TEEPEE TALK

By Wayne Hogan

Being the nation's No. 1 college football team is fun! During the first two or three weeks of the season, it was great fun. The last four weeks, it has been only mildly fun.

Don't get me wrong. I wouldn't trade it for anything. But one fact has become abundantly clear. If we could take our ball and go home, we would. When you're No. 1, things ain't fair!

I guess it goes without saying that when you're No. 1, every team you play is gunning for you. I mean REALLY gunning for you. The opposing teams and coaches have absolutely nothing to lose. They try things they've never tried in a game before. Their emotional level is somewhere in the stratosphere, for they know this game could make their entire season. For some teams, it would be the biggest win in 15-20 years. For others — like Middle Tennessee State and Western Michigan — it would have been the biggest thing in the history of the school's football program. Given three hours to accomplish something of that magnitude, do you think you'd be extraordinarily excited?

Fans are another issue. You guys get pretty juiced up when your team has a chance to play No. 1. Admittedly, Florida State's early play helped, but LSU's traditionally noisy fans turned into a roaring mass — reminiscent of the old days of Death Valley — when the Seminoles came to town.

Officials, too, must have this thing about No. 1. Florida State hasn't gotten a decent shake from the refs in about a month and a half. Thirty-five penalties called against Goliath in the last four games, 15 against David. Eighteen to five the last two weeks alone. And have you noticed that officials are coming from half a field away to throw flags on old No. 1? They too want something to tell their grandkids someday. It's not every ref who gets to personally set back a No. 1 team 15 yards in his career.

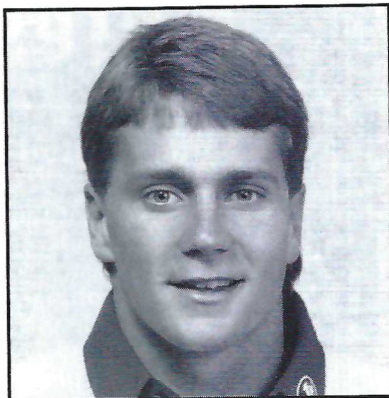

As if all that is not bad enough, this particular No. 1 team has lived with a weird scheduling scenario which has had them playing five straight games against teams at or below the .500 mark. Five straight weeks in which the Seminoles were favored by 20 or more points going in. Five straight weeks in which the most spirit-enhancing motivation was: "Avoid the upset!"

Then, put right behind those five games, THE BIGGEST college football game in perhaps 20 years. But tell 'em not to think ahead. One game at a time,

TRIBE SCHOLAR-ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Senior Quarterback Casey Weldon

The Tribe Scholar-Athlete of the Week is senior quarterback Casey Weldon. Weldon, a native of Tallahassee, graduates this semester with a Political Science degree and a minor in business.

In his fifth year at FSU, he maintains a 2.8 grade point average.

Many describe Casey as a quarterback who relies, at least in part, on great instinct. Well, Seminole Academic Advisor Mark Meleney feels Casey reacts the same way in the classroom. "Casey has never had any difficulties," Meleney said. "He never had to push himself, yet he is a good student. Schoolwork comes instinctively."

Weldon doesn't attribute his academic success to instinct, but knows his responsibilities and priorities include getting an education. "I've come to realize you have to have a degree to support yourself and your family," said Weldon. "Although I am going to pursue a career in the NFL, I know there are no guarantees in football."

If football doesn't pan out, he will fall back on a successful sales career. For the last three years, Weldon has been the leading representative for the Winning Edge sales company. "I try to apply what I learn in the classroom to the business and real world. So far I've been successful. I hope to keep it up," Weldon said.

Weldon will graduate December 14, but his plans that day may not include walking with the rest of his graduating class. You see, there's this little trophy being awarded in New York City that day...

By Steve Roogow

remember. Sure!

Now come the verbal blows. When you're No. 1, you have to set a certain standard. You don't have to play "perfect" every week, but it would help. And if you do play perfect, don't score too many points or you'll be chastised for running up the score on a helpless opponent. Don't win by too small a margin either, because then there's a question about whether you are a deserving No. 1 team. Maybe all the "experts" in the world should get together and establish an acceptable victory margin — say 49-10. Any more, when you're No. 1, is too much. Any less is too little, something is badly wrong, and your merit should be questioned.

Case in point: Florida State plays at LSU in a driving rain-storm, falls behind 13-0, loses six starters, gets shafted by the officials and comes back to gut out a 27-16 win over a team playing their literal hearts out.

Hmmm. 27-16. Not enough. "I think Washington is No. 1, Miami No. 2 and FSU No. 3," they say on ESPN. Which makes me wonder what kind of SportsCenter they would have if Chris Berman, Tom Mees, Charlie Steiner, Lee Corso and two cameramen got sick halfway through the telecast. Then the roof sprung a leak above the set and all the power went out unexpectedly on the coldest night of the year in Bristol, Conn.

Well, I think we'd all drop them behind Fox and Nickelodeon on our list of favorite sports report networks.

Oh well, through all the experiences of being No. 1, I guess the most pleasurable is seeing the poll come out every Monday morning. Eleven straight Mondays now.

It brings me to convey to you my theory for a No. 1 team. Any No. 1 team.

With all due credit to Al Davis: "Just win, baby!"

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

There was a time in his life when all Edgar Bennett wanted, begged for, and could think about, was a motor scooter.

"Please! Please!" said the youngster as he pleaded with his father for his first set of powered wheels.

But his father denied the request, explaining, as fathers will, that a motor scooter could be dangerous and was not in the best interests of his eldest son. Edgar Bennett, Sr. would not buy Edgar Bennett, Jr. the scooter. Junior was outraged.

"I got so-o-o hot and mad, I couldn't stand it," the son laughingly recalls some 10 years later.

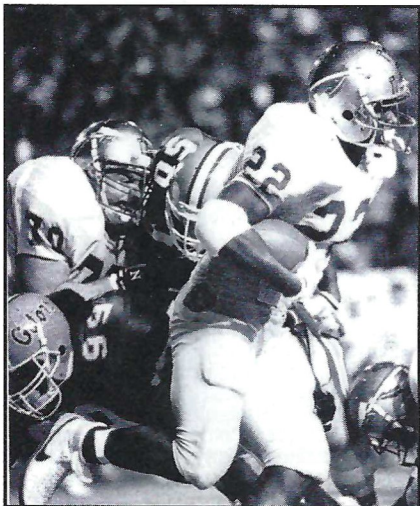

As sons do, in looking back, this one now sees he learned a lesson. Ole dad may have been right after all.

"I'm glad now," the son explains. "You never know what could have happened. They (scooters) are dangerous."

Thanks, Mr. Bennett. For if you had gone along with your son's request, and in the unlikely event something unfortunate had taken place, Florida State fans would have missed their chance to watch one of the greatest fullbacks ever to play at Florida State.

A fullback with a tailback's body, skills and versatility, there are none better than the senior Seminole leader. An ironman of sorts, Bennett had started 32 consecutive games before missing the Louisville game with a separated shoulder.

A likely first-round selection in the 1992 NFL draft, the 6-2, 215-pound Bennett perfectly blends the character and desire to be a complete football player and a complete person.

In addition to rushing for 1,171 yards in his Florida State career, the Jacksonville native ranks ninth on the FSU career receptions chart with 88 catches for 1,051 yards.

"Where else can you find a fullback that blocks like Edgar, runs like a tailback and catches the ball like a wide receiver?" FSU running backs coach Billy Sexton asks.

A model student-athlete on and off the field, Edgar Jr., attributes his success to his strong family ties. It's what "makes him tick."

The second of four children, and the eldest son, Edgar Jr.'s most important goal in life is to be like his father. The cliché "like father, like son" could not fit any better than in this instance.

The senior Bennett, a 48-year-old respected family leader, has set forth an excellent example for his namesake. He is his son's number one fan and closest confidant.

Edgar Jr. wants to be just like him. He wants to raise his children in the same manner he was brought up.

"When I think about it, not too many guys are lucky enough to have a dad they can talk with about their problems," Edgar Jr. realizes. "Most guys don't even have a dad. I am lucky. Mine has always been there to support me."

And tell him right from wrong, not only in life, but in football. The elder Bennett is a former coach himself. For nearly 20 years, he coached everything from Pop Warner football to high school basketball and in between. He played basketball for a year at Colorado State and played semi-pro football for a team in Jacksonville.

When the FSU coaches go over the game film and point out his mistakes, Edgar Jr. isn't bothered. He is already aware of them. His dad has missed only two games since Edgar Jr. became involved in football, giving him "coaching hints" since he was a youngster.

"From Pop Warner to junior high to high school to college, he has missed just two games I've played in," Edgar Jr. says. "He watches my every move. We talk about the good things, but he always tells me what I'm doing wrong. He evaluates me harder because I'm his son."

"I don't try to fool him because he is my son," the father says. "You don't get better if someone lies to you. The only way he will improve is if you tell him

Edgar Jr. has been taught the truth since he was a small child. His family's strong religious beliefs and close-knit roots have molded his character more than anything.

His mother, Juanita, is also very special to "EB."

"If you really want to know what motivates me, this is it," Edgar Jr. says of his parents. "These are the people that keep me going. They are the ones that are always there through thick and thin."

Now Edgar Jr. wants to pay them back. With a pro contract certain, Bennett has millionaire potential. Maybe even more so now than a year ago, when he contemplated leaving school early to enter the NFL draft.

Who did he turn to to help him make the decision? You guessed it, Edgar Sr., who also helped him make his original decision to attend Florida State.

"We talked about it over and over," Edgar Jr. said. "He was behind me 100 percent, no matter what choice I made."

"We grew a lot closer during that time. I don't know if he knows it yet, but I've learned a lot from him. I admire him a lot."

Thanks again, Mr. Bennett, for helping him decide to return to Florida State. And for not getting him that motor scooter.

HEAD COACH BOBBY BOWDEN

Florida State's final regular season game of 1990 exemplified the reason Bobby Bowden just might be America's finest football coach.

Pressed into a must-win situation to remain among the nation's Top 10 teams and challenged by a young innovative gunslinger from across the state, the wise and crafty coaching graybeard of FSU carved an absolute masterpiece.

With only five seniors in his starting lineup, Bowden's surging "baby" Seminoles executed to perfection, toppling the seemingly insurmountable and sixth-ranked Florida Gators of Steve Spurrier. The 45-30 victory was orchestrated with the skill of a surgeon, and the Florida State empire was saved again by the "white knight" from Birmingham. Just as it has been for the past 15 seasons.

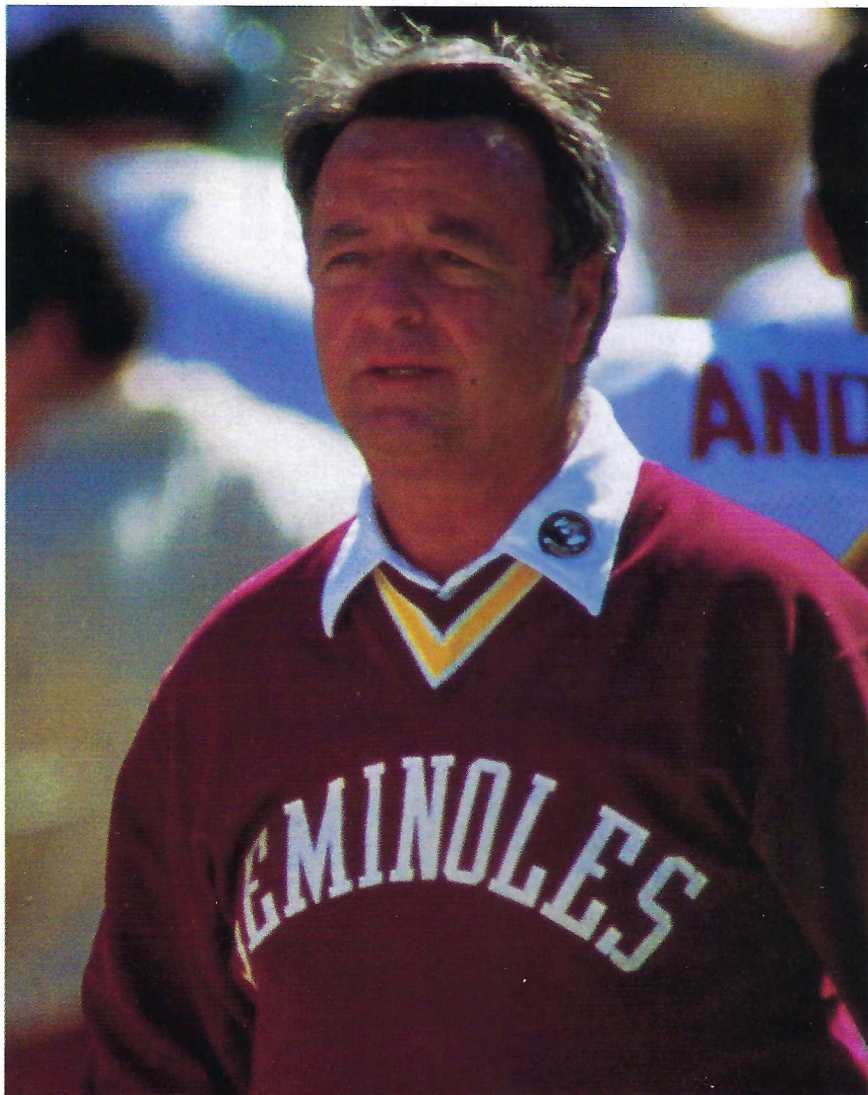

And then, just to add an exclamation point, Ol' Bobby went out and whipped his lifelong nemesis, Joe Paterno and Penn State, in the inaugural Blockbuster Bowl last December. That's no surprise, though. The last time Bowden lost a bowl game, this year's freshman class was entering the second grade!

Like fine wine, Bowden, at age 61, keeps getting better. The list of coaches who have won more games than Bobby is getting so short you might want to jot them down, on a matchbook cover. Last season, Bowden climbed from 14th to eighth all-time. His 205 career victories rank second among active Division I coaches behind only Paterno.

Just how impressive is Bowden's 25-year coaching record? He's now on the same page with all the legends of college football. The seven coaches in front of him might as well have invented the game. Bowden has a "lifetime" contract to coach the Seminoles and odds are he'll be in the top five on that list soon.

When Bowden first arrived in Tallahassee in 1976, he described his relationship with the school as "a marriage" and was determined to let "no man put it asunder." True to his word, he completed his 15th season at FSU in 1990.

Life has never been better in the land of the Seminoles. The victory over Penn State gave FSU its fourth straight Top Four national finish, fourth straight season with 10 or more wins and a jump start on 1991 with most all the key contributors back.

The Blockbuster Bowl win also solidified Bowden's place as college football's best bowl coach. His 10-3-1 record in bowl games is light years ahead of any coach with more than 10 appearances. The Blockbuster was the ninth straight post-season showing by Bowden's Seminoles—a string in which there has not been a loss. A 10th career bowl win makes Bowden just the fourth man in history to reach double digits.

But what Bowden means to Florida State University off the playing field cannot be measured. Respect, admiration, class, honesty, charisma, charm and humor. That's Bobby Bowden.

As if his character isn't enough, his coaching style draws admirers nationwide. A wide-open, gambling style makes Bowden teams a treat to watch, a pleasure to play on and a delight to cover. Reverses, flea-flickers, laterals—you name it. Here it comes!

A look at the record shows he's done it both ways. The flashy wins may get all the attention, but for every one of those, there are a dozen others spawned from sound fundamental football. This guy's not just a gambling magician. He can flat out coach!

By now it's been well-chronicled how the Birmingham cracker left the snow and ice of West Virginia to come to Florida State and save the program. Three seasons after he walked on campus, he had taken one of the worst football teams in the country to within one game of a national championship.

When Bowden arrived in 1976, he inherited a team that had been 4-29 over the previous three seasons. He went 5-6 that first year, but his team won its last three games in dramatic fashion. Somehow, everyone could sense right then what this man was going to bring to FSU.

Bowden's Florida State record is 132-42-3 (.754) entering the 1991 season. That includes a 71-14-1 (.831) record in Tallahassee and a 61-28-2 (.680) mark away from home. He has built those numbers against some of the nation's toughest schedules. His road record alone includes a 2-0 mark at Ohio State, 1-0 at Notre Dame, 2-0 at Arizona State, 1-0 at Clemson, 4-2 against Nebraska and 2-0 at Syracuse, to name just a few.

The coach has been a man of his word. At his first FSU press conference in 1976, he said his biggest priority was to play arch-rival Florida on an even keel. The Gators, you see, had owned Florida State, leading the series 15-2-1. In 15 meetings, Bowden owns an 8-7 advantage.

Bowden achieved some impressive numbers in his previous coaching stops (31-6 at Samford University in Birmingham between 1959 and 1962, and 42-26 at West Virginia from 1970-75), but what he has done at Florida State is simply phenomenal. Seven times in 15 years his Seminoles have won 10 or more games in a season. Florida State had been to just eight bowls in the 29 years before him. Since his arrival, FSU has been to 12 bowl games, including a string of nine in a row and five New Year's Day trips. In his 15 years, the Seminoles have been a mainstay—ranked by the Associated Press poll in 161 weekly polls out of 215 possible weeks. An incredible 81 times under Bowden the Seminoles have been in the Top 10 on a given week. What about a Top 20 finish? Eleven times in 15 seasons!

Above all his coaching accomplishments, though, are his credentials as a man. Friendly and outgoing, Bowden is a devoted Christian and family man. He loves people. His personality and charm are bigger than life. He has become somewhat of a folk hero in the Deep South.

A polished speaker, Bowden is constantly in demand. Any free evening in the year will find him on the after dinner circuit. Every free Sunday morning will find him in the pulpit of a church somewhere in the South.

Bowden is truly adored and respected by the media. There is no football coach better with the press. Open and candid, he is intently aware of the role of the press and many times looks at situations through their eyes rather than his own. He is a student of the media, reading virtually every article written about the program and watching tapes of network features on his team. He actually seems to relish opportunities to meet with reporters.

Outside of football, Bowden has an intense interest in World War II history and reads countless books and articles on the subject. He has traced his ancestry to parts of Germany and had an opportunity to visit the country in 1988.

The coach is a golf fanatic, playing almost daily during the off-season. Interestingly, he never plays once football practice begins. He never even has the desire until spring recruiting is finished. He has a solid game which gets into the 70s by the end of the summers. Bowden also enjoys boxing, watching matches on cable TV religiously.

Bowden was born in Birmingham on November 8, 1929 and was an outstanding player at Woodlawn High School there. He went on to Alabama as a freshman quarterback, fulfilling a lifelong dream to play for the Crimson Tide. During one semester in Tuscaloosa, he found his childhood sweetheart, Ann Estock, and she was enough to lure him back to Birmingham. He soon married Ann and transferred to Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham.

Bowden was a Little All-American there and returned to begin his collegiate head coaching career there in 1959. His son Terry is currently the head coach. His youngest son, Jeff is an assistant at Southern Miss and his son-in-law Jack Hines is on Terry's staff. Oldest son Steve is on the faculty at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Fla. Another son, Tommy, recently was named the offensive coordinator at Auburn. His four sons, daughters Robyn Hines and Ginger Madden, and their families make up the Bowden clan, which numbers 24, including 10 grandchildren.

ASSISTANT COACHES

CHUCK AMATO
ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
DEFENSIVE LINE
(NORTH CAROLINA STATE '69)

Chuck Amato begins his 10th season at Florida State as defensive line coach and his seventh in the role of assistant head coach. He came to FSU in 1982 from Arizona as the line coach and was given additional responsibilities in the administrative area three years later. Since joining the Florida State coaching staff, Amato has helped return the Tribe defense to national prominence.

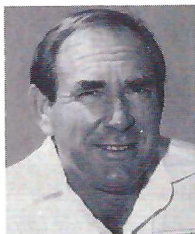

Among Amato's top former pupils are All-America noseguard Odell Haggins and NFL performers Alphonso Carreker, a 1984 first-round draft pick, and Eric Hayes of the Seattle Seahawks.

Amato coached linebackers for two seasons at Arizona before coming to Florida State. Prior to his stint at Arizona, Amato had done all of his coaching at his alma mater, N. C. State University.

Amato first joined the Wolfpack staff in 1968 as a student assistant and he remained at the school for the next 12 years, eventually working his way up to defensive coordinator. After serving as a student, and then a graduate assistant, Amato was hired as a full-time coach in 1971. In 1974, he was promoted to defensive coordinator, a post he held for the next six seasons.

A native of Eaton, Pa., Amato earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from N. C. State. He was a three-year letterman in football and wrestling, and was undefeated in dual matches. He claimed a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference titles in his weight class.

Amato and his wife, Peggy, are the parents of twin daughters—Lugina and Selena.

MICKEY ANDREWS
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR
DEFENSIVE BACKS
(ALABAMA '64)

Since Mickey Andrews' arrival at Florida State in 1984, the Seminole defense has returned to the dominating form and success it enjoyed in the late '70s and early '80s. The resurgence of the FSU defense and emergence of the defensive secondary as a strong unit has helped FSU to 42 wins in the last four seasons and four consecutive top four rankings.

Andrews' skill as a defensive coach has not gone unnoticed as Athlon's Southeastern Football Magazine named him its Assistant Coach of the Year in 1991.

Andrews' most famous pupil is Deion Sanders, a first-round draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons in 1989 and the 1988 Jim Thorpe Award winner as the nation's top defensive back. LeRoy Butler joined Sanders as an All-America choice in 1989 and Terrell Buckley's selection to AP's second team unit last year gave Andrews four honorees in as many seasons.

Although Andrews came to Florida State from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League, he was no stranger to the college game, having spent 17 years in the collegiate ranks before taking the Wrangler post.

Andrews made coaching stops at Eastern Kentucky, Livingston, North Alabama, Clemson and Florida during his career. He was defensive coordinator at Florida for two years (1981-83), and held a similar position at Clemson from 1977-80. His final year with the Tigers, Andrews added duties as assistant head coach.

From 1972-76, Andrews was the head coach and athletic director at North Alabama. It was his second head coaching job, as he spent three years guiding the Livingston University program from 1970-72. During his tenure, Livingston went 24-7 and won the NAIA national championship.

Andrews starred in football and baseball for Alabama from 1961-64, earning second team All-America mention as a wide receiver and defensive back. During his career, the Crimson Tide won a pair of national championships (1961, '64) and played in the 1963 Sugar and '62 and '64 Orange Bowls.

In addition to his football honors, Andrews was an All-Southeastern Conference choice in baseball. In 1964, he received the Hugo Friedman Award as the Tide's best all-around athlete.

Andrews and his wife, Diane, have two children—Ronnie and Shannon.

WALLY BURNHAM
INSIDE LINEBACKERS
(SAMFORD '63)

Veteran linebackers coach Wally Burnham begins his seventh season on the Florida State staff in 1991 as the tutor of the Seminole inside linebackers. Like defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, Burnham came to FSU from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League.

Burnham's star pupil at Florida State was Paul McGowan, the 1987 Butkus Award winner as the nation's top linebacker.

The linebacker coach for the Wranglers in 1983-84, Burnham helped Arizona's defense achieve number one status in the league. Before moving to the professional game, Burnham was defensive coordinator at Lamar University in Beaumont, Tex.

Prior to that, Burnham made coaching stops at Memphis State, Richmond, East Tennessee State and North Alabama. At East Tennessee State, he was defensive coordinator from 1977-79, while his stint at North Alabama consisted of five years as defensive line coach under then-head coach Mickey Andrews.

Burnham, like Bobby Bowden, played college football at both Alabama and Samford, playing for the late

JOHN EASON
RECEIVERS
(FLORIDA A & M '69)

Just as Penn State University earned a reputation as "Linebacker U." over its years as a collegiate football power, Florida State has become known as a wide receiver factory for the pros over the last decade.

Since 1981, the man responsible for developing those players at FSU is John Eason. Eason has coached some of the most talented athletes on the Florida State team during his tenure, including current pros Jessie Hester (Indianapolis Colts), Hassan Jones (Minnesota Vikings) and Ronald Lewis (San Francisco 49ers).

While they all had successful careers at Florida State, none enjoyed the collegiate success of Lawrence Dawsey, Eason's first Associated Press All-American, who earned that accolade following last season. Of all the wide receiver greats at FSU, Dawsey became only the third to earn first team AP All-America honors, joining Hall of Famers Fred Biletnikoff and Ron Sellers.

Eason is a native of Ocala, Fla., and joined FSU from Tallahassee's Lincoln High School, where he was assistant principal for student affairs for two years. He also coached on the Tallahassee high school scene, serving as offensive coordinator at Leon High School from 1973 to 1979.

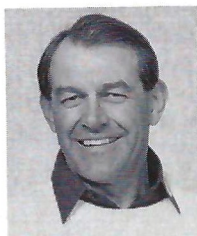

A receiver and punter for Florida A & M University in Tallahassee from 1963-67, Eason earned All-America honors his junior and senior years. He was named MVP of the Rattler squad in both those seasons.

Following graduation, Eason played two years of professional football with the Oakland Raiders. He began his coaching career at Vanguard High School in Ocala.

Eason holds a doctorate in Education Administration from Florida

State. He received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Florida A & M.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter—Amanda.

JIM GLADDEN OUTSIDE
LINEBACKERS
(WILLIAM JEWELL '62)

Outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden began his coaching career at Florida State before the arrival of Bobby Bowden, giving him seniority among the FSU staff. He was hired as a full-time coach in 1976, the same year Bowden started in Tallahassee. However, Gladden was a graduate assistant coach for the Tribe during the 1975 season.

Through his 16 seasons with the Seminoles, Gladden has been the outside linebackers coach. Gladden's most famous former pupil is Willie Jones, a second-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

In addition to his on-field coaching talents, Gladden has been a proficient recruiter for the Seminoles. When assigned to Central Florida, Gladden signed some of the most highly touted players from that area. Gladden's move to the Tampa area four seasons ago was a factor in FSU's signing some of the top talent in that sector of the state over the past four seasons.

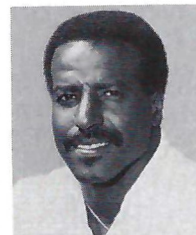

Gladden's responsibilities also include the punt return and punt block units. In 1984, the Seminoles blocked a school-record eight punts. Since 1976, Florida State has blocked 54 punts and earned a well-deserved reputation as one of the country's top units.

After graduating from William Jewell College in 1962, where he was chosen to the all-conference team, Gladden spent the next 15 years coaching in the high school ranks. He spent four years in Kansas City and St. Louis before moving to Kentucky. In 1970, he was the high school coach of the year in the Bluegrass State.

Following a year at Springfield High School in Tennessee, Gladden moved to Brooksville, Fla., where he headed the Hernando High program for two years. From there, he took the assistantship at Florida State, which led to his current full-time position.

Gladden, a native of Springfield, Mo., and his wife Patricia, have two children—Julie and John.

JIMMY HEGGINS
TIGHT ENDS
(FLORIDA STATE '78)

Jimmy Heggins, now in his sixth year on the FSU staff, returned to his alma mater in 1986. After four years of coaching the Seminole noseguards, where he was an outstanding player in the mid-70s for current boss Bobby Bowden, Heggins starts his second season as coach of the FSU tight ends in 1991.

During his time as noseguard coach, Heggins was instrumental in the transformation of Odell Haggins from linebacker to one of the top noseguards in the country.

Before the start of the 1986 season, Heggins came back to Florida State from Southwestern Louisiana, where he spent a year as an assistant coach. He also served as running backs coach at Eastern Michigan for two seasons and at Western Illinois for one year.

He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at East Carolina in 1980, and filled the same role at FSU for the 1981 and '82 campaigns.

Heggins originally arrived in Tallahassee in 1974 from Salisbury, N.C., as a running back with impressive credentials. As a senior at North Rowan High School, he was named to the North Carolina all-state team after gaining 1,670 yards. After spending his first two seasons as a fullback, Heggins made the switch to noseguard in Bowden's first year. At the end of the 1976 season, he was named the squad's outstanding defensive player. A year later, he helped Florida State to a 10-2 record and the Tangerine Bowl championship.

Heggins and his wife, the former Winifred Parker, have two daughters—Andrea and Lauren.

MARK RICH
QUARTERBACKS
(MIAMI '82)

In his second stint at Florida State, Mark Richt begins his second season as quarterbacks coach for the Seminoles. Richt also tutored the Seminole signal-callers from 1985 to 1988 in his capacity as a graduate assistant and then as a volunteer assistant. In 1989, Richt left FSU for East Carolina, where he served as the Pirates' offensive coordinator.

Under Richt's direction, Danny McManus and Chip Ferguson led Florida State to Fiesta Bowl and Sugar Bowl titles and back-to-back 11-1 seasons in 1987 and 1988. Peter Tom Willis, now with the NFL's Chicago Bears, learned the FSU system under Richt before breaking 15 school records in 1989. Overall, Florida State's most effective field generals directed the offense under Richt.

Richt was well-schooled in the passing game before coming to FSU as a graduate assistant coach in 1985. The Boca Raton, Fla., native was a quarterback at the University of Miami under former Hurricane coach Howard Schnellenberger. He was the backup quarterback to Buffalo Bills star Jim Kelly during his three seasons at UM.

Richt is married to the former Kathy Francis. Their son, one-year old Jonathan, appeared on the cover of the 1990 FSU Blockbuster Bowl Media Guide along with FSU coach Bobby Bowden.

BRAD SCOTT
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
OFFENSIVE LINE
(MISSOURI-ROLLA '76)

Brad Scott, who in his initial year as Florida State offensive coordinator directed the Seminole offense to a 10-2 season, will again handle that role, as well as that of offensive line coach, in 1991.

Last year's campaign was the first in seven seasons to feature a new man serving as offensive coordinator. Perhaps Scott's greatest achievement was in making the transition so smoothly that the change was barely noticed.

Scott made a name for himself as the Seminoles' recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach for five seasons prior to becoming offensive coordinator last season.

He gained a national reputation for his recruiting efforts as three of his five recruiting classes ranked among the nation's top five. Scott is given credit for laying the groundwork for current recruiting successes.

In addition, Scott was an effective tight ends coach who is credited with the development of Pat Carter, a former second-round draft pick now with the Los Angeles Rams.

Scott originally came to Florida State in 1984 as a graduate assistant coach in charge of the junior varsity squad and the tight ends. He was promoted a year later.

A football standout at Missouri-Rolla from 1972-76, Scott was chosen to play in the American Bowl All-Star Game following his senior season.

Upon graduation, Scott returned to his native Arcadia, Fla., as an assistant coach at DeSoto County High School. A year later, he moved to Hardee High School in Wauchula for one season. Scott's first taste of collegiate coaching came at the Citadel, where he served as head junior varsity coach in 1981 and '82. The following season, he returned to Arcadia as the head football coach and athletic director prior to coming to FSU.

Scott and his wife, Daryle, have two sons—Jonathan and Jeff.

BILLY SEXTON
RUNNING BACKS
(FLORIDA STATE '74)

Billy Sexton, one of two FSU graduates on the coaching staff, has been associated with Florida State football as a coach since Bobby Bowden's arrival in 1976. A native of Tallahassee, Sexton begins his 15th season as a full-time coach, and his ninth year as coach of the running backs in 1991.

Over the years, Sexton has helped to develop some of the top runners in Florida State history, like All-American Greg Allen, who broke 26 school records during his FSU career, and Sammie Smith and Dexter Carter, first-round draft picks of the NFL's Miami Dolphins (1989) and San Francisco 49ers (1990), respectively.

In 1976, Sexton joined the Florida State staff as a graduate assistant. The next year, he became a member of the full-time staff as quarterbacks coach. He worked with the quarterbacks for five seasons until 1982, when he became the head junior varsity coach and handled scouting duties.

He took over the running backs in 1983 and has made the group one of the most effective components of the FSU offense. To Sexton's credit, FSU running backs did not lose a fumble on a rushing attempt during the entire 1990 season.

A standout at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Sexton played his first three years of college football at Alabama as a backup quarterback before transferring to Florida State. He was the Seminoles' starting quarterback for the opening half of the 1973 season.

Sexton earned a bachelor's degree in business from FSU and began his coaching career as assistant coach at Leon, where he worked for three years before rejoining the Seminoles.

He and his wife, Joy, have three children—Wyatt, Leslie and Taylor.

DAVE VAN HALANGER
STRENGTH COACH
(WEST VIRGINIA '76)

Dave Van Halanger begins his ninth season as Florida State strength coach this year. Van Halanger, who played for Bobby Bowden at West Virginia, has instituted a year-round strength program for Seminole football players which has paid huge dividends through the years.

Under Van Halanger's direction, the average student-athlete gains 20-25 pounds, adds 100 pounds to his bench press and 200 pounds to his squat during his years at FSU. In addition, FSU athletes get faster and more flexible. Each athlete can knock about two-tenths of a second off his 40-yard time and can jump four to five inches higher when he leaves Florida State.

Prior to his arrival at FSU in July of 1983, Van Halanger was head strength coach at his alma mater for five years. He is credited with starting West Virginia's first organized weight training program.

Van Halanger lettered four seasons under Bowden, and was a co-captain of the 1975 West Virginia Peach Bowl team. An offensive tackle, he earned All-East honors his junior and senior seasons and was an honorable mention All-America selection as a senior. He played professionally with the Atlanta Falcons in 1976 before returning to WVU as a graduate assistant and head junior varsity coach. He was awarded full-time status there in 1978.

Currently, Van Halanger is the North Florida director (1991-95) and a member of the National Board of Ethics for the National Strength and Conditioning Association. In addition to his work with the football athletes, he teaches several classes on strength training to students and to the Tallahassee community. Van Halanger leads FSU's Fellowship of Christian Athletes group.

Some of Van Halanger's recent pupils currently hold positions as strength coaches at Ohio State, Syracuse and Samford.

Van Halanger, a native of Turtle Creek, Pa., and his wife Michele have two daughters—Danielle and Julie—and a son, Matthew.

CLINT LEDBETTER
VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT
(ARKANSAS STATE '86)

Clint Ledbetter returns for his fourth season with the Florida State staff in 1991, assisting offensive coordinator Brad Scott with the offensive line, especially working with the split side of that line. Ledbetter was elevated to the volunteer job before the 1990 season after two seasons as a graduate assistant under former offensive coordinator Wayne McDuffie.

A former standout player at Arkansas State, where he served one season as defensive line coach after graduation in 1986, Ledbetter earned four letters from 1982-86. He was named to the All-Southland Conference team as a senior and played on Arkansas State's national runner-up squad.

In 1988, Ledbetter gained acclaim following Florida State's "Pun-trooskie" play against Clemson. Ledbetter introduced the play to FSU while coaching the scout team.

A native of Ft. Smith, Ark., Ledbetter is single.

RONNIE COTTRELL
RECRUITING COORDINATOR
(TROY STATE '83)

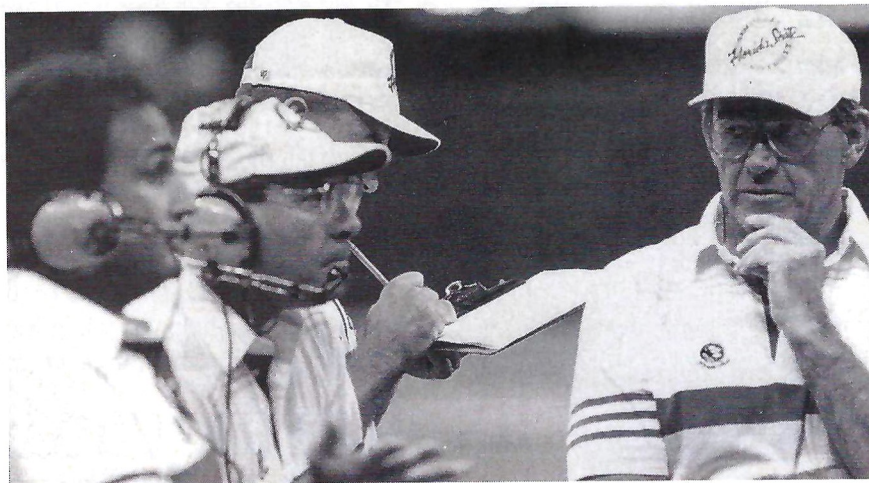

Ronnie Cottrell begins his second season as recruiting coordinator at Florida State in 1991. After just one season as a graduate assistant coach, Cottrell was promoted to the job as the Seminoles' top recruiter after assisting Brad Scott with the 1990 recruiting class.

Cottrell continued FSU's recent recruiting successes this past February. His first recruiting class ranked second nationally, according to most analysts, and Florida State was the first school ever to ink both the nation's top offensive and defensive players when it signed Marquette Smith and Derrick Brooks. Overall, a school record seven Parade All-Americans chose Florida State in 1991.

A native of Brewton, Ala., Cottrell came to FSU with two years of coaching experience at the collegiate level, assisting at Troy (Ala.) State while attending school there in 1981 and 1982. He also held three high school head coaching jobs in Alabama in six seasons, at Kinston, Flomaton and East Brewton high schools. In 1986 and '87, he led Flomaton High School to a pair of perfect regular seasons, the first in school history.

Cottrell has served as an instructor at the Bobby Bowden Football Camp since 1985.

A 1983 graduate of Troy State, he and his wife, Rhonda, have two children—Kevin and Meredith. ●

ELCOME TO THE GREAT INDOORS.

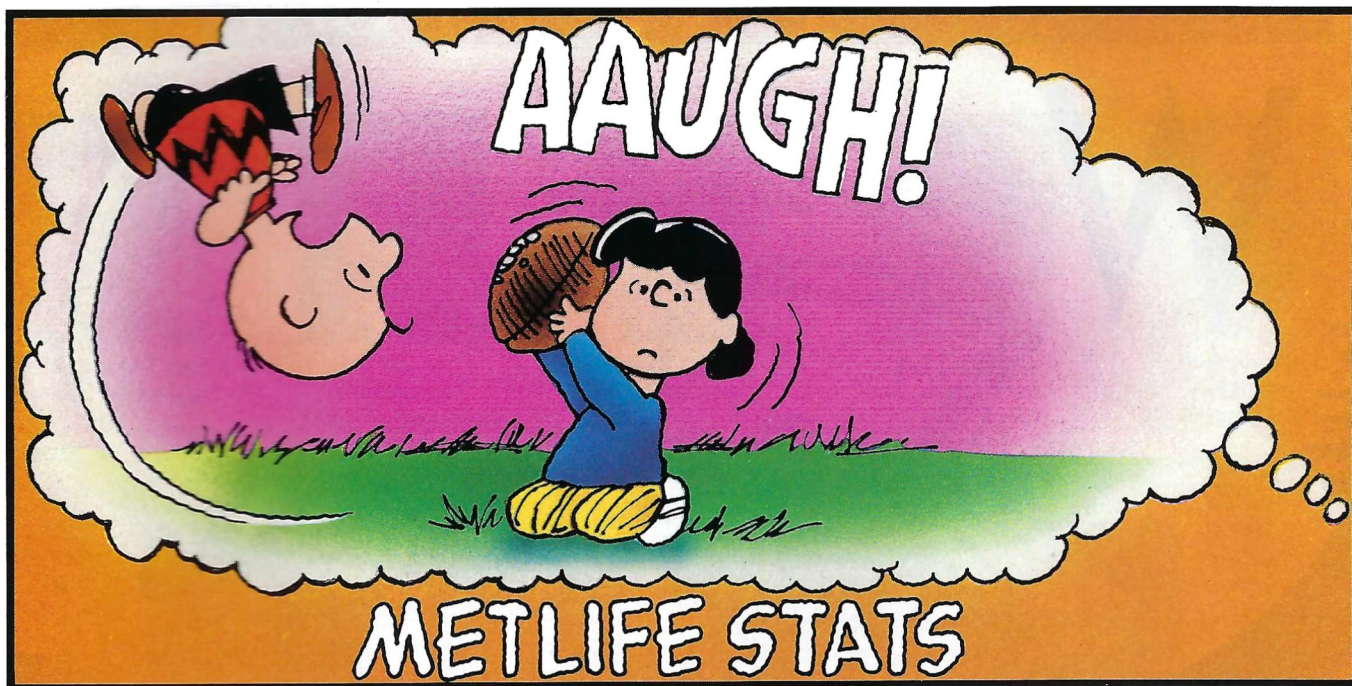

It's true that in a Volkswagen, form follows function. But with our versatile Volkswagen Golf, form follows function, after function, after function.  Settle down into infinitely adjustable front bucket seats. Stretch out. Load in the kids and fill the trunk with luggage. Whether you're going the distance or just down to the corner, Golf makes any drive more enjoyable.  Need even more room? Simply fold down the back seat and Golf gives you nearly 40 cubic feet for whatever you need to carry.  Yet as sensible as it seems, Golf is still every bit a driver's car. With performance features like fuel-injection, four-wheel independent suspension, rack and pinion steering and power front disc brakes that might make you forget its practicality next time you're heading down a twisting back road.  It all adds up to the exhilarating driving experience we call Fahrvergnügen™. And all for only $9270*. A price that makes getting into a new Golf an even more welcome experience.

FAHRVERGNÜGEN. IT'S WHAT MAKES A CAR A VOLKSWAGEN.

Seatbelts save lives. Don't drink and drive.

CARRY YOUR FLAG INSIDE.

IF YOU STILL CHOK UP.

When you see the flag go by, when you see a smart-looking unit parading down the street, when you hear the anthem at a ball game—face it, you still have that old-fashioned patriotism.

There still may be a place for you. In the Army Reserve. You'll serve near home, earn a respectable part-time salary plus retirement benefits, and the respect of your friends and neighbors.

ARMY RESERVE. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

This Fall, We're Lowering Our Rates. Not Our Standards.

Thursdays through Sundays

$44

*Per Room, Per Night.
Conditions Apply.

On your next football weekend, why settle for a bargain hotel when you can have a hotel that's a genuine bargain. A Courtyard by Marriott hotel for an incredibly reasonable $44 a night, any Thursday through Sunday.

Unlike so many of those too-good-to-be-true offers, our special $44 rate isn't for a heartbreak hotel. It's for a Courtyard. The perfect place to rest and retool for the big game. Where you can stretch out in a spacious, comfortable room.

And unwind in our pool, whirlpool and minigym that can help even the most worn out fan go the distance. Of course, for those of you who hardly want to move, there's even a cozy restaurant just steps from your room.

So, for a great way to tackle a football weekend for a mere $44 a night, call 1-800-321-2211 or your travel agent, 7 days ahead for reservations. After all, why settle for a run-of-the-mill hotel when you can have one that goes the whole 9 yards.

Go USA!
Official Hotel of the USA

*Special rate for Thursday nights must be in conjunction with Friday night stay. 7 day advance reservation required. Groups are not eligible for this offer. Offer good through January 26, 1992 at 194 participating Courtyards nationwide. Rooms are limited. Other restrictions may apply. © 1991 Courtyard by Marriott

THIS IS FLORIDA STATE

Florida State University, nearing its golden anniversary as a coeducational graduate research institution, is poised on the brink of joining the nation's academic elite.

Building rapidly from the framework of a highly regarded liberal arts college for women, located on the oldest continuous site of higher education in Florida, the university has emerged as an institution of national and international esteem, evidenced by a number of exciting recent additions to its record of excellence:

- FSU, selected over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, attracted the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory to Florida's capital city in 1990. The National Science Foundation will establish the $100 million, state-of-the-art magnet lab at FSU, which will be joined in the research by the Los Alamos National Laboratory and the University of Florida.

- At the forefront of super-computing since obtaining its first high-speed computer in 1985, FSU took yet another step in ultra-fast computing in 1990 with the acquisition of two new super-computers, the Thinking Machine Corp. Connection Machine and the Cray Y-MP. Both computers can be accessed from hundreds of locations in the United States and Europe.

- In 1991, Florida State ranked second in popularity nationwide among high school seniors, based on the number of students who request that their college-entrance exam scores be sent to an institution. FSU was one of only three institutions among the top 15 choices of both black and white college-bound students.

- FSU's high-tech program in structural biology in 1991 received the university's largest single foundation grant to date, $4 million, to position it among the leaders in the field worldwide.

- Now the professional training ground for one of Florida's fastest growing industries, film production, FSU graduated its first class of film students from its School of Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts in 1991.

- Construction of the $75 million University Center is under way adjacent to Doak S. Campbell Stadium. When completed, the University Center will provide 550,000 square feet of classroom and office space and a centralized location for student services. The three-phase project will include two eight-story buildings and three four-story buildings on the east and west sides of the stadium.

- And, in 1990, Florida State, after being courted by several national athletic conferences, joined the Atlantic Coast Conference, capping more than a decade of national prominence in intercollegiate athletics.

As this list attests, Florida State has begun the 1990s with exceptional strength, energy and vision for the future. And, under the new leadership of the university's 11th president, Dr. Dale W. Lick, FSU will continue to build on the foundation of its long history of excellence in scholarship, research and humanity.

A public university and a senior member of the State University System, Florida State was founded as an institution of higher learning in 1851 by legislative act and began operating in Tallahassee with its first students in 1857.

The main campus is spread over 347 acres in Tallahassee; the university owns a total of 1,172 acres in Leon, Bay and Franklin counties. For many years FSU has extended its reach far beyond Florida through international study programs in England, Italy, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, France, Panama, Costa Rica and the Caribbean.

These far-reaching programs are but a few of the 271 graduate and undergraduate degree programs offered through Florida State's eight independent colleges—Arts and Sciences; Business; Communication; Education; Engineering; Human Sciences; Law; and Social Sciences (incorporating the School of Public Administration and Policy)—and eight independent schools—Criminology and Criminal Justice; Library and Information Studies; Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts; Music; Nursing; Social Work; Theatre; and Visual Arts and Dance.

With 1,533 members, the FSU faculty currently includes five members of both the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and has included five Nobel laureates. The main library facility, the Robert M. Strozier Library, is linked via a computerized information system to other state university and national research libraries. The Paul A.M. Dirac Science Center Library places scientific resources close by the university's main science research complex.

On the top floor of the Dirac Library is the headquarters of the Supercomputer Computations Research Institute, a program that brings together some 100 scientists, engineers and technicians. SCRI is electronically linked to an off-campus research complex and the university's two powerful supercomputers.

Also providing unique research opportunities is the physics department's Tandem Van de Graaff Superconducting Accelerator Laboratory, which houses two powerful atom smashers and is ranked among the top four in the nation by the National Science Foundation.

FSU places a high priority on its nearly 29,000 students, their needs and interests. The Honors and Scholars program, the FSU Distinguished Lecture Series, student government, the one-of-a-kind, all-collegiate Flying High Circus, and intramural sports are among more than 200 organizations and activities in which students can participate.

In the heart of the state's thriving capital city, Florida State bonds the educational and social aspects of campus life just as it blends Gothic and modern styles of architecture with the oaks, pines, dogwoods, palms and azaleas of North Florida.

In all areas of teaching, research and service, Florida State University is advancing boldly into the 21st century. ■

You want to make your children happy? Then stick around and stay healthy. Avoid heart attack or stroke or kidney disease by taking care of your blood pressure. Take your pills, cut down on salt, watch your weight and exercise. That way, everyone keeps smiling... especially you.

DR. DALE W. LICK

Dr. Dale W. Lick became the 11th president of Florida State University on Aug. 1, 1991.

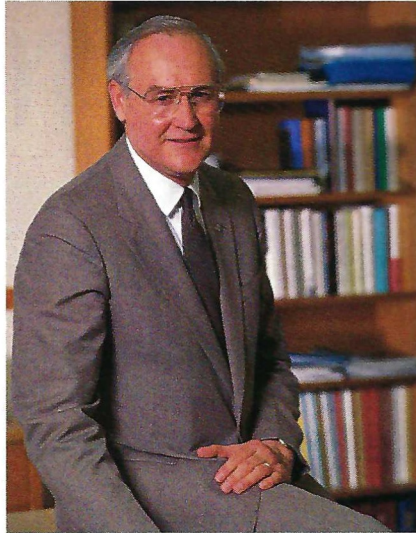

Lick had served as president of two institutions of higher education, the University of Maine and Georgia Southern College (now Georgia Southern University), prior to his selection by the Florida Board of Regents as FSU president on March 11, 1991.

A mathematician by academic discipline, Lick also previously held administrative positions at Old Dominion University, Russell Sage College and Drexel University.

Like his predecessor, Lick is a native of Michigan and an alumnus of Michigan State University. Lick was born Jan. 7, 1938, in Marlette, Mich.

At Michigan State University, Lick earned a bachelor of science degree in 1958, graduating in three years with honors, and a master of science degree in 1959, both in mathematics. He earned a Ph.D. in mathematics from the University of California at Riverside in 1965.

After completing his doctorate, Lick joined the faculty at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, as an assistant professor of mathematics. Two years later, on leave from UT-Knoxville, he was a visiting research mathematician at Brookhaven National Laboratory in New York.

In 1969, Lick became head of the department of mathematics at Drexel University in Philadelphia, Pa., while at the same time serving as an adjunct associate professor in biomathematics at Temple University Medical School. Also, from 1966 to 1971, he was a consultant to the Computing Technology Center for Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Lick moved to Troy, N.Y., in 1972 to serve as vice president for academic affairs at the private Russell Sage College. Two years later, he was named dean of the School of Sciences and Health Professions and professor of mathematics and computing sciences at Old Dominion University.

From 1978 to 1986, Lick was president of Georgia Southern and helped to lead the Statesboro institution from a teachers' college to university status.

On Sept. 1, 1986, Lick became president of the University of Maine located in Orono, the largest of the seven institutions in the University of Maine System.

Florida State's 11th president has been married since 1956 to Marilyn K. Foster. The Licks have three grown children, Kitty, Diana and Ronald. ■

BOB GOIN

Bob Goin was named athletic director at Florida State in January 1990 after serving as an associate and assistant athletic director at the school for the previous eight years.

Goin, and former FSU President Bernard Sliger, were widely credited with making the single most important move in the school's athletic history when Florida State joined the Atlantic Coast Conference on July 1, 1991. By implementing one of the nation's top compliance programs, spearheading the development of athletic facilities and committing himself to continuing FSU's unprecedented successes both on and off the athletic field, Goin has proven an excellent leader in less than two years at the helm of FSU's program.

An assistant and then associate athletic director at Florida State from 1982-90, Goin was responsible for many aspects of the day-to-day operation of the athletic department. Among his many duties was the responsibility for all game-day operations for the Seminole football, basketball and baseball teams.

Goin came to Tallahassee in July 1981 after two years as athletic director at California (Pa.) State College, where he was credited with expanding the athletic department.

Prior to taking the California post, Goin served as assistant athletic director at West Virginia University. From 1976-79, Goin was involved in several expansion projects at WVU.

From 1960-76, Goin worked at Bethany College, where he was an associate professor and chairman of physical education and athletics at Bethany, as well as taking coaching assignments in football, basketball and baseball.

A recipient of a number of coaching honors, Goin currently serves on many university-wide committees.

Goin and his wife, Nancy, have three sons — Doug, Brian and Bruce — a daughter, Janice, and two grandchildren — Nikki, 11, and Robbie, 7. ■

The Last Laugh: College Hall Adds Biletnikoff

For a guy who spent an entire career being judged by "the book," Fred Biletnikoff had the last laugh on its authors.

Labeled with the tag "good hands, no speed," Biletnikoff disproved the doubters to work his way into a scholarship at Florida State, the collegiate record books, a 14-year career in the National Football League, two Super Bowls, four consecutive Pro Bowls, the NFL Hall of Fame and now the College Football Hall of Fame.

On December 10, the Erie, Pa. native and former Seminole wide receiver will join 11 players and three coaches who carved their niche in the collegiate game at the 41st induction of the College Football Hall of Fame. The ceremony will be held at the famed Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

Located in Kings Island, Ohio, the College Football Hall of Fame annually honors football greats not only for their performances on the collegiate gridiron, but for career accomplishments after leaving the campus. The Hall, which currently counts 561 players and 114 coaches among its ranks, also honors individuals who have made a contribution to collegiate athletics. This year, Penn State Head Coach Joe Paterno will receive the Distinguished American Award and President George Bush will earn the Gold Medal presented by the National Football Foundation.

In 44 years of Seminole football, only three numbers have been retired. One — number 25 — belongs to Fred Biletnikoff, who many call the greatest pass receiver ever at FSU.

Biletnikoff becomes the second Seminole to have his likeness hung in the College Football Hall of Fame, joining fellow FSU wide receiver Ron Sellers, a 1988 inductee.

Called "Bullet" during his FSU days, Biletnikoff pondered several offers before gracing the Tallahassee campus. In addition to his prowess on the football field, his talents extended to the basketball court, where he was pursued by Dayton and then-powerhouse University of Cincinnati.

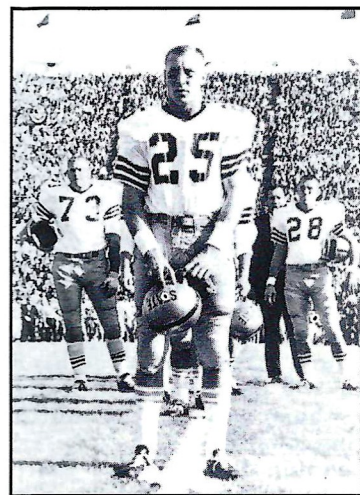

"I felt there was a future in basketball if you were really good," Biletnikoff said after making his decision to attend Florida State. "But I figured it was probably easier to make it in football. Besides, it's a whole lot more exciting."

Through the grapevine stretching south, FSU Head Coach Bill Peterson got word of the talents of the lanky 6-1 receiver, and after viewing film of a game where Biletnikoff scored seven touchdowns, dispatched one of his persuasive recruiters to Erie.

"Fred Biletnikoff helped define the passing game of Florida State in the 1960s," Peterson said. "With he and Steve Tensi, we had the right personnel to fully utilize the passing offense which was our goal when we took over in 1960."

The 1964 season saw the culmination of Peterson's planning. On the receiving end of 11 of Steve Tensi's 14 touchdown passes, Biletnikoff and the Seminoles ran up a 9-1-1 record, a Gator Bowl win over Oklahoma and their first taste of national publicity.

As awestruck home and away crowds watched the aerial attack, the Seminoles caught national attention with impressive back-to-back wins over fifth-ranked Kentucky, 48-6, and 10th-ranked Georgia, 17-14.

On December 10, Biletnikoff joins fellow receiver Ron Sellers as the only Seminoles in the College Football Hall of Fame.

"The win at Georgia might have been the biggest in making a national name for Biletnikoff and FSU," said FSU's sports information director of the day, Bill Bunker. "I sat next to Furman Bisher (long-time sportswriter for the Atlanta Constitution) in the press box and he was so impressed with the way the Seminoles moved the ball down the field on the winning drive. It was so precise."

The drive to victory for the Seminoles was a 12-play, 72-yard masterpiece in which Tensi completed three passes to Biletnikoff — two for first downs and the final, a 20-yard strike for the go-ahead TD.

"Fred Biletnikoff is the finest pass receiver I have ever seen on a college team," wrote Bisher. "He has the moves of a veteran professional. He can tear up your defenses by his presence on the field."

Biletnikoff's play drew raves from coaches and sportswriters all over the country. Comments like "a great one," "good as some pros," "reserve an All-America seat for him," and "out of this world," were commonplace. One assistant coach quipped that Fred had "more moves than Sally Rand." A '90s comparison might liken the elusive receiver's moves to those of Paula Abdul or Madonna.

WORLD SERIES DREAMS

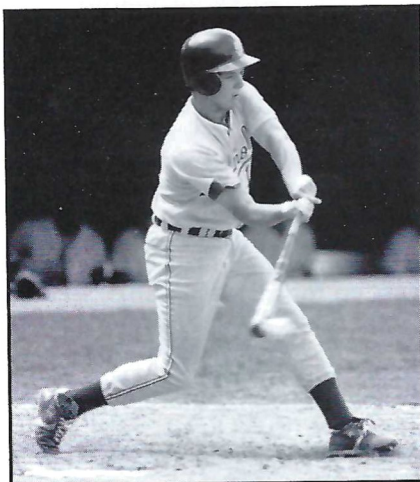

A few weeks ago, Kirby Puckett, Jack Morris and their Minnesota Twins teammates joyfully celebrated their 1991 World Series victory and the baseball season was officially closed until next spring. Right?

Not quite. In Tallahassee, baseball season starts less than three months from now, when the 1992 Florida State Seminoles start their quest for another College World Series crown. In fact, as early as January, Mike Martin and his FSU team will be on the field readying for their run at the national championship.

Leading the way for Martin's 1992 squad is junior Chris Roberts. As a child, Roberts dreamt of playing in the World Series like every little boy his age.

In 1989, when second-round draft pick Roberts turned down the Philadelphia Phillies to become the highest draft choice ever to attend Florida State, his dreams shifted to include a College World Series crown for himself and his Tribe teammates.

Both those dreams are still alive for the player Martin has called "the best baseball player ever at Florida State." Now, a summer of international experience with the USA National Baseball Team led Baseball America to name Roberts its top Amateur Baseball Player of the Summer, and the Florida Diamond Club honored him as its Amateur Player of the Year.

Last year, Roberts batted .321 with 77 runs batted in and 14 home runs to power the Seminoles' offensive attack.

That taste of international success prompted Roberts to add another chapter to his book of "world series" dreams. And unlike the other two, this dream is of a true WORLD series. In 1992, Roberts dreams of playing for an Olympic gold medal.

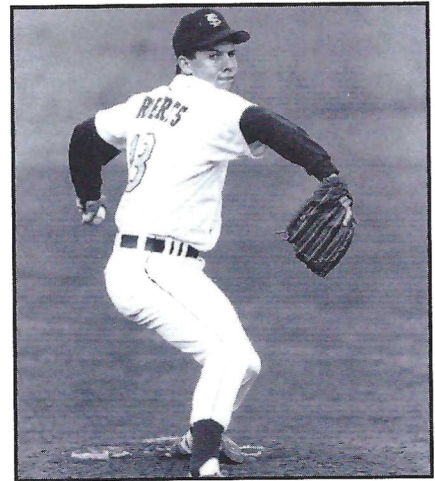

"To me, the Olympics is the world series," Roberts says. "I mean, that is the real world series. You're representing not just a team, but the whole country, as a team and as one person. I couldn't imagine anything better."

If his play this summer was any indication, the USA Team might have its best chance at gold this year with Roberts on board. After all, without Roberts last summer, who knows if the USA would have claimed the bronze at the Pan American Games in Havana, Cuba. As the starting leftfielder for the USA Team, Roberts had a pair of game-winning hits — a ninth-inning solo home run to beat the Netherlands Antilles, 5-4, and a single to plate the winning run in the 15th inning of the bronze medal game. He was the only USA player named to the all-tournament team with five home runs and 12 RBI.

Of course, Roberts getting a game-winning hit is old news for Seminole fans. The Middleburg, Fla. native has come up with more than his share during his FSU career, including a bases-loaded double in the NCAA Regional against Alabama to send Florida State to the College World Series last year.

"Just lucky I guess," says Roberts modestly of his penchant for game-winning hits. "I'm lucky I've found myself in that situation. I guess I just get that extra adrenalin, saying to myself 'hey, I'm hitting this ball.' It's exciting."

Exciting is a good way to describe Roberts' summer. In addition to the Pan American Games, the USA Team traveled to Japan and Cuba for series with those national teams. At both locales, Roberts got a sense of how important sports — especially baseball — is to national pride.

On the mound, Roberts went 7-2 with a 3.52 earned run average in 92 innings on his way to Metro Player of the Year honors.

"The Japanese are real serious about their baseball," Roberts remembered. "There, we played on some of the best fields I've ever played on. The crowds were big. Even the emperor came to a game."

If the Japanese are real serious about baseball, the Cubans are fanatical.

"Baseball is IT there," Roberts said. "That's their major sport. When they played us, it was the biggest thing going."

Earlier in the summer, the USA Team shocked the Cubans, who had a reputation as the best amateur team in the world, by beating them twice in three games in Cuba. It was the first time the Cuban team lost a three-game series at home.

"After we beat them twice down there, they were worried," Roberts said. "Usually, when they win, they're kind of lackadaisical. But after they beat us in the third game of that series, they were jumping up and down and you could tell (the win) meant something. I took that to mean they respected us."

Also exciting to Roberts is a chance to compete for Florida State in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season, after years of FSU domination of the Metro Conference. The Seminoles won 12 Metro titles in 16 years in the conference, but the ACC will provide a greater challenge, as well as more fun, Roberts believes.

Cool The Sun

Half the fun of planting a tree is imagining what it will be like in a few years. Our tree will branch out to shade us from the summer sun, help cool our home and the neighborhood, and conserve energy in the process. It will provide a home for songbirds, and will remind us of the special times we share together.

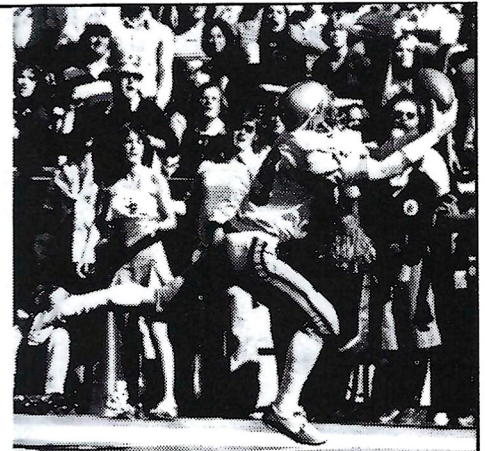

You can cool and beautify your home, too. Join me and plant a tree. For your free booklet, write: Conservation Trees, The National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

There's an epidemic with 27 million victims. And no visible symptoms.

It's an epidemic of people who can't read.

Believe it or not, 27 million Americans are functionally illiterate, about one adult in five.

The solution to this problem is you...when you join the fight against illiteracy. So call the Coalition for Literacy at toll-free 1-800-228-8813 and volunteer.

Volunteer Against Illiteracy. The only degree you need is a degree of caring.

Florida State's oldest and most prestigious academic donor club is The Presidents Club. It was established in 1977 to focus attention upon the critical importance of the academic assistance provided by alumni and friends of the University. The generous gifts of alumni and friends have supplied the resources for a margin of excellence at Florida State. The success of The Presidents Club concept is evident when one realizes that this organization, which began with 80 members, now has grown to more than 1100 individuals dedicated to the academic excellence of Florida State University.

We would like to thank all of our members for their continued support of The Presidents Club and Florida State University.

For more information about The Presidents Club please contact The FSU Foundation, at 644-6000.

Just a fraction of the time we spend on the phone can help answer society's problems.

Just a fraction of our time watching movies could help bring many happy endings.

Just a fraction of what we spend dining out can help pick up the tab for a worthy cause.

It takes so little to help so much.

Millions of people have helped establish five percent of their incomes and five hours of volunteer time per week as America's standard of giving. Get involved with the causes you care about and give five.

Give Five.
What you get back is immeasurable.

Think of it as turbocharged TV.

Now high-performance can be experienced in a different kind of vehicle.

The new Toshiba 32-inch Super TUBE™ TV with Super Carver Sonic Holography.®

The Super TUBE™ does for TV what turbocharging does for engines.

The power comes from increased voltage, via a dual path electron gun and eight larger lenses.

Perhaps, a few quotes from the February 1990 issue of Video Review will help put all this technology in its proper perspective.

When judged against seven other big screen TV's, the new 32-inch Super TUBE™ TV was unanimously voted as having "...the best picture...." As well as being "...more than 50% brighter than other sets..." with "...great focus, superb edge sharpness, and fine brightness..."

And it comes loaded with features, all standard of course, that make it easy to control and incredibly responsive.

Including remote-controlled swivel motors that allow the TV and two of its six speakers to each turn 15 degrees left or right.

Finally, there's a television for people who want high-performance in their living-room, as well as in their garage.

THE GREATEST SHOW IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL

From the pregame ritual to the fourth-quarter fanfare, from the opening kickoff to the last tick of the clock, nothing can compare to the pageantry and excitement of Seminole football. On a warm September night or a sunny November afternoon, fall Saturdays in Tallahassee mean only one thing — Florida State football.

The fun of FSU football Saturdays has become a tradition for Seminole fans, just as winning has become a tradition for their Seminole football teams. The excitement begins with the pregame tailgate parties and builds as game time gets nearer.

Minutes before kickoff, the drama comes to a fever pitch. Every eye is riveted on the north end zone. Suddenly, FSU mascots Chief Osceola and Renegade burst out of the tunnel onto the playing field, followed by Head Coach Bobby Bowden and the Seminole team.

Renegade, a beautiful Appaloosa horse owned by Tallahasseean Bill Durham, gallops the length of the field. Riding Renegade, holding a 10-foot flaming spear, is Chief Osceola. The Chief, an FSU student carefully chosen and groomed for this moment, wears an authentic costume designed specifically for Florida State University by Seminole Indians. His face is covered with grease-based makeup with garnet and gold stripes added in FSU fashion.

Meanwhile, the nationally-ranked Seminole cheerleaders encourage the packed and frenzied Campbell Stadium crowd and the Marching Chiefs, FSU's 400-strong marching band, out an intimidating beat. The fans move their arms in unison to the now familiar and much-imitated Scalp 'Em cheer, following the beat of the drum. Renegade fidgets and shakes his head, awaiting the end of the coin-toss proceedings. Chief Osceola shakes the still-flaming spear over his head and the crowd roars its approval.

The game captains and referees leave midfield. The excitement reaches a crescendo. Renegade and Chief Osceola gallop to the middle of the field, where the huge Seminole head is painted. The horse rears up on his hind legs and Chief Osceola plants the fiery spear into the turf.

The roar of the crowd is deafening. A thrill goes through the crowd. The moment the spear hits the ground, an even larger cheer goes up while the Marching Chiefs start the FSU fight song in the background.

Unique to Florida State, this opening show has become a trademark of Seminole football, featured on national television and recognized by fans across the country. Nothing can compare. ■

FSU MARCHING CHIEFS AND CHEERLEADERS

For all the pageantry, excitement and tradition of collegiate football, nothing tops a Seminole Saturday. Every fall weekend, led by the Marching Chiefs, Renegade and Chief Osceola and the FSU Cheerleaders, raucous Seminole crowds cheer their Florida State team to victory after victory.

The Marching Chiefs, almost 400 members strong, are the band behind the Florida State fight song. They are as much a part of college football in Tallahassee as the game itself. Since 1951, the Chiefs have provided football fans with the best in musical entertainment in their pregame and halftime shows.

Through their colorful and exciting presentations, the Marching Chiefs have earned international acclaim with their performances.

The Chiefs', whose entourage includes feature twirlers, majorettes and flag girls, represents every school and college in the university. In addition to home game performances, the Chiefs travel to many out of town games to provide the Seminoles with the sounds of home.

In 1991, Patrick Dunnigan will serve as director of the Chiefs under the direction of James Croft, FSU director of bands, and the Acting Dean of the School of Music, Jon Piersol. Charles Carter will again serve as associate director and arranger while Bob Thurston will help both in his role as graduate assistant. The 1991 drum major is Robert J. Evans and the assistant drum major is Greg Johns.

Florida State's 16-member cheerleading squad promotes the FSU football team wherever it goes, which lately has included trips to national competitions. Annually one of the top squads in the nation, their enthusiastic cheers and precision stunts bring out the Seminole spirit in every fan. ■

ALMA MATER

High o'er the towering pines our voices swell,
Praising those Gothic spires we love so well,
Here sons and daughters stand, faithful and true.
Hailing our Alma Mater, FSU.

FIGHT SONG

Music by Thomas Wright
Words by Doug Alley

You've got to fight, fight, fight for FSU.
You've got to scalp 'em Seminoles.
You've got to win, win, win this game and roll on down to make those goals.
For FSU is on the warpath now and at the battle's end, she's great.
So fight, fight, fight to victory, our Seminoles from Florida State.
(Yell) F-L-O-R-I-D-A S-T-A-T-E
Florida State! Florida State!
Florida State!
(Repeat Song)

The truth about the National Guard will blow you away.

We live next door to you.

We work with you. We teach your children. Build your homes. Pilot and maintain commercial airlines. Even repair your automobiles.

We're from all walks of life. And while we're really no different from you, something very important sets us apart.

We're America's citizen-soldiers. Dedicated to coming to your aid at a moment's notice. To protect your home. And defend our homeland. Yet, most Americans are unaware of just how many ways they depend on us.

On the frontline in Operation Desert Storm. On the frontline in the War on Drugs. On the frontline in local and state emergencies. On the frontline in nation-building efforts around the world. The Guard is there, defending the National interest, protecting our citizens and adding value to our states and nation.

The truth is that almost half the Army's combat units belong to the Army National Guard. You'll find us using the latest technology and equipment. From state of the art artillery units in Desert Storm to engineering and medical units helping our international neighbors.

And the Air National Guard? Today, we're a major contributor in all Air Force missions. From frontline fighter aircraft, medical evacuation and engineering units, to tactical and strategic airlift, and aerial refueling aircraft. We were airborne in the first hours of Desert Shield and Desert Storm.

We face other enemies, too. Fighting alongside the U.S. Border Patrol and U.S. Customs Service, we help keep millions of dollars worth of illegal drugs from ever reaching our children.

The National Guard was formed to protect our colonies over 350 years ago. Close to 186,000 Guardsmen were killed or wounded overseas during World War II. Almost the same number were called to action during the Korean War. In Vietnam, Guardsmen received over 1,700 medals for bravery. In Operation Desert Storm, 72,000 Guardsmen were called to duty with over 40,000 serving in the Gulf.

Unlike other branches of the Armed Forces, the National Guard's charge is two-fold. Times of disaster, strife and need find the National Guard always ready to lend a hand—whether it's halfway around the world or right in our own backyard.

The National Guard is the finest men and women of your hometown. We're skilled. Capable. Intelligent. We're Americans at their best.

And that's the truth.

Americans At Their Best.

THE NATIONAL GUARD

CHECK YOUR PRECONCEIVED NOTIONS AT THE DOORS. The All-New Bonneville.

If you've always believed the only way to get an agile, aero-styled, high-performance sedan was to buy small, you're in for a big surprise. It's time to forget the past, and introduce yourself to the all-new 1992 Pontiac Bonneville.[®]

By its engineering specifications alone, the new Bonneville shatters that myth convincingly. Under its beautifully redesigned shape lurks a potent 170 horsepower 3.8L 3800 V6 with tuned port sequential fuel injection locked onto an advanced electronic 4-speed automatic. Available anti-lock brakes and a precision-engineered, road-gripping sport suspension for outstanding control, stopping or steering. Available advanced traction control for superb power application on slippery surfaces. There's even a driver's-side airbag for additional safety assurance.

That's the technical side. But to really get the feel of the new Bonneville, you've got to get behind the wheel. Notice how the solid-feeling controls react smoothly to the touch. How the full complement of analog gauges are well-defined for quick, decisive reads. How the whole cockpit is driver-oriented, and designed for performance.

And by the way, the new Bonneville is a full-fledged, full-sized four-door that can easily carry six adults. Just thought we'd remind you.

The all-new 1992 Bonneville. Climb in and throttle one up. Just be prepared for an attitude adjustment to take place. Very, very quickly.

Getting high before takeoff.

If the thought of flying doesn't scare you, how about the thought of flying with a pilot who's addicted to cocaine?

According to a series of articles by a Pittsburgh newspaper, drug addiction among airline pilots is not at all uncommon.

The newspaper's series was the result of a phone tip from a frustrated doctor.

He told of a pilot who'd been rushed to the hospital near death from an overdose of cocaine.

A survey of the area's hospitals proved this was not an isolated incident.

Upon further investigation, reporters learned that screening flight personnel for drug use was forbidden. And that the FAA medical exams didn't mandate blood and urine analyses so drug use couldn't be detected.

They learned scores of pilots were receiving treatment for drug abuse.

The newspaper's story brought the problem to the attention of the public.

The public was outraged. And demanded immediate reform.

As a result, several reforms were initiated. Among the first, was the development of more extensive FAA medical exams.

Reforms that may never have occurred if it hadn't been for a couple of reporters pursuing a story.

MINOLTA JUST TAUGHT CAMERAS A WHOLE NEW WAY TO THINK.

Introducing the Maxxum® 7xi.

Palmolive® Softest Hands

A Six-Part Series Saluting College Football's Greatest Receivers

THE SOFTEST HANDS IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL HISTORY

By Bert Randolph Sugar

What is a great end, a great receiver, a man with soft hands who can turn a pass, no matter where thrown, into a reception, even a touchdown?

Like the blind men who tried to describe an elephant by researching different parts of its anatomy, a great receiver can be described in many ways.

It could be a Howard Twilley, who caught 134 passes in 1965 at the University of Tulsa. It could be a Tom Reynolds of San Diego State, who caught 18 touchdown passes in 1969. It could even be a Larry Kelley, the first end ever to win the Heisman Trophy, back in 1936 who was described by Allison Danzig in the New York Times as "A headline hunter who always got his ball and touchdown regardless of the odds."

But common wisdom, which is always at a disadvantage in any sports discussion, would hold that the softest hands in collegiate history belonged to Don Hutson, AKA "The Alabama Antelope."

When Don Hutson first arrived at the University of Alabama from his hometown of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, he was so frail he was all but overlooked by his coach, the legendary Frank Thomas. Standing an inch over six feet and weighing barely 160 pounds, Hutson might have been dropped from the squad on the opening day of practice except for one small fact: He could run the 100 in less than 10 seconds, fast enough to become the Southern Conference sprint champion.

His speed, coupled with extraordinary deception — so amazing that one opposing coach said of him, "Hutson is the only man I ever saw who could feint in three different directions at once." — made for one of the most dangerous receivers in college football history.

Almost immediately this skinny receiver, on the other side of the line from another Alabama legend, Paul "Bear" Bryant, began to make his name known. He was blessed with an outstanding Bama team, one which not only included himself and Bryant, but also one of the first passing wizards of the Southeast, Millard "Dixie" Howell.

With Howell pitching and Hutson catching, Bama put on an aerial circus. It was, according to Hutson, a perfect wedding of skills. "I just ran like the devil," Hutson once explained, "and Dixie Howell got the ball there." Hutson was All-American in 1934 and good enough to be elected to the All-Century team as its end.

Hutson was also an innovator of many patterns that still exist today. One of those, the post pattern, was invented by Hutson, with a minor twist. Literally. As

Howell cocked his right arm back, ready to deliver,

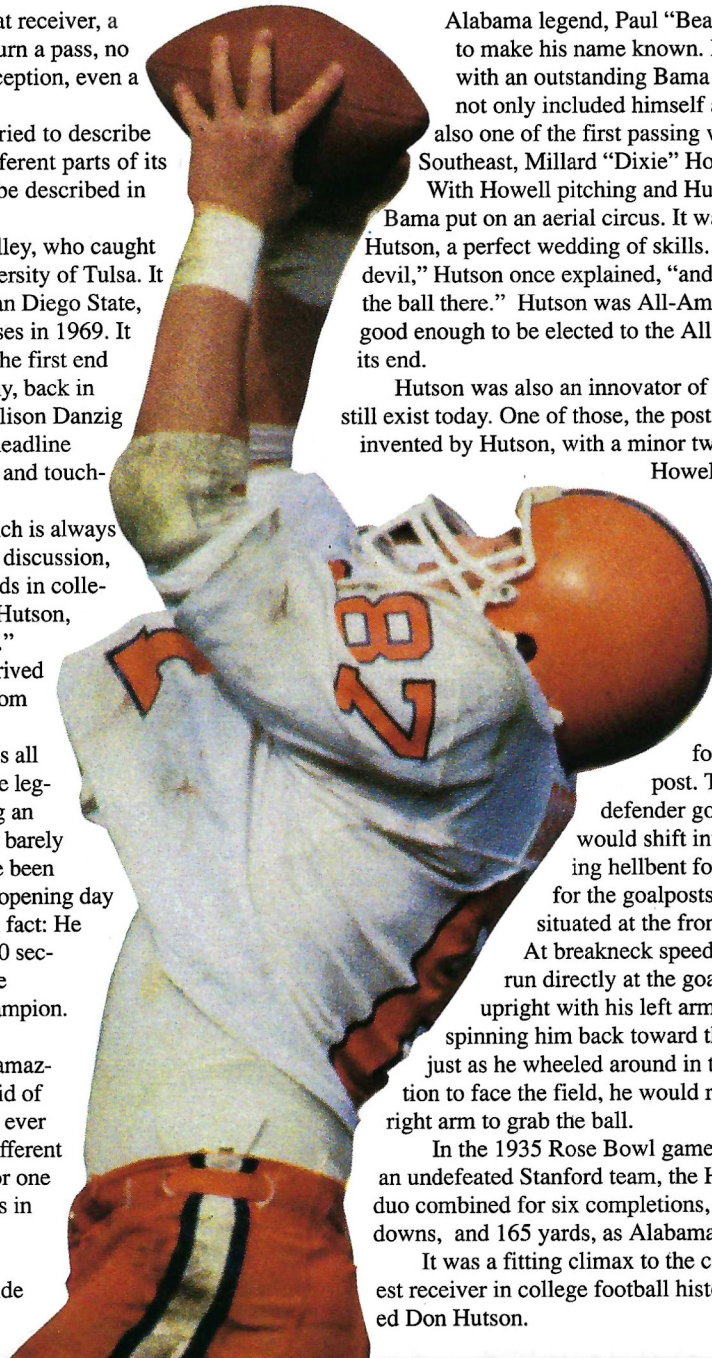

Hutson took off down field from his left end position in that shuffling, deceptive gait, in a diagonal line for the right goalpost. Then, when the defender got close, Hutson would shift into high gear, racing hellbent for leather straight for the goalposts, which were then situated at the front of the end zone.

At breakneck speed, Hutson would run directly at the goalpost and hook the upright with his left arm, his momentum spinning him back toward the field. And then, just as he wheeled around in the opposite direction to face the field, he would reach out with his right arm to grab the ball.

In the 1935 Rose Bowl game, playing against an undefeated Stanford team, the Howell-to-Hutson duo combined for six completions, two for touchdowns, and 165 yards, as Alabama won 29-13.

It was a fitting climax to the career of the greatest receiver in college football history, the soft-handed Don Hutson.

AFTER THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE OUR FOUNDING FATHERS WROTE SOMETHING EVEN MORE IMPORTANT.

Ten years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence our founding fathers created what historians have called the greatest single document struck off by the hand and mind of man.

Our founding fathers created the Constitution of the United States.

For the first time in history, power was granted by the people to the government, and not by the government to the people.

The freedom unleashed by the Constitution allowed Americans to develop their talents and abilities to the fullest. And attain what is now known the world over as the American Dream.

As we commemorate the Bicentennial of the Constitution, there is no better way for you as an American to reaffirm the principles for which our country stands than to learn more about the Constitution.

The words we live by.

THE CONSTITUTION The words we live by

“When the odors are mean...

Surf[®] removes dirt & odors.

SURF gets it clean!”

Reading, writing, and responsibility.

An introduction to common sense, personal responsibility and having a good time.

Much of what's learned in college can be used throughout a student's lifetime. Learning to be a responsible adult is one of the most important of those lessons.

Anheuser-Busch is committed to developing and supporting grass roots programs that are designed to encourage responsible decision-making on college campuses by students of legal drinking age.

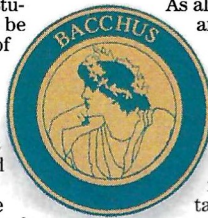

"The Buddy System" is one example. It's an awareness program that encourages you to help friends and strangers avoid drunk driving and other abusive drinking situations. If you can keep someone from drinking too much, or keep someone who's had too much to drink from driving, you'll be the best buddy anybody can have.

Anheuser-Busch is also a sponsor of the BACCHUS program, set up on over 430 campuses nationwide. BACCHUS gives you the chance to make personal and informed decisions about alcohol, as well as the opportunity to play a major role in encouraging other students to think about, talk about and develop responsible behavior.

As always, Anheuser-Busch and BACCHUS promote as part of the decisions a respect for state laws and campus policies regarding alcohol consumption.

In BACCHUS, there are plenty of peers, but no pressure. Just plain talk in a relaxed environment. If there isn't a chapter on your campus, consider starting one. If there is, get involved. Because students like you can make the best teachers.

Obviously, there's no substitute for the safe and responsible drinking practices promoted by these programs. And they're practices that may someday make our Alert Cab program unnecessary. But, for the time being, and for those faced with a possible drunk driving situation, Alert Cab provides taxicab rides home from participating bars and restaurants.

If you need a ride, just let your bartender or server know. You'll be picked up by a cab. And participating Alert Cab bars, restaurants and cab companies may even pick up some or all of the fare.

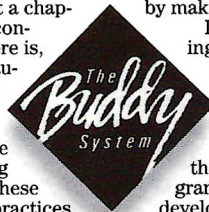

Perhaps the most important way we help meet the demand for information about responsible use of our products is through our sponsorship of National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week (NCAAW), coming to your school each October.

Featuring all kinds of enjoyable activities and educational presentations, NCAAW is about the health, safety and social issues you face when making decisions about drinking. It's about obeying state laws and campus policies and avoiding abusive drinking situations. And it's about adding to your margin of safety, and that of everyone else, by making responsible decisions.

It's also about concentrating on your reading, writing and responsibility. And coming away with something you can use in the real world.

These efforts represent the kind of grass roots programs that Anheuser-Busch has developed, or is supporting, to encourage responsible drinking by adult collegians. For more information, contact BACCHUS of the U.S., Inc., P.O. Box 100430, Denver, Colorado 80210; NCAAW, Fort Hays State University, 600 Park Street, Hays, Kansas 67601-4099; or your local Anheuser-Busch wholesaler.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE

Great Comebacks and Other "Against All Odds" College Football Stories — presented by Rogaine.

Unbelievable Upsets

They can talk of David and Goliath all they want, but college football had its own version in the 1950 Army-Navy game.

It was a "they-said-it-couldn't-be-done" game and one which will forever be remembered as the time when the giant was laid waste. For here was an Army team which had gone 28 straight games without a defeat and had given up only 26 points in its last two seasons. Army was a clear favorite to beat Navy and conclude its second straight perfect season — the sixth in seven years.

The Midshipmen, coached by Eddie Erdelatz, were as woe-ful looking as Army was powerful, having lost six of their eight games, including two shutout losses. And so it was no surprise that Army went off a three-touchdown favorite in this, the fifty-first meeting of the two teams.

But this was no ordinary football game; it was Army-Navy, a one-game season. And Navy approached it just as that, an opportunity to redeem itself and its season against an Army team the Middies had not beaten since 1943.

Gang-tackling the fleet Army backs and smothering their offense, the Middies controlled the game almost from the onset. With quarterback Bob "Zug" Zastrow directing the offense — scoring the first touchdown on a seven-yard run and passing 30 yards for the second — Navy scored twice in the second quarter to take a 14-0 lead at halftime. Army caught Zastrow in the end zone for a safety in the third quarter and then spent the entire fourth quarter backing up the gallant Midshipmen. But Navy met the challenge, forcing two fumbles and intercepting three passes in the last 15 minutes and held on for one of college football's greatest upsets.

They say that "lightning never strikes twice," but don't tell that to any Alabama football fan. Especially after what happened back in 1972. For here was the "Crimson Tide," poised on the cusp of the national title with a record of 10-0-0 and facing state rival Auburn in the season finale. The "War Eagles" boasted an 8-1 record, but it looked like Alabama was going to preserve its perfect record. Ahead 16-0 after three quarters, even the visiting dignitaries from the Gator Bowl, there to watch their invitees, Auburn, had decided to depart to beat the post-game traffic. But before they could get out of the parking lot, Auburn put together its longest drive and, with fourth and 8 on the 'Bama 25, Gardner Jett kicked the longest field goal of his career, 42 yards, to make the score 16-3, with just 9:50 to play.

After the kickoff, 'Bama moved for three first downs and then was forced to punt from midfield. Auburn lined up in a ten-man rush, with linebacker Bill Newton inside David Langner on the right side. At the snap of the ball, Newton raced forward and blocked the kick and side, scooped up the ball on the bounce and raced into the end zone. The extra point made it 16-10 with 5:30 left.

'Bama took the ensuing kickoff and was again stopped at midfield. Now it was their turn to punt again. What would have been a routine play before the first blocked punt now became a cause for concern. Once again, at the snap of the ball, Newton burst through untouched and again got his hand on the ball. In an instant replay of the first blocked punt, Langner swooped in from the outside, picked up the loose pigskin on the bounce and raced untouched into the end zone. The extra point gave Auburn the win, 17-16, and made Bill Newton the answer to one of those all-time "They-said-it-couldn't-be-done" trivia questions: "Who was the only player in college football history to block two consecutive punts?"

TOPICAL SOLUTION
minoxidil 2%

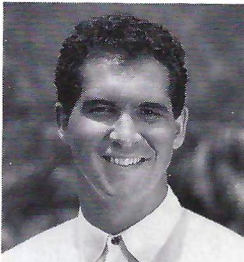

Medical studies reveal...

The earlier you use Rogaine, the better your chances of growing hair.

Rogaine is the only product ever proven to grow hair. And studies show that using it at the first signs of hair loss gives you the best chance that it will grow hair for you.

What are the early warning signs of losing hair?

Everyone loses a little hair. Fifty to 80 hairs a day is normal. If you're losing more than 100 hairs a day without normal replacement, the first sign will often be thinning of the "crown" at the top of your scalp. See your doctor when you first notice it, because this small bald spot can grow larger over time.

"I may not have grown any hair after 6 months, but most of my hair's stopped falling out. I'm glad I got to the doctor fast." —Luis Silva, 20

Two million men worldwide have tried Rogaine. In year-long clinical tests conducted by dermatologists at 27 medical centers nationwide, virtually half (48%) of the men who tried Rogaine saw at least moderate hair regrowth. Thirty-six percent had minimal regrowth and only 16% had no regrowth.

Doctors also found that it usually takes 4 months or more before you can begin to evaluate your use of Rogaine. Side effects were minimal:

only 5% of the men tested had itching of the scalp.

Will Rogaine work for you?

Only a dermatologist or other doctor who treats hair loss can tell you, so see one soon. The sooner you get your prescription for Rogaine (which is now available in an economical three-pack), the sooner you could be growing hair.

What is ROGAINE?

ROGAINE Topical Solution, discovered and made by The Upjohn Company, is a standardized topical (for use only on the skin) prescription medication proved effective for the long-term treatment of male pattern baldness of the crown.

ROGAINE is the only topical solution of minoxidil. Minoxidil in tablet form has been used since 1980 to lower blood pressure. The use of minoxidil tablets is limited to treatment of patients with severe high blood pressure. When a high enough dosage in tablet form is used to lower blood pressure, certain effects that merit your attention may occur. These effects appear to be dose related.

Persons who use ROGAINE Topical Solution have a low level of absorption of minoxidil, much lower than that of persons being treated with minoxidil tablets for high blood pressure. Therefore, the likelihood that a person using ROGAINE Topical Solution will develop the effects associated with minoxidil tablets is very small. In fact, none of these effects has been directly attributed to ROGAINE in clinical studies.

How soon can I expect results from using ROGAINE?

Studies have shown that the response to treatment with ROGAINE may vary widely. Some men receiving ROGAINE may see faster results than others; others may respond with a slower rate of hair growth. You should not expect visible growth in less than four months.

If I respond to ROGAINE, what will the hair look like?

If you have very little hair and respond to treatment, your first hair growth may be soft, downy, colorless hair that is barely visible. After further treatment the new hair should be the same color and thickness as the other hair on your scalp. If you start with substantial hair, the new hair should be of the same color and thickness as the rest of your hair.

How long do I need to use ROGAINE?

ROGAINE is a treatment, not a cure. If you respond to treatment, you will need to continue using ROGAINE to maintain or increase hair growth. If you do not begin to show a response to treatment with ROGAINE after a reasonable period of time (at least four months or more), your doctor may advise you to discontinue using ROGAINE.

What happens if I stop using ROGAINE? Will I keep the new hair?

If you stop using ROGAINE, you will probably shed the new hair within a few months after stopping treatment.

What is the dosage of ROGAINE?

You should apply a 1 mL dose of ROGAINE two times a day, once in the morning and once at night, before bedtime. Each bottle should last about 30 days (one month). The applicators in each package of ROGAINE are designed to apply the correct amount of ROGAINE with each application. Please refer to the Instructions for Use.

What if I miss a dose or forget to use ROGAINE?

If you miss one or two daily applications of ROGAINE, you should restart your twice-daily application and return to your usual schedule. You should not attempt to make up for missed applications.

Can I use ROGAINE more than twice a day? Will it work faster?

No. Studies by The Upjohn Company have been carefully conducted to determine the correct amount of ROGAINE to use to obtain the most satisfactory results. More frequent applications or use of larger doses (more than one mL twice a day) have not been shown to speed up the process of hair growth and may increase the possibility of side effects.

What are the most common side effects reported in clinical studies with ROGAINE?

Studies of patients using ROGAINE have shown that the most common adverse effects directly attributable to ROGAINE Topical Solution were itching and other skin irritations of the treated area of the scalp. About 5% of patients had these complaints.

Other side effects, including light-headedness, dizziness, and headaches were reported by patients using ROGAINE or placebo (a similar solution without the active medication).

What are some of the side effects people have reported?

The frequency of side effects listed below was similar, except for dermatologic reactions, in the ROGAINE and placebo groups. Respiratory (bronchitis, upper respiratory infection, sinusitis); Dermatologic (irritant or allergic contact dermatitis, eczema, hypertrichosis, local erythema, pruritus, dry skin/scalp flaking, exacerbation of hair loss, alopecia); Gastrointestinal (diarrhea, nausea, vomiting); Neurology (headache, dizziness, lightheadedness, light-headedness); Musculoskeletal (fractures, back pain, tendinitis); Cardiovascular (edema, chest pain, blood pressure increases/decreases, palpitation, pulse rate increases/decreases); Allergy (nonspecific allergic reactions, hives, allergic rhinitis, facial swelling and sensitivity); Special Senses (conjunctivitis, ear infections, vertigo, visual disturbances, including decreased visual acuity); Metabolic-Nutritional (edema, weight gain); Urinary Tract (urinary tract infections, renal calculi, urethritis); Genital Tract (prostatitis, epididymitis, sexual dysfunction); Psychiatric (anxiety, depression, fatigue); Hematology (lymphadenopathy, thrombocytopenia); Endocrine. Individuals who are hypersensitive to minoxidil, propylene glycol, or ethanol must not use ROGAINE.

ROGAINE Topical Solution contains alcohol, which could cause burning or irritation of the eyes, mucous membranes, or sensitive skin areas. If ROGAINE accidentally gets into these areas, bathe the area with large amounts of cool tap water. Contact your doctor if irritation persists.

What are the possible side effects that could affect the heart and circulation when using ROGAINE?

Although serious side effects have not been attributed to ROGAINE in clinical studies, there is a possibility that they could occur because the active ingredient in ROGAINE Topical Solution is the same as in minoxidil tablets.

Minoxidil tablets are used to treat high blood pressure. Minoxidil tablets lower blood pressure by relaxing the arteries, an effect called vasodilation. Vasodilation leads to retention of fluid and increased heart rate. The following effects have occurred in some patients taking minoxidil tablets for high blood pressure.

Increased heart rate—some patients have reported that their resting heart rate increased by more than 20 beats per minute; Rapid weight gain of more than 5 pounds or swelling (edema) of the face, hands, ankles, or stomach area; Difficulty in breathing, especially when lying down, a result of an increase in body fluids or fluid around the heart; Worsening of, or new onset of, angina pectoris.

When ROGAINE Topical Solution is used on normal skin, very little minoxidil is absorbed and the possible effects attributed to minoxidil tablets are not expected with the use of ROGAINE. If, however, you experience any of the possible side effects listed, discontinue use of ROGAINE and consult your doctor. Presumably, such effects would be most likely if greater absorption occurred, e.g., because ROGAINE was used on damaged or inflamed skin or in greater than recommended amounts.

In animal studies, minoxidil, in doses higher than would be obtained from topical use in people, has caused important heart structure damage. This kind of damage has not been seen in humans given minoxidil tablets for high blood pressure at effective doses.

What factors may increase the risk of serious side effects with ROGAINE?

Individuals with known or suspected underlying coronary artery disease or the presence of or predisposition to heart failure would be at particular risk if systemic effects (that is, increased heart rate or fluid retention) of minoxidil were to occur. Physicians, and patients with these kinds of underlying diseases, should be conscious of the potential risk of treatment if they choose to use ROGAINE.

ROGAINE should be applied only to the scalp and should not be used on other parts of the body, because absorption of minoxidil may be increased and the risk of side effects may become greater. You should not use ROGAINE if your scalp becomes irritated or is sunburned, and you should not use it along with other topical treatment medication on your scalp.

Can men with high blood pressure use ROGAINE?

Individuals with hypertension, including those under treatment with antihypertensive agents, can use ROGAINE but should be monitored closely by their doctor. Patients taking guanethidine for high blood pressure should not use ROGAINE.

Should any precautions be followed?

Individuals using ROGAINE should be monitored by their physician one month after starting ROGAINE and at least every six months afterward. Discontinue ROGAINE if systemic effects occur.

Do not use it in conjunction with other topical agents such as corticosteroids, retinoids and petrolatum or agents that enhance percutaneous absorption. ROGAINE is for topical use only. Each mL contains 20 mg minoxidil and accidental ingestion could cause adverse systemic effects.

No carcinogenicity was found with topical application. ROGAINE should not be used by pregnant women or by nursing mothers. The effects on labor and delivery are not known. Pediatric use: Safety and effectiveness has not been established under age 18.

Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without a prescription. You must see a doctor to receive a prescription.

MINOLTA

TIPS ON SHOOTING SPORTS

RON VESELY

FOLLOW
EVER BEFORE

It's third down with only seconds left. You're glued to your 20 yard-line seat. The 49ers have the ball. They're on the Giants' 30 yard-line, driving toward the end zone. Montana fades back, spots a receiver in the flank, and fires an out-pass. But Lawrence Taylor intercepts the ball, breaks three tackles and gets into the clear. He kicks in the afterburners and runs a full 80 yards for the game-winning touchdown, sending the Giants to the Super Bowl.

That's heavy action. And for a sports fan, there's nothing more exhilarating. But did you know that the right binoculars will let you follow that action closer than you ever imagined? They'll lift you out of your seat and put you right onto the field, with a player's eye view.

Recently, the photographic company that pioneered autofocus in SLR cameras introduced the only true continuous autofocus binoculars. For viewing sports action, nothing else compares to these. A simple touch of a button activates the continuous autofocus, which tracks and maintains sharp focus even on fast moving objects. So the binoculars do all the work and eyestrain is virtually eliminated. Other types of binoculars called "permanent-focus" or "fixed focus," on the other hand, may force your eyes to do all the focusing work and are not recommended for extended use, since stress headaches are a possibility under these circumstances.

But true autofocus binoculars in 8x or 10x magnifications are so quick and precise, you'll feel like a big part of the action.

Selecting a good pair of binoculars is easy. Many standard and compact types featuring manual center-wheel focusing are surprisingly affordable.

But no matter which of these you choose, selecting an appropriate magnification is very important. Let's look at the numbers. Take an 8x22 binocular, for example. The number 8 is the magnification power. This means that the image you see will appear 8 times closer. The 22 refers to the diameter, in millimeters, of the front lens. For fast-paced sports action, a very high power binocular is not recommended. It's quite difficult to hold still for a prolonged period of time, and the image will be shaky. A good choice would be either a 7 or an 8 power. These are easily hand-held and will provide comfortable closeup viewing. If you have steady hands, a 9 or 10 power model will also work well.

Another important consideration is the size of the binocular. There are the full-size standard types which offer bright viewing in 7 through 10 power. For even greater versatility, standard zoom-type binoculars can give you magnification ranges from 7 through 21. But if you prefer to travel light, your best bet would be a compact or pocket model. They're small, lightweight, and offer excellent viewing with optimum magnifications.

If you're an outdoors person who doesn't mind wet weather, consider the full-size, waterproof binoculars. Many football games are played in the rain or snow, and the rubber coating and O-ring seals will prevent water damage and let you really enjoy the game.

These few tips should help you select the binoculars that are just right for you. Go shopping. Look for quality. Handle them and try them out, particularly the autofocus models. Purchasing a good pair of binoculars is a long-term investment. Once you do, you'll experience the thrill of sports action like never before. The game will be a whole new experience; you'll no longer be a spectator, you'll be a player!

THIS IS NOT A COMPUTER!

IT ONLY LOOKS, ACTS AND THINKS LIKE ONE

Presenting the PowerNote™
Notebook Work Organizer

The PowerNote does virtually everything you need a computer for.

Think about it: it does word processing, spreadsheets, organizing, scheduling with alarm and calculating. It can also send faxes, interface with PC's and any printer, access on-line information services and play Tetris™. Plus, it has a 2-way switchable backlit LCD display and 3.5" disk drive for unlimited memory.

No experience is necessary because easy to use pull down menus tell you what to do in plain English.

It's notebook size, weighs 5 lbs. and operates on batteries or AC, so you can use it anywhere.

The PowerNote may look, act and think like a computer, but at under $500...you'll think it's terrific.

We're at your side.

RESEARCH FOR FLORIDA'S ENVIRONMENT

Florida State University researchers are active in finding ways to preserve the environment of Florida and of the planet. Below are three examples of research at Florida State aimed at saving our natural heritage condensed from news stories produced by the FSU Media Relations Office.

Swamps may slow runoff woes

Dr. Paul LaRock

Dr. Paul LaRock, a professor of oceanography at Florida State.

LaRock has been monitoring a man-made swamp around Tallahassee's Lake Jackson for the past six years. The six-acre marsh helps filter stormwater runoff from almost four square miles of an urban area that includes Interstate 10 and two shopping malls.

The result has been a 50 to 60 percent decrease in harmful nutrients washing into the lake.

The swamp, built by the Northwest Florida Water Management District in 1984, is the first of its kind in the country. The $3.3 million project won the North American Lakes Management Society's 1987 technical achievement award as best water reclamation project.

"You couldn't tell the difference between this artificial swamp and a natural habitat," said LaRock. "It's interesting to see the amount of birds and other animal life out there."

LaRock, who has been at FSU for 23 years, will join the Louisiana State University faculty at the end of the academic year.

FSU study probes Florida rivers

There's still time to save Florida's northern river resources — including archaeological finds — from the fate of waters in the more populated south part of the state, says Dean Jue, a research associate in the Florida Resources and Environmental Analysis Center at Florida State.

"Most of the northern rivers are in good shape because population pressures aren't there yet," Jue said.

Jue and his colleagues studied sections of 50 Florida rivers, more than two-thirds of them north of Gainesville. Their 452-page report, compiled for the Florida Department of Natural Resources, is a river-by-river assessment of current river resources and the human pressures that may affect their future.

Pristine rivers still exist in South Florida, Jue said, but many others are polluted by runoff from farms, factories and cities.

"Up north, we need to coordinate and identify resources to protect before the population crunch hits," Jue said. "We need to know what's there so we can protect it."

The study suggests the need for better monitoring of water quality and pollution sources, improved evaluation of plant and animal life along river corridors, reduction of conflicts among river users and more knowledge about water sources and movements.

FAMU and FSU build on knowledge of radon

Researchers from Florida State and Florida A&M universities have built a research project literally from the ground up to help rewrite state building codes for radon protection.

The project, a joint effort of the FAMU/FSU College of Engineering and the FAMU School of Architecture, is a research module resembling a three-bedroom, one-bath house built with a crawl space, or open area, under the floor.

"The unique thing is that this is the only module in the country built specifically to research how a crawl space affects radon," said Elvin Dantin, a professor of civil engineering at FSU.

Radon, a radioactive gas formed from decaying uranium, can seep from the soil into buildings and break down into other radioactive elements and enter the lungs from the air.

The Environmental Protection Agency, which is funding the FSU/FAMU project, estimates that naturally occurring radon in homes could cause 5,000 to 20,000 cases of lung cancer every year. The research will be used by the Department of Community Affairs to adopt legislatively mandated building codes on radon.

The research team of Dantin, FAMU architecture Associate Professor Thomas Pugh and FSU chemical engineering Associate Professor John Telotte will modify the house to see how the changes affect radon levels and airflow patterns.

Though Florida is not considered a high-risk state for radon, Telotte says homeowners can take precautions by sealing cracks in basements and floors and making sure the house is well-ventilated. Home kits also are available to test for the gas.

DESTINED TO SUCCEED

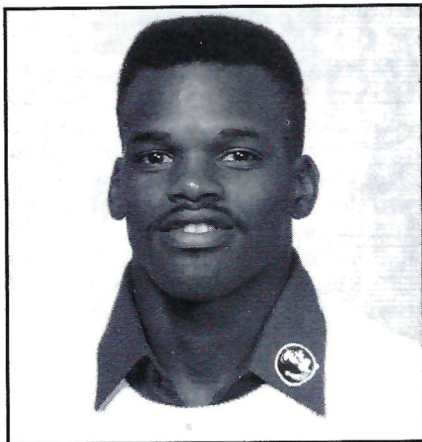

Errol McCorvey knows all about being a team player. The Florida State senior cornerback is the ninth of 10 children, all of whom have already received, or are working toward, their college degrees. The family includes a college recruiter, electrician, federal government employee, probation officer, Army sergeant, mechanical engineer and Army captain. Not to mention the head of the household, Vera McCorvey-Holloman, who holds a doctorate degree in social services.

Talk about great expectations.

Growing up a McCorvey has been anything but easy, not only for Errol, but for the rest of the family as well. In 1973, the family's three bedroom home in Pensacola was destroyed by fire. The McCorveys lived in public housing for six months while Simpson McCorvey, Errol's father, rebuilt the house with the help of his eight sons.

Just when it seemed as if their lives were getting back on track, Simpson was diagnosed with brain cancer. He died in 1979, leaving Vera in charge of the family.

Errol and the rest of the family worked odd jobs in order to put their mother through school before moving to New York state. While working on her doctorate degree there, Vera remarried. She allowed Errol and several of his younger siblings to move back to Florida to live with her oldest children so that they could take advantage of the football-rich environment of Florida. It is one of the few concessions she made to athletics.

Cornerback Errol McCorvey

The move away from mom didn't mean Errol and his younger brother Derriel, now a junior strong safety at Louisiana State, could devote all their time to football. In the McCorvey household, it's not that athletics take a back seat to academics — they're not even in the same car.

"I believe athletics are a means to further your goal, with your goal being to get an education so that you have a say in your professional desires," Vera said.

Errol, one of only two Florida State players majoring in engineering, is appreciative of the support system he has at home.

"My brothers, my sisters, and my mother, they're all my strength," he said. "I draw from them. It's like, when I'm weak, I can plug myself into them, and gain energy from them. Without their support, I'd probably be a little knucklehead standing out on the corner, doing something bad."

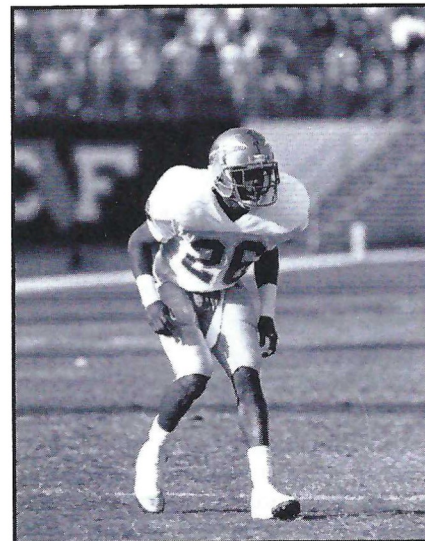

As close as they are off the field, the two youngest McCorveys tried to forget they were brothers when FSU played LSU on October 26th. Twenty-eight members of the McCorvey clan traveled to Baton Rouge for the contest, where FSU extended its undefeated streak to 14 games, eight in this season.

Of equal importance to the brothers was the status of a few off-season bets they make each year, where the winner is rewarded with a dinner at the other's expense. Errol won the first of the two wagers when his team won the game. And by making his first interception of the season against LSU, he tied Derriel for the race to see who will get the most interceptions this season.

In light of Florida State's recent success against his team, Derriel has been taking a little heat from the home folks.

"All I hear when I go home to Pensacola is 'Seminoles, Seminoles, Seminoles,'" he said. "I go home and they're trying to hit me in the head with a tomahawk."

Last year, after the Seminoles beat the Tigers, Derriel took Errol

A three-year starter since transferring from East Carolina, Errol McCorvey leads the Seminole secondary in tackles this season and is nearing the 100-tackle mark for his career.

to a Red Lobster in Pensacola to settle the bet. But Errol's tastes have become a little more refined since then.

"I'm going to try and break him this year," Errol joked. "I want to go to the Waldorf-Astoria."

Errol and Derriel, however, aren't the only McCorveys with the ability to pick things out of the sky. Their brother Quinton, now a captain in the Army, made an interception of a slightly different sort during Operation Desert Storm. As a member of a Patriot missile crew, he shot down two Scud missiles. Quinton, a lieutenant at the time, was interviewed by CNN and awarded a Bronze Star for his efforts that night.

"When I first heard about it, I was thankful it was something good," said Errol, whose brother Roderick was also stationed in Saudi Arabia. "A lot of times, you hear about the first casualties of the war. This was something positive."

Errol's mild manner and determination to succeed have followed him from the classroom to the field. Although he doesn't have the flashy moves that fellow cornerback Terrell Buckley has, he has substance, and the iron will to

Following the 1964 season, Biletnikoff was named to seven All-America teams to become Florida State's first consensus All-American. He is one of only three Seminoles to have his jersey number retired. His number 25 is enshrined along with Sellers' number 34 and Ron Simmons' number 50. Even 26 years since his departure from Florida State, his name still stands among career leaders in receptions (87), receiving yards (1,463) and touchdown catches (16).

His professional accomplishments are even more remarkable. In 14 seasons with the Oakland Raiders, he grabbed 589 passes for 8,974 yards and 76 touchdowns. In his years there, the Raiders never suffered a losing season.

"He probably deserves this award more than anyone else," said Peterson of Biletnikoff's induction into the College Football Hall of Fame. "Because college football in his day was pretty dull. Most teams played the Woody Hayes type of football where it was strictly big guys blocking for running backs. He changed the game of college football."

As an assistant coach with the Los Angeles Raiders, it is doubtful whether or not Biletnikoff will have another chance to correct the authors of "the book" at the induction ceremonies. But because of him, wide receivers who are termed "a step slow, good hands, no speed" can still dream of a football career.

World Series Dreams

If the Seminoles are to duplicate their Metro successes in the ACC this year, they must replace a pair of All-Americans in Pedro Grifol and Eduardo Perez.

"We lost players in a few key positions," Roberts acknowledges. "I realize I may have to do things on the field, and hit in a different spot in the order. We have plenty of guys that can lead the team. Myself, Roger Bailey, Bryan Harris, we'll have to step up and take that role."

Another role Roberts may be called on to fill this year is that of bullpen closer. In two years as a starter, Roberts has gone 15-4 on the mound. But at times, his hitting has suffered in games he pitches. This year, Martin and the FSU coaches have toyed with the image of Roberts sprinting in from left field to get the save.

"I'm really working on my pitching," Roberts said. "We're discussing different roles. If they want me to be a closer, I think I can do that too."

The only worry Roberts has about that possible situation is his cleats and equipment manager Guy Gallagher. See, Gallagher has a fit every time he sees Roberts pitching in the cleats he's supposed to wear for outfielding duty and vice versa.

Maybe, Roberts would have to stop by the dugout on his way in from left for a quick shoe change.

If that's what it takes, Roberts will do it.

"Fielding and pitching, I want to do both," Roberts said. "I'm not easily satisfied. I want everything."

Including making all his World Series dreams — from College World Series to true "world series" (Olympics) to Major League Baseball World Series — come true.

Destined To Succeed

make things turn out the way he wants. He doesn't get as much press as Buckley, or fellow defensive star Marvin Jones, but he doesn't let it affect him.

"I don't mind, because they're great players that have made a lot of great plays," Errol said. "But I want my own success. I don't like standing in other people's shadows."

It is the desire to make a name for himself that drives Errol McCorvey on and off the field. It is not enough for him to be proud of the accomplishments of his mother and older siblings. He wants to make them proud of him, too.

"We tried to instill in them as each one would grow that they had an obligation first to themselves and next to the family, to be honorable and not do anything that would reflect bad on the family," his mother said. "Everyone has to do his or her part to keep the name polished, to look toward achievement."

Errol McCorvey is on track to graduate next December with a degree in industrial engineering — not an easy major for any student, much less one who has football practice everyday. But Errol doesn't expect any free gifts, and he's learned that the best things in life take sacrifice.

The FSU football team's motto for this season is "No Excuses." But it's a motto Errol McCorvey has followed all his life.

"When you see people who grew up in your household in poverty and see what they've achieved," Errol said, "it makes you say 'I can achieve anything if I put my mind to it.'"

Those who have met Errol in person, and those that have seen him on the field, remember him as a quiet, unassuming, young man who worked hard for every victory he achieved. And there have been many.

But that's not a surprise.

After all, he's a McCorvey.

Florida State senior Julie Goodrich, a native of St. Petersburg, is an intern in the FSU Sports Information Office.

Strategic Questions in FSU Football

Q What Southeastern Conference football team has FSU beaten 6 out of 7 games? (Hint: This team's stadium — even its nickname — strikes fear into the hearts of opposing teams.)

FSU has beaten the LSU Tigers six times since the two powerhouse teams began playing in 1979. Nicknamed "Death Valley," Tiger Stadium — generally considered to favor LSU — has been the site of five of FSU's wins over LSU.

Q What infamous play — involving strategy, execution, research, timing and sheer determination — did FSU use to win a surprise victory over this ACC rival?
