universities

The ride has taken 27 years and has stopped in four states. It's been a fun ride with more smooth roads than bumpy ones. We've only experienced two losing detours along the way. Everyone loves a winner (you don't get asked to write many articles if you're a loser!). I've seen some of the others who have had to go through the losing and it's not a pretty sight.

God never promised us a rose garden. I'm just thankful that we've been able to smell the roses more than feel the thorns. Our cup has been filled.

Don't think that our life is a "game" or the coaching profession is a "business" or that I have accepted a cynical approach and that it's all work and no fun. Surely to the young men who are engaged in the sport it must be fun. If we lose this element it gets to be drudgery, with the coaches and fans as well. We must be able to take a realistic approach without losing the heart and soul of it.

Whatever success Florida State has achieved belongs to all of us and is due in large part to dedicated people who have a lot of love and generosity in their hearts. Our successes belong to one another and are all a gift of God. The most beautiful part of the whole thing is that just like the song goes, "the best is yet to be!!"

For Advertising Majors, The Beat Goes On

By Kathy Sperring, Office of Information Services

You've heard "The Beat Goes On." And that last year's baseball team was "The Biggest Hit of the Season." And "Basketball is Big Stuff at Florida State."

The reason you have heard these sports slogans is because Florida State University students, for class projects, play the part of an advertising agency, and create and plan promotion packages.

You see or hear their sports messages anywhere they can land them—billboards, radio, television, handbills, posters, newspaper ads.

Most of the College of Communication students involved in all this creative convincing are majors within the three-year-old advertising program, which regularly is racking up prestigious awards.

The program is earning a national reputation rapidly. The 100 students in the program, all hand-picked by the advertising department's one faculty member, Dr. Ed Forrest, do more than sit in the classroom and read. They build complete advertising programs for just about anybody who needs one.

"These students know they are working for themselves," Forrest says.
"Everything they do is relevant to their careers."

"When I'm admitting students into the program I look for attitude, desire and motivation," Forrest says.

Beyond the university, the students produce ads and public service campaigns on a local, state and national level.

This past year students worked on campaigns for the National Institute of Drug Abuse ("Drugs Aren't My Style!"), National Institute of Alcohol and Alcohol Abuse, HEW's Health and Human Services and Foster Home Recruitment.

The money comes through grants and pays for most of the educational expenses of the advertising students.

Forrest says those students earn that money. They can be found in the classroom building 24 hours a day, designing logos, conducting research, using the graphics equipment, creating the ultimate ad.

But, it's not the money they work for; it's the experience and top-notch presentations for their portfolios.

Indeed, it's this extra effort which is landing Florida State advertising graduates in every top ad agency in the country.

"When our students are applying for a job, they can walk into an office and do the talking. They lay out their presentation and bang, bang, bang, they're in," says the bearded, 31-year-old Forrest.

Paid internships are set in just about every major city in the U.S., including Chicago, Atlanta, New York and San Francisco. One FSU intern in a southern city landed a firm a $9.2 million account.

Agencies constantly are calling looking for fresh talent. And once an alum is placed, he or she knows where to call when it's time to hire again.

It wasn't one of those big ad agencies that just finished up the new campaign to promote the basketball team's 1981-82 season in the huge new Civic Center arena.

It was, of course, a group of FSU advertising students who thought up "The Florida State Supreme Court—Come Judge For Yourself."

thought Tallahassee would be my permanent home."

Now, however, Thomas is an established member of the Pittsburgh community. He probably leads the Steelers in public appearances during the off-season. And, many of those functions are for charity.

A personal business also keeps him in Pittsburgh. He's the leading stockholder in Mountaineer-Keystone Coal Sales, a brokerage firm. It's a business he seems to truly enjoy.

"Being a Steeler has its positives and negatives," Thomas says. "The fame and success are great. But a lot of people have negative views of athletes, and of blacks. And, there aren't that many former athletes in the corporate structure. Athletes have changed over the years, but the corporate hasn't."

One gets the idea, however, that J.T. Thomas is different. And when his playing career has ended he won't fade into the background. It's quite possible that for James T. Thomas his actions in the business community of Pittsburgh will have a greater impact than what he has done on the football field.

THE QUEST FOR THE RINGS.

AMERICA'S NEWEST VIDEO GAME CHALLENGE.

9999 The Quest For The Rings ©1981 N.A.P. CONSUMER ELECTRONICS CORP. Simulated TV picture

The Quest For The Rings is totally unlike any other video game you've ever experienced.

It combines computer technology, your TV set, and an advanced board game that transports you to a startlingly realistic Alternate World.

Your team struggles to find and control the ten precious Rings Of Power that lie hidden in danger-filled dungeons, chilling crystal caverns, infamous infernos and perilous passages.

A wizard. A warrior.
A phantom. Yes, even a fire-breathing dragon are all part of the battle. A battle in which skill and cunning and strong survival instinct often lead to winning.

The Quest For The Rings is the first in a new Master Strategy Series™ from Odyssey². Only Odyssey² could bring it to you, because alone among video games, Odyssey² includes at no extra cost a full 49-character alphabet and number keyboard. This keyboard lets you program Odyssey² for the likes of the Alternate World.

The Quest For The Rings is one of 40 exciting Odyssey² games available now. See them soon.

The excitement of a game. The mind of a computer.
